Laven at half past 12—the candidate was met at the station by an escort which consisted of the Young Men's Republican club of which Mr. Taft became a member when he was here last February to attend the Lincoln day banquet; also the Taft Club of Yale which included many of the student body of that university and the Wide Awakes, an organization which marched in Lincoln's campaign.

Mr. Taft was escorted to automobiles, in the first car being Judge Taft, his secretary, Governor Rollin S. Woodruff, National Committee member Charles F. Brooker and Michael Kenan, chairman of the central committee. The above marching clubs, acting as escorts, then fell into line and a short parade was held, the procession marching through the principal streets about the center of the city and ending at the Second regiment armory, where Mr. Taft delivered an address.

Mr. Taft delivered an address, in which he cheerfully took the drenching. The big armory teemed with a good-natured throng. Governor Woodruff presented the candidate as a "great and finished statesman." His election he predicted as sure.

GOMPERS ISSUES HIS REPLY

President of Federation of Labor Discusses His Position.

DECLARES NOTHING TO RETRACT

Thinks Chief Executive is Striking Over His Shoulders at Men Behind Him—Talks About Injunctions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—In reply to President Roosevelt's letter to Senator Knox in reference to the application of the writ of injunction in labor disputes, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement issued today severely arraigned the president for what he terms a "change of position of at least apparent friendship to bitter, indefensible antagonism."

"It has been my pleasure," Mr. Gompers says, "to have often had the privilege of discussing with President Roosevelt a number of the fundamental questions of right, justice and moral and social uplift. Included in these discussions were the invasions of personal rights and human liberty by the courts in the injunction abuse. It is true that the president has not always fully agreed with my contentions, but he has never, until the publication of his latest utterance, hinted, much less charged, that anything that we advocated was lawless, unfeeling, despotic, brutal or wicked, and when the rights for which the workers of our country contend, and which as best I can I defend and advocate, have been as well known to him during the last several years as they are now, when he so unjustly undertakes to misrepresent my work, my motives and my law-abiding citizenship. Surely that opinion was not always entertained by the president."

Letter from Executive. Mr. Gompers says that last February he sent Mr. Roosevelt an issue of the American Federationist in which was published the chapter, "Some Equivocal Rights of Labor," from George A. Alger's book, "Moral Overstrain." The chapter of the book, Mr. Gompers says, "is as keen criticism of the courts as I have ever said or written."

Attitude of Senator Knox. "President Roosevelt says that Senator Knox has a peculiar right to discuss the principles involved in injunctions because he, as attorney general, prosecuted a civil suit for damages to an injured workman. That Senator Knox was the special counsel of the Pennsylvania railroad and of the United States steel corporation would indeed qualify him to discuss the injunction abuse, but certainly only from the viewpoint of the friends of corporations who profit by the abuse of the injunction writ as it brings advantage and profit to corporate greed and power."

Chairman of Twelve Western States Assure Him Taft Will Win. NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the republican national committee, returned from Chicago to this city today, declaring that he was much pleased with the political situation throughout the west. Ohio, he said, he believed would give Mr. Taft a decisive plurality and he had received word that the republicans had a fighting chance in Oklahoma.

TAFT TO CLOSE OHIO CAMPAIGN. Finish Will Take Place at Youngstown, where Opened. YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 26.—The national campaign of the republican party will be closed in this city, where it was opened on September 8. Judge Taft and party will arrive here at 4 o'clock next Monday afternoon and will remain seven hours, leaving for his home in Cincinnati at 11 o'clock. He will deliver two speeches in the evening and in the afternoon will review a parade which will include marching clubs from a radius of 100 miles. Other speakers for the afternoon and evening are Senator La Follette, Secretary of the Interior Garfield and a number of congressmen.

BRYAN IS SECOND HOBBSON. Two Enthusiastic Democratic Women in New York Kiss Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—When William J. Bryan entered the Astor gallery at a reception of the Woman's Democratic club at the Waldorf-Astoria today he was kissed by two women in the presence of nearly 300 others and narrowly escaped the embraces of a third. Mrs. Bryan was present. Mr. Bryan displayed some embarrassment.

COURT RULES ON LABOR FINE. Massachusetts Supreme Bench Holds It Illegal to Force Strikers in This Way. BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 26.—The supreme judicial court of Massachusetts in making permanent an injunction against several labor unions today, ruled that labor unions cannot impose fines on their members in order to force them to go out on a strike.

Uninjured jurists and legal authorities on the abuse of the injunction, he declares that Mr. Roosevelt has "placed me in good company."

Farmer Wants to Be Shown. The practical farmer gets to be a little shy on things which have not been put through the experiment station and tried out there. He has heaps of propositions put up to him which look just as good as gold dollars, just as good as this "guarantee of deposits," scheme of Mr. Bryan's looks at first reading.

Common Oats Beat $2 Variety. The other day I fell in with a man in one of the big cities who owns a grain farm up in the northwest. He's a wise and wide fellow who doesn't want any good thing to get past him. Well, a man came to him with some seed oats which looked as clean and bright as a new dollar. They were of a new-fangled variety. The fellow declared they would yield test things out for me. Meantime I'll let you know alone and stick to standard oats. What's the use of taking chances when some one else is willing to do that for you? After this I'm going to wait and see."

Chasing Rabbits Foolish. There's a man in New York state and another in St. Charles, Ill., who have become enthused about a breed of dairy cows which seem to have been originated in a back country of Ireland. These cows are called the Dexter-Kerrys, and are only four or five feet high, built on the dachshund plan. If all the wonderful things told about this cow are true, the Guernsey and the Jersey, and the dairy shorthorns will have to go way back into the back pasture and lie down.

BRYAN PLAN IS EXPERIMENT (Continued from First Page.) Some of the biggest papers in the United States have, for several months, been publishing columns of accounts of a wonderful new wheat which a man by the name of Adams found growing in a sheltered cove up in Alaska. He brought home one head of the wheat, so the story goes, and planted it in his garden. It grew seven pounds of wheat from that one head.

Claims Not Fulfilled. When you consider that the world's average yield is twelve and seven-tenths bushels to the acre, this Alaska wheat looked like something bigger than the biggest wheat in the world. The article in question showed that "had all America had Alaska wheat to seed this year the American crop alone would have been 5,000,000 bushels."

Common Sense Demands Test. In plain words you would have said: "A man who would do that has not sense enough to be called a farmer. He has to do is just wait a little and let the experiment station try it out first. If it is a good thing they will find it out for a certainty and if it is not then no harm will be done to the country as a whole or to the private fortunes of the man who has to do is just wait a little and let the experiment station try it out first. If it is a good thing they will find it out for a certainty and if it is not then no harm will be done to the country as a whole or to the private fortunes of the man who has to do is just wait a little and let the experiment station try it out first."
