

Democratic Pluralities in Douglas Less Than Thought.

LEADER RUNS KRAUS CLOSELY

Reynolds' Lead in County Approximately 1,500—Two High Men on Either Ticket Separated by 1,517 Votes.

The official count of the vote in Douglas county, completed yesterday afternoon by the canvassing board, shows that the democratic pluralities on several offices were not so large as was at first expected. The closest race was between Kraus and Ed Leeder for representative. Kraus winning by only 175 votes. The highest plurality on the legislative ticket was received by Hanson, who had 1,178 more votes than his nearest republican competitor.

Bryan's plurality in the county was approximately 1,500. Harrington, the high elector on the democratic ticket, received 1,617 more votes than Bell, who was high man on the republican.

The complete official vote follows:

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes sections for Democratic Electors, Republican Electors, Prohibition Electors, Socialist Electors, Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Superintendent, and State Senator.

Lincoln Office Omaha Bee 518 Little Building Auto Phone 7417, Bell A-2598 G. M. Porter, Manager.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Reynolds, Hanson, Bell, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, Hanson, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Harrington, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Bryan, Porter, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Kraus, Leeder, etc.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes candidates like Hanson, Bell, etc.

HEALTH PART OF RELIGION

Material Science Advances Faster Than Religion of Mind to Matter.

CHURCH A HEALING MINISTER

Dr. Rouse Says Reaction is Inevitable and Time Has Come for More Thought Towards Things Spiritual.

"The last century was a century of materialism; and no wonder. It witnessed the most remarkable progress of material science," said Rev. Frederick T. Rouse at the First Congregational church Sunday morning in a sermon on the subject of "Religion and Health."

"The telescope and the spectroscope revealed the secrets of the infinite heavens. Chemistry showed the order, wonder and beauty of the molecular world. Through biology the laws of physical life were displayed, and the germ theory of disease started on its wonderful conquest. The evolutionary sciences had their inning. And the physical mastery of the world was brought on its course."

"Yet the nature of the ego, the relation of mind to matter, was as far from solution as ever. The ultimate cause and nature and purpose of things was still unknown to science. The reality and nature of God, spirit and the unseen was as far from knowledge as ever. We were like some farmers whom I know in Wisconsin, who had great farms, barns, wonderful stock, yet their houses were the poorest, their fare the worst and the self of the soul seemed to have no home or care."

"A reaction was inevitable! All through the human world we find springing up from untutored sources an affirmation of spirit above flesh. Doctors are declaring that personality counts more than medicine and auto-suggestion and psychotherapy are in the air. And added to all matter itself is being dissolved from 'stuff' into something more like will or thought force. The age of the spiritual has dawned."

Faith in Solution. "Incantations, not words, Dowileism, amulets and blessed rosaries, bread pills and auto-suggestion all have their cures. The healing of scripture need no longer be explained away. They all have their explanation in one word—faith. This is the age of the revival of faith."

"(a) The church has neglected its hygiene. It has become a mere social club, a place where men meet to eat and drink and to be entertained. It has lost its power to heal. It has lost its power to give. It has lost its power to love. It has lost its power to live. It has lost its power to die. It has lost its power to rise. It has lost its power to be. It has lost its power to be God."

"(b) The church must return to its healing ministry. Wisely, and with limitations, it must still remember 'the prayer of faith shall save the sick.'"

"(c) The relation between sin and sickness and religion and health, must be affirmed. Fear, anger, despair, hatred profoundly affect secretions. And on the other hand, the type of character created by Christ, calm, loving, patient, unselfish, fearless, trusting, is the type best able to resist every form of disease."

CHRIST CONCEPTION OF RELIGION "Follow Me" is the Summary of the Savior's Doctrine. "The Christ Conception of Religion" was the subject of the sermon of Rev. J. W. Conley at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. The text was from Galatians vi:18, "For as many as walk according to this love, peace be on them and mercy, and upon the Israel of God." Dr. Conley said in part:

"As you have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk with Him. The subject of religion is very comprehensive. Many of them are false. The religion of Jesus Christ was summed up in two words: 'Follow Me.'"

