

LEFFERT'S INVISIBLE BIFOCAL LENSES

The Greatest Boon Wearers of Glasses Have Ever Known

After 50 years of time and labor spent by the most expert lens grinders of the world in trying to perfect a lens that would give two foci in one without any prismatic effects or spherical aberration, it was left to science to step in and supply the needed lens.

Do you understand the great blessing that this invention has been to glass-wearers? It means a saving of thousands of eyes, for more eyes are injured by badly constructed lenses than in any other way. By allowing yourself to be fitted by incompetent Opticians, who know nothing of the process of constructing the lenses you wear, you are laying your eye-sight liable to injuries which, when once sustained, can never be undone.

LEFFERT'S LENSES are being worn by thousands of glass-wearers, and are being recommended by all as the most beneficial lens for the sight that is known.

These lenses are very neat in appearance, and can be worn by the most delicate eye, as the annoying feature of the old style bifocal have been entirely done away with.

They are the only achromatic eyeglasses or spectacle lenses in the world.

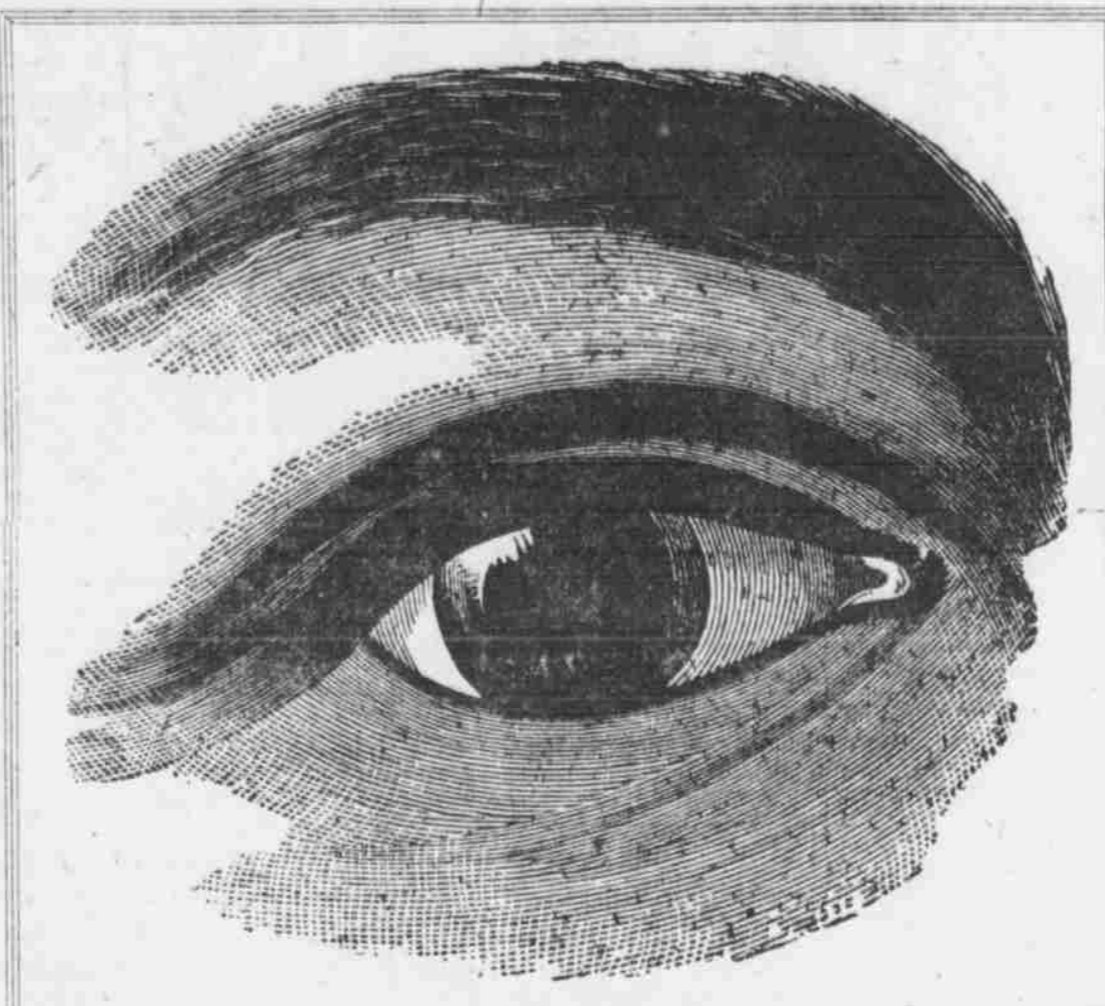

They can be fitted ONLY BY EXPERT Oculists and Opticians, who understand the construction of the lens, as well as the eye.

These lenses require the most skilled lens-grinders that the country affords.

When you get LEFFERT'S you get THE BEST—there are none just as good.

These lenses cost ten times more to construct than the old style bifocals.

LEFFERT QUALITY means the best quality.

Thousands of dollars have been spent to perfect these wonderful lenses.

There is not made one-tenth the profits on them that is made on the old style, imperfect bifocal lenses. When you get the LEFFERT LENS you get your money's worth.

Sight is more precious than gold. Then why neglect it when you can get LEFFERT'S LENSES? They relieve tired and weak eyes; will make poor eyes good eyes, and keep them good. LEFFERT'S LENSES have revolutionized the optical business in this section.

Your sight is worth as much to you as a King's sight is to him. LEFFERT'S LENSES are within the reach of all. You will spend more money in three years buying poor lenses than the LEFFERT LENSES, the best of all, will cost you. Sight is injured by the use of poorly constructed lenses. LEFFERT'S LENSES are scientifically constructed, and will add to your appearance. Poorly constructed lenses make you look old.

