

PREPARE THIS MIXTURE AND RID YOURSELF OF CATARRH FOREVER

Gives readers a simple recipe said to overcome dread disease.

Here is a prescription which should be valued by all who are subject to rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers an incurable disease, there are few men or women who will fail to experience great relief from the following simple home prescription, and if taken in time it should prevent an attack of catarrh during the entire season.

Any one can mix the following: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime. Get these ingredients from any pharmacist whom you know handles only pure drugs. This prescription acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys to make them filter and strain from the blood the poisons that produce all forms of catarrhal affections. Relief is often felt even after the first few doses and it is seldom that the sufferer ever experiences a return attack within the year.

This prescription makes a splendid remedy for all forms of blood disorders and such symptoms as lame back, bladder weakness and rheumatism pains are entirely dispelled.

As this valuable, though simple, recipe comes from a thoroughly reliable source, it should be heeded by every reader who suffers from catarrh.

POLICE AFTER TONI BLASI

Denver Detective is Looking for a Bryan Club President.

DEMOCRATIC LEADER IS MISSING

Scion of Royal House Who Cut Such a Wide Swath Franchising for the Peerless Laundry Suddenly Disappears.

She-saw, Not a word about Haskell, now! But just the same, another Bryan idol has fallen.

Toni Blasi, president of the Italian Bryan club, the man who persistently promised the entire Italian vote of the city to Bryan, has concluded not to hang around and see that the votes are delivered on election day. No member of the Italian colony has seen Blasi since Friday. It may not have any connection with this fact, but Friday Detective Boss of the Denver police force arrived in Omaha and has been hunting Mr. Blasi since.

Members of the Italian colony are disposed toward a causal relation between the two events, Mayor Dahlman, whose right hand man Toni was, is trying to conjure up in memory some phrase about "fine Italian hand," and is telling his callers that well, if he did not exactly nurse a serpent in his bosom, "yet that serpent must have been a grand nephew of Machiavelli." It is truly painful to contemplate the sorrow felt by Jim and the Jims. It is terrible to have a kindly spirit imposed on "and think of the political effect."

Ready to Leave Omaha at short notice for some time. He had shipped away from his lodgings, 1012 Pacific street, all his heavier possessions and kept in a small valise a few personal effects. Moreover, he had been paying for his room from day to day for the last week, instead of a week in advance, as heretofore. A thoughtful soul, forsooth! He contemplated a trip to Italy in the near future.

Blasi had made his home during the few months he lived in Omaha at the highly respectable rooming house on Pacific street kept by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tobias. It was from here as base of supplies that he sallied forth to preach the glories of Bryanism, to extol the virtues of the Democrats and the sins of the Jacks, and also to admit in the strictest confidence, of course—that he was the scion of Italian nobility, an old and proud family, you know. You may recall the fact Blasi really deplored. He was a great democrat, and it was not really his fault if his forefathers had called themselves "didi." Blasi, Toni did the best he could with regard to this emblem of noble birth and called himself plain Blasi.

Like that little candle which burns brightest just before it flickers out, so Toni, his Omaha career may or may not be over so far as residence is concerned, but politically he has been snuffed out with a suddenness that is almost painful—if you belong to the Jims. But he went out in a burst of glory, nevertheless. The Italian colony was buzzing with gossip about Blasi and Detective Boss Saturday night. Sunday morning the sons of Garibaldi read with immense interest a full-page account of Blasi's romantic life, of his blue blood, of the passion for Bryan and democracy which led him over the seas. They also read of his lovely marriage, his dashing bearing and carriage, his wonderful wealth of eloquence, of everything but his intimacy with Our James and the confidence the mayor had in him, "trust him like a brother, you know."

The Italian residents of Omaha read with considerable surprise, too, that Toni, each and every one of them "idolized" Blasi, were like clay in his hands, and would vote exactly as Toni said. Whether this assertion was true or not, is not now worth debating. The fact remains that there is no likelihood they will see him at Metz hall on future Sunday evenings "banqueting with the passion of his oratorical appeals." No more "will Toni's speech in his impassioned moments be like the falling of a triphammer." No more "will Toni, beating his breast for emphasis, declare himself with the vigor of a prophet." Alas! Alas!

