The wheat market opened easy, with prices a shade to 1/4c lower. During the first few minutes of trade prices dipped still lower, but soon advanced again and held strong the balance of the day. Final quotations on December were $1.05% and on May $1.63%. There was some selling during the first half of the day, based on an official forecast of showers tonight in Nebrzske, but the report of cool weather in Argentina completely offset this influence. The report claimed there had been frost last night in Rossrio, in which dispersed the wheat crop is said to be the farthest advanced and the most susceptible to damage. Duluth reported a good export demand for wheat, and Minneapolis reported flour in good demand. Receipts in the northwest were liberal. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 455,000 bu. Exports for the week, as shown by Bradstreet's, were equal to 455,000 bu. Privary receipts were 1,454,000 bu., compared 111,1002,000 bu. the corresponding day a rego. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chillo reported receipts of $72 cars, against last week and $781 a year ago.

Hardly enough beef steers were on sale to make a test of the market, but what few there were sold at what looked about like steady prices. The same was true of the few feeders offered. As a matter of fact, the trade on feeding steers toward the last of the week is siways slow, and the common kinds especially hard to move.

Cows and helfers broke very badly yesterday, canners in some cases toward the close selling as much as 20c lower than the previous day. The weak feeling prevailing yesterday was carried over until today.
