FARM LIFE COMMISSION COMES

Secretary Reed Asks All Who Have Rooms to Rent to List Them with Him Before the Crowds Arrive.

The National Horticultural congress will open Monday, December 14, and continue through the week. It is expected to attract thousands of visitors to Council Bluffs, an undoubtedly a large percentage of the visitors to the National Corn exposition in Omaha will cross the river to view the big fruit show in this city.

Some informal discussion was held yesterday afternoon by the directors on the matter of securing a site for the new school building in the eastern part of the city. The board has several sites under consideration, although as yet it has not secured an option on any one of them.

These transfers were reported to the Bee November 25, by the Pottawattamie County Abstract company of Council Bluffs. Edna B. Mitchell to O. J. Mitchell, N. 100 feet of lot 5 in block 11 in Everly, w. d. 100.

INTERESTING POINT IN LAW

Court to Decide Whether Couple is Married or Not.

An interesting and new point was raised in a case which came before Judge Green yesterday afternoon in the district court on an appeal from the court of one of the local justices of the peace. In the suit in question John Olson had garnished the wages of J. C. Chadwell, an employe of the Northwestern railroad, who owed a bill for groceries of about $40. Chadwell claimed quarterly Chadwell could not legally claim to be the head of a family.

REVOLUTION IN TAX SALL

Coming Legislature Likely to Make Radical Changes in Present Law.

Des Moines Sheriff Has Plan Which He Thinks Will Satisfy the Applicants for Deputyships in His Office.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Dec. 1.—(Special.)—Revolution in the method of selling delinquent taxes is threatened by some members of the legislature and it is now practically certain that a bill will be introduced in the Thirty-third general assembly providing for a radical departure from the present system in vogue.

It is quite generally claimed that the manner of selling delinquent taxes now is unfair and there have been strong intimations of corruption in the disposition of valuable parcels.

Under the law as it now stands the county treasurer holds an auction sale on delinquent taxes. The tax is supposed to be sold to the bidder offering to accept the smallest portion of the property as security. It is customary to hear bidders cry one million and even smaller inconceivable amounts. Where the property is valuable there are many bidders.

In Polk county the delinquent tax sale takes on the appearance of a Board of Trade pit during an interesting fluctuation of the market. Fully 100 men, when the auctioneer reads, cry out the highest and wave their hands. They stand on chairs and tables, waving their arms and shouting with all their might. From this hubbub the county treasurer is supposed to pick the man who bid the lowest. It has been customary for him in Polk county to mark down the name of the winner without even announcing the name.

Claims have been made in the past that in the crowds of bidders were men who were buying delinquent taxes for the treasurer himself. Whether it is taken advantage of or not the possibility of false dealing is present. The system is, to say the least, open to serious question.

There is considerable talk of amending the law so as to have the sale awarded to the bidder who agrees to pay the tax for the lowest amount of interest. This would make the bidding of advantage to the person who has been unable to pay taxes and would bring down the interest on delinquent taxes to the lowest amount. As the law stands the bidding means nothing to either the county or the delinquent taxpayer. It is probable this movement will have the support of the tax commission, which will urge several reforms before the general assembly.

Senator Cummins Draws Notice.

Senator Cummins, accompanied by his wife, and his private secretary, John Blair, will leave Des Moines for Washington Wednesday evening.

Fight for Standard.

Attorney James M. Parsons, who appears for the Standard Oil company in the criminal case brought against it in the Rockwell City courts, declares that he will fight the revision of the postal laws, if it is unconstitutional. Moreover, he is of the opinion that the indictment was brought in the wrong county, which gives him another basis for striking a few blows on behalf of John D.

The Standard Oil company was indicted on December 10, 1907, on the charge of selling oil for less at Alton, where it has a clear field, than at Doon, where it has a clear field. Mr. Parsons was retained to defend the octopus and went to Rockwell City, where arrangements were made for trial at the next term of court.

The Soldiers' Roster.

The state has received one volume of the compilation of Iowa soldiers in the civil war. It is the size of an extra large law book. Indications are there will be four such volumes. This roster of old soldiers is being compiled and printed in accordance with an act passed by the general assembly two years ago.

Nebraska Started

Omaha's Car Load of Help for Gray, Thin Haired and Bald Headed

Myers-Dillon Drug Co. Receive Big Consignment of Dr. Nott's Famous Hair-Culture Formulas and Give Fifty Bottles FREE on Thursday.