Detective Boss has given out nothing about his mission save that he wants to meet Mr. Blasi "face to face, heart to heart, and hand to hand," as Mayor Dahlman in a rhetorical outburst told the letter carriers. Members of the Italian colony, with whom Boss talked, said that "the detective intimated that his reasons were urgent and that he had not come all the way from Denver just to hear Blasi tell

"she would make one pot of coffee to suit the family and then another for herself—much stronger. When she came to visit me I made her coffee while we drank Postum."

"One morning, the pots containing coffee and Postum being alike, got mixed. She drank Postum and said it was 'fine coffee' and had a better taste than hers, so rich and good. Then she began the use of Postum and found she began to get better. Now she is entirely well."

"There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pages.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

SLOAN PLEADS FOR INDIANS

Asks That Two Families Be Placed on the Tripp County Rolls.

SPECIAL AGENT TO INVESTIGATE

Grant & Co. Charge Burlington with Granting Rival Grain Firm Preferential Rates to Complaintant's Detriment.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Thomas L. Sloan, known to the public as the acting secretary of the Interior, today in behalf of two Indian families residing in Thurston county, Nebraska, and Brown county, Kansas, asking for the reopening of the rolls of Indians entitled to allotment of lands in Tripp county, South Dakota.

Today he asked a review of the claims of those who were shut out from receiving allotments of lands and participation in the sale of the reservation in Tripp county, South Dakota, and presented such a strong case that the acting secretary of the Interior took the matter under advisement.

Sloan represents Mary Diller and family, four of whom have already been recognized by the department. Four others, three in Thurston county and one in Brown county, Kansas, have through some unaccountable reason been cut out of participation in the allotment. After presenting his case Mr. Sloan was informed that a special agent would be sent to Nebraska and Kansas and a hearing be had on the ground and among the tribe as to whether these persons were entitled to participate in the allotment of lands now being opened in South Dakota.

Indian Girls to School. W. F. Springer of Waterville, Neb., is in Washington on his way home. Mr. Springer is one of the leading business men in Thurston county, having come east to place his daughter and Gertrude Provost of the same place in a school at Hampton, Va. Mr. Springer is a full blood Omaha Indian and a graduate of Central University, Pa. Mr. Springer says Taft will carry the state and Boyd will be elected in the third Nebraska district.

Minor Matters at Capital. Assistant Surgeon M. E. Rose is detached from duty at the navy recruiting station at Omaha and ordered to duty on the "Hiss."

Rural carriers appointed for South Dakota routes: Harrison, route 1. Jacob L. Markus, carrier, William D. Markus, substitute; Redfield, route 1. Hermann C. Schutt, carrier, James Hare, substitute.

William F. Lehman has been appointed postmaster at Sexton, Kansas county, vice, Charles A. Little resigned.

PRESBYTERIANS ON TEMPERANCE

County Option is Endorsed by the State Synod.

WAYNE, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special Telegram.)—The Sunday services of the Presbyterian synod now meeting in this place, largely attended, viewing papers filled several of the pulpits both morning and evening at the local Presbyterian church. In the morning, the moderator, James Clark of Mitchell, Neb., preached the sermon, after which the communion of the Lord's supper was observed.

In the afternoon a street meeting was held at which Dr. Lawrence of Lincoln gave an eloquent plea for men to consider the claims of Christ. After this the Presbyterian church was filled for an enthusiastic temperance rally. The speakers were Rev. Veyer of Hastings, Thomas Damsell and Dr. Lawrence of Lincoln, R. Reese of Randolph and C. W. McConaghy of Holdrege. The last two speakers spoke of improved conditions in their towns after going dry.

Today Dr. R. N. Adams of Minnesota addressed the synod on home missions. The report of the temperance committee was adopted in which county option was endorsed. The ministers were recommended to preach on the subject and work for it; also the action of Joseph G. Cannon with reference to temperance reform was strongly condemned and his re-election to the speakership protested against.

FRONTIER FESTIVAL AT HASTINGS

Everything indicates a Most Successful Affair.

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—According to all indications the only thing that can prevent the second Hastings Frontier festival from being fully as successful as the first, which was given a year ago, will be bad weather on two or more of the days set apart for the program. The entry list for the various events are entirely satisfactory to the management, for they insure close competition for all the prizes, and the interest manifested throughout the territory crossing by the festival advertising indicates that the attendance will be up to last year's mark, if, indeed, it is not much greater.

The program has been arranged so that one day of bad weather will not materially interfere with the festival, for the season can be extended to include Saturday. The days selected are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 14, 15 and 16. The program this year is more varied than last, but it contains all of last year's principal frontier events.

