MRS. ERB AGAIN ON THE STAND District Attorney Will Attempt to Break Down Her Story in Defense.

MEDIA. Pa., Jan. 4.-Having spent a quiet Sunday and rested her nerves after Saturday's trying ordeal, Mrs. M. Florence Erb again took the witness stand today in defense of herself and her sister, Mrs. Catherine Beisel, charged with the murder of Captain J. Clayton Erb at the Erb country home last October. When court adjourned Saturday Mrs. Erb was under ross-examination by District Attorney Mccruelly and that he was shot and killed by Mrs. Belsel in defending their lives. Mrs. Beisel will take the stand probably tomorrow to tell of the shooting, which

NIGHT RIDER CASE GOES ON Juror Sick with Measles Hears the Case Propped Up in an Armchair.

UNION CITY, Tenn., Jan. 4.-Despite the fact that one of the jurors was stricken with the measles Sunday the trial of the night riders was resumed this morning. The sick juror, J. J. Rosin, was brought into court and made comfortable in a large easy chair. The defense called one of its missing witnesses, Joe Hogg. It proposed to show that Hogg had not urged Mrs. Morris to perjure herself and had not threatened her if she told the truth. The state objected because Mrs. Morris was witness for the defense and the defense could not impeach its own, witnesses. The court asked for argument on both sides. This proceeded while the jury was excused.
