PAWNEE BILL JOINS CODY

"I Want My Show to Live After Me," Says Buffalo Bill.

William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," is a guest at the Paxton hotel. He arrived in Omaha from New York Tuesday morning, enroute to his home in Cody, Wyo. He stopped off to take in the corn show. His son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Garlow of North Platte, met him in Omaha.

Mr. Cody has just completed an arrangement whereby he will take in Major Gordon Lilly, as a partner in his show business next season. Mr. Lilly is known in the show world as "Pawnee Bill," and the two shows will be merged into one.

"My principal object in doing this," said Mr. Cody, "is that I want to get some younger blood associated with my show. I don't want the show to pass out of existence when I do. I want to perpetuate it for the next generation, so it may know something of what frontier life was."

Mr. Cody says his show has traveled 10,000 miles the past season and given 126 performances without missing one.

Colonel Cody will leave Wednesday night for the city, where the town has prepared a "rilliant" reception for the founder of the town. During all his trips in this country and in foreign lands Colonel Cody has had his heart set on making Cody one of the finest western towns and eventually to make it the main entrance to Yellowstone National park. To that end he has built fine stage lines to the park from Cody and has several splendid mountain resorts along the route.

When Colonel Cody leaves Omaha he will be accompanied by T. J. Foley, and together they will make one of their famous runs in the mountains for big game.

USE OF THE SEPARATE SCARF

It is Better Understood by American Women than it Was Formerly.

The use of the separate scarf is better understood by American women than it was formerly. The scarf is a simple accessory, one which is handled in connection with frocks, for which their coloring furnishes a relieving note. Often the success of the toilet actually rests with some vivid note of color introduced in a filmy scarf. Certain vivid rose shades are particularly popular for the scarf.

The Directors scarf, brought around from the back and knotted low in front or at one side on the skirt, is less used upon smart models than at the beginning of the season, because the idea was so easily caught up by manufacturers and exploited in the cheapest of models; but girdles with long ends falling at side or front or back are still numerous.

Considerable is being done with fringes, by the Paris makers, but though they certainly lend themselves gracefully to the prevailing lines and draperies American women do not habitually mistreat them. Some boldness note with borders formed by several rows of two inch crystal fringe applied in festoon lines makes up charmingly for evening.

To Wax Furniture.

In waxing it is of great importance to make the coating as thin as possible in order that the veins of the wood may be distinctly seen. The following preparation is the best for performing this operation: Put two ounces each of white and yellow wax over a moderate fire in a clean vessel, and when it is melted add four ounces of best spirits of turpentine. Stir the whole until entirely cool and you have a pomade fit for waxing furniture, which must be rubbed over with a fine brush. The oil soon penetrates the pores of the wood brings out the color of it, causes the wax to adhere better, and produces a luster equal to that of varnish without being subject to any of its inconveniences. The polish may be renewed at any time by rubbing with a piece of fine cork.

Christmas Gift Cakes.

When one wishes to give a little present an acceptable one is a Christmas cake suitably decorated. For a Christmas gift they should be baked in deep round pans six inches in diameter. Invert on a paper plate, frost top and sides, and before frosting acts decorate the top with a wreath of imitation holly. Cut the stems and leaves from candied citron and use littoround red candies for the berries. A wreath of genuine holly may encircle the sides. For a birthday, name and date can be formed with the candies, encircled with a wreath of rose leaves cut from the citron.

LACK OF HELP DUE TO STORK

Old Fellow Loafs and Farmers Run Short on Labor.

THAT'S ANSWER, SAYS WALLACE

Country Life Commission Arrives Early for Corn Exposition and is Entertained by C. C. Rosewater at Lunch.

"Is the amount of farm labor in your neighborhood satisfactory? (Answer.) No, because the stork is loafing.

"That is an answer to one of our questions," said "Uncle" Henry G. Wallace of Des Moines, editor of Wallace's Farmer and member of the Country Life commission in an interview at the Home Wednesday. He seconds the motion of President Roosevelt that people turn away from the "crime" of race-suicide and look to higher life.

The commission is in Omaha to attend the National Corn exposition and to hold several conferences. Dean Bailey of Cornell university and Dr. Charles W. Stiles, the marine hospital expert of the commission, did not arrive until afternoon. Those who came from Denver at 7 a. m. included Mr. Wallace, President Kenyon L. Butterfield of the Massachusetts College of Agriculture, C. J. Blanchard, United States statistician of Washington, E. F. Allen, executive secretary and J. A. Rosenstenger, Gifford Pinchot, United States Forester and C. S. Barrett, two other members of the commission, will not be here, for they are holding conference in the south.

The luncheon for the party. The party was entertained by C. C. Rosewater, chairman of the executive committee of the National Corn exposition, at a luncheon at Hanson's cafe at 12:30 with officers of the exposition.

"The commission has been holding some good meetings," said Mr. Wallace. "We have not wished for large audiences, for we are not out making speeches, but gathering information. We don't want speeches made to us, either." In Denver Tuesday, several big farmers and ranchmen and orchardists attended our conference and attempted to do some spread-eagle flights extolling Colorado. When we had finally shut them off and heard from some of the real farmers, particularly those from the dry-farming districts, we heard a different tale and a plausible one, too.