There will be a parade review of troops, Indians, cowboys, cowgirls, ropers and trick riders each morning. Four military bands will accompany the column. After the parade and until noon there will be free street attractions and a carnival company will give exhibitions mornings and evenings.

On the first day the events will be a cow pony race, a stake race for thoroughbred running horses, cowboy potato race, shooting by Captain Hardy, women's cow pony race, exhibition trick riding, world's championship steer roping, rough riding, wild horse race and a spectacular reproduction of the battle of Laramie plains.

On Thursday, the second day, there will be military maneuvers, women's relay race, frontier derby, with nine starts for a purse of $300, mixed race, steer roping and tying, exhibition fancy riding and roping, rough riding to determine the championship, wild horse race and a repetition of the battle of Laramie plains.

The program for the third day included fancy shooting by Captain Hardy, exhibition trick riding and roping, cowboys' relay race, three-fourths mile dash for thoroughbred runners, Indian pony race, finale in the roping and bucking contest, repetition of the battle and review of contestants and award of prizes.

The prizes range from $10 to $200. A handsome set of russet harness will be given to the best mounted draft team in the roping and bucking contest. The prize for the best team of $10 and $25 will be given for the best team of $10 and $25.

The prize for the winner of the rough riding contest will be a pair of gold spurs.

The city is already gaily decorated for the festival and the streets have been stretched across Second street in the business section and strings of electric lamps are being erected at intersections.

The carnival company arrived yesterday afternoon and before sundown all of the wagons and stages were in place. Riders are here from throughout the western states and several carloads of wild horses (outlaws) and Texas steers are expected here this afternoon or tonight.

DATES FOR SENATOR BEVERIDGE

Indiana Man to Deliver Nine Speeches in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Following is the schedule of Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana in Nebraska:

Thursday, October 15—Arrive McCook 10 a. m. (central time), speak thirty minutes. Arrive Oxford 11:50 a. m., speak thirty minutes. Arrive Holdrege 1 p. m., speak thirty minutes. Arrive Minden 2:10 p. m., speak thirty minutes. Arrive Hastings 3:30 p. m., speak thirty minutes. Arrive Sutton 4:45 p. m., speak twenty minutes. Arrive Fairmont 5:30 p. m., speak twenty minutes. Arrive Friend 6:10 p. m., speak thirty minutes. Arrive Lincoln 7:40 p. m., speak at auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Big Land Deal in Howard.

ST. PAUL, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The biggest real estate transaction that has ever taken place in Howard county has recently been consummated. George E. Woodbury has sold his 420-acre farm, situated about three miles southwest of this city, for a consideration of $5,700. The purchase sum covers also the crops and equipment. This is the establishing pretty good values on Howard county land, being $5 per acre.

Nebraska News Notes.

DEATH.—The little son of Mrs. Meader drank carbolic acid by mistake today and is in a serious condition.

FALLS CITY.—About a dozen farmers from near Strausville left today for Dallas, S. D., to register at the Rosebud opera house.

GRESHAM.—Charles Suhr, living six miles southwest, sold his 160 acres to Henry Hagerbush of Ulmstead for $16,000.

BEATRICE.—James Hubka today instituted suit for $5,000 damages against Mrs. Mary Kasak for slander. The parties live near York.

YORK.—C. E. Trump has been appointed by the town board marshal of Bradshaw. For some time Bradshaw has been without a marshal.

PLATTSMOUTH.—Grandma Jessup, aged 74 years, who has resided east of Plattsmouth for many years, was buried Sunday. Four sons and one daughter survive her.

PAID CITY.—E. L. Morgan lost about 100 head of fine sheep today. They got on the Missouri Pacific track a short distance north of Strausville and were run over by the train.

YORK.—Winter wheat drilled in early has made a fine growth. Many fields are three to five inches high and in first-class condition. There is plenty of moisture for wheat.

THAYER.—The friends and neighbors of Diedrick Dey, a pioneer settler, gathered at the Dey farm and celebrated the thirtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Diedrick Dey.

YORK.—H. B. Barnes of Sedalia, Mo., has purchased an interest in the jewelry store of T. P. Owens, and until the recovery from serious illness of Mr. Owens, will have charge of the business.

PLATTSMOUTH.—H. M. Dovey, cashier of the First National bank, had the books and office fixtures removed Monday to the newly remodeled building, which is said to be one of the most elegant in the state.

YORK.—Members of last year's high school football team not entering school this year are being investigated. The team misses the good work and experience of some of the players who cannot play.