NEBRASKA is in the thick of one of the most remarkable campaigns ever mapped out for the happiness of gray, bald and thin-haired mortals. Down at Memphis two remarkable hair-culture formulas gained for Dr. Nott a reputation that has gone far beyond the boundaries of his own Tennessee. The demand for these tried remedies has become national. The presentation of pictorial evidence is here made, which shows the carload lot of Dr. Nott's Q-Ban Hair Restorer and Dr. Nott's Hair Tonic, which was consigned by the wide-awake and thoroughly reliable Southern house—the Hessig-Ellis Drug Co., of Memphis—to Myers-Dillon Drug Co., of Omaha.

There are a lot of people in this world who have taken the Osler theory to heart. To some of them gray hair is more than a bugbear. It is looked upon as a business handicap.

Omaha's gray-haired people—those who are carrying around premature evidences of age, as well as those with old, thin, faded hair—are intensely interested in this Dr. Nott proposition to restore to all gray hair the color of youth. The positive declaration is made that three bottles of Q-Ban Hair Restorer will bring about this much-coveted result. In case of failure, the guarantee given covers return of the entire cost of the treatment. Not only this, but to the first fifty people who call at the store of Myers-Dillon Drug Co., at S. E. Cor. 16th and Farnam streets, on Thursday, December 3rd, a full sized bottle of Dr. Nott's Q-Ban Hair Restorer will be given free.

This big shipment of Restorer and Tonic is evidence of faith in the Dr. Nott preparations. The fact that 90 per cent of the cases of baldness are benefited by the use of the Dr. Nott remedies is one reason why Omaha is interested in this novel hair-culture campaign. Women whose hair shows signs of thinning out are invited to do a little investigating of their own and learn how many of their sisters have been benefited by the tonic treatment indorsed by Dr. Nott.

mission, on country life, which is in San Francisco. The commissioners will go to Nevada and from there to Oregon and Washington and return to Washington, D. C., by December 19, to make its report. "President Roosevelt," said Mr. Wallace, "will send a special message to congress urging legislation along the lines demanded by the farmers."

OFFICES TO BE ABOLISHED

Postmaster Generals to Be Dispersed if Revision Bill of Postal Laws Passes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The four offices of Assistant Postmaster General will be abolished, a Director of Posts with seven assistants provided for, and the entire postal service of the United States divided into fifteen separate districts, if the bill for the revision of the postal laws, which is being prepared by the joint postal investigation commission of congress, appointed two years ago, is passed by congress. The commission has been in session for the past week, and is holding daily meetings, expecting to complete the work this week.

HARRIMAN MAKES PERT SPEECH

Tells New York Audience He Has Been Persuaded, but Seem to Be Getting Slim.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—An impromptu speech of a breezy nature by E. H. Harriman in which the railroad man took exception to statements that had been made by preceding speakers of the evening and pointedly referred to what he declared was the fulfillment of a prediction he had made to the president of the United States three years ago, was the feature of the "prosperity dinner" of the Economic club at the Hotel Astor tonight. Mr. Harriman made a late entry into the speaker's pulpit, responding to the invitation of the toastmaster after getting pretty slim. I don't intend to do anything to renew it. I wish that I were able to say, free to say what I would like to you; but I am not yet freed from a situation that prevents my speaking my mind to you fully.

"Some things that have been said here tonight are not right and some day you'll know they are not right. Surely you'll know it. I've tried to do things satisfactorily in a lasting way and to give right transportation. I have had many confabs with representatives of the government and the president in the same day as that on which they had proposed was not right. I told the president of the United States three years ago that in passing the present Interstate commerce act without changing the Sherman act he was inviting a great deal of trouble. Now he will probably recommend—at least I think he will recommend—the very thing which I suggested.

"There are two things that menace the prosperity of the country—idle money and

Which had Spread Over Face, Body and Arms—Swellings were as Large as a Dollar—When they Broke, Sores would Not Heal—Suffered 3 Years.

MADE SOUND AND WELL BY 3 SETS OF CUTICURA

"My trouble began about three years ago with little black swellings scattered over my face and neck. They would disappear but they would leave little black scars that would not heal so I couldn't keep from scratching them. Larger swellings would appear in the same places and they were so painful I could hardly get on my feet. My clothes would stick to the sores. The first doctor I went to said the disease was scrofula, but it would not go away and spread. By this time it was all over my arms and the upper part of my body in big
