A snafu thief, according to a report made to the police yesterday morning, went through a bank occupied by a gang of Italian men, and stole a large sum of money. The thief was seen by a man named Wright, pastor of colored congregations in Omaha, and Rev. Mr. Green of South Omaha, and later by J. D. Peterson, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church of this city. Rev. J. J. Adams is pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church.
Tom Carter, charged with attempting to steal an express package from a truck at the Union Pacific yards, was taken into custody before midnight Thursday night and is being held at the city jail and will have a hearing Monday morning. The package was identified by Ed Gascongne, night agent of the Pacific Express company at the transfer station. The package was a small package from the truck. Gascongne gave chase to the would-be thief, who dropped the package and succeeded in making his escape in the darkness. An information was filed against Carter yesterday and his bond placed at $50, which he was unable to furnish.

Ground will be broken for the Tabernacle Baptist church at the corner of Fourteenth street and Avenue D. The new building will be erected by the Tabernacle Baptist church. The event will be celebrated by appropriate exercises. Among the speakers will be Rev. Mr. Hingham and Rev. Mr. Wright, pastor of colored congregations in Omaha, and Rev. Mr. Green of South Omaha, and later by J. D. Peterson, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church of this city. Rev. J. J. Adams is pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church.

Chairman Smith plans to make this meeting a fitting close to the campaign which is now being actively waged in every part of Potawatomi county. Congressman Smith will undoubtedly be greeted with an audience which will tax the seating capacity of the theater.

Definite arrangements were made yesterday for two speeches in this county next week by Hon. Maurice D. O'Connor of Fort Dodge, solicitor of the United States treasury. With State Senator Charles G. Saunders of this city Mr. O'Connor will speak at Neola on the evening of Wednesday, October 21, and at Argo, on the evening of Thursday, October 22. Chairman Smith is laying plans for big meetings at both places.

Tag Day Proves a Success.
Council Bluffs was the scene of the women of the Epworth Methodist church and their friends yesterday and they took good advantage of the fact that Mayor Maloney had turned over to them the keys of the municipality. It was "tag day" and the number of yellow tags to be seen everywhere on the streets indicated that the women secured a goodly sum towards the building of the new church edifice which the congregation of Epworth church proposes erecting in the western part of the city.

The women who did the "tagging" stood at the street corners and other vantage points while others visited the stores, offices, wholesale houses, railroad and other public offices.

NOT A MIRACLE
Just Plain Cause and Effect.
There are some quite remarkable things happening every day, which seem almost miraculous.

Some persons would not believe that a man could suffer from coffee drinking so severely as to cause spells of unconsciousness. And to find complete relief in changing from coffee to Postum is well worth recording.

"I used to be a great coffee drinker, so much so that it was killing me by inches. My heart became so weak I would faint and be unconscious for an hour at a time. The spells caught me sometimes two or three times a day."

"My friends, and even the doctor, told me I was drinking coffee that caused the trouble. I would not believe it, and still drank coffee until I could not leave my room."

"Then my doctor, who drinks Postum himself, persuaded me to stop coffee and try Postum. After much hesitation I concluded to try it. That was eight months ago. Since then I have had but few of those spells, none for more than four months."

"I feel better, sleep better and am better every way. I now drink nothing but Postum and touch no coffee, and as I am seventy years of age all my friends think the improvement quite remarkable."

"There's a Reason."

BOOSTING MUNICIPAL PLANT

Meeting at City Hall Perfects Organization for that Purpose.

ATTENDANCE IS NOT LARGE

Announcement Made that Funds Are Being Received to Pay Expenses of the Campaign for Bond Issue.

A reorganization of the Municipal Ownership league for the purpose of waging a campaign in favor of the proposed issue of $500,000 bonds for a waterworks plant was effected at a meeting held last night in the city hall and which was attended by less than thirty advocates of municipal ownership.

Dr. L. L. Poston, president of the Federation of Improvement Clubs, was elected permanent chairman; Councilman W. S. Rigdon, permanent secretary, and former Councilman Robert H. Wallace, permanent treasurer.

The following committees were named: Publicity—F. W. Miller, Councilman C. Jensen, Frank Alexander, C. E. Haynes, C. E. Haynes, R. H. Wallace, F. J. Day, Councilman G. Youngerman.
Speakers and Hall—Thomas Bowman, Councilman C. Morgan, Spencer Smith.

At the suggestion of George W. Westerdahl the chairman will appoint a vice president in each precinct, whose duty it will be to see to it that all advocates of municipal ownership go to the polls on Tuesday, October 27, and vote in favor of the proposition to issue the $500,000 bonds.

