Trade brightened up shortly and buying was good on the early breaks. Our advance was due mainly to prospective lighter receipts and improved cash demand.

Corn advanced with wheat and on light receipts.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Likelihood that recipts of wheat in the northwest will show decided falling off in the near future market strength to the local wheat market today, closing quotations being up to 540% compared with Wedneaday's inal figures. Corn, oats and provisions losed casy.

final figures. Corn, oats and provisions closed easy.

The wheat market opened rather weak on seiling brought out by a moderate decline at Liverpool, prices at the start being a shade to 16% clower than Wednesday's close. Within the first fifteen minutes, however, a firmer tone developed and prices advanced more than 160 above opening prices. The volume of trade during the greater part of the day was small. An additional advance was recorded in the last haif of the session, but all of the gain was not maintained, although the close was strong, with December at $1.08% and May at $1.08% [.08%]. News from the northwest furnished the principal reason for the firmness, although a report of a St. Louis trade journal which claimed that the condition of the fall sown crop of wheat is much below that of a year ago and that the sereage is considerably smaller had some effect. Reports from Mineapolic claimed that receipts of wheat considerably smaller had some effect. Reports from Mineapolic claimed that arrivals at Mineapolis claimed that receipts of wheat it county stations in the interior showed a marked failing off and that arrivals at Minneapolis and Duluth would soon reflect this decreased movement. Fresh news researding the Argentine crop was meager, but one dispatch stated that weather conditions were favorable for harvesting. Demand for a she wheat here was tame, and a most demand was also reported in the southwest. New York reported new export business aggregating seventy-five boat loads, but a large part of this was said to have been bought to hold vessels for cheap winter storage at Buffalo. Clearances of wheat and flour was equal to $35,000 bu, and total exports for the week as shown by Bradstreet's were equal to $1,723,000 bu.

Increased offerings of corn from Hilmeis and Iowa caused weakness in the corn market, but the yolume of trade was small. The market was also bearishly affected by a decline of $400 to in the price of the cash grain. The market closed weak, with prices $400 to $60 to $600.

Oats were dull Prices throughout the cember closed at 62%c and May at 52%0.

Feeders were the first to change hands. Speculators cleaned up what cattle they hand on hand Wednesday and as they were all looking for some little demand today and tomorrow, they were all anxious for a few more good feeders. The result was that the market on that kind of cattle opened early and the demand was good. Pretty much everything changed hands in very good season at steady prices. As a matter of course, trashy cattle were slow and duil.

prices. As a matter of course, trashy cattle were slow and duil.

When packers got to work beef steers of the more desirable kinds sold at prices that did not look materially different from those prevailing Wednesday. Some decent kinds of cornfeds sold up to $4.00, with western as high as $4.75. Inferior stuff that not strike buyers as especially desirable was a little slow and hard to move at easier prices.

The better kinds of cows were about steady, but the less desirable kinds were a little slow and sticky at easier prices.

HOGS—Outside of a few loads sold early this morning to fill an urgent order or two the market was 64710c lower and slow at the decline. The market dragged along throughout the forenoon, although receipts were by no means liberal. Salesmen made were by no means ineral. Salesmen made-a hard fight to maintain the market, but the downward movement in values inaugu-rated Tuesday seemed to be still in force and buyers were able to secure another substantial concession today. The hogs sold largely at $5.45@5.65, with a top at $5.75.