"My purpose is to give you an outline of the essential features of the Christian life. The false religions are not alone the heathen religions. We have them in America, and there is much falsity in some of our so-called evangelical churches. The Pharisees' idea of religion was that of something to be taken on and not within. It was with them a gallim, the whole conception being in the observation of some form. They had no idea of the abounding life in the soul or of an outgrowing life from the soul. The faithful of the Phariseal churches were admonished strictly to observe the ordinances of fast days and to the shore of the Red sea and the waters all other outward manifestations of their religious observances. There is in the church of today too much of the superficial conception of piety form above life cannot endure."

"Religion is a power within the soul, as interpreted by Jesus Christ. It is the energy which works within, a power within the soul."

"God does not ask man to detract his reason. Truth is so immense that we cannot take it all in. The truest faith is that faith which thinks. It is wrong to think that our colleges and universities are prone to influence a lack of faith in religion. On the contrary, the institutions are being laid the foundations for the sublime truths."

SOCRATES A HERO IN DEATH Refuses to Abandon Faith Even to Save His Life. The story of the life of Socrates and of his appearance before his judges was told Sunday morning in an impressive manner by Rev. Newton Mann at the Unitarian church, the lecture being the first in a series on "Famous Scenes of Moral Instruction" to be delivered during the winter by Rev. Mr. Mann. His theme he divided into several parts, including Greece in the time of Socrates, his course of life as senator, under the thirty tyrants, Plato's estimate, unpopularity, charges preferred against him, the joint, complainant's representation, Socrates' defense, judgment of "guilty" rendered, determination of penalty, final word of the condemned and death.

As summing up the character of Socrates, Rev. Mr. Mann read his last words to the judge who had condemned him and after reminding the judges that in condemning him they had set a reproach upon their city which they had set would not efface, he proceeded without ransom and said: "Perhaps, my friends, you think that I have been defeated because I was wanting in the arguments by which I could have persuaded you to acquit me, if that is, I had thought it right to do so anything to escape punishment. It is not so. I have been defeated because I would not plead before you as you would have liked to hear me plead, or appeal to you with weeping and wailing, or say and do many other things which I maintain are unworthy of me, but which you have been accustomed to from other men. But when I was defending myself, I thought I ought not, because of the peril I was in, to do anything unmanly, and I have not changed my mind now. I would much rather defend myself as I did and die than as you would have me do and live. Both in a lawsuit and in war there are some things which neither I nor any other man may do in order to

HEALTH PART OF RELIGION

Material Science Advances Faster Than Religion of Mind to Matter.

CHURCH A HEALING MINISTER

Dr. Rouse Says Reaction is Inevitable and Time Has Come for More Thought Towards Things Spiritual.

"The last century was a century of materialism; and no wonder. It witnessed the most remarkable progress of material science," said Rev. Frederick T. Rouse at the First Congregational church Sunday morning in a sermon on the subject of "Religion and Health."

"The telescope and the spectroscope revealed the secrets of the infinite heavens. Chemistry showed the order, wonder and beauty of the molecular world. Through biology the laws of physical life were displayed, and the germ theory of disease started on its wonderful conquest. The evolutionary sciences had their inning. And the physical mastery of the world was brought on its course."

"Yet the nature of the ego, the relation of mind to matter, was as far from solution as ever. The ultimate cause and nature and purpose of things was still unknown to science. The reality and nature of God, spirit and the unseen was as far from knowledge as ever. We were like some farmers whom I know in Wisconsin, who had great farms, barns, wonderful stock, yet their houses were the poorest, their fare the worst and the self of the soul seemed to have no home or care."

"A reaction was inevitable! All through the human world we find springing up from untutored sources an affirmation of spirit above flesh. Doctors are declaring that personality counts more than medicine and auto-suggestion and psychotherapy are in the air. And added to all matter itself is being dissolved from 'stuff' into something more like will or thought force. The age of the spiritual has dawned."

