CLIPPING OF WINGS

are withheld from publication until after the caucus has acted.

Offer with a String.

The majority submitted a generous proposition to the minority this morning, though it had a cracker to it. The minority was offered a clerkship, provided the majority could select the clerk.

"That would be nice," remarked a member of the minority party, "to permit a clerk selected by the democrats to get into our meetings and make a record of everything we do to carry back to their caucus."

As a matter of fact the high handed methods adopted by the Douglas delegation in the senate, and the Burlington and Mr. Bryan and the brewers in the house, are going to make the republican minority of some influence in the legislature, provided, of course, the loud talk of some of the democrats does not end in roars. On every hand there are signs of discontent and when the committees come up for endorsement only the hand of Mr. Bryan can save a mighty big scrap, with a possible permanent split.

One thing the leaders of the party have given out and that is that Lincoln and Omaha will not use up much legislative time on their charter scraps. These leaders, or self-constituted leaders, insist that the charters of the two cities will go through the legislature in any form the Douglas and Lancaster delegations say. In other words, they have given it out cold that whatever arguments there are to be made must be made before the delegations from the two counties and there the matter must be settled.

Captain Evans, sergeant-at-arms of the house, will shortly be transferred to some other job and Captain Lew Beltzer of Osceola will succeed him. That has been decided upon. Captain Beltzer was defeated in the caucus by the Douglas delegation, which is charged up with Evans. Member Shoemaker received a letter from Evans in which there was outlined a mighty good war record for the captain. This won Shoemaker, who is somewhat of a warrior in his own way, so he proposed the name of Evans to the caucus, even though Evans is from Richardson county. The Shoemaker speech carried the caucus by storm and Evans was elected. Incidentally this action on the part of Shoemaker knocked some good democrat from Omaha out of a job, for the jobs are divided up equally between the members. Evans is charged up to Douglas county.

RANSOM TAKES ANOTHER TURN

Secures Certificate of Abstract of Amendment Vote.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—After the secretary of state had refused his offer of half a dozen clerks to assist in making a certified copy of the votes cast on the constitutional amendments, Frank Ransom, in his effort to oust the present supreme court, took another tack this afternoon.

The Omaha senator asked and secured from Mr. Junkin a certification of the abstract of the vote, as printed on the sheets distributed to the members of the legislature. This certificate reads as follows:

I, George C. Junkin, secretary of state, certify that the attached copy of the abstract of the votes cast at the last general election is practically a true copy of the votes as canvassed by the State Board of Canvassers, composed of George L. Sheldon, governor; L. G. Brian, state treasurer; E. M. Searle, ja., state auditor; H. M. Eaton, land commissioner, and George C. Junkin, secretary of state.

Attached to the certification was the printed abstract of the vote.

Mr. Ransom was accompanied on his call upon the secretary of state by Senator Tanner and Secretary Smith of the senate. His first demand was that the secretary should at once get out the certified copy of the vote.

"Why don't you make a demand for the original abstracts," said Mr. Junkin, "and let the courts settle the matter."

"Well, we want to canvass the vote before the case reaches the courts," replied Ransom.

From the altest moves the Omaha senator has made it is inferred that he plans to have the legislature canvass the certified copy of the abstracts of the vote and then put it up to Governor Shallenberger to appoint four judges to take the place of those appointed by Governor Sheldon. Should this be done then an invitation would be extended to the three old judges to sit with the four ne wones. Upon a refusal then it is supposed Ransom contemplates the appointees of Governor Shallenberger to be the supreme court.

There are some stumbling blocks in the way of this, however. For instance Judge Reese is chief justice of the supreme court by virtue of a paragraph in the constitution and there is no law provided for the selection of a chief justice save the provision in the constitution.

Ransom's action has led to considerable speculation about just what he intends to do and the possibilities are unlimited. For instance his new court could appoint a new clerk and office force. Then it would be up to the new clerk to get H. C. Lindsay out by mandamus or otherwise. The case would be brought naturally in the new court. Then would come the order ousting Lindsay and following that would come the National Guard to support the order.

But before all of this, however, Mr. Ransom must whip W. J. Taylor of Custer county and Mr. Bryan will have to sit idly by and see his legislature do the stunt.

Ransom's new stunt was brought about because he feared Mr. Junkin might be about sixty days in making up the certified copy of the vote. So that is why he first asked for the copy in double quick time, and upon being informed that the office force was limited, he offered to supply a half dozen clerks to do the work.

Lawyers say it will be legal for the secretary of state to collect a fee for doing the work at the request of the senate. This fee will have to be paid either by a direct appropriation or out of the private funds of those interested in making the court democratic.

SENATE HAS A SHORT SESSION

Nothing Done Except to Read Minutes of Previous Session.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—The senate held a fifteen-minute session today because of an oversight yesterday in not noting the hour to which the house adjourned. Members were obliged to stay in the city for the session, though there was nothing to do except to hear the journal read. They soon tired of this and an adjournment was taken to Monday at 2:30 p. m.

The secretary's record shows that Senator Henry of Colfax county yesterday on Senator Ransom's motion to appeal from the decision of the chair voted to sustain the chair.

SHELDON A VERY BUSY MAN

Closing Hours of Administration Were Made Strenuous by Friends.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Pale and somewhat haggard from the rush of work incidental to his relinquishment of the executive office, Governor George L. Sheldon, dressed in his evening clothes, wrote the final sentences in his farewell message to the legislature at 4:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

During the evening the governor had been torn from his work by admiring friends who took him to the executive mansion to become the host at a surprise party.

