CORNHUSKER CAMP GLOOMY

Friends of Eleven Do Not Look for Big Score Against Grinnell.

LITTLE IMPROVEMENT IN PLAY

Only Gleam of Sunshine is Strength Shown by the Line in the Last Practice Against the Scrubs.

LINCOLN, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—There is no feeling of overconfidence in the Nebraska camp tonight regarding the game with Grinnell tomorrow. The rooters are expecting the Cornhuskers to win, but they look for a very low score. The showing of the team during the past two weeks has not encouraged their supporters to look for any great things from the Cornhuskers tomorrow. Nobody figures on Nebraska's making more than twenty points, and some estimates give "King" Cole's pupils only ten points and even concede Grinnell a few points.

Grinnell is not expected to be any stronger than last season, but it is believed the Cornhuskers are weaker and that they will not be able to put up as good an exhibition of the gridiron game as they did when the two teams met last season. All this week they have been outplayed by the scrubs in practice and have not shown any of the speed or agility that they had last fall.

At the last scrimmage of the week yesterday afternoon the scrubs tore holes in the varsity line at will and broke up plays time after time. Frequent fumbling by the regulars also enabled the second team men to gain several yards and to prevent the advance of the varsity. It took the regulars twenty minutes to make one touchdown, and that was accomplished only with the aid of the coach, who permitted the varsity to retain the ball several times after they had lost it on downs.

The Cornhusker line stood up better on the defense under the attack of the scrubs yesterday than at any time this week. The second team players could not gain to any advantage through the line and were forced to kick every time they secured the ball after making one or two futile attempts to advance the ball by other methods.

Basis of Cornhusker Hope.

It was this exhibition of strength by the line against the scrubs that caused the coaches to see a gleam of light for the game tomorrow. "King" Cole believes that if the Cornhusker line can hold the Grinnell players and keep the fleet men of their backfield from slipping through that Nebraska will have a comparatively easy time. With the line withstanding all the hammering that will be necessary the Cornhuskers ought to be able to cross the Grinnell goal line for three or four touchdowns. If they cannot get these on straight foot ball they should be able to make them on some of "Pip" Cooke's fast runs and by using the forward pass.

Cooke is one of the Nebraska men who has been flying fast ball all week and has been the only one who could make any consistent gains against the scrubs. He has circled their ends frequently on long runs and has been able to get away from their men on the forward pass several times. He is being figured on to get a touchdown or two for the scarlet and cream.

Grinnell is light but fast. The total weight of the team is 1,714 pounds. The weight of the line is 975 pounds. The backfield is reported to be hardly as fast as last season. Wells, who played at half a year ago, has been shifted to quarter. He weighs 145 pounds and is a good general, besides being speedy. Flanagan, who was an All Iowa end last season, is still holding down the left wing and is said to be playing a greater game than last season. He played the best game of any end seen on Nebraska field last season and is the most feared of all the Grinnell players by the Nebraska eleven. He caused the entire Cornhusker team all kinds of trouble last year and on several occasions nearly eluded all his tacklers when making runs around end. Every man on the Cornhusker eleven will be watching him tomorrow to prevent his getting away for a touchdown.

EVENTS ON RUNNING TRACKS

Zienap Captures Willard Hotel Handicap at Douglas Park.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 9—A large crowd attended the races at Douglas park today. It was soldiers' day, 700 enlisted men and officers who are here on an army tournament being present. Enlisted men took part in two events, both of which were spectacular.

In the cavalry cup handicap Grimes ran away and ran through a fence. M. Matthews, his rider, was not seriously injured.

In the Berman race four soldiers raced, each on two horses. The men stood as they rode. Mr. Haught was the winner by two lengths. Infant threw Mr. Douglas and ran through a fence, but neither horse nor rider was seriously injured.

