

DICKESON MAKES BIG JUMP

Gets Place on Staff of Burlington's Second Vice President.

MAKES RAPID RISE FROM YOUTH

At the Age of Thirty-One He Goes from Position of Assistant Superintendent of Transportation to Higher.

O. L. Dickeson, assistant superintendent of transportation of the Burlington, with headquarters at Omaha, will give up his position December 1 to accept a higher position with the Burlington. He goes to Chicago to become a member of the staff of the second vice president of the Burlington, in charge of operation.

The rise of Mr. Dickeson in the railroad world has been most remarkable. At the age of 27 he has received a position high in the official family. Sixteen years ago as a barefoot boy on a farm in Illinois he watched the Burlington's trains scot by from a fence on his father's farm. Ten years ago he took a position as stenographer in the general offices at Chicago and his four promotions since that time have been rapid. Sixteen years ago as a barefoot boy on a farm in Illinois he watched the Burlington's trains scot by from a fence on his father's farm. Ten years ago he took a position as stenographer in the general offices at Chicago and his four promotions since that time have been rapid.

The work of Mr. Dickeson in assisting the transportation committee in forming the two trade excursions to the northwest was most thoroughly appreciated by the Commercial club, the last excursion being provided with the finest train ever gotten together in the west.

In appreciation of the work Mr. Dickeson has done for Omaha, G. W. Megeath, gave a splendid dinner Saturday night at Harzen's cafe, at which twenty of the leading business men and heavy shippers of Omaha were present.

Banquet Given Him.

Mr. Dickeson's new work will bring him to Omaha, and the west quite frequently, as he will continue in looking after the transportation features of the road, although it is not known just what his title will be. During his brief stay in Omaha Mr. Dickeson has made a host of friends, who will regret to see him leave.

Those attending the dinner given Saturday night by Mr. Megeath were: Frank Walters, general manager of the Northwestern; S. F. Miller, general freight and passenger agent of the Northwestern; F. A. Nash, general western agent of the Milwaukee; G. W. Loomis, assistant to the general manager of the Burlington; C. E. Spens, general freight agent of the Burlington; A. B. Smith, assistant general freight agent of the Burlington; L. C. Nash, superintendent of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company; Edgar Allen, J. A. Kuhn, traffic manager of the Tipkoe Grain company; L. T. Underland, N. E. Updeke, John Totard, Luther Drake, president of the Merchants National bank; F. Richardson, A. M. Jeffrey, George W. Covert, O. L. Dickeson and G. W. Megeath.
