jeered him and made him angry.

Roberts' story of the affair was considerably disconnected as to the causes and most of this was due to his fright. He believed that he had received a fatal stab. He said his brother's wife had been in some way the object of attentions from Reynolds and a little had blood was aroused. He said Reynolds was known as a very "bad nigger." He, himself, had no weapons and was simply standing in the pool hall watching the game. He inadvertently laughed at Reynold's anger and his caused Reynolds to spring his knife. It was a long clasp knife of dangerous size. Roberts immediately ran out and up the street, shouting for help. When he got Twenty-sixth and N Reynolds caught im and, pressing the knife on the side of his neck, he forced him to walk back to he pool hall. As soon as they were inside meantime Mrs. Hanley, who lived across he street, seeing the knife and the row pposite, seized a revolver and fired three four shots to attract the attention of the police. This shooting frightened Reypolds from his purpose of finishing the job. He ran out the back door and hid on the top of the roof of the building next to the post half. He kept so close under cover that the police hunted the whole district over, searching for him. He finally slipped down, but was spotted by some of Roberts friends, who immediately informed Shields where he went.

At the fail, Dr. John Koutsky attended Roberts, and said he had been saved, because the knife yeered between the two rios and did not penetrate deeply into the abdomen. The bleeding was due to the superficial arteries. After his wound was diressed he was able to go home.

Attempt to Compel Attendance at Devotional Exercises.

A ruling has been made by the Departpublic schools must be entirely voluntarily. This ruling is the outcome of a six months' side borough.

Mr. Watts, who has his opinion of religious exercises and keeps his own connsel, sends two daughters to the River Edge school. One is 7 and the other 11 years old. When the board authorized opening exercises consisting of reading from the Bible and the repeating of the Lord's Prayer Mr. Watts obtained permission of the principal for his children to remain in the classroom while the exercises were going on in the assembly room.

It is said that the envy of the other children and the consequent growth of absen- Chicago. teelsm at prayers caused the practice of the Watts children to be brought to the notice of the board. Mr. Watts then had to face the alternative of compulsory attendance at the exercises or the exclusion of him children from school, Mr. Watts urged his case before the board and the contest dragged on until the close of the apring term. Meantime the children had lost two weeks of school.

During vacation nothing was done, but ago Mr. Watts again entered his children This time instead of remaining in the assembly room they arranged to arrive ten minutes late. The board, however, saw through this strategy and notified Mr Watts that his children must come on time r not at all.

Declaring that he would go to law if necessary. Mr. Watts took the controversy before State Superintendent C. J. Baxter at Trenton. Pending the superintendent's decision. Mr. Watta's children lost another week and a half from school. Last week Baxter, state superintendent sent this letter to H. Morris, secretary of the River Edge school board:

'After a careful consideration of the action of your board in the exclusion from school of the children of Mr. Arthur Watis because he refused to permit them to attend the opening exercises of the school consisting of the reading of the Bible and repeating of the Lord's Prayer; I am of the opinion that the action of your board was violation of the constitutional rights of Mr. Watts.

"No person can be compelled to attend religious exercises contrary to his faith and judgment. If he refuses to permit his children to attend the opening exercises of the school his children must be marked as tardy and they must be admitted to the regular work of the school.
