Root Hears from Griescom. WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—To assist the American people in their efforts to extend relief to the stricken Italian earthquake sufferers, Secretary Root made public a cablegram received today from Ambassador Griescom, presenting the first feasible plan of assisting the great emergency.

There is no time to spare in awaiting the arrival of battleships now in the canal or of naval supply ships crossing the Atlantic. The need for help is immediate and how that help can be rendered is told in the cablegram dated at Rome, which follows:

"January 2.—I have today drawn on you for $75,000 and paid equivalent to Italian Red Cross, in two sums: $50,000 from American Red Cross and $25,000 from Christian Herald."

"I have today drawn president Italian Red Cross, who desires me to inform American Red Cross association: "Problem of relief very vast. Includes feeding, clothing, destitute on scene immediately, and quickly removing nearly whole surviving population from stricken district to other parts of Italy. Transportation involves special difficulties. Much money is needed, but if America desires to offer practical aid immediately a ship could be chartered by telegraph at Marseilles or Genoa, and loaded with blankets, clothing, lines, preservatives, medicines, medical supplies, and similar useful material. One or more such ships, under direction of the Italian Red Cross, would be useful as transports, and at the same time could deposit stores where needed along the coast. The Italian Red Cross has not yet received relief from Sicily and Calabria, but in about two weeks, when the destitute have been removed, will be needed in Naples, Rome, Florence and other cities where the survivors are being distributed."

"I will be personally glad to co-operate with our Red Cross to carry out any plans. There are many Americans in Rome anxious to assist in relief measures. "GRISSCOM."

Hundred Thousand by Cable. In response to the suggestion of the Italian Red Cross society that a vessel might be loaded at Genoa with provisions and sent to the scene of the earthquake disaster, thus giving quick relief to the destitute, the American National Red Cross tonight cabled $100,000 with instructions that it should be used by the Italian Red Cross society for bringing out of a relief fund provisions and medical supplies. This amount is in addition to the $100,000 and the $75,000 previously sent by the American Red Cross. By sending the money in lieu of undertaking to provide for the shipment of supplies, the American Red Cross adopted a more expeditious method of meeting the emergency. They believe that the Italian society would be able to make the arrangements more promptly than could be done by any one else. This is in line with the policy of the American society from the beginning of its relief work in behalf of the earthquake sufferers.

In order that the American Red Cross society might have a personal representative on the scene of the earthquake, Vice Consul Hayward Cutting at Milan is now in the earthquake region, having been sent there by Ambassador Griescom. A cablegram received by the State Department from Consul Bishop at Palermo today, was the first information that has come directly from Mr. Bishop. It was sent from Palermo, Sicily, and besides confirming the previous information concerning the death of Mr. Chapman, and wife, it reiterates that Consul Bishop had sailed from Messina for a point unknown. A cablegram from Consul Cunningham at Naples, dated today, also states that he understands the Lupton is safe.

Active Salemen—Bee Want Ads. DENISON, Ia., Jan. 3.—(Special).—The resident alumni and former students of the State university held their annual banquet on New Year's night in the club room of the CWA hall. The room was handsomely decorated with the college colors and guests from colleges and universities from St. Paul to Wesley. After a banquet served by the junior girls of the high school a program of toasts was in order with County Attorney P. J. Klinger as toast master. The State university received many compliments in the responses. The affair was decided success.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY GIVES UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION. Best Remedy in the Market For Cough, Croup and Whooping Cough—It Always Cures And Is Pleasant and Safe to Take. "I never had a medicine in my store that gave such universal satisfaction as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mr. P. M. Shays, of Rochester, Ind. "It is a remedy to-day on the market for coughs, colds and whooping cough. One of my lady customers told me recently that she could not get her cough without it, that since they had been using it they have had no need of a doctor." In case of a severe attack of croup a physician will usually call twice, and perhaps half a dozen times in a severe and long protracted case of whooping cough, but in pneumonia it is often necessary that he call once in a day for a week or two. All of this trouble and expense may be saved by the judicious use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for it is a certain cure for croup, and when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. Pneumonia can also be prevented. This fact has been fully proven, as during the almost forty years in which this remedy has been in general use, no case of a cold or attack of the grip has resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, so far as we have been able to learn. It will be seen that a little forethought and by doing the right thing at the right time, all danger and expense in pneumonia is avoided, and that every bottle of this remedy is warranted and if not as stated it will not cost you a cent.

