CAUSE SLIGHT FEELING AT START

Bulls Are Confident and Buy on All Breaks and Soon Have Shorts Covering Freely, Bringing

Another Rise.

OMAHA, Nov. 18, 1908.

Cables were not strong compared with the domestic advance of yesterday, which caused some easier feeling at the start. Bulls were confident and bought on all breaks and soon had shorts covering freely, which brought on snother advance, with a new high level.

Trading in corn is generally quiet and it is conceded that its strength is due to the advance in wheat.

Wheat opened lower on weak cables and some selling on the advance of yesterday. Later shorts covered freely and sent the market up "gain, only to sag off again at the close on seiling against ups. December wheat opened at 97%c and closed at 97%c. Corn was slow at the opening and followed wheat closely, with only slight support. Local demand helped strengthen the option, due to an increase cash demand. December corn counter as 150 can be compared as 150 can be called a level when the option, due to an increase cash demand. CHICAGO, Nov. 48.—New high record marks for all deliveries were established in the wheat pit today, the December option selling at fl.04% and May at $1.09%. The advance, however, was not maintained, a severe slump occurring late in the day and at the close prices were almost at the bottom. Corn and provisions closed steady, but oats were easy.

Men and not condition.

Men and not conditions were responsible for the sharp upturn in wheat today, the setting of new high marks being made possible by support of several leading bulls, which caused active buying by the local shorts. Although some news of a bullish nature was received, the larger part of the gossip was favorable to the bears. Today's market was a reversal of yesterday, the greatest activity and strength being manifested during the first half of the session and duliness and weakness into in the day. The market opened weak at declines of 340 %c to %c and continued heavy during the first half hour. Support from the leading bulls then started lirgent buying by shorts, which seem carried prices fly with a bound. The sharp advance brought liberal realizing sales, which caused a decline in prices to about the opening level. The early weakness was due chiefly to the indifference of foreign grain markets to the bulge here yesterday and the heaviness late in the sension based mainly on a report which claimed that the long existing drewth in southern Argentina had been broken. A festort which gave comfort to Men and not conditions were responsible for the sharp upturn in wheat today, the setting of new high marks being made possible by support of several leading bulls, which caused active buying by the local shorts. Today's market was a reversal of yesterday, the greatest activity and strength being manifested during the first half of the session port which claimed that the long existing drouth in southern Argentina had been broken. A report which gave comfort to the bulls was one made by an excellent authority and which stated that previous figures from the same sources on the exportable surplus of wheat in Argentina would have to be reduced by about 10,000,000 bushels as a result of the drouth. Pri-would have to be reduced by about 10,000,000 bushels as a result of the drouth, Primary receipts in this country were again liberal, arrivals today being 290,000 bushels, compared with 530,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. Export business also was slack, three boatloads being the extent of business reported for the day and this wes probably the low grade. Manitcha or Durum. The market closed weak at declines of $40\%\c, with December at $1.03\%\day{1.03\%}$ and May at $1.04\%\c, Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 1,322,000 bushels.

Ideal weather for the "curing" and marketing of the new crop of corn caused weakness in that market early in the day, initial ouotations being unchanged to $40\%\c, with prices ralled it from the low point, but the market lost most of the gain on realizing brought out by the late slump in wheat. NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—There was no new incident today which acted as a de-termining factor on the movement of prices of stocks, although the operators in the board room and at stock quotation tickers were alert, as usual, in ranging the world for signs of such news. In its absence the market showed the waning influence of were alert, as usual, in ranging the world for signs of such news. In its absence the market showed the waning influence of some of the older factors which have been active for some time past, notably since election. There came into consideration again a Wall street aphorism which says that "prices cannot move in one direction all the time." This aitruism is lost sight of in periods of speculative excitement and the fact of its coming into view is in itself testimony to the subsidence of excitement of the less seasoned kind, such as there was evidence of on the most active days of last week. The decrease of activity in the market is evidence in the same direction. Commission houses report that the volume of orders from clients in scattered localities has fallen off in the last few days. Whether from the fact that existing demand has been filled or the dearness of prices has lessened the attraction of stocks or susplcion has been aroused of an element of manipulation in the market which precludes a possible reaction, the decrease in the buying of stocks is obvious. Some of the commission houses make a point of the existence of buying orders on their books conditioned on a decline from present prices. Last week the bulk of buying orders was "at the market." It is such orders that enable the well informed room traders to cause volatile upshoots in prices by bidding up quotations while the buying orders are being executed. The task of supporting the market grows more difficult when price limits are placed on the buving orders.