In the regular racing Zienap captured the Willard hotel handicap from a good field in fast time. Jockey Butler rode four winners and some of them paid good prices in the Mutual machines. The weather was clear and cool, track fast. Summaries

First race, selling: Alice Baird (99, Butler, straight, $33.10), won; Sempronium (102, Walsh, place, $41.60), second; Elizabeth Harwood (107, Powers, show, $7.25), third. Time: 1:14⅘. Sniff, Flighty, Manay colors, She Wolf, Dr. Holsberg, Mabel Henry, Gliding Belle also ran.

Second race, mile and seventy yards, selling: Gold Treasurer (98, Butler, straight, $54.75), won; Telegrapher (105, Powers, place, $8.95), second; Coaster (95, Walsh, show, $10.60), third. Time: 1:47⅘. Durant, Dr. Bimal, Virginia Maid, Topnotch, Royal Jack, Washakie, Voting, Cygnet, Swift Wing also ran.

DETROIT READY FOR BIG GAMES

Practice Begins at Once for World's Series.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 9.—Before daylight today there were camped before the ticket windows at Bennett park, where tomorrow the Detroit American league and Chicago National league base ball teams will open their second struggle for the world's championship, several hundred enthusiasts, determined to be in advantageous position for the opening of the reserved seat sale at 10 o'clock.

It was just after midnight when a policeman discovered the first applicant. He announced that it was his intention to secure the first ticket for the world's series and that he proposed to stay there until he did. Hundreds more gathered during the early hours of the morning.

While the sale of seats was occupying every person connected with the business department of the club, Manager Jennings and the players were engaged in their final practice for the great game tomorrow. The players reported at the park immediately after breakfast and were kept at work at top speed until noon. Under the rules governing the world's series Shortstop Bush is not eligible to play with the local team in the series and this will force O'Leary into the game, despite the fact that he has a badly bruised thumb.

It was Manager Jennings' intention today to have Pitcher Killian, Detroit's strong left hander, to face the Chicago team in the opening game. Catcher Schmidt is expected to catch most of the games during the series, in spite of a painful finger which the club physician says is both dislocated and slightly fractured.

Contractors had double forces of men at work in the park today putting up the extra seats and bracing the stands where necessary and President F. J. Navin declared that by noon tomorrow the park would be ready for a crowd of 20,000 to 25,000. It is expected that there will be seating capacity for about 25,000.

The Chicago team is due here at 1:30 this afternoon.

"I feel confident that we will win the world's title," said Manager Jennings today. "Yet I will make no prediction. All I will say is that when the Cubs get through with the series they will know that they have been in a fight."

Weather indications are for a bright, sunny day tomorrow.

NEW YORK IS FAIRLY BEATEN

No More Entitled to "Tie" Game Than Italian to Marathon.

It's all over and Chicago won a clean pennant and New York was fairly and decisively beaten, but just the same this editorial from the Sporting News will be read with interest all over the country:

"President Pulliam's ruling on the report of Umpires O'Day and Emslie of the final play in the game of September 23 between the Chicago and New York National league teams is in accord with base ball law and an appeal to the board of directors is a grandstand play to humbug patrons of the Polo grounds into believing that the Giants were cheated out of the championship. Responsibility for loss of that game rests upon Merkle, a minor league recruit, who, through ignorance or excitement, failed to comply with the code and deprived his team of a victory. The only point at issue is whether Merkle was forced. That was determined by Umpire O'Day, who declared the base runner did not reach second base before the ball was held on that bag by a Chicago player. Two hands were out and the bases were full, when Bridwell batted the ball safely to center. McCormick ran home, but Merkle, who was on first, instead of touching second base, made a dash for his team's dressing room as soon as he saw Bridwell's drive pass the infield. McCormick had legally touched the first three bases and home base before three men were put out, but his run did not count because he reached home on or during a play in which the third man was forced out. The proviso in rule 59 nullified the run of McCormick, who, under the circumstances, had no more right to score than if he had sprinted home before the third out was made on a fly from Bridwell's bat to the limit of the field that was caught or had touched the home plate before the Giants' shortstop had been thrown out before reaching first base. The force out of Merkle at second base was retroactive and the moment that it was consummated, McCromick's right to a run gained by legally touching the first three bases and home base, was rendered null and void and, under base ball law, he and his teammates were left on base and Merkle made the third out. New York had no more right to count a run for McCormick than the game Greek who was assisted through the Coliseum while nearing the finish had to be acclaimed the winner of a recent Marathon race, which an American won, not by reaching the goal first, but by complying with the regulations of the race, which were violated by sympathizers with the exhausted leader.