It was decided to hold a mass meeting next Friday night in the Star theater, if the theater can be secured for that date. Invitations are to be issued to the mayor of Lincoln, former Mayor Huston of Cedar Rapids, and one of the waterworks commissioners of Sioux City to address this meeting.

Announcement was made that voluntary contributions for carrying on the campaign in favor of the bond issue were coming in.

Among those in attendance and who addressed the meeting were: Former Mayor M. F. Rohrer, former Congressman Thomas Bowman, F. J. Day, Attorney F. W. Miller, Councilman Morgan, Jensen, Rigdon and Alexander, and others.

The Municipal Ownership league was originally organized at a meeting in the office of Robert H. Wallace, then councilman from the Third ward, at the time of the campaign against granting a new franchise to the Council Bluffs City Waterworks company a year ago.

Iowa News Notes.
CRESTON.—The Burlington pay car arrived here Tuesday morning and was today being happy by the distribution of checks at that time.

CLARINDA.—Fire this morning at 5:30 totally destroyed the barn and outbuildings of William Johnson. Tools and a cow were saved.

MARSHALLTOWN.—Joseph Peacock, a farm laborer, while working on the top of a windmill on the Ed McCullough farm near Peacock, Ill., and broke his neck. Death was instantaneous.

MARSHALLTOWN.—Carl C. Bratt, a well known young man of this city, was today appointed deputy to Sheriff C. S. Huston to take the place of S. M. Gause, who resigned to become deputy treasurer.

ATLANTIC.—The city council has passed an ordinance prohibiting the use of confederate streamers, and all cases, whips and so on at the carnival to be held here next week. It is the intention of the council to enforce the law, and whoever is found to violate it will be fined for disorderly conduct.

ATLANTIC.—Clark Swiger, living north of the city, sustained a bad injury yesterday when he was thrown from his wagon in a runaway, and, landing on his head, sustained a fracture of the skull and other injuries to his body. He had started home, when in some manner the tongue of the wagon came down and he fell.

MARSHALLTOWN.—The annual grand lodge meeting of the following order of the annual encampment of the Patriarchal Militant and the state Rebekah assembly will be held at the city hall on Friday morning, October 24, when the grand lodge will open its session by Monday evening and the grand lodge will close on Friday morning, October 25, when the grand lodge will be held, will be the big day.

CEDAR FALLS.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Huse, who live ten miles west of the city, mourn the loss of one daughter, aged 6, and another, aged 8, maybe fatally injured when they were riding on a horse-drawn wagon near Hartford has been unconscious for hours and may not rally. The accident was caused by the children, with their age and an attack of heart trouble. She leaves many relatives.

BOONE.—This forenoon at 10:30 o'clock from her former residence in Boone occurred the funeral of Aunt Nancy Edgar, one of the most prominent of the pioneer residents of the city. The services were conducted by Dr. O. H. L. Mason, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Edgar was 90 years old and passed away from old age, reaching her home, when the busy street was a tree and was overturned. The child was dead when picked up by her mother, who came from the house to meet them.

WATERLOO.—The Northeastern Iowa Telephone association convened in this city today for its annual meeting. H. A. Douglas of Cedar Rapids, president, was in the chair. Representatives from different parts of Iowa were in attendance. A special car on the interurban line took the entire association to Cedar Falls to inspect the State Normal buildings. Luncheon was served on the car.

MARSHALLTOWN.—The attempt made by the Maritime Ministerial association to place the lid on Muscatine by stopping Sunday theaters was frustrated yesterday when the city council refused to grant Charles Salisbury, manager of the Grand opera house, a license to operate on Sunday. The defeat of the ministers means an open town on Sunday. The theaters are all preparing to run next Sunday.

WATERLOO.—Saturday the citizens will raise the amount up to $1,200 or $1,500 for the apprehension of the murderer of Policeman Fred Weddman. Governor Cummins was asked by County Attorney Sherman T. Meers to offer an additional reward for the capture of the murderer. The city is now making an effort to light its streets as a protection against further calamity, while officers are protecting the interests of the city.

BOONE.—Rev. J. F. Houser, pastor of the Christian church in this city, in order to get color for a sermon to railroad men, secured a train of Pullman cars and rode up to the Newton & Northwestern railway to ride in the cab of an engine today from this city to Fort Dodge and return. Rev. Mr. Houser has many railroad men in the congregation of his church, and he is preparing a sermon which will be especially for them. In order more fully to dwell upon the dangers that befall a locomotive engineer or fireman, or any employee of the train crew, he has decided to make this novel trip.

