ROADS WANT TWO-CENT LIMIT

Railways Seek Renewal of Agreement on Minimum Rate

NEGOTIATIONS TO THAT END ON

Western Passenger Association Delegates Met to Confer with Other Divisions and Make Agreement if Possible.

Railroads of the west which were forced by the legislatures of the western states to accept a reduction of 2 cents per mile for passenger fares are again uniting to make 2 cents the minimum as well as the maximum after January 1. When the recent law was enacted railroad officials declared they would not make a reduced rate of any kind, but would insist on having 2 cents a mile from every man and woman who traveled. They stuck to that proposition for a year and a half and then, as some roads jumped over the traces and made rates for fares; others followed until the Union Pacific went the whole route and gave the Nebraska state fair and Ak-Sar-Ben a fare of 3 cent a mile.

The reaction has set in and now the roads are again trying to come to an agreement to give no reduced rates. No exact agreement was reached at a meeting held in Chicago, Thursday, but E. E. McLeod, chairman of the Western Passenger association, was appointed a committee to visit other associations to see if they would agree to make 2 cents a mile the minimum. While most of the roads seem to favor this action it is contended that roads which have a large suburban business in and out of the large centers must charge less than 2 cents a mile and that an exception might also be made for large conventions of a national character.

A vote has been taken on giving reduced rates to the National Corn exposition which meets in Omaha next month. The result of this vote has not been announced, it being given out that the vote is not completed. Omaha has the assurance, however, of rates to the big corn show whether the roads take united action or not. Most of the roads in the corn belt have promised the officers of the exposition that rates will be given at two of the roads, the Milwaukee and the Illinois Central, have announced that 1 1/2 cents a mile will be their rate to the exposition.

MAIL LINES ANNIBILATE TIME

Increase Speed for This Prize of Revenue and Prestige

Few people realize the splendid time made by the mail-carrying roads of the west in their efforts to make the schedule given them by Uncle Sam. The mail contract is quite a prize, as it gives the road holding that contract a prestige in addition to a considerable revenue. To handle one of these fast mail trains across the country requires more than simply running the trains fast. It requires years of practice in building up a system of competent men who can make the changes required in the flight across the country. Little time is lost at a division point in changing engines. Notwithstanding the heavy passenger business of September the Burlington made a remarkable record between Chicago and Omaha with its two fast westbound trains. No. 15, carrying the New York mail, arrived in Omaha on time twenty-six days of the month and the average delay for each train was 2 1/2 minutes. The other fast mail, carrying the Chicago mail and morning papers, arrived in Omaha on time twenty-eight days during the month and the average delay on this train was exactly one-half minute.

U. P. RECEIPTION AGAIN PUT OFF

Delay in Receipt of Material Makes This Necessary

Delay in the receipt of material is causing the postponement of the big reception which A. L. Mohler, general manager of the Union Pacific, is to give to the people of Omaha at the Union Pacific shops. It was at first thought that the opening of the new car shops could be held sometime in October. A postponement was then made until November, and now further delay is necessary because of the delay in securing some of the material to complete the new $1,000,000 car shops.

Mr. Mohler is anxious that the people of Omaha should see what a magnificent plant the Union Pacific has in Omaha, and he is especially anxious that the families of the men employed at the shops will attend the opening, that they may see where the head of the family is employed.

MILWAUKEE CHECKMATES HILL

Will Feed Its Own Main Line in the Northwest Territory

As a result of the little "scrap" the Milwaukee has had with the Hill lines in building the coast extension, that road is about to start upon a little reciprocity move of its own. It is planned to invade the hillside to exclusive Hill territory, not only with the main artery from Chicago to the Pacific northwest, but also to build feeders up and down the producing valleys of the northwest and thus make the new line a revenue producer from its own territory. The Milwaukee is moving fast to the coast and has ample funds for completing the work. It traverses a country that will produce lots of freight which may be reached by the building of a few side lines and feeders.

FORD INJUNCTION KILLED

Restraining Order in Paving Case Dissolved by Estelle

JUDGE DENOUNCES THE WINNERS

Condemns Method of Letting Work to High Bidder at Figures Submitted by the Low Man

Judge Estelle yesterday afternoon dissolved the restraining order secured by Michael Ford to prevent the Katz-Craig Construction company and E. D. Van Court from paving Military road and the lower Irvington road under contracts let last month by the county board.

Ford was the low bidder, but the board declared he could not do the work within the time limit and let Van Court and the Katz-Craig company have the contracts at Ford's figures. Ford tried to restrain the work, charging the letting of the contracts was illegal.

Judge Estelle denounced the practice of letting contracts to a high bidder at the figures of a low bidder, but at the same time refused to keep the restraining order in force. He said Ford had stood by over a week and allowed the two contractors to begin work and go to considerable expense before interfering. By doing this, Judge Estelle declared, he lost his right to an injunction. If he had asked an injunction at once Judge Estelle said he would have granted it. Work on the two roads has been tied up over a week by the suits.