PROSPERITY AT HASTINGS

All Former Marks Exceeded by Year Just Closed. MANY NEW BUILDINGS ERECTED. Receipts of Postoffice Over Thirty Thousand Dollars—Bank Deposits Nearly Two and One-Half Millions.

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 3.—(Special).—So far as can be determined by the various pulses of commercial activity Hastings enjoyed a measure of prosperity last year that exceeded all former marks.

The postoffice receipts for the twelve months aggregated $30,000, which was an increase of $1,500 over the previous year. This was the largest volume of receipts in the history of the office for a like period, and it was approximately 50 per cent larger than that of ten years ago. Postal traffic incident to Christmas was the heaviest ever experienced here, the volume of mail being about 13 per cent larger than in the previous year.

Farm mortgages satisfied during the year aggregated $53,869, as compared with a total of $42,777 in releases during the previous year. Increase in filings from $547,664 to $603,696 is an indication of more extensive investments. There was an increase in chattel mortgage releases from $154,179 in 1907 to $182,105 in 1908.

Among the new buildings erected or finished last year were the Hastings brewery, $125,000; administration building, home for Elder Robinson, sanitarium and church edifice, all for the Seventh Day Adventists, $40,000; Madgett office building, $40,000; Carnegie building for Hastings college, $35,000; and the new Hastings college building, ranging in cost from $1,000 to $15,000.

Masons and Odd Fellows contemplate erecting new temples this year or reconstructing the ones they now occupy. The Congregational and United Brethren congregations have planned new edifices, and the abandoned convent building, built at a cost of $75,000 and used for a girls' academy, is soon to be equipped for a girls' academy. An auditorium, with a seating capacity of 1,600, is nearing completion.

Deposits in Hastings banks aggregate $2,400,000 and loans $1,500,000. Good Year for West Point. WEST POINT, Neb., Jan. 3.—(Special).—The permanent improvements made in the city of West Point during the year 1908 have been so numerous and valuable as to deserve special mention. In public improvements nearly a mile of cement sidewalks have been laid, many cement gutters and culverts put in and a large portion of the streets of the best residence sections of the city have been paved. In business buildings the most notable improvements which have been finished during the year are the Baumann mercantile building and the new home of the West Point National bank, both in the best style of architecture, and the kind that would do credit to cities of a larger size. In private dwellings a number of modern residences have been erected, chief among them is the residence of Attorney O. C. Anderson. Numerous smaller and less pretentious dwellings have been built, and the aggregate more money has been invested in the city than in any previous years. West Point has always maintained an even, steady growth, its favorable location, excellent business facilities and the conservative character of its citizens alike contributing to its constant development.

Two Citizens Leave. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 3.—(Special).—By a singular coincidence State Auditor Barton and Cashier E. D. Hamilton both terminate on the same day a residence in Lincoln. Both citizens were in the same train on July 1, 1901. Both were recipients of fine presents by their fellow citizens before their departure for their new homes, who greatly regret their leaving Grand Island. Ex-County Clerk C. H. Menck, who has been an active factor of the city since the time of its incorporation, is expected to be promoted to the cashiership, for which he is thoroughly competent, having also a wide acquaintance in the county.

Deaths at Grand Island. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 3.—(Special).—Curt Krueger, aged 40, robust in health, was visiting a relative, Henry Schatzberg, and family, and was engaged in playing a game of cards when he suddenly complained of pain in the chest and two minutes later was a corpse, heart disease proving fatal. He leaves a wife and two children.

S. A. Hamilton, who removed from Chapman to this city five years ago, died after a week's illness of grip and heart trouble. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. He leaves a wife and one son. He was 64 years of age.

Mrs. Betty Chaddenden, aged 54, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Drulliner, of this city, after a long illness of cancer. The remains have been taken to Giltner, where other relatives lie buried.

Crough's rooms on a search warrant served with a view to finding the missing garment, but the search was fruitless. The bride is well known in Hastings and has many friends among the younger society set. Green insists that he is innocent notwithstanding he pleaded guilty in court.