PLATTSMOUTH.—The republicans will hold their first rally in this city in the afternoon of Wednesday evening next, at which time Hon. Wesley Jones and others will speak on the political issues of the day.

HASTINGS.—The Nebraska State Library commission will hold its annual convention here on October 20 and 21. Among the speakers will be Hon. Wm. E. Elwood of Buffalo and Prof. F. M. Fling of Lincoln.

YORK.—In letters taken from the York Republican published thirty years ago York county was given first place in wheat production. This is a very good thing, as it has nearly every year maintained considering quality and yield.

PLATTSMOUTH.—The union revival meetings in the First Methodist Episcopal church, conducted by Evangelist Miller, are drawing a large and enthusiastic audience. During the noon hour Monday he sang for the employees in the Burlington shops.

YORK.—Republicans are looking for bets and a number have been made. One bet of $500 on the state was made by two business men and several bets on general results and state and national elections. Republicans believe that a bet on Nebraska is a sure thing.

FALLS CITY.—The farmers' institute met here Saturday afternoon in the court house and after a lively session decided to hold the next institute on Tuesday and Wednesday.

day, December 28 and 29. The members then resolved themselves into a committee of the whole on special work and adjourned for two weeks.

CAMBRIDGE.—At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Minnick, seven miles northeast of Cambridge, took place the marriage of Miss Sarah E. Minnick and Mr. John Allen Rosenfield, the Rev. Alexander Simpson of the First Congregational church of Cambridge officiating.

YORK.—From reports coming in, York county will have one of the largest and best farm crops raised in many years. The quality is extra good and already reports are coming in where corn has been shucked yielding from fifty to seventy-five bushels to the acre. At the price received corn land will produce from $5 to $10 per acre, that can be bought for $5 to $10 per acre.

HASTINGS.—Miss Senna Hansen of St. Paul, Neb., and Edwin Curtis of Minden were united in marriage at the home of the bride's brother, Hans Hansen, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Rev. W. E. Harrison of the First Congregational church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen will live in Minden. Mr. Hansen is superintendent of schools in Kearney county.

YORK.—The new city directory just published shows a large increase in the population of York. According to the last United States census York made the largest growth of any city in Nebraska excepting South Omaha, and at the present and past rate of growth, York will maintain its position of making the most rapid and greatest growth of any city in Nebraska.

YORK.—The Brown brothers of York county, farmers living near McCook, brought in sixteen ears of new corn, weighed twenty-five and one-half bushels. The longest ear measured fourteen inches and the shortest ear twelve and one-half inches. They have shucked eight ears that made an average of seventy-five bushels to the acre. York county has raised a bumper 1908 corn crop.

YORK.—Taft club has leased the Kums rooms on the first floor and has fitted them up for republican headquarters. The room is a fine one and the republican club is using generally by republicans. Republicans of York county will live in the room and are pushing the work along. They predict that Taft's majority in York county will be 500 and some 1,000 if the farmer vote can be gotten out.

YORK.—The recent statements issued by the national banks of York county show a most prosperous condition and reflects the great prosperity of its farmers and business men. York county farmers own principally the deposits of the banks, and with another great wheat and corn crop they will add to the surplus deposited until the banks will have more money than they can profitably loan. Several of the banks have discontinued having a correspondent in New York City and are depositing money in Omaha banks.

HASTINGS.—Alleged interference on the part of his father-in-law is the cause of a suit for $10,000 damages started in the district court by Christian Sorensen against Christian Peterson. The plaintiff claims that because of the alienation of his wife's affections, Rosa M. Peterson and Christian Sorensen were married in 1906. The plaintiff avers that they lived happily together until a short time ago, when Peterson began declaring that "plaintiff was not fit to associate with defendant's daughter." Peterson is also charged with having declared that if his daughter did not leave her husband he would take her away from him. As a result of this Sorensen says, his wife deserted him last month and instituted proceedings for divorce. The plaintiff claims that because of the lack of maternal care for the child is the cause of the foundation for the suit.

Most Food is Poison to the dyspeptic. Electric Bitters cure dyspepsia, liver and kidney complaints and indigestion. Price 50c. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

Advertisements in The Bee, the paper that goes into the homes of the best people.

U. S. SUPREME COURT MEETS

Formal Proceedings Take Place—Two Women Admitted to Practice.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Beyond the admission of twenty-one members of the bar, the supreme court of the United States today convened at noon today for the 1908-09 term, transacted no official business, but immediately adjourned to make the formal call upon the president as usual.

