Political Complications in Europe Throw Shadow Over Market. SELLING ORDERS FROM LONDON Tone of Market Improves After Close of Foreign Bourses - Clouing Tone Exhibits Much Uncertaintri the Think I do NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The political complications which have arisen in the Baikan penizsula threw a shadow of depression over the securities markets today, directly on those of Europe, while our own market earne within its scope of xympathy.

The influence was contested here with varying success, but the modifying effect of the European situation on the efforts to support prices was very obvious. Discussion was not impressive in its appreciation of political questions considered, although much was heard of "the concert of Europea, the "balance of power," etc. No wide knowledge, however, was required to read the significance of orders by cable from London and from European centers to sell thousands of shares of American securities in the New York stock market. This and other means of establishing credits in New York has had its effect on the foreign exchange market, where the call for remittance to foreign points makes itself eviders. At the same time holders of wheat testified to their doubts over the European prospect by —distribution to part with their holdings and mill owners showed corresponding sesses to replenish their holdings. The governmen's liberal estimate of the year's wheat crop was equally effective in reducing its price in face of the factors of strength in the market. The foreign selling of securities converged on a number of stocks, which have held a leading place in all recent speculative movements and the sentimental effect of their wakness on the general list was correspondingly great. The improved tone of the local market after the hours for activity on foreign stock exchanges had passed was a further testimony to the part played by foroign influences in the early movements. The appearance of records on the tape of sales for cash for several thousand share of sales for cash for several movements. The appearance of records on the tape of sales for cash for several movements and these strength of the speculative testimate played by the political description of minority creditors.
