LILLEY HAILED BEFORE COURT

Corrupt Practices Act is Invoked Against Governor-Elect of Connecticut in Suit.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 10.—Representative George L. Lilley, governor-elect of Connecticut, has been subpoenaed to answer the complaint that in the recent anti-recession campaign he, himself, or through a financial agent, violated the corrupt practices law enacted four years ago. The complaint alleges unlawful acts of Mr. Lilley or his agent, Colonel I. M. Mullen, in distributing money during the campaign.

Mr. Lilley's sworn statement showed that he spent over $2,000 by financial agent to elect governor. His democratic opponent, Judge A. Heaton Robertson, swore to having spent $3,000 in his campaign, while the anti-Lilley Republicans spent $15,000.

It is understood that many of the ablest lawyers in the state have been sworn, and that finally the complaint, George L. Fox of this city, who drafted the corrupt practices act, secured counsel from New York to conduct the hearing. A local attorney represents Mr. Fox in the proceedings, however, as indicated by the state papers.

SOME MEN ARE POOR LOSERS

One Outgoing Republican Official Comments on the Action of Another Who is Also Going Out of a Job.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Dec. 10.—(Special.)—An event of unusual interest to the society folks of Lincoln was the marriage last night of Miss Luree Beemer to Mr. Frederick E. Beamer. The wedding was at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Beemer at Lancaster and was witnessed by intimate friends of the two families. The Rev. P. C. Johnson officiated.

The bride is one of the adopted daughters of Lincoln, who has a wide circle of friends among the society people here. She is a graduate of the State university and during the Beemer nuptials has been the home of the younger crowd here and a splendid headquarters for the university society girls. The bride is an only daughter and the entertainments she has furnished for the young people of the capital city have been elegant and many.

Mr. Beamer is a banker and resides at Madrid. He is a brother of States Bank Examiner Beamer.

The Beemer home was elaborately decorated in pink and white. The couple stood beneath an arch of southern smilax for the ceremony. The bride wore an elaborate gown of white satin with a beautiful lace yoke. Her veil was caught beneath sprays of lilies-of-the-valley and she carried a shower bouquet of the lilies. Miss Fae Burnham of Norfolk was maid of honor and Miss Edna Harpham the bridesmaid. Mrs. Beemer wore a white lace robe and carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Harpham was given in pink satin and carried white chrysanthemums. The groom's little niece, Helen Beamer, was the flower girl and Henry Beamer carried the ring in a chrysanthemum. C. H. Beamer, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the service, the guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Beemer and the bride and groom. Mrs. Beemer wore a gown of gray pinstriped flannel trimmed in blue. Mrs. George L. Sheldon introduced the guests, Mrs. C. E. Burnham of Norfolk invited them to the dining room and Mrs. C. McNish of Fremont was in charge of the guest book.

In the dining room Mrs. E. J. Holyoke and Mrs. W. H. Dorgan served the cream. ### BROKERS LOOK TO AFRICA

President Says Wall Street Hopes Every Lion Will Do Its Duty.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 10.—In a Washington special, printed this morning in the Constitution, President Roosevelt is quoted as asserting that Wall Street hates him. "When I go to Africa," said the president in talking to a party of Georgians who called upon him yesterday, "Wall Street expects every lion to do his duty. Wall Street hates me with fervid sincerity, not because of any general denunciation of railroads and corporations, but because I have done things."

The president is quoted as saying that he does not plead for a centralized government, but for a recognition of the power already vested in the national government, adding: "If congress will give me—and when I say me, I mean the president, the national administration—the power to secure a thorough supervision of the financial affairs of railroads, to regulate the issuance of stock, to prevent stock watering and to insure publicity of all their affairs, with due regard to legitimate trade secrets, it would settle the whole corporation question."

Urging the necessity of permitting reasonable combinations of capital, the president is quoted further as saying: "If you should dam up the Mississippi river you would cause a flood and account for nothing thereby, but you can guide and restrain this immense water force by means of levees."

NO BEARS ON THE FUTURE

J. Pierpont Morgan Says Bears in United States Will Go Broke.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—"Any man who is a bear on the future of this country will go broke," J. Pierpont Morgan in a circle of friends and business associates at the Chicago club yesterday pointed out to this sentiment given to him years ago by his father, as the basis of his business career.

The elder Morgan's advice was, it is said, given when father and son were on their way to America. "He told me," Mr. Morgan is quoted as saying, "to follow my own bent in business, but whatever that business, to work hard. One thing he said I shall always remember not to discount the future of America. He said: 'Remember my son, that any man who is a bear on the future of this country will go broke. There may be times when things are dark and cloudy in America. In such times and at all times remember that the great growth of that vast country will take care of all.'"

