BASE BALL MAGNATES BUSY

National Commission Postpones Action on Bolters' Demands.

AMERICAN LEAGUE BEGINS WORK

Limit of Drafting Period to Fifteen Days is Approved and Rule is Now Effective-Limit to Passes.

New York, Dec. 16—With meetings of the National commission and of the National and American Base Ball leagues in session, yesterday was one of hard work for the men active in the management in the game. With one exception, however, the day's developments were of little material importance. This was the postponement of a decision on what is undoubtedly the weightlest matter before the base ball leagues in the weightlest matter before the base ball leagues in the weightlest matter before the base ball leagues in the management of a decision on what is undoubtedly the weightlest matter before the base ball leagues in the men active in the management of a decision on what is undoubtedly the weightlest matter before the base ball leagues in the men active in the management of a decision on the league and American association for his high selection and greater privileges were laid over for consideration at its annual meeting at Cincinnati on January 1. This was decided on in order to alliow the minor league and price is not to ballowed to fall by the wayside for want of agreements. That the duar plea is not to be allowed to fall by the wayside for want of agreements opining, however, was indicated by the continuation of the efforts of its proponents to bring the men lagin in bases ball councils to their way of thinking. The meeting approved the report of the board of directors and the secretary treasurer's report, and accepted the drafting clause favorably received by the National league, which limits the drafting period for major leagues to September 1 to September 15. The rule will be in force from now on.

At the National league meeting action was taken upon some of the recommendations made in President Pulliam's annual report. All the clubs were represented except New York. A resolution of regret on the death of Avery Chadwick, "the father of American base ball," was passed. The time limit for return of players to clubs on walver was reduced to five days during the playing season.

The indiscriminate issuance of passes by league clubs was discussed at length and clubs were urged in view of the anti-race track betting legislation to take extra precautions enforcing the league's law against betting in the stands.

Pulliam's Suggestions Go Over. Mr. Pulliam's suggestion as to postponed games was referred to the committee on constitution and his suggestion that the ground rules of the world's championship series be made the ground rules of the National league was made a special order for

The changed policy which Bellevus institute next fall is going to make in its foot ball schedule is going to make some changes in the Nebraska State leagus necessary. For Bellevue will make the attempt partly to fill its schedule from Omaha and Iowa. It will doubtless succeed, and that will make impossible the playing of more than two, possibly three, of the strongest teams in the Nebraska league.

There is some question at Bellevue how There is some question at Bellevue how the other Nebraska colleges will view such a change, and there is a possibility that Bellevue may be "left out" by the rest of the league for following such a policy. Hastings especially may take exception to Bellevue's refusal longer to play the minor league teams, and possibly cut Bellevue from the schedule; Doane, however, with whom we especially desire to continue athletic relations, will doubtless play Bellevue under any conditions.

The amateur rules, prescribed by the league constitution, vill continue in force, though, as a matter of fact, the eligibility rules enforced by the Bellevue faculty are even more strict than the league requirements.

> Paeblo Paper Touts Omaha Umpire as MONSTER AMERICAN OLYMPIAD James E. Sullivan Suggests Building

Immense Stadium, NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Belleving that before 1911 there will have been constructed in New York City a stadium rivaling the greatest structures of the kind in the world today, James E. Suilivan, president of the Amateur Athletic union, suggests that a monster American clympiad be held here in that year. Mr. Suilivan has had this in mind ever since his return from the Olympic games in London last summer, but now he has begun the proposal. To avoid any disputes with foreign visitors as to the rules of the meet, Mr. Suilivan says that ample preparation must be made and he thinks 1911 is the earliest possible date for the carnival.

thinks inly is the earliest possible date for the carnival.

Speaking of the project, he said:

"The American Olympiad of 1911 will be the greatest carnival of sport in modern times, or I don't know the American people, and it will be attended by the largest crowds that ever witnessed a sporting event in the world."

MORGAN AT CHICAGO FEAST Pinancial Magnate Attends Banquet Addressed by B. F. Yonkum of the Rock Island.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 .- J. Plerpont Morgan sat at the banquet board of the Chicago Association of Commerce tonight while B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the executive committee of the Rock Island-Frisco lines, discussed "Our Country and Our Railroads." Mr. Morgan accepted the invitation to be present some time ago, stipulating, however, that he should not be called upon to speak. He came on a regular train and said "Excuse me please" to a horde of reporters. Mr. Yoakum declared that the pante of last winter caused a shrinkage in the payrolls of the railroads of $1,000,000 a day, largely as a result of misdirected agitation against the roads. He averred his conviction that an established railroad policy by the government is necessary, but it must be a stable centralized one under which railroads can plan construction years ahead. He said 100,000 miles of ratiroad would have to be built west and southwest of Chicago to care for increasing population and commerce. Railroads alone, he said, cannot solve the transportation problem of the country, but the government must adopt as broad and as comprehensive a waterways policy as has been pursued by capitalists in building railroads.

Thomas Burke of Seattle, Wash., discussed "The Commercial Relationship of the Pacific Northwest and the Orient."

Indians. PENDER, Neb., Dec. 10. - (Special.) -

Thomas E. Brents, a secret service employe, filed a complaint before County Judge Smith today charging W. J. Paasch. liquor dealer of this place, with violation of section 7159, under the Slocumb law of 1907, which reads: "Every person so icensed who shall sell intoxicating liquors to any Indian, insane person or idiot or habitual drunkard shall forfeit and pay for each offense the sum of $50."

As Indians are wards of the government and the fact that local authorities will not prosecute, secret service men are now working in and around all the reservations with the purpose, if possible, of surpressing the sale of liquors to Indians.

There are now four of these secret service men working around Pender. Bancroft and Emerson. It is claimed several other complaints will be filed before the end of the > FOLLOWS HUSBAND OVER SEAS Woman Pursues Man from New Zealand to London, Thence Here for Divorce.

Following her husband from New Zeaand, where she married him, to London and then after he had abandoned her, to the United States, where she found he had a wife and two children, Mrs. Blanche Ashford, born Blanche McGill, has begun suit for an annullment of her marriage to Edward Ashford.

The marriage took place in Christ Church, New Zealand, she says, March 2, 1907, Ashford, she says, represented himself to her as a single man. During that summer they went to London, and while there, she says, he left her and came to the United States on a pretext he had some important business to attend to. She says, she has not seen him since, but when she did not hear from him she came to America herself and in August, 1907, says she discovered he had no right to marry her. She asks the court to annul the marriage and give her her maiden name.
