MEMORIAL FOR CLEVELAND

Tribute Paid Late President by Life Insurance Men.

LETTERS FROM PROMINENT MEN
Paul Morton, John Finley and Others Honor Memory of the Former Executive—Letters from Smith and Herbert.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Notable exercises in memory of the late Grover Cleveland, ex-president of the United States, were planned to constitute the opening session, in this city today, of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, of which he had been chairman during the year and a half between the time of its organization and his death.

The program, which was brief, included addresses by President Paul Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance society, and Dr. John H. Finley, president of the College of the City of New York, and the reading of letters which had been received from former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson and Governor Hoke Smith and Hillary A. Herbert, members of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet. This meeting had been looked forward to as an interesting forerunner of the general memorial meeting for Mr. Cleveland to be held in this city on March 13 of next year.

For the afternoon session a taxation conference was planned, with addresses by Robert Lynn Cox, general counsel and manager of the association, on "Objects of the Conference and Necessity of Co-operation"; Prof. Lester W. Zartman of Yale university, on "Necessity for Reform of Life Insurance Taxation"; President John F. Dryden of the Prudential Insurance company on "Taxation of Life Inurance in the United States"; Robert H. Whitten on "Need of Improved Legislative Methods," and "A Message from the South and West," by Samuel B. Smith, president of the American Life convention.

The morning meeting was called to order by Robert Lynn Cox and President Charles A. Peabody of the Mutual Life Insurance company acted as chairman. Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, in the opening address spoke of Mr. Cleveland in a personal way and of his connection with the life insurance business.

John Finley, president of the College of the City of New York, spoke of the splendid example of the late President Cleveland in his public and private career.

Letters of tribute to the late president by surviving members of his cabinet were read, among them one from Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia.

A letter was sent by Hillary A. Herbert, secretary of the navy under Grover Cleveland.

Adlai E. Stevenson sent a letter highly complimentary of the dead president.

Cleveland's Kindness.
Judson Harmon, governor-elect of Ohio, who was attorney general in Cleveland's cabinet, forwarded a note in which he dwelt on the kindness and courtesy which Mr. Cleveland exercised in his relations with his official family. Ex-Governor Francis of Missouri, who held the post of secretary of the interior under President Cleveland, sent a telegram expressing his affectionate regard for his former official chief.

Among the men prominent in insurance activities in various parts of the country who were present were J. D. Button, insurance commissioner of the state of Virginia; Dr. Marshall, insurance commissioner of Delaware; T. E. Drake, insurance supervisor for the District of Columbia; John K. Gere, president of the Accurial Insurance Society of America, and B. F. Krause, president of the convention of insurance commissioners. The west-was represented by Mrs. L. C. Rawson of Des Moines, vice president of the Des Moines Life Insurance company.

After the memorial exercises the association re-elected Robert Lynn Cox general counsel for the coming year and the following as members of the executive commission: T. A. Buckner, vice president of the National Life Insurance company; S. G. Dunham, president of the Travelers Insurance company of Hartford; Haley Fiecke, vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company of Philadelphia; George E. Ide, president of the Home Life Insurance company; Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, and Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company.

STATE PRACTICES ECONOMY

ings here and it is impossible to have more cells in the present structure. The sewerage system is not large enough to permit of an increase in the cell room. The present buildings accommodate about 300 people. After the flood in Lincoln last summer, the city fathers decided to reconstruct the buildings in sanitary condition.

"It is reported that the government intends to abandon the Genoa Indian school. If that report is true the state, it seems to me, could easily acquire that property, which, I understand, includes quite a tract of land. It is a very desirable tract situated around it and the young prisoners could be transferred there and taught farm work.

"These young men, while bright and fairly educated, do not know how to work or make a living. It is practically impossible for the young of today to learn a trade. If he works in a shoe factory he becomes expert in making a certain part of the shoe, but never makes a whole one. If he works in a harness factory he becomes expert in making certain pieces, but never makes a full set of harness. Put these young men on a farm, teach them to work, give them the right system, and they have served their time, they will be able to compete for a living with any one."

More Room Needed.
State Land Commissioner H. M. Eaton will recommend in his biennial report that, owing to the crowded condition of the state capitol building the legislature must either abolish some of the new departments it has created or fit up the basement for office rooms, or move the state library and the department of justice to the proposed historical building across the street from the capitol grounds.

The latter can be done if the legislature makes an appropriation for a historical building large enough to accommodate both the society and the department which hit is proposed to house in the building.

Commissioner Eaton and State Treasurer Brian will jointly recommend that all cash funds of state institutions be deposited in the state treasury and that the system be devised whereby the superintendent of a state institution may, after a permit to purchase has been allowed by the Board of Public Lands and Buildings, issue a check which will serve as a voucher upon which the cash fund may be drawn by warrant on the state treasury.

Two years ago the legislature required all cash funds to be deposited in the state treasury, with the exception of $20 to remain in the hands of the superintendent of each institution. This system is not satisfactory to these two state officers.

Commissioner Eaton and the treasurer proposed that the electric wiring at the state capitol be finished at a cost not to exceed $5,500, including fixtures. Power for light may now be furnished from the penitentiary and the state has already expended $1,500 or $1,500 in partially wiring the capitol building.

The legislature will be asked to appropriate $2,000 to pay a deficiency created at the Girls' Industrial school at Geneva by the cyclone, which almost totally destroyed the laundry and boiler rooms.

For reimbursing Boyd county leases of state school lands whose leases were declared void by the supreme court the legislature will be asked to appropriate $252.