MARSHALLTOWN.—To reap a big crop of more than $100 an acre, 80 per cent, which was profit in a crop of potatoes, is the success in this branch of farming achieved by A. W. Wolf of near Hampton, Franklin county, Iowa. Mr. Wolf planted 10 acres to potatoes and from it he has gathered 7,300 bushels. He marketed the potatoes for an average of 21 cents a bushel, the total sales amounting to $1,500. The potato crop in central Iowa has been good this year, although the yield has not been so large as in some former years. The price has been universally fair, ranging from 10 to 20 cents, according to quality.

ATLANTIC.—Philip Fay, living near Lewis, was treed by gray wolves one day last week and compelled to remain up a tree for about three hours while the wolves were on guard below. He had gone out to repair some fence and thus ran onto the wolves, who seemed not at all afraid when he threw a stone among them and some of them started toward him. His sister came out to see why he was so late, and warning her to stay away he told what was the matter. She went to the house and called up some neighbors, but by the time they arrived the wolves had scattered, but not until they had kept Fay in the tree until he was nearly frozen.

Bulk Sales Law Upheld.
SIoux CITY, Ia., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—In rendering a decision sustaining the claims of Sioux City creditors against a stock of goods formerly owned by Gilbertson Bros. of Idine Grove, Neb., Judge Weatherly of Norfolk, Neb., has declared the bulk sales law, which received its first test in constitutional. The ruling is deemed of great importance to Sioux City wholesalers, who sell large quantities of goods in Nebraska cities and towns. The new law was put to a test by local jobbers, who produced the expense.

CUTTING OUT ITINERANTS
State Medical Board Refuses Licenses to Traveling Doctors.
NO REASON ASSIGNED FOR ACT

Secretary of State is Sending Out Ballots for the Senatorial Primary to Be Held at the November Election.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, Oct. 18.—(Special.)—The State Board of Medical Examiners, engaged in reducing the number of itinerant doctors licensed to travel about the state and engage in irregular practice of medicine. At the meetings the last week the board refused to renew the licenses of the three Drs. Shackelford, who have been licensed for several years. Their head office is in Chicago and one of the brothers lives in Waterloo. They have traveled in several states. No specific reason was assigned for the refusal, but it is understood that the policy of the board henceforth is to reduce the number of itinerants. The board refused to renew the license of Dr. C. E. W. Moines doctor, who is accused of committing a statutory offense. Several others are said to appear at the January meeting to show cause why they should not lose their licenses. The Board of Health issued a license to the Benedict home, Des Moines, for a maternity hospital, and also one to Mrs. S. J. Jones of Des Moines.Sending Out Primary Ballots.
Secretary of State Hayward is sending out to county auditors the official primary ballots to be used in the November senatorial primary, and also the request slips which the voters must sign when they are permitted to secure ballots. The state furnishes both of these, though it is contemplated in the law that the request slips may be provided by anyone, and in many counties they will be furnished. Nearly a half million of the ballots will be sent out, though it is anticipated the number of votes cast will not exceed 25,000.Will Go to Philippines.
Rumors in army circles say that next spring the Second cavalry will be ordered from Fort Des Moines to the Philippines and that they will be replaced at Fort Des Moines by the Eleventh cavalry, which was stationed here until it was sent to Cuba two years ago. Colonel James Parker is now commanding the Eleventh cavalry, having succeeded Colonel Earl D. Thomas, now a general officer, with headquarters at Denver.Attack on Des Moines Saloons.
Superintendent Barber of the State Anti-Saloon league is preparing to present to the Des Moines Ministerial association his plan for making an attack on the saloons of the city. He will have back of him the opinion of two good lawyers that the plan is legal, and having the voters instructed by the council by a referendum not to permit any more saloons of the city. If the city Ministerial association is satisfied the plan can be made to work a fight will be made to have it put to a vote in Des Moines.Convention of Commercial Clubs.
It has been decided by the Des Moines Inter-club association that the annual convention of commercial clubs will be held in this city about the week of Thanksgiving. It is planned to organize all the commercial clubs of the state into one organization and to adopt uniform methods on some matters. The newspaper editors of the state will be invited to come to the convention.No Greek Penance in Iowa.
Secretary Fellingham of the local Young Men's Christian association has just completed an investigation of the complaint that in Des Moines is located a branch of some organization conducting a system of penance in connection with the importation of young Greeks. He finds that while rumors of this have been in circulation for a long time there is in fact, nothing to it and no evidence whatever of any such system here or in Iowa.New Iowa Doctors.
Successful applicants for physician's certificates before the board of medical examiners were announced this morning as follows:
Fred L. Akron, Iowa City; William Breen, Monticello; Earl Bush, Des Moines; Lawrence T. Carr, Keokuk; C. F. Cashman, Williamsburg; Clarence Arley, Dallas Center; J. B. Cronk, Forest City; Jay D. Duncheon, Davenport; P. F. Eberhart, Mr. Vernon; A. K. Gifford, Clinton; Frank R. Halstead, Muscatine; E. D. McLean, Union; Donald McDermery, Fairfield; F. J. Otis, Des Moines; L. E. BRYAN DRAWS A BIG CROWD

Uses Argument He Has Made Familiar to Nebraska People.