"I want to say here that people should not try this dry-farming proposition on us than a half section. A section is better and two sections better than one. Also a man must have capital enough to last several seasons.

Work and Object.

"The work and object of the commission is not yet well understood, but I think when the time comes it will be found that this work will result in a new chapter and a most important one being written in the economic and social history of the United States."

Mr. Wallace had a photographic copy of one set of answers to the commission's questions. The writer sent it to President Roosevelt who was so amused that he ordered the reproduction.

"Are the conditions surrounding hired labor satisfactory?" asked the commission.

"Yes," was the answer, "unless he is a drunken cuss."

"What suggestions would you make for his betterment?"

"Blow up the still houses,"

"Like every other answer, this man, an Illinois farmer named Spees, said that the most important thing to do for the farmer was to improve the roads."

Butterfield Hastes East.

President Butterfield will not go to St. Paul Thursday with the rest of the commission. He has been away from his college five weeks, and would have hurried back to see how the young Back Bay die is learning to raise potatoes in Boston Common. He was as much interested in the neat chancellor of the University of Nebraska as any other subject and paid a high compliment to E. Benjamin Andrews, C. L. Blanchard, stationer of the commission, is well known locally, for he was for years connected with the Council Bluffs Nonpartisan.

Dr. Stiles, who came in with the head of the commission, is famous as the discoverer of the hookworm which makes southerners laxy. He is investigating sanitary conditions in particular.

Dean Liberty Bailey is one of the most famous men in agricultural education today. He is one of the best known men on the Cornell campus and never had a real rival there except "Boss" Ida Wheeler, now president of the University of California.

The commission besides attending the Corn exposition held a conference at the Home at 3 p. m. and another is scheduled for Thursday morning.

DR. G. W. CLUTTER FOUND DEAD

Physician Dies in His Chair from Inhaling Gas.

CASE SUPPOSED TO BE SUICIDE

Body Discovered by Another Tenant of the Bushman Block, Who is Attracted by the Odor of Gas.

Dr. G. W. Clutter, a dentist about 60 years old, who had offices in room 12 of the Bushman block, northeast corner of Sixteenth and Douglas streets, was found dead from asphyxiation in his laboratory at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

It is thought he committed suicide, although the police think barely possible there may have been other causes for his death.

Going to his office about 8 o'clock in the morning, P. S. Minner, manager of the Central Electric company, smelled gas strongly and tried to locate the source, but not until 10:30 o'clock was the body of the dentist found reclining comfortably in a rocking chair in his laboratory. Entrance was gained to the place by Mr. Minner, who found the body, by using a long ladder and entering a window of Dr. Clutter's office from Sixteenth street.

A rubber hose, such as is used to connect small gas stoves with gas jets, was found running from a jet in the wall to within a hands reach of the body of the dead man and it is thought, he entered his office late Tuesday night, turned off all gas and electric lights after arranging his mode of death and then sat down quietly to await death.

He was last seen about 10 o'clock Tuesday night in a saloon near his office building by friends and by Madam Buddha, a palmist, who has an office in the Bushman block, at about the same hour.

Minner Gives the Alarm.

As soon as the body was found by Mr. Minner Wednesday morning, the police station and Coroner Heafey were notified. The latter took charge of the body after Detective Steve Maloney had made an investigation of the premises. Other witnesses of the result of the tragedy were Agent J. F. Miles of the building, John F. Frann, a painter, living at 458 Leavenworth street, H. M. Buddha, and Detective Maloney.

Charles C. Clutter, only son of the dentist, is thought to have been the cause of the doctor's worrying. The son was arrested after the discovery of the body and taken to the police station in a drunken stupor, too drunk to realize that his father was dead. He is now held in the case, drunkenness being the only charge against him.

Mrs. Clutter, the widow, is visiting friends in Texas, where she has been for some time. It is said that the financial affairs of Dr. Clutter were also not in the best of shape and this is assigned as another possible cause of the tragedy.

Rumors about the building where he had his office, to the effect that a man visited him late Tuesday night, are thought to be without foundation, or at least, to have nothing to do with the dentist's death. Six-Sergeant Debut of the police force is a cousin of the dead man. No other relatives are now known to the authorities.

A Straight Nose for $25

FROM NOW UNTIL CLOSE OF THE CORN SHOW. AFTER THE CORN SHOW $35 TO $100.

For a very small amount of money any person with an ugly nose can have it made straight.

The method of correcting odd-looking noses is so simple no one can tell how it is done.

No need to stay away from the office. You can even go home directly after the work is done and your family cannot tell how the change was made.

Dr. Clement Co. can fill out hollow cheeks, remove lines of dissipation or build up a weak chin as easily as a dentist fills a tooth.

They lift up the sagging cheeks of those "real old-looking ladies" without their husbands knowing how they so suddenly became good-looking. These operations they guarantee and do it without bad after effect.

Dr. Clement Co. will gladly give advice on how any face can be improved. Call or write.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.