Mr. Eaton proposes that the commissioner of public lands and buildings, or some other officer, be authorized to receive funds and pay the same to the state treasurer for lots condemned by the Burlington railroad in its yards in Lincoln. The railway company has used the lots for fifteen years, but owing to a change in the statutes neither the county nor state treasurer cares to accept payment for them.

Fight for Speakership.

With Pool of Johnson county ripping up the prairies searching for members of the next house who are favorable to his candidacy for speaker; Henry Gerdes of Richardson keeping a discreet silence, though with his hands on the throttle of a good political machine; Taylor of Custer referring to his past services, and Henry of Holt standing on his record and urging recognition at the hands of the faithful, the speakership fight is taking on tangible shape.

Both sides claim the election, always the story that he is the special pride of the corporations in this scrap and that they are for him. Gerdes of Richardson has a large following among the farmers, and if the farmers organize the house Gerdes will stand a good show to be the man.

Laidigh, it is said by his friends, does not want the job and will not take it or go after it. It was published that Mr. Bryan choose Laidigh for the place, but the Nebraska City man does not want to serve.

HAPPY NOW

Family of Twelve Drink Postum.

"It certainly has been a blessing in our home," writes a young lady in regard to Postum.

"I am one of a family of twelve, who, before using Postum, would make a healthy person uncomfortable by their complaining of headache, dizziness, sour stomach, etc., from drinking coffee. For years Mother suffered from palpitation of the heart, sick headache and bad stomach and at times would be taken violently ill until about a year ago she quit coffee and began Postum.

"My brother was troubled with headache and dizziness all the time he drank coffee. All those troubles of my mother and brother have disappeared since Postum has taken the place of coffee.

"One of my brothers declared he would stick to coffee if it killed him, which we thought it was doing. One day we ran out of coffee and being a mile from town we gave him Postum without saying what it was.

"My Oh!"—he said, "the coffee is the best today I have ever tasted."

"A sister was ill nearly all her life with headache and heart trouble, and about all she cared for was coffee and tea. The doctors told her she must leave them alone, as medicine did her no permanent good.

"She thought nothing would take the place of coffee until we induced her to try Postum. Now her troubles are all gone and she is a happy little woman enjoying life as people should.

"I think everyone who makes Postum according to directions on the package will find it a success."

"There a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co. Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Well-Ville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

the house various parties have made inquiries regarding the whereabouts of Henry Richmond, who was mentioned for the place in opposition to Tremore Cox, who seems to have it nailed down. Richmond is leaving no trail over the state and has made practically no campaign. He has been visiting relatives down in Texas. That's what Mayor Jim did just before he was elected on the race for the gubernatorial contest. But Richmond's friends say he would not take advice in the matter.

Thomas Darnell has given out a statement that the county option advocates control the legislature, while Bob Pink, the Personal Rights man says there will be but seventeen men in the house pledged to county option. Both sides claim the senate, making it another case of both sides winning in a contest.

There has been no talk of the organization of a fifth senate, because that is said to be under the control of those people who train with the special interests and for that reason it will be organized not along public sentiment lines, but along the lines laid out by the favor seeking corporations.

Pure Food Prosecution.

On complaint of Anderson & McNaughton, merchants at Auburn, the food commissioner has forwarded papers and requested County Attorney English of Douglas county to bring prosecution against Paxton & Gallagher of Omaha for violation of the branding clause in section 8 of the pure food law. The complaint of Anderson & McNaughton sets forth that a box of five marked 4 contain fifty pounds contained only forty-four pounds and ten ounces, being short weight over 10 per cent.

In letters to the Auburn firm Paxton & Gallagher say this discrepancy in weight is due to the fact that fish are sold in whole packages with an allowance of 10 per cent for tare in favor of the wholesale house.

The food commissioner holds that the requirement to correctly label food packages with the amount of the contents applies to the wholesale package as well as to the retail package and has advised all retail dealers whose complaints have been made of short weight in the wholesale package that such cases will be promptly referred to county attorneys for prosecution against the wholesaler whenever evidence by way of affidavit is furnished setting forth the facts in the case.

Insurance Company Withdraws.

The Mutual Surety company of New York has notified Insurance Deputy Pierce that it has withdrawn from the state and has so informed its agents. The company was admitted to do business in Nebraska in 1906 and has been doing business here since. While no explanation of its withdrawal was given it is supposed by the insurance department that its Nebraska business did not justify it taking out a license for the coming year.

Clean Sweep in One Office.
E. B. Cowles, land commissioner-elect, was in the state house this afternoon and was introduced to a number of the officers by Judge Letton, the two having come from Fairbury.

"I will have all my office force named by the time the pay starts," said Mr. Cowles. "I have come to the conclusion that I will have to run the office without any assistance from anyone now employed in the office."

Burglary Charge to Face.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Dec. 3.—(Special.)—The sheriff of Maryville, Mo., and Sheriff H. U. Miner of this city went out to Crab Orchard yesterday and arrested a young fellow named Thomas Beasley. It is said Beasley is wanted on a charge of burglary in the Missouri town. The family formerly lived near Crab Orchard and bore a good reputation and the friends of the young man are greatly surprised at his predicament. He was working for Latimer Penkard when apprehended and accompanied the officers without resistance.

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 4.—The general school building, temporarily occupied by the Idaho State School for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, was partly destroyed by fire early today. Forty children were being marched to breakfast when the alarm was given and they were taken out of the building in perfect order. The fire is thought to have originated from defective fuses.
