

HILL WILL FIGHT FOR WHEAT

Determined on Wrestling Traffic from Harriman with C. & S.

ONE OF MAIN OBJECTS OF LINE

Business Has Been Getting Away from Hill and He Believes by the Recent Deal He Can Secure It.

What is to be one of the big revenue producers of the Colorado & Southern when it is turned over to Mr. Hill if the Minnesota magnate's plans carry. And this will be new business for Hill, business which for years has been slipping away from him into the hands of E. H. Harriman, although it originated in what is termed Hill territory.

It is said the determination of Hill to wrest this traffic from Harriman is one of the reasons for the purchase of the Colorado & Southern by the Burlington. This business is estimated to be worth between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 a year, and this the Southern Pacific and its connections have been literally taking out of Hill territory.

NEW ROUTE TO NATIONAL PARK

One of Big Undertakings in Railroad Building Campaign

In the campaign of railroad building which James J. Hill is about to undertake in Wyoming is included the improvement of a new route into the National park, a route which is now practically completed.

The new route is a coaching road from Cody into the park and most of the work is now done. To assist in hauling material to the big Shoshone dam the government has constructed a rock road from Cody to the government dam, which is nearing completion.

Indications now are that the giant granite structure which the government is building will be completed enough to hold the flood water from the melting snows of the Rockies this summer and then the government road will be ready for travel.

Although Hill will build a second line across Wyoming, it is not to be completed this summer in time for the heavy travel which is sure to result from increased prosperity and because of the Seattle exposition. An effort is to be made to have many of the tourists enter the park by the Cody route.

John Gaff, famous as guide to President Roosevelt, has established his hunting headquarters at Wapita Inn, just inside the park on the Cody road, and already several large parties have been organized to hunt for big game under his guidance.

THROUGH PHONE LINES ON U. P.

Telephones Supplanting Telegraph in Operation of Trains.

The Union Pacific is continuing its work of installing telephones on its lines and through telephones it is in operation between Omaha and Cheyenne, although the phones are not installed at all the stations.

These telephones are to be put in immediately in the operation of trains, especially on the 125 miles of track between North Platte and Sidney. The signals to be used at the three blind sidings will be the Union Pacific standard semaphores, lighted by acetylene gas. Each point will have two signals, one for east-bound and one for west-bound trains. An answer-back arrangement will tell the dispatcher what the signals are and the dispatcher will be notified by means of a Gill high-speed selector, the same apparatus which will be used for calling offices along the line. There will be two station selectors at each blind siding, one to operate the east-bound and one the west-bound trains. An answer-back arrangement will tell the dispatcher what the signals are and the dispatcher will be notified by means of a Gill high-speed selector, the same apparatus which will be used for calling offices along the line.

The booths are so arranged that when the doors are opened the telephones are connected with the line and this will be disconnected when the doors are closed. The telephones will be placed in iron boxes which will be locked with switch locks.

RELIEF WORK IN UNITED STATES

American Red Cross Has Collected Over $400,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—In order to inform the public exactly what Americans have done for Europe through the Red Cross society, Miss Mabel Boardman, the secretary, today issued an official statement announcing that the total amount of subscriptions for Italian relief so far credited and received through the American National Red Cross is over $400,000. This includes today's contributions of $136,772.

The statement adds: "On December the remittance by the American Red Cross to that of Italy, through the State department and the American ambassador in Rome, was $70,000. On the 2d of January $100,000 additional was telegraphed and on the 3d of January $130,000 additional was remitted.

The expenses incurred in the charter, freight and use of a large steamship contracted for by the American ambassador has been assumed by the American Red Cross and further remittances have been made to cover the expense thereof.

"Hayard Cutting, jr., one of the consular officers of the United States in Italy and who is personally familiar with the devastated region, is acting for and the agent of the American Red Cross. He is supplied with the necessary funds so that personal assistance may be extended at his discretion to Americans who have been overwhelmed by the disaster.

"Contributions are still coming in rapidly and it seems to be evident that the collections through the Red Cross will reach $500,000."

Postmaster General and Mrs. Meyer today contributed $1,000 to the earthquake sufferers through the Red Cross. The Christian Herald contributed $50,000, already mentioned.