W. D. Brown of Lincoln and Grand Island Woman Found at St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 3.—(Special Telegram).—A pathetic scene was enacted in the Central District police station here today this afternoon when Willie Brown, aged 2, entered the cell of his father, W. A. Brown, traveling salesman of Lincoln, Neb., aged 25, who grabbed the child and kissed him repeatedly. Brown's wife, who followed the boy, gazed a minute at the scene, then stretched out her hand to her husband. Brown had been arrested in company with Miss Mildred Cramer of Grand Island, Neb., at 306 Washington avenue, where they had lived three weeks as Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kellan. Both are 30 years old, pretty and look enough alike to be twin sisters.

After Brown and wife had conferred, Brown said: "I will return home with my wife. I do not know what possessed me to leave her. We had been happy continuously. I met Miss Cramer at Grand Island, where she lived with her parents. She knew I was married. She would have returned home last night if we had not been arrested through a letter she wrote home."

Miss Cramer told Chief Detective Smith that when she was in the place of the girl, she was told by her father that he was divorcing her and that she was to marry as soon as he could get a divorce. She said she did not expect to return to her father and mother now. She said her mother first informed her she was living with a married man (Brown) in a letter.

Mrs. Brown announced she would not prosecute.

Senator Volpp of the Tenth District Will Offer One.

SCRIBNER, Neb., Jan. 3.—(Special).—Senator Fred Volpp of the Tenth district has a bill to run state banks all ready to introduce when the senate convenes. Of it he says: "I have a bill which I propose to offer in the senate, at its first session, relative to the organization and control of banks and the protection of depositors. I think the bill is so drawn as to meet the approval of those who are in favor of the present perfect our banking system. I call your attention especially to the following: "First. The law follows the general lines of our present law, thus avoiding confusion."

"Second. The changes that have been made are in the direction of more rigid regulation and control. "Third. The bill provides for payment to depositors of failed banks within thirty days. "Fourth. The bill provides for a 'depositors' protective fund' and nowhere is the word 'guarantee' used. "Fifth. There is very little question of the constitutionality of the various measures. We force no bank, state or national, into the protective system, and we keep none in longer than they wish to remain. "Sixth. I believe that a thorough inspection and a rigid control of the banks under the plan I outlined will prevent failures, and that it may be many years before the protective fund is ever called for on a dollar."

Grand Jury in Box Butte. ALLIANCE, Neb., Jan. 3.—(Special).—Seventy citizens of Alliance, recently signed and sent to Judge W. W. Harrison a petition asking that a grand jury be called to consider illegal liquor selling and other law-breaking in Alliance and Box Butte county. A few days later this was followed by a remonstrance against these offenses signed by about the same number of people. As Judge Harrison will preside at the next term of district court for Box Butte county Judge Westover referred the petition and remonstrance to him. The result was not known here until Wednesday evening, when W. C. Mount, clerk of the district court, and Eugene Burton, county attorney, received an order that the grand jury be called. WEST POINT—News has reached the city that the middle west and central west cultivation of apples should be stimulated. The Commercial club has received an answer from Spokane which intimates that Omaha's chances are excellent. Last year's show, held in the western Washington city, was an enormous success both in the matter of exhibits and in point of attendance.

Speakership UP IN THE AIR (Continued from First Page.) the county option members and those opposed to Bryan's committee plan get together there may be an insurrection—but there is the "if." Fight Over Clerkship. Insofar as the much talked of fight over the chief clerkship is concerned, there is no doubt that the committee will be both a success and a failure. If the present plans are carried out, and it is more than likely they will be, and the same is true over the scrap for secretary of the senate. Walrath and Smith and Davis will all get jobs, though Walrath may quit if he does not get the first place. Tibbets from Adams and Ollis from Valley are both after the presidency of the senate, but the Douglas county delegation will be in later tonight and this fight may be settled. Douglas county has one-fourth of the vote in the senatorial caucus to control as it has in the house caucus. If the Douglas delegation were a free agency it could organize, probably, both houses.

APPLE SHOW LIKELY OMAHA'S

Spokane Men Consider Formally Sending Exposition Here. COMMERCIAL CLUB TAKES HAND. Letters Exchanged Between Chamber of Commerce and Local Organization Give Show to This City.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 3.—(Special).—Omaha is a candidate for the National Apple show in 1909, and if it goes out of Spokane next fall it is likely that the city on the Missouri will capture it.

