

WHAT CLUB WOMEN ARE DOING

Model Kitchen of Corn Exposition May Reveal Benefits to Clubs.

W. C. T. U. ANNOUNCES OFFICERS

Two More Former Presidents of Nebraska Federation Consent to Serve on State Standing Committee.

The model kitchen section of the National Corn Exposition to be held in Omaha December 9 to 13 should be of special interest to club women of Nebraska and Iowa.

It would be well worth while for the clubs to interest themselves in these appointments, for the young women taking this model kitchen course will have valuable suggestions to take back home.

tend the horse show, which took place there last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Smith will return this week from the east, where they have been visiting for the last five weeks in the principal cities.

Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff of Los Angeles, who has been the guest of Judge and Mrs. W. A. Redick for several weeks, left Saturday evening for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon W. Wattles, who are spending a fortnight at their winter home in Hollywood, near Los Angeles, Cal., are expected home Saturday.

Miss Jeanne Wakefield has returned from a short visit in Lincoln and will leave on Tuesday for Kansas City, where she will remain until after Christmas.

Mrs. Pawling of Milwaukee and Lieutenant Nathan Shiverick of Fort Snodgrass have arrived for the Millard-Morrison wedding, which takes place Tuesday evening.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeM. Hopkins at Port Townsend, Wash., Thursday. Mrs. Hopkins was formerly Miss Gertrude Rutgers Ringwalt of Omaha.

Mrs. E. W. Nash leaves Sunday for New York, where she will spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her daughter, Miss Frances Nash, who has been at Mrs. Somer's school in Washington, D. C.

The many friends of Lieutenant and Mrs. Irwin L. Hunsaker will regret to learn that they expect to leave Omaha shortly to join his regiment now stationed at Leavenworth, Kan. Lieutenant Hunsaker is an aide-de-camp to General Morton.

PENALTY—BE A COP FOR YEAR

Judge Seares Countryman by Threatening to Place Him on Police Force.

The threat to sentence a man to a year's service on the police force as punishment for having discharged a revolver on the street and for having then thought someone else did the shooting, was the novel joke played on Charles Porter, a farm worker, in police court Monday morning.

"Please, judge, I was just fingering the gun in my pocket and forgot it was loaded. The bullet hit the pavement and I thought it had come from a second story window."

"But what if it had hit your brother, who was walking along with you?" asked Judge Crawford, endeavoring to scare Porter from repeating the performance.

"I n-never meant to m-m-murder anybody," stammered Porter with a frightened look on his face. "Please don't give me a heavy sentence or make me stay till you get a jury. I'll go right back home and start shelling corn again."

"Well," replied the judge with a wink of his eye that the frightened farmer did not see, "we have some vacancies on the police force caused by some of our men being killed while on duty. I'll let you off with a year's service filling one of the vacancies."

This stumped Porter, whose real name is said to be Green, but he made one last appeal to the occasional humor-loving judge and officers in the court room, and he finally was told to go and finish his corn shelling, after which he said he would return to serve his sentence, if necessary.

NO VERDICT IN MURDER CASE

Jury in Gus Schmidt Trial Disagrees and Another Hearing is to Be Held.

Unable to agree after being locked up twenty-four hours, the jury in the Gus Schmidt murder case was discharged by Judge Seares at noon Saturday. The jury went out about 11:30 Friday and, according to the statements to the court, had stood seven to five on the question of manslaughter or acquittal from the first. It is understood the majority favored a verdict of guilty of manslaughter.
