PREPARE FOR KANSAS GAME

Cornhuskers Emerge from Ames Contest in Good Shape.

NEW PLAYS WILL BE TRIED OUT

Coach Cole's New Inventions Not Yet Seen This Season Will Be Sprung on Sunflower Men.

LINCOLN, Nov. 9.—(Special)—"King" Cole's husky Cornhuskers begin practice tomorrow afternoon for the game with Kansas Saturday. Only a few of the veterans failed to report today, and the head coach is satisfied with the good condition the men are in after their hard grueling in the game with Ames Saturday.

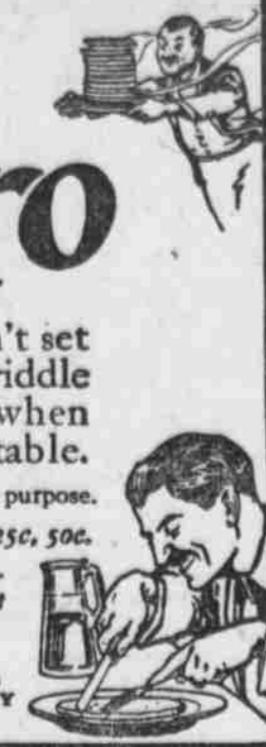

Temple, who dislocated his left arm at the elbow while making a line plunge, is getting along nicely and may be able to play by the end of the week, for his injury is not as serious as was at first thought. Big "Bill" Chaloupka, the right tackle of the Cornhuskers, has a stiff leg, but otherwise is in fine fettle and will take his place in the lineup Saturday.

Harts, right guard, is in much better condition than when he entered the game at Omaha. Then he was suffering acutely from a weak ankle, and when he left Lincoln Saturday morning had to be helped on the train by two men. At Omaha three doctors worked over him until the Cornhuskers left for Dietz park. He played the entire game with the ankle bandaged to keep it from turning. Now he is having no trouble with the member and will be ready to play again the Jayhawkers.

Bentley and three or four of the other Cornhuskers are badly bruised, but none of them will be kept from regular play, though Bentley's side is giving him a little trouble, and he may not be able to take part in any of the scrummage work this week. Cooke's blood poisoning has entirely disappeared, and the midget quarter will resume charge at his old position this Saturday.

Kansas Showing Distress. The unanticipated showing Kansas made in defeating Washington Saturday by the score of 23 to 0 has caused a little consternation among some of the Nebraska rooters, but as yet has had no disturbing effect on Coach Cole and his assistants. The head coach, while not overconfident, expects his men to show the Jayhawkers up. Today he said that he had no doubt that the Cornhuskers would win but that they would have to play fast ball.

What the doubting rooters fear is that the Jayhawker coaches will have all of the Nebraska plays "down pat" and are in a position to build up a defense to stop scoring by Nebraska. Coach Kennedy and his assistants have seen the Cornhuskers in action three times this fall, against Minnesota, Iowa, and Ames. Under most conditions, this ought to give the opposing coaches of a team a good line on the play of the Cornhuskers, but this season it does not, however.

No time this fall has "King" Cole uncovered his entire repertoire. Not even against Ames, the strongest team met so far this season, were some of the best inventions displayed. The Nebraska coaches have several plays devised especially for the Jayhawkers, and when the men from the Sunflower state come to Lincoln, they will find that their observations have done them little good.

Kansas Slower in Defense.

It is the general impression that the so-called "peeka-aboo" offense was a failure against Ames, and that the much talked of plays of "King" Cole proved to be a failure. The facts are, however, that the "peeka-aboo" was attempted only on two occasions and one of these worked successfully. It was not employed more often because it was found that other plays worked better. There are four or five varieties of the "peeka-aboo" which the Cornhuskers have learned and which were not disclosed last Saturday.

These plays Coach Cole and the members of the Nebraska team are confident can be used with great success against Kansas. Against the Jayhawkers, who are not nearly so speedy as the Aggies and who have not had so much experience in defensive work against the forward pass, "King" Cole's new inventions are more likely to gain ground. At least the Nebraska rooters believe these plays will accomplish that, and they are expecting to see some great open work next Saturday.

