PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Dec. 21 .-Vice President J. These were tem porarily checked by a show of force and later the revolutionary influence that threatened to sweep the country was overcome in a measure by promises that could not be held long in abeyance.

Gomez was far from secure. It was brought forcibly home to him that he must either withdraw from that office or cast aside those of Castro's ministers who still were trying to force the Castro rule upon the people. Apparently he chose the latter course. He first declared the country in a state of defense, thereby securing control of the army, and then appointed a new cabinet