Shortly after midnight the governor returned to his office and left it again his work done, just as the office lights were dimmed by the break of day.

"I may revise the whole message when I come back," remarked the executive as he left for home to get some sleep before being called upon to participate in the inaugural ceremonies.

Governor Sheldon and Mrs. Sheldon have been much in evidence at social functions during their two years in the executive mansion and no executive family in Nebraska ever entertained more generously.

For this reason Governor Sheldon found much of his time taken up during the last week of his administration by his obligation to society. Many receptions and entertainments were given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon and they in turn gave several receptions to friends who had been kind to them. During the day the governor was besieged with belated applications for executive clemency; by applicants for positions; by interruptions from well wishing friends. This left him the early hours of the morning and the late hours of the night to write his message.

At noon today the governor and Mrs. Sheldon moved into quarters at the Lindell hotel, and their children went to Nehawka. In a short time the family will go to Mississippi, where the balance of the winter will be spent upon the plantation of the governor.

GOSSIP OF THE LEGISLATURE

Happenings Out of Session Which Are of Interest.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Before Governor Shallenberger appoints any members of the Omaha Board of Fire and Police Commissioners it will be up to John L. Kennedy and Robert Cowell to again resign. Upon their resignation filed with Governor Sheldon there is the word "Refused," written across the back. This will make it necessary for the two members to again resign to Governor Shallenberger. Should nothing happen to prevent, the governor might be able to reach this order of business by the first of the week, when he will officially announce his other appointees who have been named from time to time.

Ex-Governor Sheldon suggested today that the legislature should appropriate $300 or $500 to pay the expenses of the next inauguration and have the ceremonies in charge of a joint committee of the house and senate. Several of the members of the legislature, as well as state officers, will appreciate the suggestion; the former because they in several instances were unable to get into the ceremonies, while the expenses of the inaugural ceremonies are paid by the incoming state officers. Having paid the expenses, naturally the state officers expect some consideration at the hands of the management, while the legislators have an idea they, too, should receive at least sufficient consideration to be able to get in on the ground floor on such an occasion.

While it will be impossible to keep track of all the mistakes the Lincoln papers make in the legislative proceedings, out of respect to Nebraska's new governor, A. C. Shallenbeger, this correction is offered. The Lincoln Journal this morning announced that when Governor-elect Shallenberger arose to take the oath of office he handed to Chief Justice Reese his certificate of election but that Judge Reese refused to take it. Here is what really happened. Governor-elect Shallenberger gave to Chief Justice Reese his official bond about a week ago. The bond was approved by the chief justice but until yesterday he had no opportunity to return it to the governor, so that it could be filed. So when the two men met in front of the joint session Judge Reese handed the bond to the governor and the governor placed it in his pocket.

Secretary Whitten of the Commercial club has sent the following letter to members of the legislature:

For a numbe rof years past it has been customary to extend the privileges of our club to members of the legislature during each session. Therefore it affords me pleasure to enclose herewith complimentary ticket, good until March 31, 1909.

The club room sare located in the Fraternity building at the corner of N and Thirteenth streets, where you will find on file in the reading room curren magazines and daily newspapers of the principal cities. We serve regular luncheon, except Sundays, from 12 noon to 1:30 p. m. at a cost of 35 cents. We have a large billiard room, where a charge of 5 cents per one per hour is made to members and visitors to whom the privileges of the club are extended. We have a number of committee rooms that are available for meeting places, if so desired.

We trust you will avail yourself of the opportunity presented to meet our members and incidentally to provide yourself with a convenient and well-equipped club room for business and social purposes.

Senator Miller of Lancaster was watching the employes of the senate pile up the desks to get them out of the way for the inaugural ball and reception. He spoke about their antiquated design, and remarked, "Let us hope they break them."

Senator E. L. Myers of Rock county is an advocate of the establishment of experimental farms in the northern part of Nebraska. He recently bought nine plantations in Virginia in the vicinity of Appomattox, where he says the experimental farms have resulted in an increase of the yield of corn from eight bushels to an acre to as high as eighty-nine in some instances. Northern Nebraska is in especial need of experimentation, he thinks, because the farmers are not in a position to do it themselves and the soil is of a character that should be worked right or loss will ensue. At present Nebraska has one farm at Lincoln and one at North Platte. The latter, Mr. Myers says, has proved invaluable to the people of the western part of the state.

PREACHER DIES IN POORHOUSE

Becomes Pauper, Though He Had Property and Relatives to Care for Him.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Jan. 8.—Rev. Reuben Powell, 78 years of age, for 40 years minister in the United Brethern church in various cities of Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa, died at the poor house here today. He left the ministry several years ago on account of his age.

There was no need of his becoming a pauper because he had property and relatives who were anxious to take care of him.

TAFT AND KNOX PLAY GOLF

After Game They Spend Some Time Consulting on Cabinet Appointments.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 8.—The president-elect, with his secretary of state, Mr. Knox, played a game of golf, and spent the remainder of the day in conference on the make-up of the Taft cabinet. No political callers came today.

Justified in Killing Stepfather.

ANNISTON, Ala., Jan. 8.—The case of Claude Fressely, aged 11 years, who yesterday shot and killed his stepfather, Dave Christopher, for beating the boy's mother, today resulted in a decision by the coroner of justifiable homocide.

We like our friends to find pleasant reading in the papers.