Faith in Solution. "Incantations, not words, Dowileism, amulets and blessed rosaries, bread pills and auto-suggestion all have their cures. The healing of scripture need no longer be explained away. They all have their explanation in one word—faith. This is the age of the revival of faith."

"(a) The church has neglected its hygiene. It has become a mere social club, a place where men meet to eat and drink and to be entertained. It has lost its power to heal. It has lost its power to give. It has lost its power to love. It has lost its power to live. It has lost its power to die. It has lost its power to rise. It has lost its power to be. It has lost its power to be God."

"(b) The church must return to its healing ministry. Wisely, and with limitations, it must still remember 'the prayer of faith shall save the sick.'"

"(c) The relation between sin and sickness and religion and health, must be affirmed. Fear, anger, despair, hatred profoundly affect secretions. And on the other hand, the type of character created by Christ, calm, loving, patient, unselfish, fearless, trusting, is the type best able to resist every form of disease."

CHRIST CONCEPTION OF RELIGION "Follow Me" is the Summary of the Savior's Doctrine. "The Christ Conception of Religion" was the subject of the sermon of Rev. J. W. Conley at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. The text was from Galatians vi:18, "For as many as walk according to this love, peace be on them and mercy, and upon the Israel of God." Dr. Conley said in part:

"As you have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk with Him. The subject of religion is very comprehensive. Many of them are false. The religion of Jesus Christ was summed up in two words: 'Follow Me.'"

"My purpose is to give you an outline of the essential features of the Christian life. The false religions are not alone the heathen religions. We have them in America, and there is much falsity in some of our so-called evangelical churches. The Pharisees' idea of religion was that of something to be taken on and not within. It was with them a gallim, the whole conception being in the observation of some form. They had no idea of the abounding life in the soul or of an outgrowing life from the soul. The faithful of the Phariseal churches were admonished strictly to observe the ordinances of fast days and to the shore of the Red sea and the waters all other outward manifestations of their religious observances. There is in the church of today too much of the superficial conception of piety form above life cannot endure."

"Religion is a power within the soul, as interpreted by Jesus Christ. It is the energy which works within, a power within the soul."

"God does not ask man to detract his reason. Truth is so immense that we cannot take it all in. The truest faith is that faith which thinks. It is wrong to think that our colleges and universities are prone to influence a lack of faith in religion. On the contrary, the institutions are being laid the foundations for the sublime truths."

SOCRATES A HERO IN DEATH Refuses to Abandon Faith Even to Save His Life. The story of the life of Socrates and of his appearance before his judges was told Sunday morning in an impressive manner by Rev. Newton Mann at the Unitarian church, the lecture being the first in a series on "Famous Scenes of Moral Instruction" to be delivered during the winter by Rev. Mr. Mann. His theme he divided into several parts, including Greece in the time of Socrates, his course of life as senator, under the thirty tyrants, Plato's estimate, unpopularity, charges preferred against him, the joint, complainant's representation, Socrates' defense, judgment of "guilty" rendered, determination of penalty, final word of the condemned and death.

As summing up the character of Socrates, Rev. Mr. Mann read his last words to the judge who had condemned him and after reminding the judges that in condemning him they had set a reproach upon their city which they had set would not efface, he proceeded without ransom and said: "Perhaps, my friends, you think that I have been defeated because I was wanting in the arguments by which I could have persuaded you to acquit me, if that is, I had thought it right to do so anything to escape punishment. It is not so. I have been defeated because I would not plead before you as you would have liked to hear me plead, or appeal to you with weeping and wailing, or say and do many other things which I maintain are unworthy of me, but which you have been accustomed to from other men. But when I was defending myself, I thought I ought not, because of the peril I was in, to do anything unmanly, and I have not changed my mind now. I would much rather defend myself as I did and die than as you would have me do and live. Both in a lawsuit and in war there are some things which neither I nor any other man may do in order to

HEALTH PART OF RELIGION

Material Science Advances Faster Than Religion of Mind to Matter.