The growing difficulty of the task was manifest today with the indifference shown to the striking advances in a number of stocks that have been the most influential leaders of the market sentiment for months past. The rise in Southern Pacific to above 120 established a new record for that stock, and Union Pacific, St. Paul and Northern Pacific sold at the highest prices of the present year. past. The rise in Southern Pacific to above 120 established a new record for that stock, and Union Pacific, St. Paul and Northern Pacific sold at the highest prices of the present year. There were other strong points scattered through the list of securities and embracing some of the lowest grade of stocks on which dividends have never been paid and for which earnings show nothing available for dividends. The awakening of the activity of this class of stocks has had a bad effect on speculative sentiment, as a stirring up of the dregs of the market with the expectation of possibilities in stocks of a more substantial class. Stocks which rose did so in succession and there was no uniform upward movement at any time. The tendency of prices to sag while such influential stocks as those mentioned were advancing was proof of the strain to which the support of the market was being subjected. The feeling of distrust gathered force and issued in the general decline in the latter part of the day. St. Paul was affected by a report of an intended bond issue to be secured by its Pacific coast lines now building and it was on the official denial of these reports that the stock rose to 150. Extive power for the movement in the Harrimans was supplied by reiteration of rumors of a financial plan involving a "melon-cutting," the details of which were vaguely presented. Northern Pacific was bought on the assumption that the deduction from the price tomorrow of the $1.25 extra dividend would make the stock look cheap and would lead to some recovery of the amount of the dividend. With the reactionary tendency of prices established, there grew up discussion of the possibility of some setback in business and industry from the first pace having been too rapid. The fallure of copper to hold its advanced price furnishes a text for such discussion. The professional element has been watching for a reaction based on technical grounds for days and their rush to follow the movement helped materially to extend the reaction late today.

SHEEP—There was a fair run of sheep again today, making the total for the three days 52,000 head, as against 43,000 head for the same time last week. To make another comparison, receipts for the three days this week are more than double what they were for the corresponding period of last year.

The market was again in a very satisfactory condition, prices being fully steady on all kinds, both killers and feeders. As a matter of fact, owing to there being some very choice fat lambs on sale, the top was considerably higher today 36 being paid. There were also old wethers good enough to bring $4.50. Fed yearlings of fair quality sold up to $4.62\%, but there was nothing as good as the $4.90 yearlings of yesterday. The most of the receipts changed hands in fair season in the morning, the general market being in a good, healthy condition. Quotations on sheep and lambs: Good to choice lambs, $5.76\%,00; fair to good lambs, $6.35\%,6.55; feeding lambs, $4.25\%,50; good to choice heavy yearlings, $4.25\%,50; good to choice wees, $3.75\%,4.00; fair to good eves, $3.25\%,2.35; feeding ewes, $2.00\%,2.5; culls and bucks, $2.00\%,2.50.

teel Mills Making Heavy Parchases and Big Demand Develops for Structural Shapes,

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The Iron Age review tomorrow will say: One of the features of interest has been the heavy buying by steels works in Pennsylvania of basic pig iron. The purchases aggregate about 50,000 tons and were made on the basis of $16 delivered for the first quarter and $16.25 for what little iron was bought for the second quarter. Some basic iron has also been taken in the $1. Louis district and large inquiry, including one for 10,000 tons, are under consideration. The leading distributing markets along the lakes at Buffalo, Cleveland and Chicago, report large sales of foundry and malicable irons and now have generally put up their prices for delivery during the first and second quarter, but the new schedules have not yet been seriously tested. Indeed, the impression is spreading among buyers that yet been seriously tested. Indeed, the impression is spreading among buyers that the rise has been somewhat too rapid. Practically all the principal smelters, large and small, have been covering at least minimum requirements and many who entered the market before the election have made further purchases since then. The movement in finished iron and steel is somewhat better in some lines, but on the whole the buying is developing slowly. In the semi-finished lines the interest is increasing.

In the rail trade no transactions of any magnitude are reported, but some large business is pending and is expected to shape up soon. There is lots of structural work in sight. In the Chicago territory there are bids out which call for 77,000 tons of material, while more plans under consideration, which conservatively estimated, involved 100,000 tons.

The Snyder interests of Pittsburg has just awarded the contract for the largest ore boat yet planned. Another interest has ordered the two packet freighters of a lake yard.

Southern castiron pipe makers have advanced their asking prices $1 to $2 per ton. The copper market has quieted down considerably and prices have receded. Electrolytic copper is now selling at 14.25 cents.

Wool Market.

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—WOOL—Although the demand for all grades of wool in the local market continued heavy, there has been a slight failing off in activity. NO BONDS UPON NEW LINE Milwaukee Chairman Denies it is Intention to Issue Paper Against Extension.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 .- Denial was made today by Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, of the companies intention to merge the various companies in South Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington, which are building the St. Paul's extension to the Pacific coast and to issue against this new line and its equipment $100,000,000 bonds. Mr. Miller said:

"There is absolutely no truth in the story. Not only is it not true that the St. Paul road has no intention whatever of issuing any such bonds, but it has no intention of authorizing the issue of any bonds against the line which is being built through to the coast."

That this unbonded mileage of 1,500 miles would be a source of splendid credit to the St. Paul if ever it should wish to According to the company's officials, the new line will be opened and running all the way to Puget Sound for freight business before July 1 next.
