Wattles Treats Soldiers Gives Men of the Second Cavalry All the Rides They Want on Cars.

The 60 members of the Second cavalry are taking street car rides during their giving passes in Omaha at the expense of G. W. Wattles, president of the street railway company. As the enlisted men have not been paid for several weeks many of them are in hard financial condition. A committee waited on Mr. Wattles Wednesday, but he said free transportation could not be provided because of the state law against giving passes. In order to relieve the men Mr. Wattles wrote his personal check for $50 and sent his secretary to the office to buy 1000 tickets, which were distributed among the men. Another thousand were distributed among the soldiers Thursday afternoon. Mr. Wattles-paying for both allotments

READY FOR CINDERELLA BALL

All Plans Are Made for Fairy Festival of the Children.
DEN WILL BE LITERALLY PACKED

Joseph M. Cudaby Has Parting Word of Instruction to Say to the Children Who Are to Take Part.

The Cinderella ball, Saturday afternoon, is ready for the blast of the trumpet that sounds the call for the grand march. The final rehearsal was a great success and the managers of the ball feel confident they have prepared an entertainment which will be a creditable finish to a successful week. The children's tribute to the merry month will be one long to be remembered. The decoration will be the same as those used for the coronation ball, with a few added lights or flood lights. The den is situated at Burdette and Twentieth streets and is reached by the Dodge street car line.
The children of the Cinderella ball are going like hot cakes, and more cars seem to be manifested in that ball than in the coronation ball. The tickets are still on sale at Myers-Dillon's, Sherman and McConnell's, Kiplinger's, Penfold's and Beston's. The prices for spectators tickets are 50 cents for adults downstairs and 25 cents in the gallery, and 25 cents for children downstairs and 15 cents in the galleries.
When the bursting of the rose part of the drama is enacted, all will gaze in wonderment for it will be a pretty spectacle as has been given in to these many moons.
That the children may be taught a lasting lesson in charity, the children of the social settlement, the Child's Saving Institute and the Creche, to the number of 125 have been given complimentary tickets to the Cinderella ball.
The management wishes to ask all children to dress at home. Garland dancers are to bring their flowers in a box to be put on at the den. The children dancers are asked to bring their wigs in a box and they will be "made up" at the den. The standard bearers and flower girls will bring their flowers in a box to be put on at the den.

Instructions for Children.

Instructions regarding the preparations of children taking part in the children's ball Saturday afternoon were given out by J. M. Cudaby as follows:
"All children participating in the children's ball ceremonies will report as follows: Those rehearsing under Mr. Chambers' direction, report at the Den at 1:15 p. m. Children are to dress at home. Court dancers may bring their wigs to the Den to have their makeup put on there. They will report to Mrs. Joseph Barker and Mrs. Charles Knutes who will see that they are properly made up.
"Children in the march, report to Mrs. Kirkendall and Mrs. Soobie. Garland dancers report to Mrs. Cotes and Mrs. Reed.