"Merkle, a major league novice, made a minor league break in failing to legally touch second base and thereby prevent the operation of the proviso in rule 59 and all the sophistry of Brush will accomplish nothing in the attempt to have the directors of the National league exempt his club from the full operation of rule 59 of the code of rules, adopted in compliance with section 1 of article 8 of the National agreement, to regulate the playing of the game of base ball for the season of 1908.

PULLIAM HAS FAITH IN CUBS

President of National League Believes They Will Win.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 9.—The members of the National base ball commission left at noon today for Detroit to attend the opening game of the world's championship series, which begins there tomorrow. No statement further than last night's official announcement of the conditions governing the contest was given out, but President Pulliam in an interview talked entertainingly of the championship race. He said:

"It was the greatest race in the history of base ball, and the best team undoubtedly won. But there was great glory for other teams besides the winners in the battles that were fought right down to the last day.

"All honor should go to the New York team for the gallant fight they made to bring the flag to Gotham.

"With practically only two dependable pitchers they fought their way from a lowly position to the leadership in the race, holding that place for a long time by a display of gameness and base ball ability that has rarely if ever been equalled in base ball.

"Pittsburg, too, deserves the limit of praise for the fight made by its representative in the National league. Manager Clarke started the season with only one regular outfielder, and also tried four different basemen during the season. Yet, despite this handicap, the team battled gamely and successfully, winding up the season only one game behind the leaders and remaining in the fight until their last game was played.

"As for the Chicagoes, they are a great game, able team. No team in the league suffered more through accidents and illness during the season than the Cubs. Yet they were never discouraged, but were always fighting among the leaders. In the series with the Tigers I believe the Cubs again will come off victorious. However, in all fairness, I trust that the best team will win, and that there will be no excuses to offer on either side after the world's championship battles are over.

"So far as the National league race was concerned, it was the greatest, cleanest base ball fight in the history of our organization. The failure of the unfinished game between the Giants and the Cubs is to be greatly deplored, of course, but it was settled in the only honorable way that could be devised.

"As evidence of what a close race it was I only need to cite the fact that there was much less trouble with players this year than ever before, only four men on the three leading teams being suspended during the season, New York having one, Chicago three and Pittsburg none."

AGGIES READY TO GO NORTH

Play Under Big Eight Rules Will Be Big Blow.

AMES, Ia., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Practice on State field is becoming strenuous and Coach Williams' repeated injunctions to "get some pep," combined with the bracing effect of the cool weather, are putting the men in fighting trim. A week is too short a time to recover from a blow like the one that fell when the announcement came that the Minnesota game must be played under the Big Eight rules, but the team work is improving.

No secret practice has been started here yet, though Minnesota seems to find it necessary to conduct its maneuvers behind a canvas wall. The opinion is prevalent here that the Minnesota-Lawrence game last Saturday was little indication of the real strength of the Gophers, and that they will put up an altogether different game this week. The Aggies have been up against the husky northerners too many times to be fooled into thinking that their playing will be seriously weak. Though the loss of three old veterans has killed the hopes of the Ames supporters of being able to celebrate a victory over Minnesota, the team will be full of fight, and the game will be a scrappy one from start to finish. The only regret expressed here is that the game is to be played away from home.

The varsity made some long gains on the scrubs last night, chiefly through the line and around the end. Both Heggen and Knox are being tried out at quarter. Knox is also being practiced at fullback, where he shows up with considerable speed. It is quite likely that he will play this position in Saturday's game, with Heggen at fullback.