Charges that there are two paving "rings" in control of Douglas county were made at the hearing of the suit before Judge Estelle Saturday morning.

General John C. Cowin, representing E. D. Van Court and the Katz-Craig Construction company, charged there is a ring which controls city paving and which is trying to extend its operations to the county roads.

Ed C. Strode of Lincoln, representing Michael Ford of Cedar Rapids, charged there was a ring which is trying to force his client out of the county road work here. Each charged the other with being in a combine and each pleaded not guilty to the charge.

"Ford is a member of the combine which now trying to extend its operations to the county roads," declared General Cowin.

"It is admitted he is a stockholder in one of these companies."

"Instead of being in a combination, Ford is up against a combination," declared Mr. Strode in reply. He came here and broke up a ring."

No Chance for Outsider

"He came here and tried to extend a ring which now controls city paving so that it could control the county roads as well," responded General Cowin. "An outside contractor can't bid any more."

"I don't know whether there is a ring or not, but with due deference to the county commissioners," broke in Judge Estelle, "if they are letting high bidders take work at the bids of low bidders, a combine is as clear as roses to saffordite, compared with the possibilities of such a practice."

"Seven loads of rock Ford was using were rejected by the county," said Mr. Strode, as a rejoinder, "and he transferred them to a favored bidder, Mr. Hannan, and he put them in the Krug park road."

Mr. Strode then read a letter from Mr. Hannan to Mr. Ford, offering to buy the rejected rock.

EMMA SORRY BRYAN LOST

Queen of Anarchists Regrets Election of Taft—Will Sue for Cancellation of Engagement

Is there any balm in Gilead? Aye, verily. "I am sorry Bryan did not win," declared Miss Emma Goldman, queen of anarchists, in an interview at Hotel Loyal, Saturday morning. While we anarchists do not believe in the efficacy of government under any political dispensation, yet I prefer Bryan to Taft."

Government, the strong arm of the law is to be invoked by Miss Goldman against those responsible for the cancellation of her contract at the Lyric theater. She was billed to lecture there during her stay in Omaha, but the lessee was forced by the owner of the theater to quash the contract. Miss Goldman announces that she will bring suit for damages.

Her visit to Omaha, she explained, "is to set forth what anarchism really means and to let people see that I do not come with a bomb in one hand and a dagger in the other. I am in thorough accord with Prince Kropotkin and others of the philosophical school which abominates violent methods," she asserted.

"Among the lectures which she will give here is on 'The Devil,'" it is proposed to give him his due," she remarked. Her first lecture, which will be Sunday afternoon at Prater's hall, will be on "Anarchism—What It Really Stands For."

KAWVILLE SCHEME BLOCKED

Kansas City Grain Dealers Try to Corner Freight Rates

MEET SOME POTENT OPPOSITION

Omaha Men Are Before Interstate Commerce Commission to Show that Missouri Town Asks Too Much

Efforts of Kansas City grain dealers to acquire by unjust freight rates all the South Platte territory met with a stubborn resistance Friday at the hearing before the Interstate Commerce commission in Kansas City. The Omaha Grain exchange was represented before Commissioner E. E. Clark and Special Examiner Lamb by Myron L. Learned, counsel for the Omaha exchange, Vice President E. S. Cowgill and E. J. McVann, secretary of the exchange.

Their testimony showed indisputably that there is even now an unfair differential of 1 cent per 100 pounds in favor of Kansas City on points equidistant from Omaha and Burlington lines in the territory indicated. Kansas City asks the commission so to change the tariffs that there will be installed what will amount to a differential of 3/4 cents in favor of their market.

The proposition is so amazingly barefaced that there is said to be little likelihood that Commissioner Clark and Examiner

Lamb will recommend anything of the sort to the Interstate Commerce commission.

The local men who attended the hearing returned home Saturday morning.

"The Omaha Grain exchange will meet Wednesday to elect three directors to succeed N. B. Updike, Nathan Merriam and F. S. Cowgill for a three-year term and one director to succeed S. A. McWhorter for one year. Mr. McWhorter having placed his resignation in the hands of the board. The officers of the exchange will be chosen a week later by the executive board.

BUSINESS ACTIVITIES RESUME

New England States Will Feel Effect More Generally Than Other Places

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 7.—The business inactivity which marked the pre-election period has given way with a rush in New England, announcements of a resumption of operations having been made in all directions within the last three days. Many industrial interests are affected, although the reports indicate that the textile concerns have acted more promptly and in greater numbers in ordering longer hours and more operatives.

Other lines which already have arranged for increased operations are jewelry and rubber factories, thread, yarn and knitting mills, machine and tool making plants and railroad repair shops.
