

CROUP

THERE IS NOTHING that strikes terror to the hearts of parents more than to be awakened in the night by the ringing cough which accompanies an attack of croup. The child may retire with nothing but a slight cold and a few hours later the family be aroused by the ominous symptoms. Every home where there are small children should be prepared for these sudden attacks, as prompt treatment is necessary. Do not experiment with remedies of doubtful value, but get that has been in use for nearly forty years and never known to fail.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

Mr. Homer Krohn, of Lisbon, Iowa, in a letter to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy praises this medicine for what it has done for his children. He says: "It has not only saved them once but many a time. Only two weeks ago my boy had the croup so bad in the night that had it not been for having a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house he would have choked before a doctor could have gotten to the house. It is a medicine that no one should be without at any time." It is pleasant to take and many children like it.

"We guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says W. M. Parish, Palustration, Ontario. "Out of the many bottles sold last winter not one was returned. We recommend it especially for children with croup." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its prompt cures of coughs, colds and croup. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse an attack of croup may be averted. This medicine is entirely free from narcotics or injurious substances of any kind and may be given to the little ones with absolute safety.

Attacks of croup are most likely to occur during the early winter months, and every family with young children should be prepared for it. Keep a bottle of CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY in your home. It only costs a quarter, large size 50 cents. Your druggist sells it.

BRIEF CITY NEWS

Have Root Print It.
Diamonds, Edoholm, Jeweler.
Eduolph F. Swoboda, Public Accountant.
F. Bourke for quality cigars, 316 S. 16th.
Morand's lessons in dancing, Tel. 0. 1911.
A. H. Hirsch, photographer, 18th & Farnam.
B. W. H. N. J. Douglas shoe, $2.50.
A. J. Waring and Repair—Burgess-Granden company, 1311 Howard street.
A. J. Waring—Police sign drafts at maturity, 11 D. Newby, manager, Omaha.
Edminston Case to Be Heard Saturday.
The hearing in the J. H. Edminston case, which was set for Monday morning, has been continued by agreement to Saturday next.

—Three dollars and a half in pennies were taken by burglars from Louis Sommers' grocery store at 2901 Cumming street Sunday afternoon. They got into the place by breaking a window. Nothing else was taken, the thief or thieves evidently wanting only cash, and getting only a little of that.

Admitted to Practice—Irving B. Griffin, a young attorney of Omaha, 417 South Fifteenth street, was admitted to practice in the federal courts of the Omaha district Monday morning.

Hospital Instead of Vacation—Edward T. Hayden of the firm of Hastings & Hayden, real estate dealers, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital Monday for an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Hayden was at his desk as usual Saturday preparing to leave Monday on a vacation trip. His physicians advised that he had better have the operation at once.

Coroner Announces His Staff—Coroner P. C. Healey has announced the appointment of his staff of assistants. Dr. A. H. Dunn will be the new coroner's physician, succeeding Dr. Lavender. Miss Effie Gertrude Smith will be his secretary. Coroner Healey performed his first duties Monday at the inquest over the body of Frank Dixon, who dropped dead in the county jail Saturday.

Coroner Announces His Staff—Coroner P. C. Healey has announced the appointment of his staff of assistants. Dr. A. H. Dunn will be the new coroner's physician, succeeding Dr. Lavender. Miss Effie Gertrude Smith will be his secretary. Coroner Healey performed his first duties Monday at the inquest over the body of Frank Dixon, who dropped dead in the county jail Saturday.

Wheat Cakes Corn Cakes—Griddle Cakes of all Makes taste better, set better, are better when served with Commercial Club Postcard Folders—The Commercial club has received another supply of its special illustrated postcard folders, 2000 in number, and is mailing out this attractive advertising device to as many thousand business men. The announcement that Robert Lewis, secretary of the National Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai, China, will speak to the Commercial club at noon Friday was heard with more than ordinary interest by the members of the club and a large number will attend the address.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Mass Meeting Held to Consider Changes in the City Charter.

LABOR LARGELY REPRESENTED

Jeremiah Howard, Representative-elect, the Moving Spirit—Council to Wrestle with Sewer Contracts.

About 125 people of the city, mostly laboring men, attended the meeting at the city hall yesterday afternoon. This meeting was called in the interests of charter changes. The prime mover was Jeremiah Howard, who as a representative in the legislature desired to be advised as to the wishes of the South Omaha people.

The meeting was presided over by Frank Sterrett. The principal speaker was George A. Kennedy of Omaha. He confined his remarks to the needs of labor in state legislation.

