DISCUSSING CITY FINANCES

Councilmen to Have Meeting Behind Closed Doors.

When the committee of the whole of the city council meets tonight for the purpose of considering the communication from City Auditor McAneney relative to the serious condition of the municipal finances it is said it will be behind locked doors and the public, and newspaper reporters especially, will be barred.

The discussion tonight, it is stated, will include a general inquiry into the city's finances with a view of discovering some fund from which the expenses of the special election and other extraordinary expenditures incurred by the city council recently can be paid.

City Auditor McAneney in his communication, which was read at the meeting of the city council last Monday night, gave the councilmen distinctly to understand that he would refuse to issue any warrants on the general fund in excess of the amounts appropriated for the maintenance of the various city departments at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Matters in District Court.

Charging that her husband, Hans Peter Rasmussen, forged her name to a chattel mortgage upon their household furniture and then left the state with the proceeds, Mrs. Margerethe Rasmussen yesterday filed suit for divorce. Mrs. Rasmussen also charges her husband with treating her in a cruel and inhuman manner and with being a habitual drunkard. The parties to the suit were married May 12, 1883, in this city and the defendant is alleged to have deserted the plaintiff more than eighteen months ago.

Mrs. Tillitha M. Kester filed suit for divorce from Milton M. Kester, to whom she was married November 2, 1894, in Guthrie Center, Ia. She alleges that after continuous ill treatment for more than a year previous she was forced to leave the defendant March 23, 1907, on which date she says, her husband gave her a terrible beating and otherwise abused her.

Waterworks Mass Meeting.

Advocates of municipal ownership of the water works system have arranged for a mass meeting to be held at the city hall next Tuesday evening. The meeting, it is announced, will be held under the auspices of the Federation of Improvement Clubs and arrangements are being made, it is said, for speakers to discuss both sides of the question. The speeches probably will be limited to ten minutes each.

The meeting is called for the purpose of organizing the voters who favor the issuance of $600,000 bonds for the municipal water works system, which proposition is to be submitted to a special election on Tuesday, October 27.

BANQUET RURAL CARRIERS

Iowa Association Host to the National Gathering in Omaha.

GOVERNOR SHELDON A SPEAKER

Advocates Road Improvement and Tells of Value of the Service—Number of Other Interesting Addresses.

A pleasing and at the same time unexpected feature of the entertainment of the officers of the National Rural Letter Carriers' association and delegates to the convention now in progress in Omaha at the Grand hotel last evening by the Iowa state association was the presence of Governor Sheldon of Nebraska, who was accorded a most hearty reception both upon his arrival at the meeting and when he arose to make an address.

Governor Sheldon was introduced by National President Linsay, who hails from the state of Georgia. After expressing his gratification at being present and meeting such a large number of representatives of what the governor termed one of the greatest branches of the postal system, Governor Sheldon spoke briefly on the improvement of the country roads which, he declared, would, in his opinion, be brought about through the efforts of the rural letter carriers and their organizations.

The improvement of the rural roads, he said, was a question in which all were interested, and while it had been a long time coming, he believed that it would not be long before good in place of bad roads would be the general rule throughout the country districts.

The benefits from the rural free delivery, he said, were incalculable. The benefit from an educational point of view was almost as great as the public schools, as through it the dweller on the farm remote from the cities was enabled to have delivered at his door daily the newspapers, magazines and other sources of information of the world's doings. He reviewed briefly the great development of the rural free delivery system from the star mail route, and while it might be that the rural free delivery department showed a deficit at the end of the fiscal year, it had paid for itself over and over again in great benefits to the people which it was designed to serve. "It may not pay in dollars and cents, but it pays many times over in the inestimable benefits to the people of our rural communities," declared the governor in closing.

Attendance is Large.

There was a large attendance, the big ball room of the Grand hotel being taxed to its capacity and many had to stand in the hallway. C. M. Adams of Davenport, president of the state association, presided and introduced the speakers with brief but pointed remarks which showed he was the man in the right place. Mayor Maloney extended a welcome on behalf of the city and B. B. Childs of Nevada, secretary of the state association, responded.

