Haverhill Club Censured. National Commission Finds Its Conduct Regarding McInnis Irregular. BELONGS TO PHILADELPHIA CLUB. Further Interpretation of Rules Regarding Contracts and Reservations--Toledo Club. CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 8.--Censure for the Haverhill club is included in a decision by the National Base Ball commission awarding player John McInnis to the Philadelphia American league club. Haverhill claimed the player because of a clause placed in his receipt for pay in full, and Philadelphia claimed that when he was signed on August 6, 1908, he was not under contract with the New England club. In the course of the testimony it developed that McInnis played with Haverhill part of the time to help them out. Attention is called to the rules governing reservations, and the commission continues: If a player accepts terms, a contract must be signed by him, and if he refuses to sign said contract at the end of ten days he shall be ineligible to play with the club he has accepted terms with, or any other club in organized base ball. Therefore, all that it was necessary for Haverhill to do to establish its right and title to the services of this player was, when he refused to enter into a contract as having accepted terms, to notify the regularly constituted authorities and place this player on the ineligible list. This they did not do, but played fast and loose with the rules by organized base ball by playing a player who should have been ineligible and allow him five days in the week to be an organized player and one day in the week to play with independent clubs. The action of the Haverhill club clearly makes this player a free agent in organized base ball, and therefore the Philadelphia American league club was clearly within its rights when it signed this player to a regular contract on August 6, 1908. The Toledo club of the American association, in another decision, loses its right to player Ward Miller, who had been drafted by the Chicago Nationals after he had been purchased from Wausau by Toledo, the fact that he failed to report under the purchase prior to the drafting season making him subject to draft. The Wausau club, however, must repay to Toledo the $500 given for the player, for drafting whom Chicago must pay the usual price. EVENTS ON THE RUNNING TRACKS. DENVER, Colo., Jan. 8.--The following telegram was received today by the sporting editor of the Denver Times from James Johnson in response to a message asking the former champion under what condition he would re-enter the ring: "I do not think of re-entering the ring at present under any conditions." For the present, at least, this apparently disposes of the reported offer of $50,000 for a fight between Johnson and Jeffries. Indoor Base Ball Tonight. At the Theaters. "The Gambler of the West" at the Krug. A play of "western" life, with the warm and smoky atmosphere of a 44 revolver, gamblers' tables, treacherous redskins and a background of prairie fire, white women, tortured by Indians and witted children, stolen and brought up in the circle of the squaw's campfire, is holding forth at the Krug for the rest of the week. "The Gambler of the West" is the kind of stage story that holds the interest of the audience till the last villain is shot and the sweet heroine is safely clasped in the arms of her destined husband. And the successive steps to such blissful and all-encircling repose are not tame, either, for enough powder is exploded to make a lively Fourth of July in a small town, and the hair-breath escapes, thrilling rescues and numerous knife and gun plays are so frequent that only an active and alert gallery can keep score. Eight scores are employed to present the piece and the company is large enough to assume the many types of character that one might have found in a western town before the days of magistrates and conscientious historians. Well balanced with comedy and pathos, the play proves quite entertaining and the source of sufficient amusement to last till another strenuous "mele" visits the Krug. The engagement continues till after Saturday, with the usual Saturday matinee. CAMPS ON TRAIL OF DIVORCE Fort Dodge Man Seeks License to Wed Another Two Days After Separation. Charles E. Furray of the marriage license department was forced to turn down one of his applicants seeking matrimonial bliss yesterday afternoon when Chester A. Blackman of Fort Dodge applied for a license for himself and Miss Mary Peterson. Blackman had been married before, was not drawn up three years ago this month, when he was in Centerville suffering with a broken foot. Dredge, who is a conductor on the Burlington system, received word from his father telling him of the action taken by his wife and having been granted a divorce. He did not bother about investigating until within a few days ago, when he was once more pierced by Cupid's dart, thereby causing the hot foot to Omaha. Dredge's home is in Shenandoah, where his parents are now living. He is 20 years of age and was married five years ago in Omaha. He would not disclose his matrimonial plans.

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS. The combination of healthful vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, makes it an especially desirable and effective remedy in the treatment of sores and ulcers of every kind. Since an impure condition of the blood is responsible for the trouble, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a successful cure; and it should be a medicine that not only cleanses the circulation, but one that at the same time restores the blood to its normal, rich, nutritive condition. S. S. S. is just such a remedy. It is made entirely of healing, cleansing vegetable properties, extracted from nature's roots, herbs and barks of the forest and fields. It has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity in the blood. When S. S. S. has purified the circulation, and strengthened and enriched it, sores and ulcers heal readily and surely, because they are no longer fed and kept open by a continual discharge into them of irritating disease-laden matter from the blood. S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, nourishing blood and makes a permanent and lasting cure.
