

VAST AREA OF ASPHALT LAID

Nearly Fifty Thousand Square Yards Paved This Year.

REPAIRING IS MORE THAN EVER

Total Expenditure of the City Street Department for Year Approximates Forty-Five Thousand Dollars.

Nearly 50,000 square yards of asphalt have been laid this year in repairing the streets of the city of Omaha. The amount of repairing exceeds that done in any year since the streets were paved. An unofficial canvass of the reports of work completed to date show that 47,325 square yards of repair paving has been laid. The repair crews are still at work and expect to finish in about two weeks' time, when the total will be close to 50,000.

Last year about 30,000 square yards of repair paving was laid, and in prior years the amount was even less. This year all the streets in the city, residence and business streets alike have been gone over carefully and every damaged place repaired. In some instances the streets have been gone over several times, and today City Engineer Rosewater says he can say that the streets are in the best condition since the paving was first laid and that he can say so without fear of contradiction. Some of the streets repaired were practically repaved—notably, Cumming street between Fifteenth and Twenty-fourth streets and Tenth street south from the depot.

Cumming and Twenty-fourth streets had in the amount of repairing, 6,545 square yards being laid on the former and 4,510 on the latter. On Park avenue 2,000 square yards of asphalt were laid, 2,535 on Howard street, 2,270 on Fourteenth, 2,181 on Twelfth street, 2,000 on Douglas street and smaller amounts on the other streets and avenues. But 181 square yards of asphalt were used in repairing Tenth street.

What the Report Shows.

The unofficial report shows the following street paving repairs:

Will Ed P. Berryman accede to the Jims' demand that he resign from the park board? No, indeed.

Ed P. Berryman is far too shrewd a politician for any Jimocrat to bullyrag. He has not done a thing but placate the Jims by offering to join their belligerent club, and they, like a whipped regiment, have snickered and laid down.

Ed P. Berryman, big chief in the camp of the Jacks, capitulates to the Jims and follows his enemy, Frederick H. Cosgrove, into the Jim household, Mr. Cosgrove, for fourteen years a leader of the Jacks, announced Friday that he intended to join the Jims so as to get away from Mr. Berryman, but his move is of no avail, for now Mr. Berryman follows his lead and comes to the Jims, bowing low and pounding his head on the floor.

FIFTY YEARS OF WEDDED LIFE

Golden Anniversary is Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew O. Peterson.

Fifty years ago, back in a little village in Sweden, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew O. Peterson, of 1210 South Twenty-seventh street, were united in marriage. To celebrate the golden anniversary between seventy-five and 100 friends of the couple will gather at their home this afternoon. Invitations in that number having been issued. No program of entertainment will be carried out this afternoon, but the friends of the old couple will make known to Mr. and Mrs. Peterson by expressions of friendship and by gifts that they rejoice in the completion of their fifty years of married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew O. Peterson have lived in Omaha thirty-two years, during all of which time Mr. Peterson has conducted a tailor shop, the present location of the shop being on Twenty-seventh street and St. Mary's avenue. Though he is in his seventy-fifth year, Mr. Peterson can be found at his shop every morning at 7 o'clock and makes as many suits of clothes a year as a man but a third his age. Mr. Peterson is also in good health and people not acquainted with them would not think that they had completed the allotted span of life of three score years and ten.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson have three sons: Edward T., chief clerk in the office of the city engineer; Harry E., a journeyman printer living in Omaha, and C. W., living in California. There are seven grandchildren.

Telephone Company Sold.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—The Citizens' Telephone company of this city has been sold at public auction, under an order from Judge Carlisle of the United States court, to the New State Telephone company of Iowa. The company bid in the plant at $94,700. The bidding started at $50,000, there being five bidders present. After the $50,000 mark was reached most of the bidding was in 100 blocks. From that time on the bidding was quite spirited until the successful bid was made by the Iowa company. The purchasers announced that the local system will be maintained as a strictly independent company. The price secured for the system was better than E. G. Kennedy, the receiver of the Citizens' Telephone company, expected. It means that the bondholders, besides securing the back interest due, will also secure about 33 per cent of the face of their bonds. The stockholders will get nothing.