Postmaster Hazelton of this city on behalf of the Pottawattamie County association, presented President Adams for the state association with a gavel, accompanying the presentation with a short address in which he paid a tribute to the rural mail carriers.

Other addresses during the evening were made by Superintendent Spillman of the rural mail delivery department; Special Agent Thompson, National President Linsay, W. H. James, president of the county association; Inspector Funkhouser of Indiana, V. E. Bender, Henry Sperling and C. R. Long of the railway mail serivce. The latter spoke on the benefits of organization and the inadequacy of the pay received by the rural carriers. "We are getting the business men interested," said Mr. Long, "and I advise you to do the same. Bring them in touch with your needs and through them reach the members of congress. I know the congressmen are somewhat hard of hearing at times, but there have been times when they could hear even a whisper. Their hearing was first-class when it was suggested that the salaries of the members of congress be increased. The salaries were increased. Keep at it, some day they may hear you."

At the close of the speeches refreshments were served and then the visitors were entertained at the Maloney moving picture show opposite the Grand hotel.

REPUBLICANS PLAN BIG RALLY

Congressman Hawley to Speak Monday Evening, October 19.

Through the efforts of National Committeeman Ernest E. Hart, Congressman W. C. Hawley has been secured to deliver a republican address in this city on the evening of Monday, October 19. Word was received yesterday noon by Mr. Hart that Congressman Hawley would speak here on the date named and arrangements were at once made for securing the Star theater for that night.

Mr. Hawley is said to be a good speaker and it is proposed to make the meeting at the Star theater a rousing republican rally for the entire county. The complete arrangements for the meeting will be announced later.

Congressman Walter I. Smith, who is on a speaking campaign in Indiana this week, is expected to return home Sunday. For all of next week he has been assigned to meetings in the Second, Third, Fifth and Sixth congressional districts in this state. His assignment is as follows: October 12, Tipton; October 13, Brooklyn (afternoon), Montezuma (evening); October 14 and 15, Second district, places not yet designated; October 16, Anamosa or Monticello; October 17, Manchester. After filling these assignments Mr. Smith will return to the Ninth district and close the campaign at home, making a speech in each county in his district and in some counties making two.

Claude R. Porter of Centerville, democratic candidate for United States senator, will speak at the Star theater on the evening of Saturday, October 31. He is billed to speak in Adair on the afternoon of October 30, in Elkhorn on the evening of that day and at Oakland, in the east end of Pottawattamie county, on the afternoon of October 31, coming to Council Bluffs from there for the night meeting.

The regular weekly meeting of the Bryan-Kern club will be held this evening at democratic headquarters at the corner of First avenue and Pearl street.

A preliminary meeting of "first voters" was held last evening at republican headquarters in the Merriam block for the purpose of organizing a "First Voters" Taft-Sherman club. It was decided to make a canvass and ascertain how many first voters would be likely to join before perfecting the organization. A committee, with A. Metzger as chairman, was appointed to conduct the canvass and when this is done another meeting will be called.

JUST A PLAIN TALK

About dry goods and other kindred lines, but it may mean dollars to both you and us. It is worth your while in dollars saved to look into our statements made in the newspapers every week about having such choice new merchandise, and our ability to save you money on what you buy.

The strenuous activity of our buyers during the last summer to secure the best goods for the money and the newest up-to-date styles is now evidenced by the great quantity of dry goods, cloaks, skirts, ladies' suits, millinery, etc., daily pouring in upon us.

The last two weeks has seen dry goods come to Hunter's by the carload, large quantities of them direct from the mills, and the values we have for your consideration in every department are second to no store in America. That statement is an absolute fact, even though it sounds "big." We are fully aware we do not occupy as much floor space as some of the "big" stores of Chicago or Omaha, but it is not floor space that concerns you; it is what you get for your money in clean, crisp, new, up-to-date merchandise, and in this respect we take a back seat for none of them. We ask you to come and investigate—see for yourself what we are doing.