Other speakers were Jake Davis, C. A. Melcher, Jacob Levy, John MacMillan, Thomas Hecker, Dr. W. J. McCrann, J. B. Watkins, C. A. Sears, Jack Walter, George Stephens and John Flynn.

Among the things discussed was home rule, or the election of the fire and police commissioners. It was also proposed that there be only two members of the board outside of the mayor, he being the chairman, the other members to belong one each to the two leading parties.

Turning from legislative to the proposed power scheme, the speakers denounced the Nebraska Power company as a visionary scheme and unsafe for the city to consider.

Some discussion was also indulged in regarding the Park board. It was argued that the members of this board should be elective or at least be appointed by the mayor.

It was proposed to ask that the charter be revised to compel the street car company to pave eighteen inches outside its tracks and all the space between.

After these and other points were discussed the session adjourned for one week, at which time an invitation is to be extended to the city council and the city officials, and to ask them at that meeting to consider the appointment of a charter revision committee which shall have power to formulate a proper petition which is to be presented to the legislature.

Council to Meet Tonight

The city council in its regular meeting tonight may be called upon to consider some important matters concerning the public improvements. It is expected that the city attorney will report on the validity of the sewer contracts which were let nearly two years ago, but which have never been carried out because the city had not funds enough to meet the obligations involved in the contracts.

It is possible that in the event of such proceedings being required, it may be found that several of the companies will refuse to renew their former bids. In this case the contracts will have to be re-advertised. It is understood that these proposals apply to the contracts on which no work has been begun. Where the work is in progress it is evident that the companies are bound by the terms of the contract under which they have been operating until the work is done.

Mayor's Gold Top Beer Delivered to any part of the City

Frank Dworsak and a party are hunting in the Minnesota woods for big game. Mrs. H. H. Ames has returned from an extended visit in Wisconsin and Iowa.

COAL: Try Howland's celebrated Silver Creek. Office, 48 N. 24th St., Tel. South 7.

The case of Lavender Foster will probably be taken up by the grand jury early this week.

The government inspectors are to give a dancing party at Rueling's hall Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gribble and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Seave entered a large party Friday evening.

Miss Etta Huntsberger assisted in the music of the Presbyterian choir Sunday morning and evening.

Mrs. Frank Polansky has returned to St. Paul, Neb., her home, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gribble.

The women of the First Methodist church will serve dinner in the parlors of the church Tuesday from 12 to 1:30 p. m.

John Cummings of Denver, formerly of South Omaha, returned from a visit to his old friends in South Omaha.

Arrangements were made by the South Omaha police department yesterday. It has been several months since the jail blotter showed a similar clean record.

Mrs. Zennie Gifford, sister of Mrs. G. P. Mathews, who has been visiting in South Omaha several weeks, leaves Tuesday for Montana on a day trip.

At the Theaters

'The Patriot' at the Boyd.

'The Patriot' a farce in three acts, by J. Hartley Manners and William Collier. Cast of characters: Sir Augustus Plantagenet Armitage, Reginald Mason, Wallace Worley, Percival Robertson, Frank Westerton, Pop Strong, John Saville, Steve Masterson, Thomas Martin, Caesar, Thomas Martin, Wambikili, Thomas Beauregard, Helen Hale, Helen Hale, Helen Hale, Okshula-Washia, Margaret Warren, The Honorable Ferguson Armitage, Reginald Mason, Reginald Mason, Albert, Max Edberg, Mrs. Berkshire, Anne Edmond, Nora, Helen Byrne.

The result of this text is that Miss Elliot sends across the footlights the convincing impression of a well defined, finely shaded, thoroughly rounded and developed character. While her success is important to the success of the comedy, yet it is chiefly interesting as furnishing a beautiful illustration of the fact that acting is vastly different in nature from elocution, that a good actor can create a character of extreme significance and meaning even if situated in as in the present case without eloquent lines and impressive "business."

A third big success in the play is that of Lloyd Ingraham as the professor's physician and friend and is of interest as affording another instance of his versatility. Two feminine roles, the dowager Lady Gliding and Prof. Goodwillie's sister, are played by Pearl Stearns and Edith Spencer, respectively. The first has an easier task, for the role is a humorous one, from which Miss Stearns extracted a full measure of comedy; the second is an unsympathetic part, though the sister's change of attitude at the close toward the marriage of her brother and his secretary, Miss Spencer, respectively. The first has an easier task, for the role is a humorous one, from which Miss Stearns extracted a full measure of comedy; the second is an unsympathetic part, though the sister's change of attitude at the close toward the marriage of her brother and his secretary, Miss Spencer, respectively.