STARVED HAIR TO DEATH

LITTLE ATTENTION PAID TO HEAD
A Cincinnati Business Man Throws Light on Baldness.

Omaha Hears of an Argument for Hair Culture Under Dr. Nott's Rules That Are Unique Perhaps But Decidedly Sensible.

"I'll venture to say," declared George A. Shivers, during a recent discussion occasioned by the Men's Club in Cincinnati, "the hair that many a man hasn't got died of starvation."

That is quite an idea. Many people who are firm believers in the doctrine that Cleanliness is next to Godliness, live up to their belief from their feet to the forehead. They pay little or no attention to the hair. Undoubtedly, neglect of that important duty is responsible for the common run of dandruff which makes men bald and thin out women's hair. Dr. Nott, a Southern scientist, had his own peculiar ideas about the care of the hair. To him, the matter of keeping the head clean is of as great importance as washing the face. Many a head of hair is simply a repository for germs and dust. In giving Dr. Nott's Hair Tonic to the country, the Heggis-Drugg Co. of Memphis, Tenn., made a fortune. This Hair Tonic is designed to promote the growth and length of hair. It is a hair food and while it won't grow hair from dead cells, it will effectually drive out the agencies of disease and enable one to keep all the hair that is left. The use of Dr. Nott's Hair Tonic is of as much importance to the health of hair as that of good soap or a tooth powder is to a perfect toilet.

For the benefit of Omaha people, the Myers-Dillon Drug Co. has just received a consignment of Dr. Nott's Hair Tonic. It is possible to secure one bottle free. Ask about it.

Red Tickets for Beasers.

BEATRICE, Neb., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—The traffic department of the Burlington has in a way solved the booze question, which has interfered considerably with its passenger service between Wilber, DeWitt and Beatrice since the saloons were shut out of business here last spring. The company has issued a small red ticket, which is good for the round trip to these towns, and they are being sold to parties who visit these places and return home soaked with liquor. In many instances, before the red tickets were put into service, Beatrice parties would visit DeWitt and Wilber, and in the evening board the train so badly intoxicated they were unable to tell their destination. This would cause the conductor no end of trouble. The little red ticket is sold to passengers with a view of doing away with a good deal of this trouble caused by the men who try to drink up most of the liquor in DeWitt and Wilber.

DECATUR FERRYBOAT SINKS

Nine Teams on Board at Time and All Are Saved—No Loss of Life.

TEKAMAH, Neb., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—The ferry boat at Decatur sank yesterday afternoon about 5:30 p.m. on the landing on this side of the river. There were nine teams on board at the time, but all were saved. Captain Beck and crew worked until midnight last night swimming the horses across. Work was resumed this morning and it is thought the boat will be repaired during the day.

SUPERVISORS FINISH UP WORK

One of Largest Conventions Held in the State.

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—The fourth annual convention of the State Association of County Commissioners and Supervisors came to a close here today by the re-election of officers and the selection of Fremont as the place for holding the next convention. Because of the general satisfaction over their adjournment for the year there was no opposition to the re-election of President Weldon of Wood River, Secretary Hill of Hastings and Treasurer Trainor of South Omaha. North Platte had a liberal following in the quest for the next annual gathering, but Fremont was in favor with the majority because it was deemed unwise to have two consecutive conventions in the western part of the state.

The many visitors to Hastings this week pronounced the meeting one of the largest and most successful conventions ever held by the organization.

Big Hunt for Coaster.

CALLAWAY, Neb., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—H. S. Mahan of this city, who just returned from the vicinity of Redfern Table, some fifteen miles south of this city, brings in the report that a mountain lion, or some other animal, has been killing sheep and goats and intimidating the people of that locality. The animal made its appearance in the locality about a week ago, since which time it has killed several head of stock, and has been seen at a distance by a number of people. However, no one has been fortunate enough to get close enough to it to secure a photograph.

A few weeks ago a similar animal was killing stock for the farmers just north of Lexington, and was seen by a number of people in that locality. Hunting parties were organized, and with guns and dogs an attempt was made on two or three different occasions to run the animal down, but without success. It is thought that this is the same animal which is now intimidating the people in the vicinity of Redfern Table, and has moved its lair to this locality, which is some twenty-five miles north of Lexington.

In a talk of the sports of this city organized a party and going out to hunt the animal down.