We know that it means dollars saved to you and it means more business for us. Always bear this in mind—our guarantee of satisfaction goes with every sale.

Plea for Oriental Home.

Miss Carry G. Davis, one of the women in charge of the Oriental home maintained by the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church at Berkeley, Cal., addressed a large audience last night at the Broadway Methodist church on behalf of the institution. In charge of Miss Davis are eight little Chinese children from the home, whose ages range from 4 to 13 years. These interesting little olive skinned, slant eyed, blackhaired youngsters, each of whom can speak both English and their native tongues, were pleasing features of the evening's program. They sang and recited both in English and Chinese and formed a pretty and quaint picture in their native costumes.

The Oriental home after the earthquake and accompanying conflagration was moved from San Francisco to Berkeley, but will be moved back across the bay as soon as conditions are favorable. The home is conducted for the purpose of educating and Christianizing the Chinese, especially those living in what is known as Chinatown in San Francisco. Miss Davis said that Chinatown in San Francisco had been practically all rebuilt and that the Chinese who were scattered to different points at the time of the earthquake were gradually drifting back to that section of San Francisco.

Miss Davis and her charges will go from here to Atlantic and eventually hope to reach Philadelphia in time for the annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society.

Reorganizing Humane Society.

Mrs. E. Irene Rood of Chicago, organizer and agent for the American Humane association, is in Council Bluffs in the interest of that organization and expects to reorganize the local branch, which has been in a state of innocuous desuetude since the death of the late D. C. Bloomer several years ago. Mrs. Rood plans to first call upon the city officials, leading business and professional men, officers of the several charitable organizations and the pastors of the various churches to enlist their co-operation and later will call a meeting for the purpose of reorganizing the local branch.

Mrs. Rood carries a badge of authority in the shape of a star and does not hesitate to intervene and assert her authority when she sees an animal cruelly treated. She is stopping at 120 South Seventh street while in this city and desires that any person interested in the purposes of the organization which she represents communicate with her there.

MEETING OF KING'S DAUGHTERS

Organization Shown to Be in a Flourishing Condition.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—The thirteenth annual convention of the Iowa branch of the Order of King's Daughters convened in Burlington today with 100 delegates present from all parts of Iowa. Mrs. Ida Mansfield of Burlington, state secretary, is presiding and called the convention to order. Mrs. I. B. Schreckengast of Burlington welcomed the delegates and Miss Quackenbush of Des Moines responded. The annual report of the state secretary showed that seven new circles had been organized in Iowa the last year. All but six circles in the state have shown an increase in membership. There are now fifty-five circles in Iowa and 984 members. So far as heard from the circles have raised for their work $1,726. The reports of the other officers showed the order to be in a flourishing condition. Tonight an address was made by Miss Jennie Greenwood of St. Louis on "Soul Winning."

Unitarian Church Convention.

PERRY, Ia., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The opening session of the thirty-first annual meeting of the Iowa Association of Unitarian and Other Independent Churches was held in Perry Wednesday. A number of the most prominent Unitarian ministers of the state are in attendance. The afternoon session, which was held in the Unity church, was conducted by Rev. Eleanor Gordon of Des Moines.

A two-hours' session of the books of the last two years was held and some interesting discussions were given.

Dr. Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago had charge of the meeting of the evening. The Congregational church was given to the Unitarians for use for the evening meeting and that auditorium was filled to its capacity with the members and friends of the church.

Automobile Runs Into Carriage.

BOONE, Ia., Oct. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Word received here today tells of an automobile accident in the country ten miles southeast. A careless auto driver from Maxwell ran his car into a carriage occupied by some young women, seriously injuring them. Jennie Gogerty, Myrtle Gogerty and Mary Reindt were bruised, cut and otherwise injured. The machine struck their carriage and Myrtle was thrown headfirst into a barbed wire fence. Jennie was tossed completely over the fence and the other landed face downward in the road. All will recover.