BERRYMAN PLACATES JIMS

Foxy Old Veteran Disposes of Demand to Resign from Board.

OFFERS TO JOIN DAHLMANITES

Incidentally Sticks the Harpoon into Cosgrove, Who Ducks into the Same Tent to Dodge Berryman.

Will Ed P. Berryman accede to the Jims' demand that he resign from the park board? No, indeed.

Ed P. Berryman is far too shrewd a politician for any Jimocrat to bullyrag. He has not done a thing but placate the Jims by offering to join their belligerent club, and they, like a whipped regiment, have snickered and laid down.

Ed P. Berryman, big chief in the camp of the Jacks, capitulates to the Jims and follows his enemy, Frederick H. Cosgrove, into the Jim household, Mr. Cosgrove, for fourteen years a leader of the Jacks, announced Friday that he intended to join the Jims so as to get away from Mr. Berryman, but his move is of no avail, for now Mr. Berryman follows his lead and comes to the Jims, bowing low and pounding his head on the floor.

Naturally, the Jims have not renewed their demand that Mr. Berryman resign from the Board of Park Commissioners. Mr. Cosgrove laid his defeat in the campaign for membership on the Omaha Water board to Ed Berryman, secretary of the Jacks, claiming that Mr. Berryman renounced the Jacksonian slate and laid the blame on him (Cosgrove). Therefore he received with favor overtures made by leading Jims that he forsake the Jacks and join them, the intention being to leave Mr. Berryman in the other camp. But "the well-laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglee."

That Sweet Little Bait.

Ed Berryman, secretary of the Jacks, conductor of slates for that organization, many of its excursions and in short generalissimo of the whole organization, writes the president of the Jim club asking that official to let him (Berryman) do whatever the Jims will. Mr. Berryman wrote his letter on Friday, addressing it to Thomas J. Flynn, president of the Dahlman Democracy. The epistle was quite lengthy, but one sentence culled from it tells the whole story:

"I am yours to command if I can do anything to help along the cause of Nebraska for Bryan."

Needless to say, the Berryman letter has caused excessive jollification among the Jims and many were the paeans of praise offered up at the meeting Saturday afternoon of the democratic county central committee by those who knew of the capitulation of the Jack leader. Mr. Berryman was not present at the committee meeting Saturday afternoon, and is not a member. Jims only being allowed on the committee—but he paid a visit to the Jims Friday afternoon, the first time he was ever in the Dahlman headquarters. When Charles E. Fanning, Joseph P. Butler and other leaders of the great unwashed saw their hated rival calmly sitting in the Jim club rooms they nearly fainted away, but recovered themselves in time to give him the glad hand and welcome him along with Mr. Cosgrove.

Follow the Republicans.

The democrats in the committee meeting Saturday afternoon followed the lead of the republicans and instructed Chairman Flynn to appoint from each ward in Omaha and South Omaha. As the time for the appointment of such committeemen had expired (according to law) these committeemen-at-large will be known as campaign committeemen. Joe Butler made the motion and succeeded in getting a favorable vote after three ballots had been taken.

"I admit that the republicans have been brighter than we have in this," said Mr. Butler, "but while I hate to follow the lead of our opponents, I believe we ought to have a committeeman-at-large from each ward so that we can do as effective work as the republicans."

Mr. Butler failed to notice Chairman Flynn's warning finger, but when another committeeman started to give away some of the party's secrets and to confess that the republicans had a better organization Chairman Flynn promptly stopped him.

"We are not all democrats here," shouted the chairman. "There is a reporter here for a republican paper and we can talk about that at another time."

Tries for Big Meeting.

Upon the motion of George Sterrett, member from South Omaha, the committee decided to try to arrange for a big political meeting in that city immediately after the visit of "this man Taft," as the republican nominee was called by the South Omaha member, to Omaha next Thursday. The committee also decided to hold meetings in each ward in both cities on Monday evening, October 5, the evening before the first day of registration.

The committee discussed at some length the appointment of judges of election, L. D. Pickard stating that they ought to see to it that the man who is empowered to show the uninitiated how to operate the voting machines is a democrat. Chairman Flynn smoothed this bald statement over, however, by announcing that he believed that if a man came to the judges and told them that he wanted to vote the straight republican ticket that the democrats are good enough citizens to show them how to pull the republican lever on the machines.