Our past record speaks for itself. We are the largest optical house in Iowa, and control the exclusive rights for the sale of these lenses in this section. We deem this lens of such importance to wearers of glasses that we feel it our duty to more fully acquaint them with this wonderful lens.

For the purpose of introducing these lenses more fully we make this special announcement. These lenses can be fitted to your mountings or frames.

Our opticians are thoroughly skilled and reliable.

BALLOT HEARING IN COURT

Judge Thornell to Take Up Democratic Case During the Day.

ONLY ONE POINT IN ISSUE NOW

Auditor Willing to Make Requested Change, but of Opinion Court Order is Necessary to Make it Legal.

Judge Thornell sent word to H. J. Chambers, clerk of the district court, yesterday that he would come to Council Bluffs today to hear the matter of the application of the democrats for an order requiring County Auditor Chayne to change the official ballot to be used next Tuesday at the general election so as to designate which of the three democratic candidates for members of the Board of Supervisors was the candidate for the short term and which two were candidates for the long term.

Following the temporary restraining order secured from Judge Macy Wednesday, which enjoined County Auditor Chayne from printing the official ballots until a hearing should be had in the matter, E. W. Miller, counsel for the democratic party, yesterday morning filed the papers in the proceedings in the district court.

The petition relating to the omission of the names of the democratic candidates for supervisors are running, in part, is as follows:

The action of the defendant (Auditor Chayne) is such that, if allowed to remain thereon as now arranged, plaintiffs (the three candidates for supervisors) will suffer irreparable injury, and the electors of Pottawattamie county, or a large proportion of them, will be deprived of their right to vote for the officers or candidates of their choice.

The action of the county auditor in refusing to accept the arrangement of these plaintiffs and the proceeding of depriving the electors of the county of the right to vote for any one of them, for the reason that their votes cannot be counted.

The action of the county auditor in refusing to accept the arrangement of these plaintiffs and the proceeding of depriving the electors of the county of the right to vote for any one of these three officers at the next election.

The mistake in the residence of two of the democratic candidates for supervisors was corrected by the county auditor when the matter was called to his attention, so no order from the court in this respect will now be necessary.

