BIG BANQUET FOR TEACHERS

Plates to Be Laid for One Thousand and the Tickets Are All Sold.

LIST OF NOTABLE SPEAKERS

Bryan, Senators Brown and Burkett and Governor Sheldon Among Others Who Have Promised to Be Present.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The banquet to be given on the night of November 4 during the meeting of the State Teachers' association, for the purpose of the kind ever held in Lincoln. The Auditorium has been secured for the occasion and plates will be laid for 1,000. W. K. Fowler, master of ceremonies, has been turning down applicants for seats for the last week on account of the supply being exhausted.

Among the speakers will be William J. Bryan, Senators Burkett and Brown and Governor Sheldon. No matter what the outcome of the election Mr. Bryan has promised to be on hand and it is barely possible, though the master of ceremonies is not responsible for the statement, he might announce his candidacy for the nomination in 1912, also his platform. This "night" has added interest to the occasion so everybody wants to come. The following letter by Mr. Fowler, written to an Omaha woman, is characteristic of dozens that Mr. Fowler has sent out.

My Dear Madam—Just in receipt of your letter of recent date asking me to reserve four places for you at the Union School banquet, and enclosing your payment order for $1, but I regret to inform you that all the places left with me for reservations have been reserved. It is barely possible, but quite unlikely, that you can secure reservations at one of the tables reserved for the members of the state, each of which was allotted a table for its own use with a definite number of seats.

PROGRESS OF CAMPAIGN IN STATE

Republican Speakers Being Given Close Attention

CLAY CENTER, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—C. H. Sloan of Geneva spoke to a crowd that filled Clay Center's spacious opera house last night. The Clay Center band discoursed excellent music and the Republican Campaign club rendered some excellent campaign songs and responded to the hearty recalls of the audience. The speaker, who is our neighbor and one who has for years been actually interested in matters affecting the farmers, discussed the political issues as related to that large branch of our state voters. Local democratic issues were being made on the relative increase of farm and railroad valuations. Mr. Sloan showed that Nettleton and Johnson, who voted for the increase of railway values for municipal taxation, had been nominated by the republicans for re-election, while Mr. Ashton, who had voted against such increase, had been rewarded by the democrats of Clay county and the rest of the Fifth congressional district by the nomination for congress.

SEWARD, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Hon. E. H. Henshaw spoke here last night to an audience that crowded the opera house. R. S. Norval, chairman of the meeting, in making the opening introductory remarks referred to the article from Seward, published in the Omaha World-Herald, saying that the 2,000 employes were said to work in the Seward Bottling works. He was the only father, son and a single boy. The Milford Flambeau and Taft and Sherman clubs were here and, headed by the band, marched over town firing skyrockets.

Some time ago John Fleener tacked a notice on Thomas' pop factory saying that unless Bryan is elected this factory with its 2,000 hands will be closed. Mr. Fleener did this for a joke and the World-Herald correspondent in Seward sent it into that paper, which printed it in that sheet with large headlines. Then Bryan's Commoner printed it. The only mistake made by the World-Herald correspondent was that he added three ciphers too many, as the factory only employs about three hundred hands in the week. But this is an error the World-Herald ever comes to the truth, and its readers make allowances accordingly. The factory will continue to operate with its two hands just the same, no matter which Bill is elected, but probably with better success if Taft is elected.

GENOA, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The false and misleading report in Tuesday's World-Herald of the republican rally held here last Saturday evening is about on a par with what may be expected from democratic sources. The facts are that, despite the rain and mud, the large opera house was filled and it was found necessary to bring in many extra seats. The attendance was far superior, both in point of numbers and enthusiasm, to the democratic rally of the previous evening, when they had the advantage of nice weather. Senator Brown made an interesting, forceful and telling argument, holding the undivided attention of the audience for more than two hours. Our democratic friends are certainly welcome to all the consolation they can extract from Senator Brown's speech and the results of the meeting.

LOWELL, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Grant Martin, assistant attorney general, together with the local candidates, held a good meeting here last night. This was the third meeting held by Mr. Martin in this county. He is a clean cut, logical speaker and his speeches have been well received. The large attendance that has greeted the republican speakers in this county is good evidence of the interest that the farmers are taking in this campaign. Conditions are so favorable and times so prosperous that there seems to be no sentiment for a political change in this part of Nebraska.

STENAUER, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Congressman Pollard addressed two large audiences yesterday. He spoke at the Crab Orchard in the afternoon and at six o'clock in the evening. Mr. Pollard was in the city a few hours this morning. He said that everywhere he has been there is evidence of a growing sentiment towards the republican state and national tickets. He said that the sentiment for Judge Taft is growing stronger every day and that the campaign progresses. The farmers and business men are afraid of the effect the success of the democratic party might have.

NEMAH, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—with the leaders of his party in congress. John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, the leader of the party in the house, introduced a bill which had a guaranty provision in it. Mr. Williams asked yesterday afternoon. He had a good-sized audience and was given close attention. He took up the various issues of the campaign and among them the bank guaranty plan. He said that this bill would force congress last winter which well illustrates the attitude of the democrats in Washington in regard to Mr. Bryan's ideas on currency legislation and the bank guaranty provision. Mr. Bryan was in Washington and held a conference session, which was given, to print some extracts from the Commoner in the Congressional Record. This was from Mr. Bryan, after discussing the bill, he said that it was a very meritorious measure and deserved the support of every democrat. This bill, which was known as the Williams bill, was generally regarded, and rightly so, as representing Mr. Bryan's idea on the subject covered. The democrats made no effort to push the bill and finally a republican member of the house from California moved to substitute the Williams bill for the republican currency measure. There was quite a large audience at the meeting in the house. The result of the vote on this proposition was that only six democrats voted to substitute the Williams, or Bryan, bill for the republican bill. Twenty-nine voted not to do so and 24 abstained.