CHURCH A HEALING MINISTER

Dr. Rouse Says Reaction is Inevitable and Time Has Come for More Thought Towards Things Spiritual.

"The last century was a century of materialism; and no wonder. It witnessed the most remarkable progress of material science," said Rev. Frederick T. Rouse at the First Congregational church Sunday morning in a sermon on the subject of "Religion and Health."

"The telescope and the spectroscope revealed the secrets of the infinite heavens. Chemistry showed the order, wonder and beauty of the molecular world. Through biology the laws of physical life were displayed, and the germ theory of disease started on its wonderful conquest. The evolutionary sciences had their inning. And the physical mastery of the world was brought on its course."

"Yet the nature of the ego, the relation of mind to matter, was as far from solution as ever. The ultimate cause and nature and purpose of things was still unknown to science. The reality and nature of God, spirit and the unseen was as far from knowledge as ever. We were like some farmers whom I know in Wisconsin, who had great farms, barns, wonderful stock, yet their houses were the poorest, their fare the worst and the self of the soul seemed to have no home or care."

"A reaction was inevitable! All through the human world we find springing up from untutored sources an affirmation of spirit above flesh. Doctors are declaring that personality counts more than medicine and auto-suggestion and psychotherapy are in the air. And added to all matter itself is being dissolved from 'stuff' into something more like will or thought force. The age of the spiritual has dawned."

Faith in Solution. "Incantations, not words, Dowileism, amulets and blessed rosaries, bread pills and auto-suggestion all have their cures. The healing of scripture need no longer be explained away. They all have their explanation in one word—faith. This is the age of the revival of faith."

"(a) The church has neglected its hygiene. It has become a mere social club, a place where men meet to eat and drink and to be entertained. It has lost its power to heal. It has lost its power to give. It has lost its power to love. It has lost its power to live. It has lost its power to die. It has lost its power to rise. It has lost its power to be. It has lost its power to be God."

"(b) The church must return to its healing ministry. Wisely, and with limitations, it must still remember 'the prayer of faith shall save the sick.'"

"(c) The relation between sin and sickness and religion and health, must be affirmed. Fear, anger, despair, hatred profoundly affect secretions. And on the other hand, the type of character created by Christ, calm, loving, patient, unselfish, fearless, trusting, is the type best able to resist every form of disease."

CHRIST CONCEPTION OF RELIGION "Follow Me" is the Summary of the Savior's Doctrine. "The Christ Conception of Religion" was the subject of the sermon of Rev. J. W. Conley at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. The text was from Galatians vi:18, "For as many as walk according to this love, peace be on them and mercy, and upon the Israel of God." Dr. Conley said in part:

"As you have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk with Him. The subject of religion is very comprehensive. Many of them are false. The religion of Jesus Christ was summed up in two words: 'Follow Me.'"

"My purpose is to give you an outline of the essential features of the Christian life. The false religions are not alone the heathen religions. We have them in America, and there is much falsity in some of our so-called evangelical churches. The Pharisees' idea of religion was that of something to be taken on and not within. It was with them a gallim, the whole conception being in the observation of some form. They had no idea of the abounding life in the soul or of an outgrowing life from the soul. The faithful of the Phariseal churches were admonished strictly to observe the ordinances of fast days and to the shore of the Red sea and the waters all other outward manifestations of their religious observances. There is in the church of today too much of the superficial conception of piety form above life cannot endure."

"Religion is a power within the soul, as interpreted by Jesus Christ. It is the energy which works within, a power within the soul."

"God does not ask man to detract his reason. Truth is so immense that we cannot take it all in. The truest faith is that faith which thinks. It is wrong to think that our colleges and universities are prone to influence a lack of faith in religion. On the contrary, the institutions are being laid the foundations for the sublime truths."