Included in the petition is a demand that the names of the several democratic candidates be placed on the ballot opposite the republican candidates for the same offices, respectively. In the sample ballot which appeared Wednesday, by a mistake of the printer, the names in the democratic column were out of "alignment." No court order, however, will be necessary so far as this is concerned, as County Auditor Chayne notified the printers that he would not accept the official ballots unless the names of the candidates in each column were properly aligned.

County Auditor Chayne stated yesterday that, so far as he was personally concerned, he was perfectly willing to change the ballot as requested by the democrats, but believed that an order of court was necessary for him to do so, as he had prepared it according to the nominations filed with him by the democratic party.

Three Ballots for Republicans.

For the republican voters there will be three ballots at the general election next Tuesday. The general ballot containing the national, state, congressional, judicial, legislative, county and township tickets, the ballot for the constitutional amendment regarding the drainage laws and the third, will be the republican senatorial primary ballot.

The general ballot will be the largest ever used in an election in Iowa. It will be about a yard long and twenty inches wide. It will have seven columns for the different parties, as follows: Republican, democratic, prohibition, socialist, people's, independence and independent by petition. In the last column there appears the name of but one candidate, that of Edward Slade, who is designated as of Pottawattamie county, candidate for sheriff.

On account of the size of the ballot his usual ballot boxes it is deemed certain will be inadequate and County Auditor Chayne has made arrangements to supply extra boxes for those precincts where there is a large vote.

The election judges may not ask the voter if he wants the republican primary ballot and unless the voter calls for it personally he will not have the privilege of naming his choice for United States senator.

In asking for a primary ballot the voter must present a signed request. The election officials will have these printed requests all ready for the voter to sign.

The language of the request must be as follows:

I request a primary election ballot for the purpose of voting at this primary election for a candidate of the republican party for the office of senator in the congress of the United States. I declare that I affiliate with and am in sympathy with the principles of the republican party; that it is my intention to support generally at this general election the nominees of such party; that I have not enrolled with any other political party since the first day of the last preceding year.

This plan, it is believed, will keep any but republicans from voting the primary ballot.

Joint Meeting in Sixth.

Voters of the Sixth ward were afforded an opportunity last night to hear both republican and democratic speakers at the county building, corner of Twenty-fourth street and Avenue B, and about 100 took advantage of it.

Both the republicans and democrats, unknown to the other, had arranged for meetings at the Sixth ward building last night, and when this was discovered yesterday, the chairman of the respective committees decided to divide the time rather than call either of the meetings off.

Walter Hendrix, former counselman from the Sixth ward, presided and George H. Scott, for the republicans, made the opening address. He was followed by John P. Organ for one democrat. Charles M. Hart was the next speaker for the republicans and S. B. Wadsworth, democratic candidate for state senator, brought the speaking to a close.

Hon. Thomas C. Dawson, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from the United States to Columbia, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and will remain until after election. This is Mr. Dawson's first visit to Council Bluffs in nearly three years. Mr. Dawson came by way of New York, where he visited his brother, Allan Dawson, formerly one of the proprietors of the Des Moines Register and Leader, and now connected with the New York

Globe. From what he learned while in New York, Mr. Dawson expressed his confidence that it would be carried by Judge Taft.

At the meeting of the city council next Monday night, Councilman Jensen, as chairman of the water works committee, will ask for authority to engage the services of an expert hydraulic engineer to revise the plans and specifications drawn by City Engineer Etnyre for a municipal water plant. It is possible that more than one engineer will be required for the work, and Mr. Jensen, it is understood, will be given full authority by the city council to employ such expert aid as he may deem advisable.

"We want to get the plans and specifications ready as soon as possible," said Councilman Jensen yesterday, "so that we may advertise for bids and get the work of construction under way with as little delay as possible. It will take about thirty days to complete the revision of the plans, after which another thirty days will be required to advertise for bids."

Mr. Jensen said he agreed with Councilman Rigdon, who expressed the opinion that the special election at which the contract for the construction of the proposed new plant will be submitted to the voters, should be called early in the year, so that work could be started in the summer.