MRS. ANDERSON WINS HONORS

COMPTROLLER MAKES CHANGE

New System of Supervising Bank Examinations Devised.

ELEVEN DISTRICTS CREATED

Each Headed by Chairman Who Will Meet Examiners Quarterly and Co-operate with Clearing Houses.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Comptroller of the Currency Murray announced today that he had decided to put into immediate action a plan for the formation of the eleven districts of national bank examiners with a chairman who will preside over quarterly meetings of all the examiners in each of the districts and in intervals between such meetings will keep in touch with the examiners of other districts. From the representations of examiners, the chairman will compile reports to the comptroller designed to furnish in detail a list of the lines of over-extended credits, large loans and heavy borrowers and in general all of the questionable or doubtful paper which comes to the attention of the examiners. The co-operation of the districts with the clearing house associations of the locality is also a contemplated feature.

Following are the boundaries of western districts, tentatively determined upon with examiners in charge:

District 6, headquarters Chicago, Examiner C. H. Bosworth in charge, will include Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin with ten examiners.

District 7, headquarters Minneapolis, Examiner J. A. Rathbun in charge, will include Minnesota and South Dakota, with five examiners.

District 8, headquarters Kansas City, Mo., Examiner F. C. Hicks in charge, will include Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas, with twelve examiners.

District 9, headquarters Fort Worth, Tex., Examiner J. M. Logan in charge, will include Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, with four examiners.

District 10, headquarters Denver, Colo., F. L. Klein in charge, will include Colorado Utah and Wyoming, with two examiners.

District 11, headquarters San Francisco, Examiner E. T. Wilson in charge, will include Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and California, with six examiners.

Iowa's Crack Woman Shot.

LAKE CITY, Ia., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Miss Lottie Case, 16-year-old daughter of Otto Case of this place, is reputed to be one of the best all-around rifle shots in the state. The feats she accomplishes on the ordinary 22-caliber rifle are astounding and already have began to attract considerable attention. She shoots and breaks bottles thrown into the air easily, and by holding the rifle at arm's length, without using the sights, shoots holes in tin cans thirty yards away. One of the most remarkable targets she uses and successfully shoots full of holes is a wooden block hidden behind a piece of black cloth a yard square. The wooden block is set on another block entirely behind the cloth and in such a position that the shooter cannot see the target. By using several mirrors arranged in such a manner that the wooden target is reflected into the mirror nearest herself, Miss Case has been known to hit the wooden block six times out of ten shots. The feat is wonderful and the sighting is done along the barrel after a careful estimate has been made of the exact position of the target through the mirrors. Miss Case says she fixes the position of the target by seeing in the mirror just how far from the center of the cloth the block appears. The block is moved each time following a shot and the gunner does not know the exact location until the same appears in the mirrors. Miss Case is equally good with the shotgun and brings down the quick, swerving jack snipe with aptitude and skill.

Complete Reversal of Form.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—With a complete reversal of form the varsity mowed down the freshman eleven in fierce style last night on Iowa field, scoring three touchdowns in nine minutes. Twenty minutes later another score came, after the freshmen, recovered from the surprise of the onslaught, had struggled to keep the regulars from scoring.

The play was by far the best displayed by the varsity this season. Hazard was shifted back to his old position of fullback, with Fee at left half and Carberry at quarter. The combination worked like a charm, a 55-yard run by Kirk, with splendid interference by carberry, marking the climax of the brilliant performance.

Gross was out in his suit and the coaches immediately sent him to right guard in the scrimmage practice. He played well for the first night out, upsetting several of the freshman plays and charging the opposing linesmen in old time form.

Hyland and Perrine were on the ends. Their defense was the best yet, and the receiving of the forward passes was satisfactory.

The feature of the practice was the determined spirit of the varsity. The practical defeat of the regulars by the 1912 eleven the previous evening had nettled the first squad. They were out to win. Hazard on the kickoff never stopped until he had reached the freshman 40-yard line. The initial play was characteristic of the entire thirty minutes of scrimmage. The varsity was out to whip the freshmen. End runs, a few forward passes and a good onside kick occasionally couldn't be stopped by Heinzman's men.