William Grew and Alice Myers appear as Sir George and Lady Gliding and contribute much to the humor of the evening. Hostile criticism of either's acting would be captious.

There are several low comedy characters. John Todd and Edward Clibee, as two Scotch laborers, created much amusement, and besides playing excellently, handled a difficult dialect without flaw, as did Jane Jeffery, as the housekeeper, an important minor role. J. Lane Connor has the only other speaking part, that of a young physician, and he maintained the high standard set by his fellows. Lloyd Francis and Edward Kauffer are allotted the thankless roles of liveried servants and carried two lunch baskets with skill, which was all they had a chance to do.

There is no attempt at a plot in the comedy and the action is simply supposed to be an hour's excerpt from a day in the career, or, more correctly, the total lack of a career, of the seven hoboes. The septet are true enough to life with one exception: They are somewhat more gifted than any seven "sturdy beggars," as tramps are called in England. Of the musical numbers one song represents the vagrant dreaming of himself as a corsair, and this recalls to mind the "Pirate King" solo in Gilbert & Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance." The whole sketch may be dismissed with the statement that it has something of the flavor of the greatest expression of the spirit of the vagabond in all literature—the "beggars' tavern chorus" in Goethe's "Faust."

Three talented women are a feature of the week's bill—Amelie Summerville, Janet Melville and Evie Stetson. The first named is famous as a comedienne, but has never been seen in Omaha before. She gives a number of songs which include several "bits," which for lack of a better term may be called imitations, although they are really reproductions of characters and personalities, to which an original turn is given by the performer's own individuality. When a history of vaudeville is written, Janet Melville's career will have considerable space, for she has been immensely successful in variety for many years. She still retains and long will keep the laurels won some time ago by her topical songs and dialect imitations. Miss Stetson's dialect work, it must be added, is of an exceedingly high order, and she makes an admirable companion for the other two.

A dramatic novelty called "A Story of the Street" was enacted by Madge Hughes and Tom Barry. It's a study of Bovey and stage life, with an obvious moral as to the danger of putting on airs when temporary success comes. Barry and Miss Hughes are both clever and the audience liked the skit well.

Frank McCrea opened the program with feats of marksmanship which are thrilling for accuracy and novelty. His shooting at two targets with two guns represents an achievement in double optical focusing which is simply amazing, particularly when one of the targets simultaneously aimed at and hit is in rapid motion.

Paul La Croix added much comedy to an eccentric and skillful juggling act. He has dragged apt alliteration's artful aid into the naming of his act, calling himself the "handy hat hustler," or something like that. He received and deserved hearty applause.

The four status appeared in a gymnastic act of merit.

Fearful Slaughter
of deadly microbes occurs when throat and lung diseases are treated with Dr. King's New Discovery. 50c and $1.00. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

Building Permits.
L. M. Jensen, 238 South Nineteenth street, frame dwelling, $2,100; F. Vick, Thirtieth and California streets, frame dwelling, $2,500.

At the Theaters

'The Professor's Love Story' at the Burwood.

A comedy in three acts and three scenes, by J. M. Barrie. Cast of characters: Effie Proctor, the professor's housekeeper—Jane Jeffery, Lucy White, his secretary—Lorna Elliott, Dr. Cosens, his college friend and physician—Lloyd Ingraham, Prof. Goodwillie, his assistant—Frank Bacon, Dowager Lady Gliding, Pearl Stearns, Lady Gliding, her daughter-in-law—Mrs. S. George Gliding, member of Parliament—William Grew, Sir George's estate agent—Edward Clibee, Agnes Goodwillie, the professor's sister—Edith Spencer, Dr. Hendra, laborer on Sir George's estate.

The result of this text is that Miss Elliot sends across the footlights the convincing impression of a well defined, finely shaded, thoroughly rounded and developed character. While her success is important to the success of the comedy, yet it is chiefly interesting as furnishing a beautiful illustration of the fact that acting is vastly different in nature from elocution, that a good actor can create a character of extreme significance and meaning even if situated in as in the present case without eloquent lines and impressive "business."

A third big success in the play is that of Lloyd Ingraham as the professor's physician and friend and is of interest as affording another instance of his versatility. Two feminine roles, the dowager Lady Gliding and Prof. Goodwillie's sister, are played by Pearl Stearns and Edith Spencer, respectively. The first has an easier task, for the role is a humorous one, from which Miss Stearns extracted a full measure of comedy; the second is an unsympathetic part, though the sister's change of attitude at the close toward the marriage of her brother and his secretary, Miss Spencer, respectively. The first has an easier task, for the role is a humorous one, from which Miss Stearns extracted a full measure of comedy; the second is an unsympathetic part, though the sister's change of attitude at the close toward the marriage of her brother and his secretary, Miss Spencer, respectively.