Subscriptions by states received by the American Red Cross to date for the relief include the following: California, $80,017; Illinois, $26,878; Missouri, $25,027; Washington, $1,450; Nebraska, $1,000; Indiana, $650; Montana, $175; Colorado, $100; Kansas, $100; Texas, $51; Iowa, $5; Utah, $5; South Dakota, $1.

CATTLEMEN ARE IN TROUBLE

Gang of Ten Accused of Making Raids on Sheepmen's Property.

NEW CASTLE, Wyo., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—That one gang of ten determined men bent on driving sheep from a section of country which they desired for use as range for cattle and horses, were able to prevent publicity for an astonishing and daring series of incendiary outrages, extending through two months, has just come to light as a result of the arrest of ten prominent ranchmen of Crook county, and one ranch employee, who are accused of being responsible for the destruction of much property belonging to the Guthrie Sheep company, a large concern operating in Crook county, in the northwestern corner of the state. The men charged with the series of crimes are Ike, Andy and Sam McKean; D. W. Mosberger; George Martin; Stanley Raugh; J. D. Mulholland; Henry Zimmeriched and M. Squier. All but the latter are ranch owners. Squires has been employed by Raugh.

The arrest of the ten men was made by Sheriff Farrell and Joseph LeFors, the man who ran down Tom Horn, and resulted from a detective work by the latter extending through several weeks. It is said that confessions have been obtained from Squires, Martin and one of the others, and that these confessions establish that the ten defendants were responsible for the following outrages:

August 21: Burning of house, barn and sheep wagon at the Berry ranch, and a house at the Carter ranch.

October 1: Burning of sheep wagon on Mule creek.

October 2: Burning of 100 tons of hay at the Behrens ranch.

November 4: Burning of two houses at the Berry ranch.

November 7: Burning of twenty tons of hay at the Hullett ranch.

All of the property destroyed was owned by the Guthrie Sheep company and was situated in the disputed district, which lies between Sundance and Moorcraft. On November 7 a mile and a half of fence, believed by the gang to belong to the sheep company, but owned by a ranchman named Moore, was also destroyed.

The confessions all agree that the ten men met on the night of August 1 at the Mosberger school house and there, the only light being that cast from the chimneys of the stove, they entered into a solemn pact to drive the Guthrie Sheep company out of business and to kill any of their number who should betray their operations. The raids of the night of August 21 were participated in by all ten conspirators, but those on later dates were performed by men especially selected for their number to carry out these outrages.

JUST HOUSES NOW NEEDED

Many Permits Issued for Homes Fitting Moderate Incomes.

RESPONSE TO URGENT DEMAND

In First Five Days of New Year Forty-one Building Permits Are Issued at Total Cost of $150,000.

Forty-one building permits have been issued by the city since January 1, and the majority of these buildings are to be frame dwellings costing in the neighborhood of $2,500.

A persistent demand for just such buildings has existed in Omaha for several years and business men interested in stimulating the industrial development of the city have pointed out the need of smaller dwellings available for persons of moderate incomes. The apparent move to meet this demand has already created much favorable comment.

Thirty-one permits for new buildings have been issued so far this week and they contemplate an expenditure of $85,000 in the aggregate. This makes forty-one permits for the new year for buildings to cost in excess of $150,000.

Twelve of the permits for $2,500 buildings were taken out by the Prairie Trust company. The trust company's buildings will all be frame and they will be built at the following locations: 2555-55-71, 2028-11-30 Fowler avenue, and 2066-64-72, 2044-12-30 Meredith avenue.

Six permits for frame dwellings to cost the same amount each were taken out by C. F. Traver. These dwellings will be built at 118, 119 and 120 South Thirteenth street, and 115, 117 and 119 South Central boulevard.

The largest permit taken out in the two days was by W. F. Steiner for brick flats to be built at Nineteenth and Jones streets. The flat will cost $9,000.

Other permits taken out during the week are as follows: G. W. Garloch, 3704 Hawthorne avenue, frame dwelling, $4,000; G. W. Garloch, 3715 Hawthorne avenue, frame dwelling, $4,500; William J. Burgess, 2312 Harney street, frame dwelling, $5,000; Byron Reed company, 2714-14th street and Dewey avenue, frame dwelling, $5,500; B. J. Scannell, 200 Fowler avenue, frame dwelling, $2,500; A. G. Johnson, 1815 Lotthrop street, frame dwelling, $2,500; Byron Reed company, 329 Harney street, frame dwelling, $2,500; Byron Reed company, 225 Harney street, frame dwelling, $2,500; John Moravia, 2314-16 Sherman avenue, frame store, $1,700; Havens-White Coal company, Thirtieth and Boyd streets, frame office building, $500.