AUBURN, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Hon. Ernest M. Pollard addressed a large audience at the court house at this place last night. His address was well received by the enthusiastic crowd, and his explanation of the republican platform was clear and easily understood by all.

RECORDS ABSOLUTELY DISPROVE THEIR TAX STATEMENTS.
RECURSEH, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Democrats here have been compelled to admit here the railroad king, who represents the county clerk issued a sworn statement which was put alongside the statement made by the democratic county central committee.

The democrats based their argument on the fact that taxes in 1907 were very much less than in 1908. The fact of the matter was brought to public attention. A small road levy was made this year—none was made last year. This is the only increase which anyone has attempted to show after the records were produced.

As to the increase in railroad values County Clerk W. C. Bedford was able to show that railroad values are adjusted each year, and there has been no change in land values in four years. This completely threw the democrats out on their statement, made on handbills, that the railroads were getting out easy this year.

FAKE ACCOUNT OF COERCION

Laird Yarn About Grove-Wharton Construction Company Denied.

AFIDAVITS FROM THE WORKMEN

Firm Denies Ever Having Sought to Influence Employes' Politics and Latter Sustain Statement.

Under Oath.

Just another World-Herald fake. Just another campaign lie made out of whole cloth, for the purpose of catching a few possible votes for the Peeries Leader and the congressman from the Second Nebraska, who finds himself in imminent need of votes to bolster his fast waning fortunes. But not a word of truth in the sensational story as far as the manufacture is concerned.

That is nothing new to the people of Omaha, for they have long been accustomed to such performances by the World-Herald just on the eve of elections. This time the double-ender printed a sensational tale to the effect that the Grove-Wharton Construction company was threatening its men with instant dismissal in event of Bryan's election. It paraded the story with all the force of a double-column heading, and big type, and brought out a man from Council Bluffs who expressed a willingness to sign an affidavit in support of the Grove-Wharton company. This latter man was no doubt misled by the World-Herald's account, just as that paper intended he should be. But President Grove of the company involved puts a deep dent in the yarn by his signed statement and the affidavits presented herewith. These will never reach the same readers the World-Herald's fake yarn did, but are printed that others may know the desperate ends to which the democrats are going in order to deceive the voters.

Text of the Letter.

Mr. Grove writes: OMAHA, Oct. 29.—To whom it may concern: Referring to the articles which appeared in the morning and evening issues of the World-Herald under date of October 27, beg to state that they are but another example of the way the World-Herald will distort facts to meet their own ends. No one connected with the Grove-Wharton Construction company has ever directly or indirectly threatened any employe with dismissal on account of political views, or tried to intimidate them into voting the republican ticket by any such threats. Our bookkeeper and at least one out of our five foremen (there may be others as we have not canvassed them) are democrats who will vote the democratic ticket. We attach an affidavit from Mr. Oliver Rouse, our bookkeeper, which completely covers this point.

Relative to the further statement in the World-Herald that "an employe of the Grove-Wharton Construction company who was to have been married in a few days had been forced to tell his prospective bride that the ceremony cannot take place until after the election," we wish to state that this is an absolute falsehood. It has gone over our last payroll and find that the only unmarried man thereon contemplating marriage soon is our bookkeeper, Richard J. Schneider, for whom this statement undoubtedly was intended. We enclose an affidavit from him also, in which he swears that we forced any man in our employ to postpone his wedding or even advised him to do so.

Monday afternoon some one from the World-Herald called up Mr. Grove and stated that he had reported to them that we would discharge all our employe if Mr. Bryan was elected president of the United States. Mr. Grove denied this, but gave it in response to further questions, as his personal opinion that work would slacken down in the event of Mr. Bryan's election, thus carrying a reduction in our present force, but any reduction, if there should be one, would depend on the amount of work; not whether Mr. Bryan is or is not president, and the way a man voted would have no consideration in the order in which the force will be reduced. Any one would be an idiot to believe that we would reduce our force just because Mr. Bryan is elected, if he should be, unless we are forced to by lack of work.

H. Taft for president and believe that his election will insure and continue the present order of things. Mr. Grove denied this, but gave it in response to further questions, as his personal opinion that work would slacken down in the event of Mr. Bryan's election, thus carrying a reduction in our present force, but any reduction, if there should be one, would depend on the amount of work; not whether Mr. Bryan is or is not president, and the way a man voted would have no consideration in the order in which the force will be reduced. Any one would be an idiot to believe that we would reduce our force just because Mr. Bryan is elected, if he should be, unless we are forced to by lack of work.

That I am a supporter of William J. Bryan for president of the United States, and if I am alive on November 3, I intend to vote for him for that office.

2. That I am a supporter of William J. Bryan for president of the United States, and if I am alive on November 3, I intend to vote for him for that office.

3. My employes, the Grove-Wharton Construction company, know my political belief and how I intend to vote, and that they have never in any way attempted to force or coerce me into changing my views, furthermore, they have never directly or indirectly threatened my position if I held to my views.

OLIVER ROUSE, Bookkeeper in my presence and sworn to before me this 29th day of October, 1908. J. P. O'Keefe, Notary Public.

GENOA, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Richard J. Schneider, first being duly sworn on oath, deposes and says: That I am a supporter of William J. Bryan for president of the United States, and if I am alive on November 3, I intend to vote for him for that office. That I am a supporter of William J.