William Grew and Alice Myers appear as Sir George and Lady Gliding and contribute much to the humor of the evening. Hostile criticism of either's acting would be captious.

There are several low comedy characters. John Todd and Edward Clibee, as two Scotch laborers, created much amusement, and besides playing excellently, handled a difficult dialect without flaw, as did Jane Jeffery, as the housekeeper, an important minor role. J. Lane Connor has the only other speaking part, that of a young physician, and he maintained the high standard set by his fellows. Lloyd Francis and Edward Kauffer are allotted the thankless roles of liveried servants and carried two lunch baskets with skill, which was all they had a chance to do.

There is no attempt at a plot in the comedy and the action is simply supposed to be an hour's excerpt from a day in the career, or, more correctly, the total lack of a career, of the seven hoboes. The septet are true enough to life with one exception: They are somewhat more gifted than any seven "sturdy beggars," as tramps are called in England. Of the musical numbers one song represents the vagrant dreaming of himself as a corsair, and this recalls to mind the "Pirate King" solo in Gilbert & Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance." The whole sketch may be dismissed with the statement that it has something of the flavor of the greatest expression of the spirit of the vagabond in all literature—the "beggars' tavern chorus" in Goethe's "Faust."

Three talented women are a feature of the week's bill—Amelie Summerville, Janet Melville and Evie Stetson. The first named is famous as a comedienne, but has never been seen in Omaha before. She gives a number of songs which include several "bits," which for lack of a better term may be called imitations, although they are really reproductions of characters and personalities, to which an original turn is given by the performer's own individuality. When a history of vaudeville is written, Janet Melville's career will have considerable space, for she has been immensely successful in variety for many years. She still retains and long will keep the laurels won some time ago by her topical songs and dialect imitations. Miss Stetson's dialect work, it must be added, is of an exceedingly high order, and she makes an admirable companion for the other two.

A dramatic novelty called "A Story of the Street" was enacted by Madge Hughes and Tom Barry. It's a study of Bovey and stage life, with an obvious moral as to the danger of putting on airs when temporary success comes. Barry and Miss Hughes are both clever and the audience liked the skit well.

Frank McCrea opened the program with feats of marksmanship which are thrilling for accuracy and novelty. His shooting at two targets with two guns represents an achievement in double optical focusing which is simply amazing, particularly when one of the targets simultaneously aimed at and hit is in rapid motion.

Paul La Croix added much comedy to an eccentric and skillful juggling act. He has dragged apt alliteration's artful aid into the naming of his act, calling himself the "handy hat hustler," or something like that. He received and deserved hearty applause.

The four status appeared in a gymnastic act of merit.

Fearful Slaughter
of deadly microbes occurs when throat and lung diseases are treated with Dr. King's New Discovery. 50c and $1.00. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

Building Permits.
L. M. Jensen, 238 South Nineteenth street, frame dwelling, $2,100; F. Vick, Thirtieth and California streets, frame dwelling, $2,500.

Swell Overcoats for $16.50

We've an overcoat for this price that certainly is a "dandy." You couldn't touch it anywhere else for less than $20. Of course it's the latest style—we don't buy out-of-date goods and then sell them as big bargains—our reputation is too valuable to be risked that way. These coats come in grey, kerseys and striped chev-yots; sleeves are lined with Skinner satin, worsted inner lining, velvet collars and have hand made button-holes.

You'll see on examining these coats that the best of material is tailored in a exceptional manner and the amount of service you will get out of this coat will surely surprise you.

We are anxious for your first call, because we're sure you'll return for the next overcoat or suit.

Nebraska Clothing Co.

OMAHA'S LEADING CLOTHIERS.

JAP ROSE SOAP

(TRANSPARENT)

When traveling one should avoid the use of "public" toilet soaps found on trains and in hotels—generally highly scented to conceal ingredients injurious to the skin. Procure a cake of Jap Rose and be assured of a perfect skin cleanser which lathers freely in either hard or soft water.

IT CANNOT BE IMITATED

Jas. S. Kirk & Co., 368 N. Water Street, Chicago.

FREE Send us 5c stamps for 5 large assortments of Japanese Children by Marion Miller, without any advertising FREE

Michaels Stern Clothes

Illustrate the saving grace of a beneficent economy. Clothes as good cost double elsewhere.

When you are in a money-saving mood see these.

Priced within reason.

The season's newest models should be on sale in your City. If not, we'll tell you where to obtain them and will also forward you one of our handsome Portfolios of styles if you'll send us your local dealer's name.