SOCRATES A HERO IN DEATH Refuses to Abandon Faith Even to Save His Life. The story of the life of Socrates and of his appearance before his judges was told Sunday morning in an impressive manner by Rev. Newton Mann at the Unitarian church, the lecture being the first in a series on "Famous Scenes of Moral Instruction" to be delivered during the winter by Rev. Mr. Mann. His theme he divided into several parts, including Greece in the time of Socrates, his course of life as senator, under the thirty tyrants, Plato's estimate, unpopularity, charges preferred against him, the joint, complainant's representation, Socrates' defense, judgment of "guilty" rendered, determination of penalty, final word of the condemned and death.

As summing up the character of Socrates, Rev. Mr. Mann read his last words to the judge who had condemned him and after reminding the judges that in condemning him they had set a reproach upon their city which they had set would not efface, he proceeded without ransom and said: "Perhaps, my friends, you think that I have been defeated because I was wanting in the arguments by which I could have persuaded you to acquit me, if that is, I had thought it right to do so anything to escape punishment. It is not so. I have been defeated because I would not plead before you as you would have liked to hear me plead, or appeal to you with weeping and wailing, or say and do many other things which I maintain are unworthy of me, but which you have been accustomed to from other men. But when I was defending myself, I thought I ought not, because of the peril I was in, to do anything unmanly, and I have not changed my mind now. I would much rather defend myself as I did and die than as you would have me do and live. Both in a lawsuit and in war there are some things which neither I nor any other man may do in order to

HEALTH PART OF RELIGION

Material Science Advances Faster Than Religion of Mind to Matter.

CHURCH A HEALING MINISTER

Dr. Rouse Says Reaction is Inevitable and Time Has Come for More Thought Towards Things Spiritual.

"The last century was a century of materialism; and no wonder. It witnessed the most remarkable progress of material science," said Rev. Frederick T. Rouse at the First Congregational church Sunday morning in a sermon on the subject of "Religion and Health."

"The telescope and the spectroscope revealed the secrets of the infinite heavens. Chemistry showed the order, wonder and beauty of the molecular world. Through biology the laws of physical life were displayed, and the germ theory of disease started on its wonderful conquest. The evolutionary sciences had their inning. And the physical mastery of the world was brought on its course."

"Yet the nature of the ego, the relation of mind to matter, was as far from solution as ever. The ultimate cause and nature and purpose of things was still unknown to science. The reality and nature of God, spirit and the unseen was as far from knowledge as ever. We were like some farmers whom I know in Wisconsin, who had great farms, barns, wonderful stock, yet their houses were the poorest, their fare the worst and the self of the soul seemed to have no home or care."

"A reaction was inevitable! All through the human world we find springing up from untutored sources an affirmation of spirit above flesh. Doctors are declaring that personality counts more than medicine and auto-suggestion and psychotherapy are in the air. And added to all matter itself is being dissolved from 'stuff' into something more like will or thought force. The age of the spiritual has dawned."

Faith in Solution. "Incantations, not words, Dowileism, amulets and blessed rosaries, bread pills and auto-suggestion all have their cures. The healing of scripture need no longer be explained away. They all have their explanation in one word—faith. This is the age of the revival of faith."

"(a) The church has neglected its hygiene. It has become a mere social club, a place where men meet to eat and drink and to be entertained. It has lost its power to heal. It has lost its power to give. It has lost its power to love. It has lost its power to live. It has lost its power to die. It has lost its power to rise. It has lost its power to be. It has lost its power to be God."

"(b) The church must return to its healing ministry. Wisely, and with limitations, it must still remember 'the prayer of faith shall save the sick.'"

"(c) The relation between sin and sickness and religion and health, must be affirmed. Fear, anger, despair, hatred profoundly affect secretions. And on the other hand, the type of character created by Christ, calm, loving, patient, unselfish, fearless, trusting, is the type best able to resist every form of disease."

CHRIST CONCEPTION OF RELIGION "Follow Me" is the Summary of the Savior's Doctrine. "The Christ Conception of Religion" was the subject of the sermon of Rev. J. W. Conley at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. The text was from Galatians vi:18, "For as many as walk according to this love, peace be on them and mercy, and upon the Israel of God." Dr. Conley said in part:

"As you have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk with Him. The subject of religion is very comprehensive. Many of them are false. The religion of Jesus Christ was summed up in two words: 'Follow Me.'"

