

SPREE ENDS WITH SUICIDE

"Guy" Harrington, Son of Millionaire, Finishes Orgy in Death.

TAKES HIS LIFE WITH MORPHINE

Young Man Kills Himself at Merchants Hotel and is Found in His Room by One of the Employees.

H. R. Harrington, 28 years of age, committed suicide at the Merchant's hotel last night by taking almost the entire contents of a one-eighth ounce bottle of morphine.

"Guy" Harrington, as he was known among his friends, had been around Omaha for some time. His father is reputed to be a millionaire and is thought to be living in California at the present time, although his address could not be definitely ascertained last night. Young Harrington also has friends in Gretna, Neb., and one of these, M. Le Rue, took him to the hotel Thursday night as he had been on a protracted spree. As he went to his room he remarked that he intended to take his life, but as he had made this threat many times before when drinking no attention was paid to the threat.

About 9:30 o'clock last night an employee of the hotel entered his room and found Harrington lying face downward on the bed. He was still alive and Dr. S. N. Hoyt was at once called. Upon his arrival he found the man in the last stages of morphine poisoning and it was impossible to rouse him. He died at 10:10 o'clock.

Coroner Heafey was notified and took charge of the body. Nothing was found in his clothing but a few cents in money and some old letters which contained no reference to any thought of suicide.

Harrington had been married and his wife lived for a time in Omaha, leaving here about two years ago when she applied for and secured a divorce. He was not engaged in business and was supported by a monthly allowance from his father.

Coroner Heafey is making an investigation of the case, although the cause of death is apparent. Dr. Dunn, the coroner's physician, performed an autopsy on the body to discover the exact condition of the stomach. His report of the examination will be a part of the inquest, which will be held Monday at 2 o'clock.

Harrington's father has been notified of his son's death by relatives in Chicago, who were telegraphed Saturday morning of the occurrence.

LEG BROKEN BY A RUNAWAY

Horses Collide with Wagons, Throw ing Joe Wazenberg to the Pavement.

A team of horses attached to a buggy which contained Ed Phelan, 220 North Forty-fifth street, and Ed Burk of South Omaha, ran away yesterday afternoon on Douglas street and dashed into an express wagon driven by Joe Wazenberg, with the result that the latter is now in the Omaha General hospital with a broken thigh.

Phelan and Burk, who are railroad contractors, were driving a livery team. As they approached Fourteenth and Douglas, where the street car company has been throwing water on the newly constructed tracks, one of the horses fell, breaking the neckyoke and other parts of the harness. Burk jumped out in an attempt to get the bridles, but the horses ran toward Fifteenth, where they freed themselves from the buggy, which just grazed the large glass showcase on the corner in front of the Berg Clothing company.

The horses continued west on Douglas until they ran into the wagon driven by Wazenberg. He was thrown to the pavement and his leg broken.

He was removed to the office of Police Surgeon Harris and afterward taken to the hospital. Neither Phelan nor Burk was hurt.

AMATEURS IN FOUR SKETCHES

Miss Fitch's Pupils Give an Informal Evening of Comedy at the Lyric.

An informal evening of dramatic sketches was given by the pupils of the Boyd School of Acting at the Lyric theater last night, four one-act comedies being offered. The best of these was "How He Lied to His Husband," a satirical reply by George Bernard Shaw to his own play of "Caecilia." This was very well done. Miss Robinson and Mr. Forman being especially good and Mr. Buckingham showing very finely. Miss Hobson had an apparent bent for light comedy and, by her natural manner and charming smile proved her talent. The other plays were also well presented, and the young folks taking part showed considerable capacity for acting. Miss Beverly, who was in the first of the sketches, is a very graceful and confident young woman, and, if all her work is done as well as that of last night, will be heard from. Miss Fitch and her pupils are worthy the applause they received last night from a gathering that filled the cozy little playhouse. The plays and the players were:

"FRANK GLYNN'S WIFE."
