AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Colored Republicans Have Great Rally and Cheer Several Speakers.

SMALL CROWD FOR DEMOCRATS

School of Instruction for Election Officials to Be Held—Today Last Chance to Register for November Election.

The Colored Taff club, made up of the colored voters of South Omaha, held a meeting attended by 200 men at Hittche's hall last night. The colored voters were ably represented by W. Allison Sweeney of Chicago, who discussed the national issues with such effect that the heartiest cheering and applause of the campaign was heard. All the candidates who followed Mr. Sweeney praised his effort as one of such strength that they could not hope to surpass it. His discussion was mostly on the national issues.

Rev. Mr. Phelps of Lincoln was another of the colored men who presented excellent views on the state and local campaign.

Hon. John L. Kennedy addressed the audience on the causes which have in the past, and which are at present working against the advancement of the colored race. He found most of them in the oppressions and the prejudice of the white men who have forced him to remain in a subordinate place. He pointed out the record of the republican party, which had freed the negroes of this large area, and within the last ten years reached over to the island of Cuba and freed another colored people, given them a government; and already once aided them in their struggle toward making that government secure. He warned the negroes not to forget their friends. The responses he got showed that he was on safe ground. Thomas Hollister, William G. Ure, Joseph Koutsky, W. P. Adkins and other candidates added to the enthusiasm of the occasion by speeches.

In contrast to the reception of the colored men, who presented excellent views on the state and local campaign, the school of instruction for election officials was held at the city hall last night. The school was held in the hall of the city hall, where it is supposed to be popular, and he forgot all about his populist local option platform and slid into his lightning change democratic top.

Leaving this, he touched on the bank deposit, arguing the question in a general way.

Following him, G. M. Hitchcock spoke for half an hour or more on the labor question.

Following him, Joseph A. Dobry of Chicago made a speech in Bohemian, discussing chiefly the labor question.

School for Election Officers.

The judges of election are notified that they must attend the school of instruction to be held at the city hall every evening during next week under the direction of Frank Hydeck. All members of the board must be able to qualify on election day. This year the county attorney has promised to immediately prosecute any clerk or judge who fails to attend the school to qualify or to appear at the election booth at the time of the opening of the polls. The fine for nonperformance of this duty is $50. It is, therefore, hoped that the judges in South Omaha be prompt at the school of instruction, which will be held from 8 to 10 each evening in the public school building, that it is also welcome to drop in at the city hall at any time and practice voting on the machines. The custodian has all the machines in order in South Omaha and the only remaining work is to inspect them on the eve of election.

Everything in readiness for the last election which is to be held at the city hall at 8 a. m. and close at 2 p. m. South Omaha should register fully 2,000 more voters today. The registering booths are as follows:

First Ward—First precinct, No. 543 North Twentieth street; Second precinct, No. 625 North Twentieth street; Third precinct, No. 129 North Twentieth street; Fourth precinct, No. 109 North Twentieth street.

Second Ward—First precinct, Washington street; Second precinct, No. 1214 North Twentieth street; Third precinct, No. 2017 Q street.

Third Ward—First precinct, No. 810 North Twentieth street; Second precinct, Lenagh building, Thirty-ninth and I streets.

Fourth Ward—First precinct, No. 1214 North Twentieth street; Second precinct, No. 415 North Twentieth street.

Pool Hall Man Arrested. Detective Elfelder arrested Otto Fried last night and made the charge of running a pool hall on Sunday against him. This is the first arrest for the alleged infringement of the "blue laws" ever made in South Omaha and the news of the charge will cause a cold chill to shoot up and down the backs of the "good Indians" of South Omaha. The story of the arrest shows something of the reasons. Otto Fried, John Hill and Delia Bentley, the latter a negro, were all arrested and fined in police court Friday afternoon. John Hill for vagrancy, being taken in company with the negroes in the lodging house run by Fried. Fried was fined for running a disorderly house and the negroes for being an inmate. After Otto Fried paid his fine and was set at a pool hall which he runs and told his customers, it is alleged, that he had been arrested because he had refused to pay the "hush fund" demanded by the police. This was at once reported to the police and irritated Elfelder. He had arrested Fried in the afternoon, so he went to the pool hall and arrested him again. This time he charged him under the "blue laws." On the way to the jail the officer and the man got into a pointed argument, which ended in Fried measuring his length on the walk and setting up a howl heard for blocks around. It brought a crowd to the jail and before the crowd Fried declared that the officer had never attempted to collect any "hush fund." He was jailed under the first charge of the kind recorded in the city.

SAUNBURG, Tenn., Oct. 24.—Because of threats against the life of Governor M. R. Patterson, who is personally directing the investigation of night rider depredations in this vicinity, the detachment of troops detailed to safeguard him has been increased and additional precautions have been taken to prevent any attack on the military camp here. Guard lines have been doubled and reinforcements ordered to report to Colonel Tatum.

Knox Morgan and Elmer Tate, merchants, and T. C. Ward, proprietor of the hotel at Walnut Log, where Captain Quentin Rankin and Judge R. Z. Taylor were seized by a band of masked men Monday night, were taken into custody today. With their arrest the situation became as acute as to call forth instructions from the governor to Sheriff Dawson of Dyer county to report at once with a posse and begin recruiting at Union City of another posse to work in conjunction with the military and the forces of the sheriffs in this and Lake counties who are already on the scene.

Today Governor Patterson visited the scene of the killing of Captain Rankin and proceeded from that point to Union City to confer with state and county officials and map out a plan for further action.

by the conference to this church for another year. Both of these facts have been more than pleasing to the membership and the reception last night was for the purpose of conveying to the bishop and pastor the appreciation of the church.

The reception was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society, of which Mrs. Carrie B. Scott is president. The church parlors were beautifully decorated and the event was pleasant in every way.