Among the new members to the bar, were two women, both of this city.

The Tempting, Teasing Taste of

Post Toasties

"Takes hold" of the appetite and makes breakfast a real joy.

The crisp, delicious, golden-brown flakes are made from selected white corn.

Truly—A Breakfast Luxury

"The Taste Lingers"

SOLD BY GROCERS

Made at Pure Food Factories of POSTUM CEREAL CO., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

HALF MINUTE STORE TALK

Our instructions to salespeople to "treat all alike" is a mighty good thing for strangers at this store. They receive the same courteous attention that any one of our most intimate friends might receive.

THE NEW STORE

King-Swanson Co. 16 & 18 HOWARD STS. OPPOSITE TH. MPSON, BELDEN CO.

The effect of our purchasing power was never better illustrated than in our showing of—

SWEATER COATS

You'll not find better coats than ours no matter what price you pay. You'll not get so good a coat at any given price as this store offers you. Our great stock is our best proof of our contention.

MEN'S ALL WOOL 150, 250, $3 and up.

BOYS' ALL WOOL $1, 150, $2

CLUB WOMEN IN CONVENTION

Nebraska Federation Opens Fourteenth Annual Meeting Today.

MANY DELEGATES WILL BE HERE

Civil Service and Industrial Programs Held Tuesday Afternoon and Evening at First Congregational Church.

The annual convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs will open at 1:30 this afternoon at the First Congregational church continuing through Thursday. About 250 delegates are expected to meet these committees of local women will be at the stations to receive and direct them to their places of entertainment. The credentials committee will be at the church this morning to register delegates and issue badges. At 9:30 o'clock there will be a meeting of the executive officers and board of directors of the federation for the transaction of business incidental to closing the work of the administration. A meeting of the executive committee was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Johnson, 3229 Woolworth avenue.

The majority of the visiting delegates will be entertained at the Rome hotel. This arrangement has been made that the officers may more conveniently meet for conference. The district vice presidents are to be entertained in the homes. Mrs. Max Hostetter, vice president of the sixth district and Mrs. C. O. Bruce of the fifth will be entertained by Mrs. Edward Johnson, 3229 Woolworth avenue, vice president of the Second district. Mrs. John Ehrhardt of the Third district will be the guest of Mrs. C. W. Hayes, 2915 Lake street; Mrs. D. B. Croy of the Fourth district, guest of Mrs. Ben Baker, at the Winona, and Mrs. T. J. Gist of the First district, with Mrs. Grant Williams, 2219 Binney street.

A score or more of delegates arrived Monday evening, but the majority will come in this morning and this afternoon. The convention will open at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. F. T. Rouse, pastor of First Congregational church, delivering the invocation. Mayor Dahlman will make address of welcome for the city; Mrs. Edward Johnson, president of the Omaha Women's club, will speak for that organization, which is hostess, and Mrs. Carrie Peterson of Aurora will respond for the state delegates. Mrs. H. L. Keefe of Waterville, president of the federation, will make her annual address, which will be followed by reports from committee chairman. At 3:30 the civil service program will be given. Mrs. Margaret Carns of Lincoln, chairman of the committee, presiding. Dr. A. P. Jones will talk on "The Merit System in Our Public Affairs" and Mrs. Anna Clark of Boonville, Mo., vice chairman of the civil service commission of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will talk on "Practical Patriotism." The industrial session will be given in the evening. Mrs. W. F. Anderson of Omaha presiding. Deputy State Labor Commissioner John J. Ryder will speak on "Child Labor in Nebraska," and W. M. Davidson, superintendent of the city schools, will speak of "Industrial Education in the Public Schools." The program will begin at 7:30. At 8:30, through the courtesy of the National Association for the Study of Tuberculosis, a stereopticon illustration will be given of methods of caring for and treating tuberculosis.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

Women in Parliament.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a factory inspector, two dressmakers, one the wife of a workman, four organizers and speakers for different political parties, two the wives of peasants and one a doctor of philosophy.

There were nineteen women in the last Finnish Parliament; in the new Parliament there are twenty-five. Nine of them are married and sixteen are widows or single. Six were sent by the old Finnish party, the young Finns sent two, the Swedish party sent three, the social democrats thirteen and the agrarian party one. One is the wife of a clergyman, one the wife of a doctor, six are school teachers, two, the editors of women's papers, one a