

Children and Pimples

Seem to Go Together, and Yet Few Parents Fully Appreciate the Warning.

At the age of puberty most children are afflicted with pimples and many with serious skin eruptions.

At this particular period in a child's existence nature is going through a transition which is of vital importance to the child and the parent.

Pimples on the face of a child removed by Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

The organs of the child all become larger. The skin begins to grow hair, the glands and cells of the skin apparently become stronger and larger.

Mothers should be especially vigilant during this time. Our grandmothers gave us salubrious, safe, natural, cream of tartar and sulphur every spring.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers are prepared after the most modern method of conveying the full strength of Calcium Sulphide to the blood.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers should be in every household, and used by the parent for the benefit of the child.

Go to your druggist. Ask his opinion of Calcium Sulphide as the Stuart process presents it to the blood.

UP TO NEW GOVERNOR NOW

Kennedy and Cowell Resign Again and It's Shallenberger's Move.

SHELDON HAD REJECTED THEM

Shallenberger Hoped Police Commissioners Would Not Act Until Legislature Settled Flight of How to Choose.

John L. Kennedy and Robert Cowell, republican members of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners for Omaha, have sent their resignations to Governor Shallenberger.

Both these men sent their resignations to Governor Sheldon months ago, but the governor simply marked across the front of the resignations, "received, but not accepted."

The present session of the legislature expects to adopt a new plan for the selection of the members of the fire and police boards for both Omaha and South Omaha.

The difficulty is in deciding whether the method will be appointed by the mayor or election by the people.

Governor Shallenberger hoped to keep out of the scrap by quietly sending word to the members of the board asking them not to send in their resignations.

The present law governing the fire and police boards will require that the resignations be accepted by the legislature.

Palmitist Was Able to Charm a Few Credulous Women of Omaha.

If "Count" Louis Hammon, alias "Cheiro" is a fraud or if, as charged, he swindled two women in a stock-trading deal, are all the lovely fortunes which he predicted for credulous Omaha people therefore false?

Many women who have had their palms read by the plausible Mr. Cheiro are in the depths of despair since they read the cable dispatch saying a warrant has been issued for the arrest of the palmitist.

"But he was simply wonderful at reading character, don't you know. Why he knew down to the slightest detail after just looking at my hand for thirty seconds."

Somewhat curiously or perhaps not so curiously either, all the women—and there are a good many—who traveled from here to Chicago or New York to consult Cheiro, were given "strong" characters in his readings.

"Cheiro" is the author of several books on palmistry, which have had a large sale among the credulous, many of whom are ignorant of the fact—among other facts—that Cheiro's very name shows him to be an adept at stagey effects.

NEW TAX FOR CORPORATIONS

Occupation Levy on Street Railway and Telephones.

AWAITS SUPREME COURT RULING

Will be Introduced in Council When Decision on Case at Lincoln is Handed Down as a Guide.

City Attorney Burnham has prepared an ordinance providing for an occupation tax of from 2 to 3 per cent on the street railway company and the telephone companies of Omaha.

The introduction of this ordinance is dependent upon the decision of the supreme court in a suit brought by the city of Lincoln to collect an occupation tax from the Lincoln Traction company.

Attorneys for the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company and for the Nebraska Telephone company of Omaha appeared as friends of the court and assisted the local company in fighting the case.

City Attorney Burnham has interested himself in the case to the extent that to parties in Lincoln he said if the city won the case he would introduce such an ordinance in the Omaha city council and in fact had the ordinance already drawn.

In the argument before the supreme court Judge Stewart, city attorney of Lincoln, in answer to the statement by John L. Webster, counsel for the Omaha street railway company, that his company could not afford to pay the tax, gave an interesting comparison of the two companies in Omaha and Lincoln.

Comparison of Values. The value of the Lincoln Traction company was placed by the State Railway commission at $1,500,000 and this was based on thirty-six miles of track, the Omaha company, he stated, had 108 miles of track and it was stocked and bonded for a valuation of $2,000,000 in round numbers.

The Omaha company, he said, is only three times as large or as valuable as the Lincoln company, yet it is paying dividends on a valuation nearly twenty-six times as large.

"The proposed ordinance is simply in a rough draft and we are not as yet certain just what its provisions will be or just how much the tax will be," said City Attorney Burnham.

A new jobbing house will be added Monday morning to the long list of thriving wholesale houses in Omaha. The Smith-Kort company will then open its doors at 1113 Harney street, where the process of installing stock has been going on quietly for some days.

The company is not exactly removing here from St. Joseph, Mo., although the members of the firm have been in business there and retain connection with St. Joseph business houses.

The institution of the company, which will deal in clothing and furnishings, has been accomplished with very little blowing of trumpets and beating of drums, general knowledge of the enterprise having been a really minus quantity.

