

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE

FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER

VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR

Entered at Omaha postoffice as second-class matter.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Bee (without Sunday), one year, $4.00... DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

OFFICES. Omaha—The Bee Building, South Omaha—Twenty-fourth and N. Council Bluffs—H. Scott Street.

CORRESPONDENCE. Communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed: Omaha Bee, Editorial Department.

REMITTANCES. Remit by draft, express or postal order payable to The Bee Publishing Company.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss. I, George B. Tschuck, treasurer of the Omaha Bee Publishing company, being duly sworn, says that the actual number of full and complete copies of the Daily Morning, Evening and Sunday Bee printed during the month of November, 1908, was as follows:

George B. Tschuck, Treasurer. Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 1st day of December, 1908. (Seal) M. Notary Public.

WHEN OUT OF TOWN. Subscribers leaving the city temporarily should have the Bee mailed to them. Address will be changed as often as requested.

It's a case of "thumbs up" for Simon of Hayti.

Why is it that when a girl goes into society she always "comes out"?

Castro will not go far in Europe if he visits only the countries he has not insulted.

"Pietot totting must go," says a Nashville editor. Will he set the example by disarming?

Dr. Abbott says that foot ball develops courage. Also activity in the lint and bandage industries.

The women of the house are now busy giving the father and the Christmas tree the final trimming.

Visitors to the Corn show will learn that it is difficult to secure any cobbler corn in Omaha on Sunday.

Every township in Champaign county, Illinois, has voted against saloons. Just another case of extra dry.

A comic song, written by Richard Wagner, has just been discovered. All of Wagner's music is comic to most of us.

"Mr. Bryan will not leave Nebraska," says a dispatch from Lincoln. Still, he may not always be able to carry it.

"America is the throne of the world," says Senator Beveridge. Perhaps, but the man who tries to sit on it will get into trouble.

The issue of $30,000,000 in Panama canal bonds has been oversubscribed three times. There's a lot of spare cash in the country.

Governor Johnson of Minnesota says the democratic party is in better condition than it was before the campaign. It could not well be in worse.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller has a magazine article on "The Difficult Art of Giving." It has always been easier for Mr. Rockefeller to take than to give.

Colonel Watterson criticizes the length of the president's message. The colonel confines his efforts to crisp little editorials of about 20,000 words each.

A Washington citizen has been fined in police court for assaulting a man who called him a liar. It is hardly considered an offense to call a man a liar in Washington.

The president's message states that the Filipinos are not capable of self-government. It begins to look as though the same might be said of Kentucky and Tennessee.

It may be just a coincidence that the announcement that John W. Gates is going into the circus business is followed with the report of his entertaining Mr. Bryan at his Texas home.

"Good-looking women always alight from a street car facing the direction in which the car is headed," says a Philadelphia traction manager. Guess that will show the good-looking women where they get off, and how.

The World-Herald persists in believing that President Roosevelt, because he favors complete government control of interstate commerce affairs, is in favor of taking from the states all power over railroads. The World-Herald is never so blind as when it thinks it sees.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA.

The change in the executive head of the University of Nebraska comes at a time that is peculiarly opportune. It will probably be putting it too strong to say that the period is critical, but the new chancellor has an unusual opportunity at present.

In personnel the faculty of the University of Nebraska stands remarkably high. The individual professors take first rank in their several branches and are devoted to the work they have in hand.

INAUGURATING A PRESIDENT. The city of Washington is going to ask congress to make an appropriation to cover the cost of the ceremonies attending the inauguration of the next president.

It is not at all likely that congress will give much heed to the request for an appropriation and there is no good reason why it should.

The record will not show that the people of Washington have suffered any financial loss by these inaugurations. On the contrary, there is usually a surplus left after each of them.

THE FUTURE OF THE INDIAN. It is decidedly unusual to find the head of a government bureau planning for the abolition of his position, but that is practically the hope expressed by Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs.

THE FUTURE OF THE INDIAN. It is decidedly unusual to find the head of a government bureau planning for the abolition of his position, but that is practically the hope expressed by Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs.