The invitation to honor Omaha comes in a letter from the Commercial club of that city to the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, saying that the residents and business men of Omaha desire the co-operation of the apple growers to the end that they may have the big exposition this year. "Omaha contributed to the success of the first National Apple show," the letter states, "and, since there has been a middle-west, Omaha is the place to hold it."

After reading the letter at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Chamber of Commerce, E. F. Cartier Van Dassel, vice president and chairman of the executive committee, said that nothing definite has been decided regarding holding the exposition in Spokane next year. "Spokane may claim it for another year," he said, "and until that question is determined by the committee of the Chamber of Commerce nothing can be done. However, if the next show is going to the middle west, I see nothing to prevent Omaha from getting it."

While this sentiment prevails tonight it is subject to change in case the progressive leaders of the state decide to take a hand when they all arrive on the scene. As yet only a part of them are here and the rest will be in tomorrow morning. If they decide to take a hand, there will be a decided change, but not without some strong protests on the part of the backers of the beneficiaries of the present feeling. The ones on the ground deny any indication of mixing, but the whole council may feel differently in regard to the situation. Caucuses will probably be held Tuesday forenoon.

BACK TO COLLEGE HOMES

Many Young Folks Leave Sunday and Departs Are Busy Scenes of Farewells. The Union and Burlington depots were enlivened Sunday by the presence of hundreds of relatives and friends of the college folk who left the city yesterday to return to school after the holidays. During the greater part of the day there were parties at the station and "good-byes" to sons, daughters, sisters, brothers and friends who had to start back to their college or university in order to be in time for the opening exercises after two weeks of vacation. At about 6 o'clock the crowds of young people and their parents grew very thick and the station was a scene of activity and bustle. Many of the young men and women were seen each other again for five or six months after having lived together for years. Some of the people who were at the railway stations to see their friends off to eastern schools crossed the river. Central Bluffs before saying the final "Good-bye."

MEASURE SUPPOSED TO REFLECT SENTIMENT OF BANKERS IN LEGISLATURE.

From Staff Correspondent. LINCOLN, Jan. 3.—(Special Telegram).—Victor Wilson is on the ground with his banking bill which, it is believed, reflects the sentiment of the bankers of the legislature. This is the bill which abolishes the present state banking board and gives over the distribution of the spoils of office to the democratic party government. The bill itself covers 107 sections. Following is the substance of the bill as prepared by Mr. Wilson: The business of banking is defined and declared to be of a public matter and subject to the general control by the state.

HORSE AND THE HORSELESS

who has been particularly active during his administration of the Postoffice department in adopting labor saving devices and improving the service in other ways saw the utility of stamp-vending machines, which are in general use in Europe, and last January he invited inventors to submit models of such machines. There were twenty-six machines offered for trial, all of which were carefully tested by a committee of the Postoffice department, headed by Chief Postoffice Inspector McMillan. Twenty of these were considered impracticable and of the six of those remaining were subjected to a further trial.

German Machine Favorite.

Strangely enough, the only machine which has stood the test without a hitch, and which is the only entirely automatic stamp vending machine is a German invention. It is called the "Abel" after the inventor. This device has already been adopted by the German government and is in use in many postoffices in their country. Other European countries have also adopted the machine and it is used in both America. Several of these machines are now being tested in the postoffices of New York City, and according to reports are performing their work in an almost human-like manner. It is probable that the Postoffice department will make a more general test of the machines in hotels, railroad stations, drug stores, and other public places before recommending that the 86,000 postoffices of this country be supplied with them, but that the machines will be adopted generally in the near future is practically a foregone conclusion.

John Burke on the West.

No man has been more closely allied to the fortunes of "Buffalo Bill" than Major Burke, he of the long hair, the prominent facial scar and peculiar mustache, who is known in every town from St. Petersburg to Seattle. Major Burke lived in Washington forty years ago and he likes to spend a day or two here whenever he can get the time to do so. He is here now and to hear him speak of the changes that have occurred in "the west" since he first tied up with "Bill" would incline one to believe that the west is a rolling but scenery. "I have just returned from a western trip," said Major Burke today, "and I am more than ever impressed with the wondrous growth of our country.
