The only city employed the list was Edward T. Peterson, chief clerk in the city er gineer's office, who is charged with malfeasance in office. The particular offense charged against him is soliciting names for paving petitions in behalf of certain paving contractors. This is alleged to be a violation of the statute prohibiting city employes from accepting pay from contractors with the city. It is understood there was no evidence of fraud brought out, but the grand jurors considered it both a violation of law and bad practice for employes to receive pay from contractors even though the work was done out of office hours and without affecting the work of the employe. Several other city employes, it is understood, were investigated, but nothing dissed which would warrant an indictment.

EYE TROUBLES

Caused by Improper Food.

Most people would never think of conecting eye disease with the food they eat. But when we remember that every part of the body-every organ-is nourished by the blood and the blood is made of the food we eat, it seems reasonable to trace even eye troubles to food. A N. Y. man had an interesting experience at one of the great hospitals in that city that may benefit persons who have chronic eye trouble. He writes: "Four years ago I was stricken with an eye trouble. After being unsuccessfully treated by several physicians and occucharges which had been made the grand | lists, I went to a noted New York hospital. "On examination they pronounced my

TOWN WITH BUSINESS MANAGER Experiment in Municipal Government.

An instructive experiment in municipa administration is under way in Staunton Va., a city of 12,000 inhabitants, where the local authorities have intrusted the job of running the town to a business manager. The city retains the form of political organtzation required by law, and is governed from a legal standpoint by a mayor and city council. These officers, however, have delegated the purely business functions of local administration to the busirese manager, elected by them for a period of one year and directly responsible to them. He is given a free hand in buying city supplies and in making municipal fellers went down to the brook and washed contracts. Every three months he submits a report to the council, as to a board of directors, and his acts are passed upon legislation as is required to authorize his

cally the same as that of the general manager of a large business corporation. Staunton's business manager has been in office since last April. Since that time he has evidently made good, for after having given him a term of one year, the council has re-elected him for another term. He has saved money to the taxpayers, according to his own statement, and given them an economical and efficient service. For one thing, he was able to place contracts for granolithic paving at 71 cents a square yard instead of the $3 the council was paying prior to his appointment. These results are analogous to those accomcipal administration into a purely business proposition is that local government is a political as well as a business affair, and the two things cannot be legally separated. The Virginia town seems to have overcome this difficulty by the simple expedient of employing an officer to conduct the purely business part of local adminstration, while the political functions are retained in the city officials regularly chosen by the people in accordance with the state constitution and laws. It is a

THERE IS NOTHING that strikes terror to the hearts of parents more than to be awakened in the night by the ringing cough which accompanies an attack of croup. The child may retire with nothing but a slight cold and a few hours later the family be aroused by the ominous symptoms. Mr. Homer Krohn, of Lisbon, Iowa, in a letter to the manufac-turers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy praises this medicine for what it has done for his children. He says: "It has not only saved them once but many a time. Only two weeks ago my boy had the croup so bad in the night that had it not been for having a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house he would have choked before a doctor could have gotten to the house. It is a medicine that no one should be without at any time." It is pleasant to take and many children like it.