THE FUTURE OF THE INDIAN. It is decidedly unusual to find the head of a government bureau planning for the abolition of his position, but that is practically the hope expressed by Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs.

THE FUTURE OF THE INDIAN. It is decidedly unusual to find the head of a government bureau planning for the abolition of his position, but that is practically the hope expressed by Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs.

urges, a family would get, for the price of one servant, the services of a series of specialists in every line of household work.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH. The annual report of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of the American Republics, directs renewed attention to the neglect of American merchants and manufacturers of the business opportunities that are open to them in the Latin-American countries.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH. The annual report of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of the American Republics, directs renewed attention to the neglect of American merchants and manufacturers of the business opportunities that are open to them in the Latin-American countries.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH. The annual report of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of the American Republics, directs renewed attention to the neglect of American merchants and manufacturers of the business opportunities that are open to them in the Latin-American countries.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH. The annual report of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of the American Republics, directs renewed attention to the neglect of American merchants and manufacturers of the business opportunities that are open to them in the Latin-American countries.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH. The annual report of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of the American Republics, directs renewed attention to the neglect of American merchants and manufacturers of the business opportunities that are open to them in the Latin-American countries.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH. The annual report of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of the American Republics, directs renewed attention to the neglect of American merchants and manufacturers of the business opportunities that are open to them in the Latin-American countries.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH. The annual report of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of the American Republics, directs renewed attention to the neglect of American merchants and manufacturers of the business opportunities that are open to them in the Latin-American countries.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH. The annual report of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of the American Republics, directs renewed attention to the neglect of American merchants and manufacturers of the business opportunities that are open to them in the Latin-American countries.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

EFECTS OF CHEAPER POSTAGE. The English have become more enthusiastic over the immediate effects of the reduction of the rate of letter postage between the United States and Great Britain, a writer in the Nineteenth Century predicting that within a year will be seen the completion of the universal penny (2-cent) postage, as he defines it.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

ing attention and the officials of the great city of New York sought to see which could show him the most marked attention.

Salesmen Wanted. to work for The Equitable Life Assurance Society. Men of clean record, who can sell straight goods in a straight way; of good habits and standing. Previous experience unnecessary but knowledge of soliciting or salesmanship in any line an assistance.

YOU ARE THE MAN. until we have talked over the matter. Write for appointment to H. D. NEELY, Manager Merchants National Bank Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

SERMONS BOILED DOWN. It's never wise to trust the man who trusts no one. The ill that follow our lusts we usually charge up to our luck.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE. If you don't receive what you want, it's wise to forget it. Besides its other qualities, Christmas is a sure enough give away.

WILLIAM TELL, Pocahontas, George Washington's hatchet and Paul Rovere are now among the branded demons of tradition.

PROPOSED TIMBER TRUST. United States and Canada Should Be Dominant Partners.

SECULAR SHOTS AT THE PULPIT. Chicago Record-Herald: If his stanic majesty be a syndicate, as declared by a Massachusetts preacher, it merely goes to show that the modern process of evolution is the same in all lines of industry.

BOSS CROKER AND THE JUDICIARY. Rabbi Wise has performed a distinct service to the cause of public decency in raising his voice in protest against the fulsome attention that is being paid to Richard Croker since his return to New York from a long stay in Europe.

The Form of It. There is no question about the pleasure of gift-giving if only the perplexities could be removed. This list will help in making up your list for the men and boys of the family circle: Gloves, Lounging Robes, Collar Bags, Neckwear, Smoking Jackets, Cans, Handkerchiefs, Suit Cases, Cuff Buttons, Suspenders, Umbrellas, Scarf Pins, Pyjamas, Sweater Coats, Fur Gloves, Bath Robes, Opera Hats, Silk Hats, Fancy Vests, Overcoats, Suits.

Our Pre-inventory Sale. will be continued Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. You will still find a good assortment in your size. Suits and Overcoats that sold from $18 to $25, now— $13.75. Overcoats that sold from $30 to $45, now— $23.75. Browning, King & Company. Cor. 15th and Douglas. R. S. Wilcox, Mgr.