IRISH KING IS DEAD

Irland and restored Tristram, the knight of Lionelle, to health after he had been wounded by the poisoned spear. The legend, of course, is the basis of the opera, "Tristram and Isolda." Incidentally, it is suggested that the Dublin corporation adopt a settled policy of renaming the streets of the Irish capital with names which mean something in the light of Irish history and tradition. At present most of the Dublin streets bear names which either have no meaning or are associated with English peers and governors of Ireland.

LUDLOW DENIES STORIES

Colonel at Fort Hamilton Says No Investigation Was Made.

NO REVELRIES AT THIS POST

Declarations of Mrs. Hains Have Nothing to Do with Transfer of Men to Distant Stations.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Stories of revelry in the army post at Fort Hamilton, which have followed disclosures made in letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Claudia Hains to her husband, Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., were denied today by Lieutenant Colonel Henry Ludlow, who has been in command at the fort since October. Practically every officer who was stationed at Fort Hamilton during the time mentioned in Mrs. Hains' letters, has been ordered to another and in many instances, a distant post.

It was when questioned with reference to the transfers of officers that Lieutenant Colonel Ludlow took occasion to deny some of the statements made in Mrs. Hains' letters. These letters were written while Mrs. Hains was living in the officers' quarters at Fort Hamilton after her husband had been ordered to the Philippines. "If any investigation ever was made by the War department of the reported revelries here, the investigation passed around me," said Colonel Ludlow. "No one ever asked me a question about it. That makes me more positive in my declarations that the revelations made by Mrs. Hains had nothing to do with the transfers."

Colonel Ludlow said he had issued an order to keep William E. Annis out of the post after he had received a warning from General Hains, father of Captain Hains, that serious trouble might come if the men met. "He told me he feared his son would shoot Annis," said Colonel Ludlow.

TALKS ON TEETH

By Dr. E. R. L. Murphy

First-Class Dentistry

The most expensive thing in the world is poor dentistry. An ignorant dentist can do more harm in one hour than all the good dentists in the land can repair in a lifetime.

The trouble is that when the harm is done, or when teeth are gone, they are gone forever. There is no such thing as repairing the damage, or feeling sorry, or trying all over again.

Dentistry must be done well in the beginning. The great specialty of this company is known as the "Alveolar Method" (supply missing teeth without the aid of plates).

In almost every instance we get the desperate cases. We are the court of last resort.

In a majority of cases we are asked to restore a full set of upper or lower teeth when there are but two teeth left in either jaw to work from.

Suppose we were to bungle such work? When we put this work in the mouth it is in to stay. The Alveolar teeth are as solid as a rock, otherwise they wouldn't work.

We don't ask our readers to take our unsupported testimony for the work we do.

Every operator in all of our offices is a specialist, therefore your work will be done more quickly and with more comfort to you than you have ever experienced before in any dentist's office.

We invite you to call and allow our examining dentist to look your teeth over. Don't get the idea that by so doing you must have some work done. We can't tell you what we can do for you until the examination is made. Then it rests entirely with you as to whether or not you will employ us.

The "Alveolar Method" you cannot obtain elsewhere. We own that method.

There is no other plan of restoring missing teeth without plates or ordinary (painful) bridge work but the "Alveolar Method." It is wonderful. The next best thing to growing a new set of natural teeth.

If you can't come to see us at this time, send for "Alveolar Dentistry." We send it free.

But by all means come and see us if you are near enough. That is the best plan.

NOTE—Make a note of our name and address to be on the safe side. There are imitators abroad who make false claims.
