

CAUCUS ON SPEAKERSHIP

Someone Certain to Be Doubledcrossed in the Showdown.

BRYAN ASKED TO TAKE A HAND

Talk of Caucus to Decide Committee Assignments Indicates Distrust of the Speaker to Be Chosen.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Dec. 30.—(Special.)—The most outrageously humorous performance to the onlookers—Nebraska has been called upon to witness in years is scheduled for the night of January 1 at the state caucus.

This is due to the fact that some members of the house of representatives have promised their votes to more than one candidate for speaker. So it follows that when a member is pledged to two candidates, one of the candidates must necessarily be lost out in the shuffle.

So the first big preliminary question to be disposed of when enough of the members get to town is an open or a secret caucus. Those who have the largest number of members on their list of pledges will insist upon the open caucus and a public ballot, for they have most to lose from double dealings in the dark.

Those who have the largest number of members on their list of pledges will insist upon the open caucus and a public ballot, for they have most to lose from double dealings in the dark.

And right here is where Mr. Bryan will have to show his hand or duck clear out of the state. Each side will insist that he tell which kind of caucus he is for.

The speakership fight is going to be a hot one, and it is going to leave a bad taste in the mouths of several. Because of the information some of the leaders have regarding double pledging, they are at a loss to know just how to count noses and they are absolutely sure of nothing.

It is beginning to look as though some one had done some really clever work in keeping Mr. Bryan from showing his hand to the temperance people of the state.

Henry Richmond saw Mr. Bryan yesterday and had a conference with his case and then came away smiling and satisfied, yet each is a candidate for chief clerk of the house.

Among the old members of the legislature there is considerable amusement over the attempt of the wide-eyed and Mr. Bryan to keep the air full of dust by advertising for the speaker.

There are no others so crisp and delicious as BRODSKY'S Saratoga Chips. Sold only in brown, wax-paper sacks—always clean and fresh.

It's nice getting them in, a . . . getting them out. But there's a way—CASCARETS are known to hundreds of thousands for the natural and easy way they clean out the system.
