

PURE FOOD SHOW THE BEST

Exhibits of Highest Quality and Attendance Largest.

FLOUR MEN ARE IN FINE CONTEST

Result is Beneficial to Bread Baking Race—Babies and Vaudeville Form Big Features of the Exposition.

All previous records for attendance and attractiveness in the exhibits having been broken at the fourth annual Pure Food Show, which is being conducted at the Auditorium under the auspices of the Grocers' and Butchers' association, the second and last week promises to be the greatest of all such ventures in Omaha.

From the time the doors are swung open again tomorrow afternoon until they are closed for the last time Saturday night there will not be a dull moment.

A flour war has broken out among the distributors and milling men who are exhibiting at the Auditorium and the rivalry that has developed will make the bread baking contest Tuesday the greatest event of its kind ever conducted in the city. In addition to the $75 in prizes put up by the association for the three best loaves of bread, the Updike Milling company has offered $100, which will be awarded to the winner of the first prize, providing her loaf is baked with "Pride of Omaha" flour.

Brunner's Offer the Same.

The same offer is made by T. C. Brunner & Son, who exact the condition that the first prize loaf must be baked with "Blue Bell" flour. The third $100 offer is made by the Wells-Abbott-Nieman company, which concern will turn over the money to the baker of the prize loaf providing she has used "Puritan" flour. The total amount offered is $275, making it worth while for all bakers of bread "like mother used to make" to enter the contest. The conditions are that all loaves must be of medium size, baked in individual pans. No fancy loaves or sweetened breads will be accepted. Professional bakers will be barred from the contest, and no contestant will be allowed to submit more than one loaf. The contest will be held on Tuesday and the hours for receiving the loaves are between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. of that day. All bread must positively be in before 5 o'clock. Mrs. T. R. Ward, who was to have served as one of the judges, will not be able to act in that capacity on account of illness in her family, and Mrs. C. Z. Gould has been substituted. The other judges are Mrs. F. H. Pugh and Mrs. S. Arion Lewis. All three women are expert bread bakers, fully qualified to pass upon the loaves that will be submitted.

Two Hundred Babies.

At least 200 babies will be entered in the baby contest to be conducted at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Babies of all types and temperaments will be there, and when they are lined up before the judges on the stage they will form a spectacle the like of which has never been seen in Omaha.

A prize of $10 will be awarded to the prettiest youngster, $5 to the second prettiest babe and $3 to the third. Totals over two years of age are not eligible to the contest.

Several additional features have been provided for the second and last week of the show, and they will contribute toward making the venture the most successful of any of the previous ones. One big feature which has just been added is the moving picture show which will be put on by the Cudahy Packing company. They will show pictures taken in their huge plant, exhibiting every important detail of the killing and packing industry. This show will not only be valuable as a source of entertainment, but it will be highly instructive, giving the spectators an excellent idea of how cattle, hogs and sheep are prepared for the markets of the world. In addition to the excellent vaudeville acts, which are put on every afternoon and evening, will be a new feature, the Teddy brothers, who will put on a rube wrestling match. This is a side-splitting act.

While the vaudeville and other acts are now going on, the music is being furnished every afternoon and evening by Dinick's orchestra. No effort has been spared by Manager J. M. Gillan to make every moment of the show a golden one. All records were broken in both attendance and beauty in decorations during the first week and the second and last week promises to be a hummer.

PEDDLER WALKS INTO TRAP

Sells City Inspector of Weights and Measures Short Bushel of Apples.

J. G. Pegg, city inspector of weights and measures, says it is poor policy for a short-weight peddler to sell short-weight apples at the home of the man whose official duty it is to see to it that equitable weight or measure is given.

B. Nowich, a peddler, sold three-fourths of a bushel of apples to Mr. Pegg on Friday and Saturday a complaint was filed in police court against him by the city inspector. But this was not the only complaint filed during the day. Five others against four other dealers being also filed. One of these was filed against J. Finklin, 1910 South Tenth street, who sold

M'LAUGHLIN HOME IS SOLD

Handsome Residence is Sold to James Howard for Eighteen Thousand Dollars.

One of the handsomest residences in the west has been sold at a comparatively small price. The M. E. McLaughlin, who sold his residence at 507 South Thirty-seventh to James Howard for $18,000. The sale is made in the name of Mrs. Helen McLaughlin, who has been the titular owner of the property.

FOSTER AND STONE ARE CUT

Both Badly Slashed in the Third Ward by Thomas and Boland.

In order to verify returns made by the precinct boards the canvassing board Saturday morning opened two machines. In the second precinct of the Third ward the vote on Thomas and Boland was almost double that of the other candidates for the legislature on the democratic ticket and the board thought an error had been made. An examination of the machine disclosed the voters had cut Foster and Stone on the republican ticket and concentrated on these two. In two or three other precincts the books were not in very good shape, but no discrepancies in the vote were found. The count is proceeding slowly and will not be finished until the middle of the week.

A Dangerous Wound

is rendered antiseptic by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the healing wonder for sores, burns, piles, eczema and salt rheum. 25c. For sale by Beston Drug Co.

short-measure apples to Mr. Pegg's neighbors.