Michaels-Stern & Co.

Rochester, N. Y.

Michaels, Stern & Co. Clothing

Is fully recommended and for sale by

The Bennett Company

There are no vacant offices, but—

If you have been looking for such rooms, no doubt you have found desirable space is a rare thing. From time to time changes are made by tenants which would make available just the kind of office rooms which you desire.

THE BEE BUILDING

is occupied from top to bottom, but for reasons above stated we keep a waiting list and would be pleased to have you call and look through the building. By giving us an idea of your requirements would place us in a position to fulfill your want along this line at some future time. Leave your name and address with

R. W. BAKER, Supt, Room 501

Wheat Cakes Corn Cakes—Griddle Cakes of all Makes taste better, set better, are better when served with

Karo

The most healthful and nutritious syrup for every use, from griddle cakes to candy.

A book of recipes for cooking and candy-making sent free on request.

All Grocers, 10c, 25c, 50c

CORN PRODUCTS REFINING COMPANY, New York

Sprinkle's Peerless Croup Remedy

A TIME TRIED REMEDY THAT NEVER FAILS. GUARANTEED TO CURE OR MONEY REFUNDED.

What mother has not experienced the harrowing fear of croup—and many have been the times when a hurried call for a physician has been made. But all this can be obviated by keeping a box of Sprinkle's Peerless Croup Remedy in the house. This remedy is from a prescription of a physician that had fifty years experience in practice, and he claims that his remedy never failed him in cases of croup.

Sprinkle's Peerless Croup Remedy is peculiar in itself, as it is an external application, doing away with the necessity of pouring drugs down a young child, a practice that should not be indulged in as long as it can be avoided.

This remedy has been sold for years on a positive guarantee to cure croup or price of remedy refunded, and it barely authorizes all dealers to refund the price where the remedy does not do all that is claimed for it.

A safe and sure remedy for the cure of Croup and the relief of Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Asthma, Whooping Cough and all kindred diseases. For sale by druggists or mailed on receipt of price, 50 cents, by E. A. SPRINKLE, Villa Grove, Ill.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBER SUES IT

David H. Sievers, Who Slipped on Soapy Floor, Wants Thousand Dollars

The Young Men's Christian association is defendant in a damage suit for $1,000 brought in county court Monday afternoon by David H. Seaver, an abstractor, who slipped on a soapy floor in the bath room and broke his left humerus. Seaver was taking a shower bath and the petition says the floor had been allowed to become covered with soapy water from the bath. He asserts the association should have put up warning signs, kept the floor clear of soap and provided matting around the baths. Seaver is a member of the association. The petition was filed by John W. Cooper, his attorney.

Pythians to Entertain Brothers.
"Damon and Pythias," the drama portraying the Grecian story on which was founded the order of Knights of Pythias, will be presented at the Auditorium on Monday afternoon, November 23, by the famous Iola team of Dayton, O. This team consists of 102 members, bring with them two carloads of paraphernalia, and have presented the drama in every city the friendship of Damon and Pythias to over 70,000 people in thirteen of the largest cities of the United States. The afternoon performance is open to the public and seats are now on sale at the office of Dr. Roy A. Dodge, 46 Brandeis building. The box office of the Auditorium will be open for the sale of tickets Sunday, November 22, and Monday, November 23.

The Pythians also hold forth at the Auditorium on the evening of the same day, but the evening meeting is strictly a lodge affair, to which only members of the order are to be admitted. The occasion of the two meetings is the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of Pythianism in the west, is given under the auspices of the grand lodge of Nebraska and participated in by the grand domains of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota and other western states.

BACKACHE IS USUALLY THE SIGN OF INACTIVE DERANGED KIDNEYS

Here Is a Simple Recipe Which Readers Should Mix at Home.

Take care of backache. A great many cases of kidney complaint are reported about here, also bladder trouble and rheumatism.

An authority once stated that pain in the back, loins or region of the kidneys is the danger signal nature hangs out to notify the sufferer that there is something wrong with the kidneys, which should receive immediate attention. Only vegetable treatment should be administered and absolutely no strongly alcoholic medicines, which are harmful to the kidneys and bladder.

The following prescription, while simple, has proven an effective remedy and recognized as a sovereign remedy for kidney complaint. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This preparation is said to restore the natural function of the kidneys, so they will sift and strain the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, purify it and relieve rheumatism. Backache will be relieved, the urine will be neutralized and cleared and no longer a cause of irritation, thereby overcoming such symptoms as weak bladder, painful, frequent and other urinary difficulties. This is worth trying and may prove just what many people here need.