BUILDING IS ON THE SPURT

Permits Issued for Maney Mills and Other Structures.

TWO COST NEARLY HALF MILLION

Addition to St. Joseph Hospital and Also to the Academy of the Sacred Heart Are to Be Constructed.

Permits for the erection of the new Maney mill and elevator were issued Tuesday to the Maney Milling company by City Building Inspector Wignell, and the work of construction of the buildings will begin at once. The mill, which will have a capacity of between 700 and 800 barrels of flour a day, will be one of the largest in the west, and it is believed will make competition with other milling centers more keen.

The Maney mill and elevator will be built on the Great Western tracks, in the vicinity of Twenty-eighth and Gold streets. The mill will be of brick construction, part of it to be five stories high and part two stories high. The dimensions will be 26x33. The building will cost $250,000.

The elevator will cover a ground space of 60x60 and will be 100 feet high. This will be of frame construction and covered with corrugated iron. It will cost $120,000. The Maney Milling company now owns four mills in Oklahoma.

Cost for Both $400,000.
Plans for two buildings to cost $400,000 are now nearing completion and will be ready for contractors to submit bids next week. One of these plans is for the large addition to the St. Joseph hospital on South Tenth street, the addition to be larger than the present structure. It is expected that this will cost about $200,000. The foundation is nearly ready. The other set of plans are for the addition to the Academy of the Sacred Heart. It is expected that this addition will cost about $200,000. Both buildings will be of brick and stone construction.

Other permits were issued on Tuesday for buildings to cost over $50,000, these permits being as follows:

Jens Hansen, Thirty-fourth and Cumings streets, brick quadruple dwelling, $5,000; Otto Simonsen, Thirty-second street and Poppleton avenue, frame dwelling, $4,000; Rinehart Gevats, 3702 Sherman avenue, frame dwelling, $1,000; P. E. Ryner, Thirty-first avenue and Castellar street, frame dwelling, $2,500; J. W. Haines, 1922 South Twenty-ninth street, frame dwelling, $2,500; Carl Johnson, Twenty-fifth and Brown streets, frame dwelling, $2,000; John J. Mersen, 2310 South Fifteenth street, frame dwelling, $2,000.

STATE RESTS LAMPHERE CASE

Judge Will Instruct the Jury This Morning and Arguments Will Begin.

LAPORTE, Ind., Nov. 24.—The evidence is all in and the court's instructions to the jury are prepared and tomorrow the attorneys will make their arguments in the trial of Ray Lamphere for the alleged murder of Mrs. Belle Gunness and her three children. All indications point to the fact that it will be a Thanksgiving verdict, but whether Lamphere will have occasion to give thanks time alone will tell. Today's session of court lasted but two hours.

WYOMING LEADS WOOL STATES

Finally Leads Ahead of Montana in Amount and Value of Product.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Unless all signs fail, Wyoming will again lead all other states and territories in 1908 in the matter of wool production. Last year Wyoming passed Montana, which lead for many years, and became the banner sheep and wool state of the union, although Montana was not entirely shorn of honors, for while Wyoming produced 2,817,000 pounds more wool in the grease, the Montana fleeces aggregated 63,550 pounds more scoured wool. Montana received for her wool $7,640,278, as against $7,211,712 received by Wyoming for her 1907 clip. Montana then, while being second to Wyoming in her production of wool in the grease, retained the total value of the annual clip.

But this season Wyoming has undoubtedly passed Montana in the matter of production of scoured wool, as well as in the clip. The State Board of Sheep Commissioners of Wyoming, which annually conducts a shearing pen inspection, at which accurate figures on the number of sheep shorn, average weight of fleece, etc., are obtained, will shortly issue its annual statement. This will show that during the season of 1908 approximately 4,500,000 sheep were shorn; that the fleeces averaged eight pounds in weight and that the season's clip, in the aggregate, amounted to approximately 28,000,000 pounds. The wool was much heavier in 1908 than in 1907, the fleeces last year averaging 7.5 pounds each, but the shrinkage is the same, 68 per cent.

Wyoming's wool clip for the year 1908, after being scoured, aggregated 12,130,000 pounds, and sold at an average of 49 cents per scoured pound, returning to the Wyoming flockmasters a sum aggregating $5,983,800, or $1,272,973 less than was obtained for 10,760,840 scoured pounds. A heavier tonnage was marketed this year than last, but the greatly reduced prices obtained for the product caused a big loss to the growers, or approximately $1,300,000.

DEATH RECORD.

Anders Jensen.
ST. PAUL, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Anders Jensen died at his farm home midway between here and Dannebrog at the age of 65 years, after suffering for some time with cancer of the stomach. He was born in Denmark and arrived in St. Paul with his family about 1880. After several years' residence in town he located on his present farm. Mr. Jensen became quite a factor in the financial and industrial life of the county, and leaves at his death considerable property. He was the vice-president of the Rockville State bank, and a director of the Rockville State bank, his two sons, Peter and Niels, being the active managers of the first named institution. Besides the widow and two sons, he leaves four daughters. The funeral will be held at the home at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Services will later be held at the Lutheran church in Dannebrog, and the body interred at that place.

Mrs. Artie West.
Mrs. Artie West, for many years a resident of Plattsmouth, Neb., died yesterday at the Edmundson hospital, Council Bluffs. The body was brought to Omaha and will be held at the Bradley & DeRance undertakers rooms until Friday, when it will be taken to Plattsmouth, where the funeral and burial will take place.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hemming.
Mrs. Elizabeth Hemming, 39 years of age, died at her home, 1139 Miami street, Monday. She was the wife of Thomas Hemming. The funeral is to be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at Sacred Heart church, and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery, South Omaha.

Mrs. Amanda M. Moore.
Mrs. Amanda M. Moore, 72 years of age, died Monday afternoon at her home, 1938 Wirt street. Funeral services are to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. Burial will be in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Toif Hanson's Lunch Room

The most attractive, brightest, airiest and most economical lunch room in Omaha.

Porter, Moreland & Co. for freight, he "hadn't done so badly in many cases."

"Did you ever know what your next door neighbor did?"

"I did not except what I could find by careful inquiry, then I tried to beat him. When a manufacturer got a rate from a railroad, the manufacturer made that a basis of cost which resulted in a benefit to the consumer. That was the general rule I worked under."

Adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

Search for Stolen Papers.
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 24.—A rigid investigation was started by County Clerk Salen today to learn, if possible, what became of certain records now wanted by Frank B. Kellogg, who represents the government in the present Standard Oil hearing at New York. These records are said to be missing from the files at the county clerk's office. They related largely to court proceedings in connection with a suit filed by the Standard, asking that the firm of Schofield, Schuyler & Teagle be restrained from violating an agreement to limit production to 50,000 barrels a year. The business of the latter firm was later purchased by the Standard company. Copies of a number of affidavits relative to this case are also missing, it is said.

Late Rain in Dakota.
MITCHELL, S. D., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—A rain visited this section of the state at an early hour this morning and it has lasted all day. It is something out of the ordinary for a rain to come this late in the season in this country and the government records do not show anything like it before. The rain will not have any effect on farm work, for practically all of the corn has been harvested, and there is a very small percentage of the grain remaining unthreshed.

Sioux Falls Poultry Show.
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Preparations have been completed for the annual show of the Sioux Valley Poultry Association, which will be held in the auditorium in this city on December 8 to 9. The association numbers among its members the leading fanners of South Dakota.

See this naughty little sinner catching his Thanksgiving dinner.