Councilman Jensen and his conferees express the belief that the city will receive several bids for the construction of the plant.

Stockman Hurt by Cars.

Lewis Montgomery, in charge of two carloads of horses enroute from Langdon, N. D., to Council Bluffs, fell while attempting to board a freight train in the Union Pacific transfer yards yesterday afternoon and had a narrow escape from being ground to death beneath the wheels of the cars. As it was he received a severe scalp wound and other lesser injuries, which necessitated his removal to the Jennie Edgumson Memorial hospital in the city ambulance.

Montgomery, with Charles Stevens, the owner of the horses, and a third man, after unloading the stock at the Union Pacific stock yards for feeding and watering, attempted to board a freight train backing over to South Omaha. The other two succeeded in climbing upon a car, but Montgomery missed his hold and went under the train.

NO CASH OR LIQUOR FOR VOTERS

Chairmen of Opposing Party Committees Sign an Agreement.

The men who waits around the polls at the general election next Tuesday expecting to receive a money consideration for his vote will be disappointed. Neither will there be any taking of voters behind a convenient bill board to sample forty-rod election whiskey. Yesterday the chairmen of the republican and democratic committees entered into an agreement prohibiting the use of money for improper purposes or the furnishing of liquor in the vicinity of the polling places.

The agreement which was entered into is as follows:

We, A. I. Lenoeker, chairman of the democratic county central committee, and J. J. Hughes, chairman of the democratic county central committee, and Ed Canning, assistant chairman of the republican county central committee, on the one part, and E. E. Smith, chairman of the republican county central committee, on the other part, mutually pledge and promise each other for ourselves and our committees as follows:

That neither we nor our committees will expend any money on election day, November 2, 1908, at or about any polling place in Pottawattamie county, Iowa, nor pay out any money to be so expended.

That we will not furnish any liquor or furnish the funds to obtain to purchase or purchase the same to be used at or near any voting place in said county, and that we will fully and vigorously prosecute and assist in prosecuting any person or persons offering or soliciting, paying or accepting a bribe in reference to any vote at said election.

It is understood and accepted that both parties hereto shall have the right to employ persons to work at the polls and to employ carriages and other vehicles to get their voters to and from the polling places, and to pay therefor.

Dated at Council Bluffs, Ia., this 29th day of October, 1908.

Work on the Auditorium.

Owing to the fact that P. C. DeVol of the executive committee of the Auditorium committee had to go to Mason City yesterday to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Iowa Retail Hardware Association, of which organization he is president, the letting of the contract for the carpenter work of the auditorium building was postponed until tomorrow.

Bids have been received from four local firms: Myrtle Bros., Anderson Bros., Nels Rasmussen and Jensen Bros. & Co.

The first bricks in the new building were laid yesterday by Contractor Wickham, who will have a force of twenty men at work today. Excavation has been started at the northeast corner of the lot to make room for the heating plant, which will be installed as soon as the construction is far enough advanced to warrant it.

The building will not present a very handsome appearance during the National Horticultural congress, as it has been decided not to attempt to finish the outside walls this year, but to rush the work with a view of making the interior ready for the big fruit show. The outer covering of the walls is to be of cement and the brick with its "unstruck" mortar joints will be left in its natural roughness until spring.

BOY POLICE TO BE MUSTERED IN

Chief Hopes to Prevent Depredations on Halloween.

Major George H. Richmond's Fourth of July boy police will be in evidence tonight and tomorrow night. With the assistance of the youthful sleuths Major Richmond hopes to reduce to a minimum, if not entirely prevent, the usual Halloween depredations.

The boys will be formally enrolled at police headquarters at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Each boy as he is accepted will be provided with a ribbon bearing on it the words "Council Bluffs Boy Police," and this will be his insignia of authority in place of the usual star. When mustered out, which will probably be done next Monday afternoon, each boy serving on the force will receive a small sum of money and a treat of fruit and candy.

A large enrollment is looked for and a number of youthful would-be Dan Weirs called at police headquarters yesterday and asked for their ribbons, but were told to call again this afternoon.