Morningside Has Light Team.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The Morningside college foot ball eleven, which will go against the Creighton university squad on Saturday, will be the lightest which has represented the Methodist institution in years. According to the weights announced by Coach Jack Hollister, the men will average but 150 pounds. The coach does not believe that the lack of heavy material will prove a serious handicap, as the team is showing great speed in the execution of plays. The loss of Captain Ray Whisman, who has not returned to college, has left a big hole in the back field. Although outweighed by the Creighton eleven, the Morningsiders expect to get away with the long end of the score. The Morningside back field will be entirely a new and untried one. It is probable that Bob Smylie will be at quarterback, with B. Rogers and Burns at the halves and Clyde Rogers at fullback. Bridenbaugh, guard on last year's eleven, has been shifted to center and displaced Stiles, who has played the position for the last three years.

No Cleveland-New York Game.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 9.—A telegram was received from John T. Brush of the New York National league club today approving a suggestion that a series of post season games be played between the New York and Cleveland clubs. The management of the Cleveland club was at first favorably impressed with the proposition. At the conclusion of a conference late this afternoon of the officials of the club, however, it was decided that as the team had disbanded and the players are widely scattered, it is too late to play the games.

Going Out for Ducks.

Charles Higham'th, Clint Lerch, Ed Smotland And Andrew Grey will leave Monday for Bill Francke's ranch at Hackberry lake for a week's shooting for ducks and incidentally to do a little fishing.

Choice Fall Suits....

HAVERLY, County Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS — BIDS will be received until 4 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, October 3, 1908, at the office of the undersigned in Lincoln, Nebraska, room 102, of the Administration building, State university grounds, for the installation of plumbing fixtures, piping and connections; and also for heating apparatus and steam mains for the mechanical engineering laboratories now in course of construction on the university campus, Lincoln, according to plans and specifications on file in the office of the superintendent of construction, room 108, in said Administration building. Bidders must consult the superintendent before preparing and filing bids upon all matters which may appear to them uncertain in either plans or specifications, and must also carefully examine this notice and the forms of contract and bond on file with the superintendent; they must also personally inspect the building. Bids must conform strictly to the plans and specifications and the requirements of this notice. Bidders must be prepared to furnish commercial ratings or satisfactory references upon their financial standing, if the same be required by the university authorities. Bids must be filed separately for plumbing and heating. Each bid for plumbing must be accompanied by a certified check on some Lincoln bank payable to the University of Nebraska unconditionally for the sum of two hundred dollars and each bid on heating work must be accompanied with a like check in the sum of three hundred dollars. The checks of the successful bidder, in case of an award, will be held as a guaranty for furnishing to the superintendent of construction schedules of materials, with quantities and prices, signing the contract in form as proposed and furnishing a security company bond in a sum equal to one-third of the contract price of work awarded. Both the security bond offered and the form of bond must be satisfactory to the Board of Regents of its building committee. In case the successful bidder fails within two weeks from the date of the award to file said schedules, fails to furnish and file bonds as required or to enter into contract at the amount of his bid, the check deposited by him will be forfeited to the university as liquidated damages without further proceedings or notice. The check of the bidder whose bid is second best in the judgment of the Board of Regents or its building committee will also be held pending the negotiations for the closing of a contract with the first best bidder, or until it is determined whether the second best bid will be taken up or rebidding called for. All bids must bear the residence or business address of the bidder, must be signed, sealed up, addressed to the undersigned and be plainly marked on the outside with the bidder's name and the words "plumbing work" or "heating work," as the case may be, for mechanical engineering laboratories. The bids will be opened and inspected as soon after the date above set for filing the same as the board of Regents or its building committee can be conveniently assembled. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Address bids to the undersigned at room 102, Administration building, State University, Lincoln, Nebraska, Station A. J. S. DALES, Secretary.
