RIVAL WRESTLERS TO MEET

Joe Schwager and Jack Kinney Matched for First Time.

For the first time Joe Schwager of Calhoun and Jack Kinney of Omaha will have a chance to determine which is the better wrestler at the Auditorium Friday night.

They are to meet in the preliminaries to the Lundin-Westergaard match.

Schwager, who is a student at the University of Nebraska, and Kinney, a machanic at the Union Pacific shops, both have never had the opportunity. Each believes in his own superiority and each has been a bit diffident about taking the lead in making a match. They have been brought together for this occasion by Manager Gillan of the Auditorium and the result is expected to be almost, if not quite, interesting as that of the main match of the evening. Both young men are corking good wrestlers and both have been several times at the Auditorium pitted against other men. Both have made good showings against Ed Morgan.

Lundin and Westergaard are in excellent trim for their match. Each is peculiarly anxious to win for the winter is destined to go up against De Rouen, the great French invincible, who will witness Friday night's struggle, should the winners of the Lundin-Westergaard match have the extreme good fortune to beat De Rouen, then he would have to face the most recent of the many Terrible Turks, who has been mowing 'em down as fast as he came to them. So a great deal depends on the outcome of the present match.

A smile of satisfaction came over the face of Raoul de Rouen, the big French wrestler who has never lost a fall, as he walked into the office. Manager Gillan at the Auditorium and saw there hanging the picture of the divine Sarah Bernhardt. He cannot speak a word of English, but he expressed his gratification in his native tongue to George Kennedy, who is handling him on his western trip.

The Frenchman and his manager have come over from Chicago to witness the Westergaard-Lundin match. The Auditorium Friday night and incidentally to challenge the winners of the main match, the big frogger is a giant and hopes to beat all the aspirants for championship honors, and thus compel Frank Gotch to give him a match.

Lundin also has arrived. He expects to find Westergaard a stiff proposition, said Lundin Thursday morning at the Henahaw, where he, Kennedy and Raoul de Rouen are staying. "He is a good man, and it will be a bout worth seeing. I should imagine. Of the outcome I am not afraid, however. Raoul here would be really a tougher proposition," added Lundin, pointing to a picture of the champion who is large enough to be a "terrible Turk."

Free from mixture, undiluted, clear, clean, genuine.

REMINIS. FOR STOVE LEAGUE

Mention of Dad Roach Pitches Veterans Headline Into Antiquity.

ANDY FRICK GETS THE FLOOR

Tells a Good One About Old Chris, His Favorite, and McGinnis of the Famous St. Louis Browns.

Old "Dad" Roach, one of Dick Cooley's Topleka pitchers, his fair to become an Omaha in the season. Dad is 45 years of age. Like Farmer Burns, he has the faculty of remaining tied to that milopost, while tempo keeps right on tugging.

Dad has played ball ever since his mamma took off his dresses and he knows the game from every conceivable standpoint. He has played every player of note since Al Spalding, the Wright brothers and Cal McVey were stars in the game. That is just the reason why he is going to be an idol in Omaha. Omaha perhaps has more of the real old-time fans than any other western city. Here you can find, every day in the season, on Vinton street park, men who have been reared in the bleachers and grandstands. For instance, there is Dad Wallace and there is Andy Frick, Jim English and Bob Hunter, to say nothing of Charley Lane, the youngest old man in town. These are the sort of men you have to fight to keep out of a ball park.

Dad Wallace has instituted a movement to give Dad Roach a great ovation on his first appearance in Omaha.

"We want to make the old man feel at home from the jump-off," says the veteran conductor on the Union Pacific. "We will give him such a send-off out there at that old park as will make him think he is back in the days of the '70s twirling on his old home diamond."

Each of these old-timers has his favorite ball player. Dad Wallace is getting back in the game and there are scores of new bowlers. Yesterday, on the Association always, there was an exhibition bunch of small ball shooters, and seven up and nine pins were the games for several hours.

These games were very popular one time, but have been neglected, nearly everybody playing tennis instead. The management has been thinking of them for some time, and at ninepins, and same is now held by Hulsbosk, with E. B. B.

The Palatka are still in the ring, to the Omaha sorrow, for they captured two titles, with Strider and McGinnis, the old-time alley. The new pins seemed to have dinged Coagwell, for he missed everything in sight and out of sight, with a few splits thrown in, his score looks somewhat shattered. Tonight, Chancellors against Metz Bros.

PRESIDENT TAKES LONG RIDE

Executive Makes Trip of Ninety-Eight Miles on Horseback.

FOUR RELAYS OF ANIMALS USED

Purpose of Journey is to Demonstrate that Physical Tests for Army Officers are Not Unreasonable.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—President Roosevelt rode ninety-eight miles on horseback today, when he dismantled tonight at the White House door, more than seventeen hours after having departed therefrom, he did not show any marked signs of weariness.

The object of his long day in the saddle, he explained to a representative of the Associated Press after his return, was to prove to the critics who have found fault with the recent order requiring all army and navy officers to take a physical test, that if a president, who is not in training, can ride ninety miles plus in one day without being laid up in bed thereby, it should not be too much to ask the men who are supposed to be in the best physical training all the time to ride ninety miles in three days.

Mounting his faithful rider and jumper, Roosevelt, in front of the White House door at 3:30 o'clock this morning, he dismounted at the same place at 8:40 o'clock tonight. The journey was to Warrenton, Va., and back.

"And Virginia roads in the winter time," said the president, "are not usually in the best condition."
