The Story of Nebraska

The Omaha Bee has planned to publish "The Story of Nebraska," not the story of the prairie schooner, the sod house, the trapper or the fur trader, but of prosperous, progressive, busy, up-to-the-minute Nebraska. Many of the new and some of the older settled counties have been making progress so quietly that the world at large is not aware of their achievements.

Our object is to bring all loyal and progressive citizens into closer touch in the commercial and social relations, and to work for the development of the natural resources of the state, to foster and build up manufacturing industries, and by every consistent effort encourage the employment of skilled labor and improve the conditions of the laboring classes. The story will give only a glimpse, a mere outline. The reader will be shown among the print just enough to give him a general idea of the state. Its opportunities to the dairyman, and its openings to the home maker. The free rural mail box and the telephone pole are crowding the frontier. The wolf and the wilderness have retreated. If during her early history Nebraska has surprised her own people, surely a brighter future awaits them.

There will be a little about the towns and cities, just now somewhat misunderstood and misjudged, and something about the rural districts, the farm and the stock ranch. Here and there will be found a few figures, not many, just a few, as measurements and for the information of those who enjoy such things.

It will tell the achievements of a people, who in less than half a century have wrought ont of a boundless prairie a progressive, productive state. It will give in brief the new life in the new country, the swift passing of events, the possibilities of advancement and pleasure. These articles will be fully illustrated and will appear in the Sunday Bee from week to week.

GLADNESS FOR BALD HEADS

False Evidence of Seeming Old Age Can Be Banished.

GRAY HAIR YIELDS TO Q-BAN.

Omaha Interested in Dr. Nott's Southern Discovery Which Is the National Leader in Sure Helps to Hair Culture.

If there was any restorative on earth which would grow a new crop of hair on a head in which the capillary cells are closed and the roots dead, John D. Rockefeller would doubtless have found out all about it long ago. Real hair always has the call over a wig. Dr. Nott in his Q-ban Hair Restorer went further in research and has attained greater success in preventing the spread of baldness than any one who ever prosecuted scientific studies along that line. He found that 10 per cent of baldness can never be cured, but there is always hope for the other 90 per cent. It is among this big class-those bothered with dandruff, se-orrheal eczema, cracking, splitting, and failing hair-that Dr. Nott is looked upon as one of the greatest phlianthropists of the age. This Q-ban Hair Restorer possesses the narvelous power of restoring to old, gray and faded hair the actual color and luxurant gloss of youth. By its use one looking prematurely old can banish the false evidence of seemingly old age.

The Hessig-Ellis Drug Co. of Memphis, Tenn., has secured the right to all the standard Dr. Nott formulas. These Tennesseans in their wide-awake way of spreading the news of benefits which the use of the Hair Restorer brings to users, have made a really wonderful offer.

Dr. Nott's Q-ban Hair Restorer can be had at Myers-Dillon Drug Co. drug store. Ask them how to get one bottle free, and If a full course of three bottles does not bring about guaranteed results-gray to natural color-you can get all your money back.