"My purpose is to give you an outline of the essential features of the Christian life. The false religions are not alone the heathen religions. We have them in America, and there is much falsity in some of our so-called evangelical churches. The Pharisees' idea of religion was that of something to be taken on and not within. It was with them a gallim, the whole conception being in the observation of some form. They had no idea of the abounding life in the soul or of an outgrowing life from the soul. The faithful of the Phariseal churches were admonished strictly to observe the ordinances of fast days and to the shore of the Red sea and the waters all other outward manifestations of their religious observances. There is in the church of today too much of the superficial conception of piety form above life cannot endure."

"Religion is a power within the soul, as interpreted by Jesus Christ. It is the energy which works within, a power within the soul."

"God does not ask man to detract his reason. Truth is so immense that we cannot take it all in. The truest faith is that faith which thinks. It is wrong to think that our colleges and universities are prone to influence a lack of faith in religion. On the contrary, the institutions are being laid the foundations for the sublime truths."

SOCRATES A HERO IN DEATH Refuses to Abandon Faith Even to Save His Life. The story of the life of Socrates and of his appearance before his judges was told Sunday morning in an impressive manner by Rev. Newton Mann at the Unitarian church, the lecture being the first in a series on "Famous Scenes of Moral Instruction" to be delivered during the winter by Rev. Mr. Mann. His theme he divided into several parts, including Greece in the time of Socrates, his course of life as senator, under the thirty tyrants, Plato's estimate, unpopularity, charges preferred against him, the joint, complainant's representation, Socrates' defense, judgment of "guilty" rendered, determination of penalty, final word of the condemned and death.

As summing up the character of Socrates, Rev. Mr. Mann read his last words to the judge who had condemned him and after reminding the judges that in condemning him they had set a reproach upon their city which they had set would not efface, he proceeded without ransom and said: "Perhaps, my friends, you think that I have been defeated because I was wanting in the arguments by which I could have persuaded you to acquit me, if that is, I had thought it right to do so anything to escape punishment. It is not so. I have been defeated because I would not plead before you as you would have liked to hear me plead, or appeal to you with weeping and wailing, or say and do many other things which I maintain are unworthy of me, but which you have been accustomed to from other men. But when I was defending myself, I thought I ought not, because of the peril I was in, to do anything unmanly, and I have not changed my mind now. I would much rather defend myself as I did and die than as you would have me do and live. Both in a lawsuit and in war there are some things which neither I nor any other man may do in order to

HEALTH PART OF RELIGION

Material Science Advances Faster Than Religion of Mind to Matter.

CHURCH A HEALING MINISTER

Dr. Rouse Says Reaction is Inevitable and Time Has Come for More Thought Towards Things Spiritual.

"The last century was a century of materialism; and no wonder. It witnessed the most remarkable progress of material science," said Rev. Frederick T. Rouse at the First Congregational church Sunday morning in a sermon on the subject of "Religion and Health."

"The telescope and the spectroscope revealed the secrets of the infinite heavens. Chemistry showed the order, wonder and beauty of the molecular world. Through biology the laws of physical life were displayed, and the germ theory of disease started on its wonderful conquest. The evolutionary sciences had their inning. And the physical mastery of the world was brought on its course."

"Yet the nature of the ego, the relation of mind to matter, was as far from solution as ever. The ultimate cause and nature and purpose of things was still unknown to science. The reality and nature of God, spirit and the unseen was as far from knowledge as ever. We were like some farmers whom I know in Wisconsin, who had great farms, barns, wonderful stock, yet their houses were the poorest, their fare the worst and the self of the soul seemed to have no home or care."

"A reaction was inevitable! All through the human world we find springing up from untutored sources an affirmation of spirit above flesh. Doctors are declaring that personality counts more than medicine and auto-suggestion and psychotherapy are in the air. And added to all matter itself is being dissolved from 'stuff' into something more like will or thought force. The age of the spiritual has dawned."