Poorfarm Superintendent Exonerated.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Following its investigation of the charges against J. E. Copeland, superintendent of the county poor farm, the Board of Supervisors today passed resolutions exonerating him. While it was the opinion of the board that corporal punishment was given only when necessary, the supervisors are of the opinion the inmates are justified in their complaint about the food. The superintendent was ordered to provide meat at least once a day and give them a satisfying ration.

REPUBLICANS WAKING UP

Long List of Speaking Dates Announced by the State Committee.

LITTLE TALENT FROM OUTSIDE

Secretary of State Rules Against Voting Machines Because They Do Not Provide for a Sufficient Number of Candidates.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—That the republican campaign of Iowa is warming up and getting to the stage where votes are to be made is evident by the announcement of dates of speakers by the bureau of the state committee today. It is proposed from this on to make the campaign strenuous. It is learned that very few speakers will come into the state from the national committee, as they are being used in doubtful states. The local committee, however, has an abundance of good material in the state and this is being used to good advantage. The reports reaching the committee are furthermore all good.

The following speaking dates were announced by the committee today, the first being for State Auditor B. F. Carroll:

October 7, Orange City, afternoon; LeMars, evening. October 8, Ashton, afternoon; Rock Rapids, evening. October 10, Spirit Lake, afternoon. October 12, Germania, afternoon; Forest City, evening. October 13, Britt, afternoon; Algona, evening. October 14, Emmettsburg, afternoon; Spencer, evening.

Walter I. Smith—October 12, Tipton. October 13, Brooklyn, afternoon; Montezuma, evening. October 14 and 15, Second district. October 16, Monticello. October 17, Manchester, afternoon; Cedar Falls, evening.

George W. Clarke—October 10, Winterset.

John F. Lacey—October 10, Winterset, evening. October 14, Murray. October 16, Ottumwa.

Congressman Haugen—Tonight at Plymouth. October 8, Grafton. October 9, Meservey.

Peter Hepburn—Tonight at Tingley. October 8, Gravity. October 9, Copin.

James W. Good, Cedar Rapids—October 10, Durrant. October 14, Springdale. October 15, Bennett. October 16, Lowden.

Charles E. Pickett, Waterloo—October 9, Rowley.

E. P. Seeds, Manchester—Tonight at Fairbank.

George Cosson, Assistant Attorney General—October 17, Mento.

Owen Scott, Illinois—October 14, Afton. October 15, Corning, Fort Dodge.

M. D. O'Connell—October 12, Third district. October 13, Winthrup.

C. G. Saunders, Council Bluffs—Elkhorn, evening.

Seth Low, New York—October 15, Iowa City, afternoon; Grinnell, evening. October 17, Ames.

Fail to Find Shercliffe.

The Des Moines police department is wondering today whether or not it has been the victim of a joke, or whether Frank Shercliffe was able to elude the officers. The gang of policemen which went to Mitchellville last night returned without Shercliffe. Mrs. Shercliffe took an interurban car to Mitchellville and the police were there to meet her. She went to the home of friends and later in the day returned to Des Moines and went to her own home. Shercliffe was not seen.

Search for Mrs. Gill.

The police of this city are searching diligently for Mrs. Charles E. Gill of Cedar Rapids, wife of the Rock Island railroad wire chief of that city. She left home September 19 without leaving any word and has not since been heard from. The husband believes she is working in some restaurant or factory in this city.

First Game in Years.

Simpson college of Indianola will break over its rules of several years and engage in its first intercollegiate game of foot ball Friday, when it meets Highland Park college on the grounds in this city. For the last three years the students of Simpson college have engaged in nothing but class games, and hence the strength of the college team this year is unknown.

Railroad Club Resumes.

The Iowa Railroad club, a state organization with headquarters in this city, will resume its regular monthly meetings on October 9 with a smoker and social in the rooms at the Union depot here.

Nizert Gets Twenty Years.