B. G. Geth, 2841 Harney street, and Mike Schlanzer, 1456 South Thirteenth street, are other peddlers who have been haled into police court for selling short-measure fruit and vegetables.

Two complaints were filed against M. Rosenblatt, coal dealer. One of these is for selling what purported to be a ton of coal, but which weighed 180 pounds short, and the other for using scales which had been condemned.

JIM WILL NOW STAY HOME

Dahlman Returns from Lincoln—Ed Howell to Introduce Home Rule Bill.

Mayor Jim will now be good and stay at home.

The mayor says he has made his last junkie for many moons, and since the people have defeated his close personal and political friend, Bryan, for the third time, he will hide himself in his office and attend strictly to business. He may go to Washington to attend the waterways congress, but that will not be until in December, and he may not go to that.

Mayor Dahlman returned Friday from Lincoln where he went with several other of the faithful to take their condolences and sympathies to Mr. Bryan. When they got there, however, they found that the defeated candidate did not want their sympathies, says the mayor, as he is not taking his defeat hard. Mr. Bryan told the emissaries from Omaha that he intends to take a trip soon to rest up and forget the trials of the campaign. While he will go on a hunting trip, Mayor Dahlman will not accompany him.

While in Lincoln the mayor had a conference with Governor-Elect Shallenberger, who told him that a home rule law for Omaha and South Omaha will be enacted first thing by the legislature and that a law guaranteeing bank deposits in Nebraska will also be enacted.

Ed Howell, one of the Omaha senators-elect, will introduce the bill intended to give so-called "home rule" to Omaha and South Omaha. At least Mr. Howell says he will.

"The formulating and introducing of a bill giving home rule to these cities should be one of my prerequisites," said Mr. Howell. "I drew up the city charter in 1895 which originally contained provisions giving the mayors the power to appoint the excise boards, but this never became effective for the reason that amendments were made before passage. Now that the democrats have elected a legislature pledged to home rule for Omaha and South Omaha a new law will be enacted, and I intend to father it. Whether the new law will give appointive power to the mayors, or whether it will provide for the election of members of the board, I do not know as yet. It is early and I have lots of time."

COLLIER'S BOOSTS CORN SHOW

Gives Editorial Comment to the National Exposition to Be Held in Omaha.

Old King Corn gets a merry old "boost" in the editorial pages of Collier's for the current week. The National Corn exposition in fact is called to the attention of readers of the weekly in vigorous words from the pen of Norman Hapgood. It may be added that advocacy of an exposition in the editorial columns of Collier's is not an unusual thing and the benefit to the exposition will be all the greater for this reason.

The paragraph spoken of is as follows: "The Pascal car reproduced above was sold for $250. The great sweepstakes car of corn at the National Corn exposition in Chicago last year sold for $250. To the farmer the difference between the two cars means a profit in the bank or a loss of more than half a year's wages. The corn-plant farmer should be ashamed of this. The American oat crop has so degenerated that the breakfast food makers lack raw material. It is all a matter of good seed. County and state fairs give $2,000 in prizes for trotting horses and $10 for each of corn—several prizes—and a $100 prize for the best twenty ears. Good seed is corn that has vitality to resist disease and drought, rich in oil and protein that make the layers of gluten in the husk so much like and ho-wear, as much horse-sweat and elbow-grease, to grow poor corn as the best."

CUT OUT THAT WORD "FAT"

Decree of Court is in Favor of M. C. Peters in Patent Right Case.

Judge W. H. Munger issued a decree in the case of M. C. Peters against the Stock Yards Cotton and Lined Meal company and H. C. Cherry Saturday morning, directing the defendants to obliterate the word "fat" from their advertising material. The order grows out of an action brought by the M. C. Peters company, of Omaha, manufacturers of the product, and owners of the trade mark "Alfalfa-Fat," against the defendants which afterwards produced a product under the name of "Alfalfa-Fat," thus infringing upon the trade-mark of the complainants. The order of Judge Munger requires that the defendants shall remove the word "fat" from their stationery and other advertising material, which includes certain pamphlets as well as 15,000 bags enclosing the product of the defendants that have not so far been brought into use.

PRISON CAPS HIS CLIMAX

Three Years in Penitentiary as Finish of Young Man's Disipated Career.

At the close of three months of reckless dissipation and extravagance under the guise of the son of Theodor Hamm, Bremer, Henry Hiller, a 24-year-old youth from Chicago, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Judge Rogers of the district court Saturday morning.

Hiller claims to come from a respectable family in Chicago and refused to give the names of his friends, saying he did not want them to know of his disgrace. The officials are inclined to believe there is some other reason for his not wanting his record in Chicago investigated.

WESTERNER ROARS IN GOTHAM

Puts Up a Vocal Roar in What He Classes a "Back-Number" Community.

Oh, yes," said the man from the west. "I admit that this town of New York is the greatest town in the country. I'm not arguing against that; all I claim is that it's annoying, plumb annoying. It's the most annoying town in the country. "Now why is it, if you'll let a mere westerner criticize your God-given institutions, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I admit freely that you have a large population and you are so eager to get the latest fragment of news that they will willingly pass up all the rest and buy the goshaw edition of an alleged evening paper to find out. But why inarnation should the sensible part of the population—and there must be enough of that to tons, that a man who never does it but who reads the news of the day? I