Tomorrow and the following two days secret practice probably will be held at the state farm, where several new plays planned especially for Kansas will be learned.

Broken Bow Has Jollification.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Nov. 8.—(Special Telegram).—The republicans of Custer county held a rousing big ratification meeting Saturday night at the Temple theater. The fun started at 7:30, when the republican drum corps, followed by several hundred people, took possession of the streets and formed into parade. There were rockets, roman candles and giant torpedoes salvoes interspersed with all kinds of colored fire, and plenty of it. Immense bonfires were burning along the line of march, and the burden of everybody's cry was "Taft!" At 8:15, Chairman Walter A. George of the county central committee, and one of the national delegates to the Chicago convention, called the meeting to order, stating that the cause of all the noise was to do honor to President-elect Taft, whom he helped nominate on June 16, last. A life size dummy of "Uncle Sam," holding forth a big picture of Taft, was dramatically introduced and received with frantic cheers by the audience. Mr. George then introduced in succession County Attorney-elect Gadd, who made a brisk twenty-minute talk; Judge A. R. Humphrey, N. Dewitt Ford and Ed Squires.

Estimates of Expenses for Coming Biennium Largely in Excess of the Amount Appropriated by Last Legislature.

(From a Staff Correspondent)

LINCOLN, Nov. 9.—(Special)—When the new governor, A. C. Shallenberger, takes charge of the various state institutions he will find them in better shape than ever before in their history, not only from a financial standpoint but in the physical condition of the various buildings and grounds and the condition of the various inmates.

The state institutions have been the especial hobby of Governor Sheldon and he has kept in close touch with each superintendent. In addition State Accountant Fairfield has checked up the institutions regularly and made reports frequently of the conditions existing.

Numerous changes have been made by Governor Sheldon in the conduct of the institutions, all for the better, so when the new administration takes hold it will find everything in ship-shape order.

A table has been compiled by the state accountant showing the condition of the maintenance funds of the various institutions. This table shows the average expenditures per month for eighteen months and what is left of the fund for the remaining six months. Only in four institutions do the records show that the amount on hand in the maintenance fund to be used for six months is less than the average for the last eighteen months. The table is as follows:

Estimates of Expenses.

The estimated expenses for the coming biennium as reported by the state officers and state institutions is $15,119,326.09, or $7,526,683.88 more than the total appropriations made by the last legislature. Of this excess $48,653.05 is the estimated amount necessary for new buildings and permanent improvements. The total appropriations made two years ago amounted to $4,367,257.31. From the total estimates, amounting to $15,119,326.09, the amount chargeable to the general fund is $1,938,836.09, to the university fund $1,173,000, and to the library fund $8,000. The amount chargeable to the temporary school fund has not yet been computed.

The annual report of the Northwestern road filed with the State Railway commission for the year ending June, 1908, shows the freight earnings amounted to $11,110,481.23 and the passenger earnings $1,359,563.64. The total expenses were $3,889,685.13. The income was divided upon the different lines of the roads as follows:

EXTERNAL REMEDY FOR ECZEMA

Why Salves Fall While a Simple Liquid Has Accomplished Thousand of Cures.

It is now thoroughly established among the best medical authorities that eczema is purely a skin disease, due to a germ and curable only through the skin. It is not a blood disease at all; in fact thousands of people suffer with skin disease and are perfectly healthy otherwise, and therefore prove they have no diseased blood.

Smelly salves cannot reach the germs because they do not penetrate the skin. The only way to reach the germs is by means of a penetrating liquid.

Such a liquid can be obtained by simply mixing ordinary oil of wintergreen with thymol, glycerine and other healing agents. This compound known as D. D. D. Prescription stops the itch instantly—and the cures all appear to be permanent. In fact, it took thousands of cures, case after case, before the best scientific authorities were convinced of the absolute merit of this remedy. The effect of D. D. D. Prescription in numbing the itching eczema germs is seen within one minute after the first application. We especially recommend D. D. Soap in connection with this treatment.