Earl Nizert, the negro who broke into the room of a white woman in this city and attempted an assault was today sentenced to the maximum term of twenty years in the penitentiary by Judge McHenry of the district court. Nizert on the trial was identified by the authorities of Illinois as one Richard White, who was one of the negroes who stirred up the trouble in Springfield, Ill. It took the jury but four minutes to reach a verdict. At the time of the assault the screams of the young woman aroused the neighbors and Nizert was captured as he ran from the house.

Voting Machines No Good.

Secretary of State W. C. Hayward today informed the county auditor of Polk county that the new voting machines which it was expected to use this year cannot be used. The city and county together have invested something like $35,000 in the machines. One of the reasons given by the secretary of state is that the machines provide for but forty candidates, while in most of the precincts of Polk county there will be forty-five or more candidates. He further questions whether the machine is in accordance with law, because it is necessary for the voter to vote a straight ticket first and then do the scratching by changing the levers afterward. He has promised to ask the attorney general for a further opinion, but has instructed Auditor Burnett to have ballots printed as formerly.

IMPORTED DUTCH BULBS. HERMAN BROS., 10 PEARL ST.

Iowa News Notes.

ATLANTIC—Clarence Milhollen, a well known young man of this city and lineman for the Bell Telephone company here, was married this morning in Lemars to Miss Loree Bristal of that place.

PERRY—Work on the new $25,000 Methodist Episcopal church is progressing rapidly. Two cars of stone from the Bedford quarries and a carload of structural steel arrived today, and with continued good weather the building will be enclosed before long.

MARSHALLTOWN—Miss Amanda Redel, a dry goods clerk of this city, has sued the city for $10,000 damages for a broken arm and other injuries sustained while she was crossing a muddy crossing in the residence section of the city.

CRESTON—Verge Garner, a resident of Corning, was found on the railroad track at that place yesterday afternoon, the body being severed lengthwise and badly crushed. An investigation is being held relative to the manner in which he met death. He was a married man and left a family.

MOUNT VERNON—Bishop W. S. Lewis of Sioux City is presiding over the fifty-third annual session of the Upper Iowa Conference of Methodists which is meeting here. Nearly 200 ministers are in attendance at the conference. This is the first time in the history of the conference that it has been held in one of the college towns of the church.

OSCEOLA—Horace McLain, one of the most prominent of the younger business men of this place and manager of the creamery company, is at the hospital here suffering from lockjaw. Parmely smashed his thumb about two weeks ago, while unloading coal and went immediately to have the thumb dressed. He thought no more about it, as it was doing nicely, until blood poisoning set in and the lockjaw followed. Dr. Morris is treating him, and has used the tetanus serum and it is thought that he may recover.

CRESTON—Eldon Tucker, who is the son of the postmaster at Brooks, has been arrested by federal officers on a charge of filling out blank money orders and passing them and was given a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Hanna to this place, who decided that the young man must answer to the grand jury for his act. This charge is the second of a like nature preferred against the young man within a few months, the first being leniently treated on account of his youth, and he was out on $3,000 bonds. It is understood that his bondsmen have withdrawn and wished to be relieved from further responsibility in the matter.

The Editor Remarks—The season is now at hand when the fool-killer may, with impunity, slaughter political curbstone ornaments who spend their time daily "saving" the country, while their wives do all the work at home. The season ought to be open for thirteen months in the year and a bounty besides for the extermination of political chuckleheads who hold party above manhood.—Scott's Bluff Herald.

Trying to Migrate—The baggagemen captured a young rattlesnake, which crawled out of one of the empty beer kegs at the Missouri Pacific passenger depot yesterday afternoon, and had a bushel of fun with it. Several had close calls from being bitten before they killed his snakeship. It was some thirty inches in length. The railroad men claim they often find snakes along the platform at this season of the year, and in empty boxes, barrels and kegs. It may be that the snakes are trying to migrate to some state that is not threatened with prohibition.—Nebraska City News.