In attendance at the senate opening, Secretary of State Junkin called the house to order and Lieutenant Governor Hopewell presided in the senate.

In the house Rev. I. F. Roach delivered the invocation, and in the course of his prayer he petitioned that if economy needs be practiced that the educational institutions and the state's wards be not made to suffer thereby.

Clyde Barnard, who for so many years has acted as chief clerk for republican legislators, called the roll, after which parties were divided and Henry of Holt presided the democratic vote for speaker pro tem and Nettleton of Clay the republican vote.

In taking the chair Mr. Henry assured the house that while he had been ambitious to fill the chair he was entirely satisfied with the honor which had been conferred upon him and he individually expected to work for the enactment of laws which would be for the best interests of the entire state, and though men might differ from him on certain questions, he honored no man less for this were he honest in his beliefs.

The permanent organization was affected by the election of the caucus selections: C. W. Pool of Johnson, speaker; Tremors of Wahoo, chief clerk; A. D. Evans of Richardson county, sergeant-at-arms, and Rev. H. M. Wardfield of Lincoln, chaplain.

The oath was administered to the members by Chief Justice Reese of the supreme court, after which all signed the oath. The first committee appointed in the house was that on credentials, as follows: Clark of Richardson, Bowman of Nuckolls, Killen of Gage, Stocker of Douglas and Taylor of Custer. Mr. Henry showed his generous nature in the appointment of this committee, for while the motion called for only five, he appointed six, and thus cared for another defeated candidate for speaker.

Kelley of Furness, Wilson of Polk and Brown of Lancaster had the honor of escorting Judge Reese into Representative hall. They interrupted the chief justice as he was eating lunch in the corridor.

Clark of Richardson and Nettleton of Clay had the honor of escorting Speaker Pool to the chair. Upon taking the seat of the presiding officer, Pool said: "I am very grateful to you for this expression of good will. I will not weary you with any remarks, but will proceed with the business at hand."

Clark of Richardson, Snyder of Harlan and Killen of Gage were on the committee to notify the senate that the house was ready to do business.

Howard of Douglas and Raper of Pawnee composed the committee on supplies and store rooms. This committee was empowered to secure supplies necessary for the immediate use of the members and to check over the store room.

SENATE GETS UNDER WAY

Sixty spectators in the gallery and probably fifty persons leaning over the lobby rail watched the beginning of proceedings in the senate as Lieutenant Governor Hopewell called the members to order three minutes after 12 o'clock today. A sudden drop in temperature, frosted the window panes of the senate chamber, but there was no chill within the room, not even in the men of the minority of republicans, who accepted their fate with cheerful countenances and were by no means less alert than in the many previous sessions, when they controlled the organization.

Every one of the 15 to 16 of a republican senator to make the first motion of the session, after prayer by Elder G. W. Martin of Lincoln. After the presiding officer had called the members to order with F. D. Corrick, reading clerk of the last session, at the clerk's desk, the chair announced the appointment of a committee on credentials in order. A pause followed, when Whitte of Cedar moved the selection of the three members needed. This was seconded by Ketchum of Thayer and carried by acclamation. Messrs. Whitte, Howell of Douglas and Henry of Colfax constituted the personnel.

Eleven members of the senate had forgotten their credentials, according to the report of his committee submitted after a brief recess. They were Messrs. of Nemaha, Ransom and Howell of Douglas, Thompson of Channing, Hatfield of Antelope, Donohue of Holt, Miller of Lancaster, Bartos of Saline, Kitchum of Thayer, Besse of Webster and Gammill of Frontier.

The recommendation of the committee was that the entire membership be seated, there being no contests and the fact of the election being apparent. To this Randall of Madison assented, claiming the stenographer had made an error in his case and that his credentials were in with the rest. Without further correction of the list, however, on suggestion of Mr. Whitte, the report of the committee was adopted and the thirty-three senators were seated.

The session opened with a prayer by Henry of Colfax moved that a committee of five members be named on Unrains; Ransom of Douglas, Bartos of Saline and Donohue of Holt, which was agreed to, following which Chairman Ransom of the committee proposed the adoption of the rules of the last session of the senate with the provision that an additional committee of five members be named on Unrains;
