SUIT CLOSES GRAIN FIRM

Action for $10,000 Finishes Boyce Commission's Affairs.

NOTICE POSTED TO THIS EFFECT

William Moncrelf, Who Brings the Case in Court, is Condemned by Bucket Shop Men as "Poor Loser."

The Boyce Commision company, a business firm not affiliated with the Omaha Grain exchange, posted this notice on its blackboard Thursday morning:

The funds of the Boyce Commission company having been attached in a suit, the company will go out of business. Close out your deals and get your money.

Later in the day, J. A. Boyce who has been conducting the business ordered the erasure of all the notice except the injunction to step up to the cashier's window.

The suit referred to is that brought for $10,000 by William Moncrelf who claims to have lost that sum through speculation in grain with Boyce.

"Our quitting business is entirely voluntary," Mr. Boyce insisted. "I am tired of fighting these trumped-up suits, though I have beaten 'em all. I've got another proposition on, which is better anyway and besides that is without the grief and worry pertaining to this business.

"We are going to close the doors tonight. So I have published a notice to customers to close out and get their money. Now don't say anything about the suit. Just say the Boyce Commission company has quit."

Has Made Much Money.

Boyce has been in and out of the commission busines for several years in Omaha and has, it is said, made a good deal of money though occasionally he has had to make entries on the debit as well as the credit side of the ledger. His last venture which the Moncrelf suit brings to an end has been conducted in offices on the first floor of the New York Life building.

Members of the Omaha Grain exchange were loath to talk about the Boyce Commission company and the termination of its business career. Men operating another company on the sixth floor of the Brandeis building, and also not affiliated with the Grain exchange were loud in their condemnation of Moncrelf for bringing the suit.

"He must be a poor loser," they said.

GRAIN SHOWING IS GOOD

Receipts and Shipments of Grain Exchange Reveal Gain Over November Last Year.

Both receipts and shipments of the Omaha Grain exchange for the month of November show a gain over the same month last year. The increase in receipts of wheat in particular is large. Corn shows an increase, but a less one, and oats are way ahead. The official figures follow:

RECEIPTS.

	Nov. 1907.	Nov. 1908.
Wheat	658,800	1,726,800
Corn	302,500	311,500
Oats	497,600	988,800
Rye	15,000	34,000
Barley	58,000	71,000
Totals	1,531,900	3,131,900

SHIPMENTS.

	Nov. 1907.	Nov. 1908.
Wheat	1,185,000	1,350,000
Corn	467,000	129,000
Oats	1,002,000	1,261,000
Rye	13,000	9,000
Barley	22,000	23,000
Totals	2,689,000	2,772,500

Mrs. McRaney's Experience.

Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble and was treated by two physicians, but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me." Sold by all druggists.

SULLIVAN FIXES UP OFFICE

Former Judge of the Supreme Court and James Rail Unite Their Fortunes.

The information which The Bee published Wednesday to the effect that Judge J. J. Sullivan would move from Grand Island to Omaha and begin the practice of law here is verified Thursday by the purchase by Judge Sullivan of his office fixtures. He and James E. Rail, formerly of the Union Pacific law department, have formed a copartnership and will have their place of business in the New York Life building.

Now that Judge Sullivan has resigned from the supreme bench, he will buy a home in Omaha.