BISHOP STATES HIS SIDE

Rev. W. M. Williams Says an Assistant Was Responsible for Discrepancy.

Rev. W. M. Williams, bishop of the African-American church, who was arrested on suspicion of collecting funds fraudulently, and has appealed his case to the district court, has been vindicated so far as his "people" are concerned by a committee that investigated his affairs.

The committee was composed of Mrs. Myrtle Foster, W. M. Jefferson and Joseph Harris, all of South Omaha. Bishop Williams is collecting funds for the support of a home for colored orphans at 312 Railroad avenue, South Omaha.

"We found," said Deacon Jefferson, "that the only discrepancy in Bishop Williams' affairs was that certain donations had been raised in amount on the books, so as to make it appear that more money had been collected. The purpose of this was to encourage other people to make liberal contributions. But the committee found that even these discrepancies were not made by Bishop Williams. Indeed, they were made while the bishop was out of the city by one of his solicitors."

"That is all true," said the bishop. "I was called to Kansas City to bury my sister, who died there, and a solicitor, without any evil intention, altered these accounts."

The bishop gave the name of the solicitor. "I have $100 on deposit with the Metropolitan Insurance company—money that I have collected for this home. My record is open to the public. I have done no wrong and shall do none. I will go right on with my work."

Both the bishop and his deacon said that St. Peter's Mission, the name of the home at 312 Railroad avenue, South Omaha, was being suitably furnished and would be conducted for poor colored orphans.

The building was rented from O'Neil Bros., real estate dealers of South Omaha, and the bishop held his first rent receipt.

CRANE ONCE A METHODIST

Clergyman in Limelight at Worcester, Mass., at One Time Incumbent of Local First Church.

Rev. Frank Crane, the clergyman whose unexplained resignation of his pulpit in the First Congregational church at Worcester, Mass., has started his parishioners, was pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Omaha from 1892 to 1894.

Mr. Crane recently delivered three lectures at the University of Chicago, entitled, "A Defense of Heresy," and while these were not so half-raising as the title might indicate, they are thought to have played a part in bringing about his resignation, which his letter to the Worcester deacons does not make clear.

Mr. Crane, who was well thought of in Omaha, came here from some small town in Illinois and left to go to the Centenary church in Chicago. He held another Methodist pulpit in Chicago and then went to Worcester, also to a Methodist church. It was there, three years ago that he abandoned Methodism for the Congregational discipline.

BLOOM RUN DOWN AT LAST

Versatile Jewelry Agent Arrested in Duluth by Postoffice Inspector.

WILL RETURN TO THIS CITY

Charged with Mulcting Local Business Firms and Using the Mails for Fraudulent Purposes.

M. Bloom, alias M. O. Brills, Allen & Allen, J. E. Converse and several other aliases, was arrested Tuesday at Duluth by Postoffice Inspector Frayser, formerly of Omaha, but now of Kansas City, under an indictment for using the United States mails for purposes of fraud.

Bloom was formerly a jewelry traveling salesman and in recent years has been plying his knowledge of the jewelry business to get consignments of jewelry from firms in various sections of the country on the ground that he was just opening out an establishment. He was suave and a smooth talker and succeeded in getting from the jewelry firm of C. A. Williams & Co., 149 Howard street, a valuable consignment of goods and secured another consignment from the Byrne-Hammer Dry Goods company.

These later consignments were for a store Bloom proposed to open in Columbus, Neb. He represented himself as an agent of the M. Bloom jewelry establishment of Tacoma, Wash., and announced that he was about starting a branch house for that firm. He was a good dresser and wore several Masonic charms and thus succeeded in ingratiating himself with not only the Omaha firms, but other firms throughout the country, and was doing a thriving business. He would get the consignment of goods and it is said, dispose of them and then disappear.

Bloom was indicted at the last term of the federal grand jury in Omaha and the postoffice inspectors have been on his trail since. Inspector Frayser got a line on him from Kansas City several days ago and finally located him in Duluth, where he arrested Bloom. He is held in jail here under $500 bonds, and if the bill is secured within the next few days he will be brought to Omaha to await trial in the United States district court.

BIRTH OF CHILD TRAGEDY

Baby Born Out of Wedlock at County Hospital Has Insane Mother and Epileptic Father.

A baby boy was born to a young woman named Myrtle Hermann at the County Hospital Wednesday. The mother has been an inmate of the hospital on several occasions being afflicted with a feeble mind and also paralysis. The father, according to the mother, is William Facott, who is subject to epilepsy, and was in the hospital with tuberculosis of the knee, the leg being amputated while there. The child, according to the superintendent of the hospital, is quite normal.

Whether the mother will be allowed to keep the child is a question. It does not appear that she will be able to give it a mother's care and love in view of her unfortunate condition, and the future of the child looks far from bright in the circumstances.
