Cornhuskers Will Strive to Do Up Their Ancient Enemy.

K. U. HAS GOOD TEAM WAITING

Kansas Spies Have Been Seeking to Find Out Some of the Nebraska Formations—Other Hard Games.

LINCOLN, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Now that Ames, the most feared and greatest rival of Nebraska has been met, the Cornhuskers are anxiously awaiting the game with Kansas at Lincoln, next Saturday.

For many years preceding the rise of Ames into prominence, Nebraska and Kansas were the leading football teams in the Missouri valley, and every year the championship of that region was fought out between the football teams of these two schools.

Since the Iowa Aggies took a high rank in the Missouri valley football circles three years ago and became the honorable rival of Nebraska, Kansas has been pushed out of its former position relative to the Cornhuskers.

During the last three seasons Kansas has not been as strong as Nebraska and Ames.

MEN ON QUI VIVE FOR GAME

Nebraska Formations Being Used in Scrimmage by Freshmen to Prepare First Eleven for Cornhusker Tactics.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Next Saturday Coach Kennedy will take his yet undefeated team of plucky chasers and travel northward to the camp of "King" Cole and do battle with the strong Cornhusker team.

Coach Kennedy has two of his assistants watching the Nebraska-Ames game today, and the new plays uncovered by Nebraska in this game will also be given to the scrubs to use this week.

Coach Cole, however, has manifested no concern about the spying of the Kansas coaches. Very few of the plays uncovered so far this year will be used, however.

Coach Cole has outlined the program for the work of the Cornhuskers this week and has announced that there will be no letup in the strenuous training.