FAILS TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

Labor, Bank Guaranty, the Tariff and Other Issues Discussed Along with Many Personal Reforms.

William J. Bryan proved a drawing card strong enough to fill the Omaha Auditorium Saturday night with a large crowd of men and women, and for nearly two hours he told the story over again which he has been telling during the present campaign and some of which he told in his two previous campaigns when he went down to defeat. He opened with a few pleasant remarks and compliments to the crowd present. He thanked those who had named their children after him and invited the republicans present to join him in the ark.

Although Mr. Bryan talked for nearly two hours he did not find time to answer any of the questions pertinent to the campaign which were put to him by The Bee with references to the real issues of the present campaign.

He did not undertake to say why no legislation for the welfare of the laboring man has ever been enacted in the southern states which are all under democratic rule or in Nebraska when the demopops had absolute control in this state. He passed this phase of the labor question by saying that the democratic platform promised.

"The only thing which makes the office of president attractive to me is that I want to help make laws the country needs," said Mr. Bryan. "If I was in the presidential chair, with a republican legislature and a republican senate, I could do nothing for the people in the way of securing legislation, but if the people will elect a democratic house and senate I might be able to do something."

"The senate is likely to be republican for the next two years, but if we gain a victory we will make some gain, and I will thereby find republican senators whose terms expire two years hence who will listen to what the people say."

Bank Guaranty.
"As the subject of the bank guaranties appears in both national and state platforms I will first speak on the subject. The republican platform says nothing about the guaranty. If you want this law you should look out for it before election. It seems hardly necessary to discuss a question as simple as this, for it is so simple that all can understand it."

"The law raises a presumption of security and you put your money in the bank because of the law, and not because of the banker. The bank makes money out of your money and now let the money be made more secure. Mr. Taft is afraid the law will make the bankers careless, but I know the bankers better than does Mr. Taft. He says that the prudent and honest bankers will have to pay for the dishonest ones. If the bankers won't trust each other they need not be surprised if the people get a little timid. The same arguments were made at first against fire insurance."

"The answer was then, give honest men security and punish the dishonest ones. The depositor security and put the dishonest banker in the penitentiary. Public officials often abuse their offices, but shall we cease to have public officers because some go wrong. The banker wants your money, but is not willing that you shall be secured."

"The republican leaders have betrayed the people in their own party. No party has a monopoly on honesty."

Campaign Contributions.
Mr. Bryan had those raise their hands who believed the democratic convention did right in voting for publicity of campaign contributions. He said that Mr. Taft did not believe in keeping secret campaign contributions, but proposed to have them made public after election. Mr. Bryan said he believed in showing the list before election.

"On the subject of direct vote for senators the republican party is trying to fool the people." He asked those who thought the democratic convention did right in voting for this reform to raise their hands.

"The path to the lower regions is paved with good intentions. It requires more than personal inclination to secure this reform the vote for senators by the people. There is no hope if the people vote against this doctrine."

Mr. Bryan advocated a department of labor in the cabinet that he might consult the representative on all subjects of interest to labor. Mr. Bryan asked for a vote of all who were in favor of this by raising the hands.

"We believe the anti-trust law should be so amended as to take the labor organizations out from under the operation of that law, because we do not believe they are similar. We believe the writ of injunction should not be issued in labor disputes, unless it would not be issued if it were not a labor case."

"The democratic party has endeavored in the past to enact laws for the laboring man. We ask for justice that labor and capital may be friends."

"We draw the line at 50 per cent, but when you say there is no line, I will not discuss it. Mr. Hughes found fault with our plan, but he has no plan of his own. If Mr. Hughes will give us his remedy I will discuss it, not ours."

"If Mr. Taft says that my election will bring a panic, let him give a bond that if he is elected there shall be no panic. If Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft could not head off a panic last fall, how can Mr. Taft head off a panic next year when Mr. Roosevelt is hunting tigers in Africa. Times have changed since the republicans represented the candidate to lead the people as the advance agent of prosperity, and elected William McKinley in 1896. Why can't I be the advance agent of prosperity now and restore prosperity?"

"I deny the president has a right to use his office to throw a party asset. Let him pay us his salary to use for democrats to counteract his influence in the campaign."

"The republicans have proposed a remedy for the evils of a panic. They are responsible for the panic and to name a remedy would be to admit their former duplicity."

"We want a full vote at the election, no I beg you will not forget to register. I thank you. Good night."