Chairman Flynn appointed the following members of the executive committee: George Rogers, George Sterrett, John Powers, John E. Hogan and John A. Rine. Mr. Rine was also instructed to look after speakers for the campaign. The first speaker the democrats will have will be Senator Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma, who will address the faithful in Omaha on Saturday evening, October 3.

Five hundred poster pictures of Bryan have been received by the committee and these will be posted before Taft day—next Thursday—so as to attempt to show that Omaha is for Bryan.

SOUND STEAMERS COLLIDE

Commonwealth Strikes Unknown Vessel in Fog, Causing it to Sink.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The steamer Commonwealth, newest and largest of the Fall River Line's Sound steamers, arrived at this port today after colliding with and sinking the Norwegian freight steamer Volund in a dense fog off Race Rock at the eastern entrance to Long Island sound this morning.

The Volund's officers, the captain's wife and crew, were rescued and brought here on the Commonwealth.

The bow of the Fall River liner was smashed above the water line in the collision, but the damage was not considered serious.

The collision took place at 1:30 a. m., as the steamers were feeling their way through a thick fog. As the two vessels came together, the captain of the Volund rushed on the deck and assisted his wife to climb upon the Commonwealth's bow, which had cut a great gash in the Volund's side. Three members of the Volund's crew also climbed on board the Commonwealth. The steamers then drifted apart, the boilers of the Volund exploding as it sank.

While consternation reigned among the passengers on the Commonwealth, a volunteer crew of naval men bound from Newport to Washington, commanded by Quartermaster Webber, manned one of the Commonwealth's cutters while the Commonwealth's crew manned two other cutters and picked up the captain and eleven men from the Volund who were clinging to pieces of wreckage. One member of the Volund's crew was injured, which constituted the only casualty.

PROJECTORS FILE PAPERS

Omaha Men Incorporate to Run Line from South Omaha to Ralston.

LINCOLN, Sept. 26.—(Special Telegram.)—The Nebraska Traction and Power company of Omaha, an interurban railroad, today filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The company has an authorized capital stock of $2,000,000. The incorporators are Mel Uhl, N. P. Dodge, William D. Crist, F. A. Howard and J. F. Emmert. The company intends to extend a line from South Omaha to Ralston and south through Sarpy county and north from Ralston through the counties of Douglas, Dodge, Washington, Butte, Cumming, Thurston and Dakota. It is to be operated by either electricity or steam.

Mel Uhl is manager of the Daily News, N. P. Dodge is a real estate man, W. D. Crist is with the General Construction company, which is to build the line; F. A. Howard is with the Updike Grain company and J. F. Emmert is with the Central Coal and Coke company. Mr. Dodge said that he did not know much about the plans of the company except that it was organized to build a line out West Q street to Ralston.

W. D. Crist said that the above company is the incorporating company and that the contract for grading was let two weeks ago and that work was now being done. He said that he expected to let the contract within the next two weeks for material. The amount of capital stock to be issued and to be paid up will be $250,000, according to Mr. Crist.

TUBERCULOSIS THROUGH MILK

Conference at Philadelphia Regards This Problem One of Most Important.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—A commission of seven, headed by Dr. Robert Koch of Germany, was appointed at today's session of the International Conference on Tuberculosis to inquire into the cause of tuberculosis infection from milk and how to prevent it.

The danger of infection from milk and how to prevent it was one of the principal subjects taken up today at the closing session of the International Conference on Tuberculosis. Reports of what other countries are doing in demonstrating the presence of bovine bacilli in milk sold for human consumption were made. It was suggested by Prof. J. F. Hermann of Belgium that with a view of ascertaining precisely the danger of spreading tuberculosis infection by the medium of milk and of uniting in all countries the prophylactic measures to preclude against this contamination, the conference appointed an international commission, charged with studying the question, and elaborating on the prophylactic measures it may recommend.

What the Red Cross society is doing in the crusade against tuberculosis was presented by delegates of that body. Aid for the tuberculosis poor in their homes was also discussed.