Faith in Solution. "Incantations, not words, Dowileism, amulets and blessed rosaries, bread pills and auto-suggestion all have their cures. The healing of scripture need no longer be explained away. They all have their explanation in one word—faith. This is the age of the revival of faith."

"(a) The church has neglected its hygiene. It has become a mere social club, a place where men meet to eat and drink and to be entertained. It has lost its power to heal. It has lost its power to give. It has lost its power to love. It has lost its power to live. It has lost its power to die. It has lost its power to rise. It has lost its power to be. It has lost its power to be God."

"(b) The church must return to its healing ministry. Wisely, and with limitations, it must still remember 'the prayer of faith shall save the sick.'"

"(c) The relation between sin and sickness and religion and health, must be affirmed. Fear, anger, despair, hatred profoundly affect secretions. And on the other hand, the type of character created by Christ, calm, loving, patient, unselfish, fearless, trusting, is the type best able to resist every form of disease."

CHRIST CONCEPTION OF RELIGION "Follow Me" is the Summary of the Savior's Doctrine. "The Christ Conception of Religion" was the subject of the sermon of Rev. J. W. Conley at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. The text was from Galatians vi:18, "For as many as walk according to this love, peace be on them and mercy, and upon the Israel of God." Dr. Conley said in part:

"As you have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk with Him. The subject of religion is very comprehensive. Many of them are false. The religion of Jesus Christ was summed up in two words: 'Follow Me.'"

"My purpose is to give you an outline of the essential features of the Christian life. The false religions are not alone the heathen religions. We have them in America, and there is much falsity in some of our so-called evangelical churches. The Pharisees' idea of religion was that of something to be taken on and not within. It was with them a gallim, the whole conception being in the observation of some form. They had no idea of the abounding life in the soul or of an outgrowing life from the soul. The faithful of the Phariseal churches were admonished strictly to observe the ordinances of fast days and to the shore of the Red sea and the waters all other outward manifestations of their religious observances. There is in the church of today too much of the superficial conception of piety form above life cannot endure."

"Religion is a power within the soul, as interpreted by Jesus Christ. It is the energy which works within, a power within the soul."

"God does not ask man to detract his reason. Truth is so immense that we cannot take it all in. The truest faith is that faith which thinks. It is wrong to think that our colleges and universities are prone to influence a lack of faith in religion. On the contrary, the institutions are being laid the foundations for the sublime truths."

SOCRATES A HERO IN DEATH Refuses to Abandon Faith Even to Save His Life. The story of the life of Socrates and of his appearance before his judges was told Sunday morning in an impressive manner by Rev. Newton Mann at the Unitarian church, the lecture being the first in a series on "Famous Scenes of Moral Instruction" to be delivered during the winter by Rev. Mr. Mann. His theme he divided into several parts, including Greece in the time of Socrates, his course of life as senator, under the thirty tyrants, Plato's estimate, unpopularity, charges preferred against him, the joint, complainant's representation, Socrates' defense, judgment of "guilty" rendered, determination of penalty, final word of the condemned and death.

As summing up the character of Socrates, Rev. Mr. Mann read his last words to the judge who had condemned him and after reminding the judges that in condemning him they had set a reproach upon their city which they had set would not efface, he proceeded without ransom and said: "Perhaps, my friends, you think that I have been defeated because I was wanting in the arguments by which I could have persuaded you to acquit me, if that is, I had thought it right to do so anything to escape punishment. It is not so. I have been defeated because I would not plead before you as you would have liked to hear me plead, or appeal to you with weeping and wailing, or say and do many other things which I maintain are unworthy of me, but which you have been accustomed to from other men. But when I was defending myself, I thought I ought not, because of the peril I was in, to do anything unmanly, and I have not changed my mind now. I would much rather defend myself as I did and die than as you would have me do and live. Both in a lawsuit and in war there are some things which neither I nor any other man may do in order to

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the mainspring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in the loins, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention. In such cases the one sure remedy which speedily removes