Where the Pinch Comes. There has been paid from the emergency appropriation of $1,800 on account of state tax collector's fees and taxes and sundry small items, $31.22, leaving a balance of $1,768.78 September 1, 1908. Under the most favorable conditions the city will pay the city coal bill alone, will absorb this balance, and we are up against a proposition to pay the balance of the balance and that may crop up in the departments, and we have a more serious proposition of contracts made in collecting taxes incurred recently, to the amount of at least $100,000, which is the amount of the city attorney cannot be paid from any special fund and which section 93 of the supplement to the code says cannot be paid from the general fund.

The way the law appears to me, is that the city council has no authority to draw from the general fund for more than the $20,000 appropriation, and that, dependent on the action of the city council, the city attorney be drawn up for the purposes named in the appropriation ordinance, adopted by the city council in May 1907. It is up to your honorable body to meet the present emergency, as I will have to decline to draw warrants on the general fund for any purpose other than provided for under section 98, until legal opinion is rendered covering the matter fully.

Check Ordered Returned. The letter from Contractor Wickham in which he consented to accept the return from the city of the $12,000 certified check

CITY AUDITOR CALLS BALD

Points Out to Council Condition of the Various City Funds.

RAPIDLY NEARING OVERLAP

Indicates that Body He Will Issue No Warrants in Excess of Amount Appropriated Before the Opening of Year.

The condition of the municipal finances, due to the unusual expenditures incurred and authorized by the city council, together with the prospect of a deficiency instead of an excess in the anticipated revenue of the general fund, decided City Auditor McAneney that it was time the city council took cognizance of the gravity of the situation.

In a communication to the city council last night Mr. McAneney called attention to the fact that not only were several of the appropriations exhausted, but that obligations had been incurred to meet which there were no funds and that he would decline to draw any warrants on the general fund in excess of the amount appropriated at the beginning of the fiscal year.

The communication from the city auditor was received by the city council last night. It was decided to hold a special meeting of the committee of the whole Friday evening to consider it.

The communication follows: Part of paragraph 16 of section 93 of the supplement to the code of Iowa reads as follows: "Appropriations—in cities of the first and second class, preventing the accumulation of a floating indebtedness, and it shall be unlawful for it or any officer, agent or employee of the city to issue any warrant, or enter into any contract, or appropriate any money, in excess of the amount so appropriated, for the different purposes of the city during the year for which said appropriation shall be made. Any such city shall not appropriate, in the foregoing, an amount in excess of its annual legally authorized revenue; but nothing herein shall prevent such cities from anticipating their revenues for the year for which such appropriation is made, or from bonding or refunding their outstanding indebtedness."

I quote you also supreme court ruling on the law, Windsor against Des Moines 119-125.

The object of this subdivision requiring expenditures only as the result of appropriations, is to place municipal corporations on a cash basis, preventing the accumulation of a floating indebtedness.

At the beginning of the fiscal year the city council, in accordance with an act of the legislature, passed a resolution in which the total revenue of the city and in the treasury, left over from the previous year, were appropriated for the current expenses of the year.

As you know, the anticipated income of the city is based only upon the regular tax levy, which will give the city about $3,000,000 per annum, but also from all other sources as police department, electrical department, city fund and minor matters contributing ordinarily about sufficient revenue to make up the amount appropriated.

Revenues Fall Short. The indications upon which the $3,000,000 estimate was based have not been realized, and every indication points to the probability that the total general revenues of the city for the fiscal year will fall short of the amount of the amount appropriated.

The executive department appropriation remains intact and no emergency appropriation has been made to change the status of the balance in same.

The appropriation for the engineering department was $4,500, which covered the salaries of the regular force only. In addition to this, the city has expended for feeding and shoeing of the horses belonging to the department, the employment of two special engineers, and the additional expense of supplies, repairs, etc. All told it will require about $10,000 to cover this deficiency, which will come from emergency appropriation.

The high prices existing for forage for department horses will probably cause a deficit in both police and fire departments, and the fire department will be short of the amount of the fuel bill, which last year was $200.

In his communication Dr. Bower conveyed the impression that the attendance of these representatives was compulsory. It was decided that the city would be represented as suggested at the meeting provided it was found that such attendance was compulsory, but not otherwise.

The council adjourned to next Monday night.

SMITH TO CAMPAIGN IN INDIANA Congressman Brings 'Good Reports' from Kansas.

Congressman Walter I. Smith, who returned Sunday from a week's campaigning in Kansas, left last evening for Indiana, where he will put in a week speaking. On his return he will give one week to speeches outside his own district and the last two weeks he will devote to the Ninth district.

Congressman Smith looks for a big republican majority in Indiana, and he will return about the same majority for Taft as it returned for McKinley in 1906.

Mr. Smith said: "While the people appear to be interested in the campaign, there is no greater political excitement there than in this state. Kansas has eight members of the lower house of congress and they are all republicans. Indications are that all of the districts in the Sun Flower state will elect republicans again this year. There is not much of a cry for a change in Kansas, for they are getting rich out there. Their advances in this respect are greater than they have been here in Iowa, where the land was cheaper and the profits have been greater."

Congressman Smith said the Taft train reached Kansas before he left the state, but he was in another portion and therefore was unable to say what the effect of Mr. Taft's visit was.

DEB MOINES, Oct. 6.—(Special).—Mrs. Nettie Haley and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Link, today appeared before the State Board of Parole and resisted the application of Nathan and Frank Rainsbarger for pardon. Rainsbarger is the first husband of Mrs. Haley and is the father of Mrs. Link. The daughter has never seen her father, being born a short time after his arrest for the murder of Enoc Johnson, the father of Mrs. Haley and grandfather of Mrs. Link. W. V. Wilcox, pension agent at this place, and sheriff of Hardin county during the reign of terror when the Rainsbargers were notorious outlaws, also appeared before the board of parole to argue against the pardon of the two men.

In the hearings before the board today the entire history of the Rainsbargers and their career of outlawry was rehearsed. Except for the fact that their career of crime was cut much shorter it rivaled in a way the famous Jesse James gang. The Rainsbargers became so bold in their operations that they would steal a cow or horse before the eyes of the owner and inform him that he had better keep his mouth shut. After the arrest and indictment of two of the boys, a third got his picture taken with a battery of revolvers and daggers in his hands and belt and had them distributed among the witnesses and the public generally.

There were five of the brothers originally and they operated in the early '80's. The country was flooded with counterfeit money and the government sent detectives to investigate. The money was traced to

Worked Sunday on Church. When the members of the University Place Christian church went to their place of worship on Sunday morning, they found men hauling sand for the foundation for the new addition to the church building.
