ASHLAND, Neb., Jan. 17 .- (Special.)has proven successful beyond all expectato ten being nightly lodged in the local fail. It had been customary to turn them loose every morning, allowing them to beg from doer to door for breakfast. Now, however, the tramps are provided with accommodations in the jail, which is heated, but are given no food or water and are not released until the afternoon following the night of their incarceration. They are then marched to the city limits and told to keep moving. Within two days after this rule was put in effect tramps gave the place a wide berth, and in the last three weeks there has not been

West Point Farmers' Institute. WEST POINT, Neb., Jan. 17 .- (Special.)-The farmers' institute of Cuming county just closed has been successful, both financially and in the matter of attendance and interest shown, in spite of the inclement weather. Great interest and enthusiasm was shown by both farmers and townspeople, who vied with each other in making the first organized exhibition a success. Thursday afternoon the program was opened by Prof. E. W. Hunt of Lincoln in an address. "Conservation and Increase of Fertility of the Soil," followed by Prof. Arnold Martin of DuBols, Neb., on "Growing, Care and Selection of Seed Corn." In the evening the subjects were: "Less Acres and Better Farming," by Prof. Martin, and "Economy In the Care of Farm Animals," by Prof. Hunt. Friday the program was changed to include "Breeding Draft Horses for the Farm and for Market," by Prof. Andrew Elliott of Galt. Ontario. Miss. Gertrude Rowan of Lincoln lectured on "Suggestions to Cooks About Cooking" and gave a demonstration of modern cooking methods. A horse judging demonstration was afterwards given by Prof. Elliott. The closing lectures of the institute were "The Value of Studying Domestic Science," by Miss Rowan, and an address by Prof. Elliott entitled "The Soil, the Heritage of Man." C. Y. Thomas C. Shotwell of New York Save He Has Already Acquired $18,000,000 of Central Stock.

"The Union Pacific already owns $18. and Harriman is said to have options on arge blocks in the street."

This statement was made by Thomas C. Shotwell of New York, a recognized autherity and writer on railroad affairs. Mr. Shotwell has other things to say on the subject of Harriman and the New York Central which seem to put a new light on the statement of President Brown a few days ago that he had never seen Mr. Harriman presiding as chairman of the Central's board of directors, Mr. Brown made this statement in response to a story published in The Bee to the effect that Harriman had secured control of the Central. The new light is that Harrimain has not yet completed the matter of securing control of the New York Central, only having secured thus far $18,000,000 of the stock. According to Mr. Shotwell, the process is going on, but is near completion, and when completed Harriman will make of the Centrai a holding company for his other interests.

What Shotwell Says. Under a New York date line Mr. Shotwell writes this story to the Chicago Examiner of Sunday:

New York Central is to be the holding company for all the Harriman system, according to reports in Wall street today. This makes a holding company as pianned by Harriman some months ago unnecessary. Details of the plan, which practically amounts to a merger of Union Pacific with the other Harriman companies, are being worked out.

The matter has gone so far, it was said today, that in the plans for the new Grand Central station quarters are being provided for Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and all the other Harriman offices. The Equitable Life building, in which the Harriman railroads now have their offices, at 139 Broadway is to be torn down in about two years way, is to be torn down in about two years o make place for the largest skyscraper in world and it is expected that Harriman by that time be the official operating d of the greatest transcontinental sysbetween the Harriman lines

DOBBS. THE WIZARD, COMING Will Talk at the Ad Club Banque Tuesday Evening, January

Nineteen. The Omaha Ad club has secured a notable speaker for the first dinner of the year, which will be held at Hanson's cafe banquet room next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m., in the person of Samuel C. Dobbs, general sales agent and publicity promoter of the Coca Cola company, Atlanta, Ga., whose address is entitled "A Message from the South. The history of Mr. Dobbs' successful business career reads like a romance. In a recent issue of Printer's Ink, in leading up to an article on his achievements, it says: "One night, back in the early '80s, a Georgia farm boy went into the village to see about storing some cotton, and did an unaccountable thing for a boy living on a southern farm. He started home again without ever going to the postoffice. He never thought of it until half way on his return journey. Then he remembered and went back. "It was late. The postoffice had closed But the postmaster was there, and handed out a letter addressed to the boy's father The boy gave it to his mother when he got home. She opened it, read it, and cried. The boy's father came in, read the letter, and said, "Well, he'll have to catch that 4 o'clock train in the morning; that's

"This letter stated that there was a joi waiting for the boy at Candler's drub store in Atlanta, and that it would be held until Table d'Hote Dinner 8 o'clock Wednesday morning-but no longer. This was Tuesday night. The letmeeting to 4 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon. William C. Snyder, aged 77 years, was ter had been lying in the postoffice nearly Dobbs, today general sales manager of the Coca Cola ompany, Atlanta, and his boss was Asa the leading men in the Georgia metropolis At that time Mr. Candler owned one retail drug store, and was ambitiously trying to ecome a manufacturing pharmacist. Young Dobbs went to work for him and soon became interested in his plans-"

These two men are now the managers and owners of the Coca Cola company, whose product is known in every village and hamlet in the United States, Canada and Cuba, and whose advertising appropriation yearly runs into six figures. Mr Candler, having other extensive interests, the reins of this company are almost entirely in the hands of Mr. Dobbs.

SECRET REVEALED

Said to Have Benefited and Cured Hundreds of Chronic Dyspeptics-

It is seldom that a great specialist will give away the secrets of his profession, but occasionally we find one who is lib eral. A noted medical man says: Always pre-of syrup of ginger, one ounces compound essence cardiol and two ounces essence of pepsin. Shake well and take one or two teaspoonfuls after each meal; or before, to excite the appetite, if necessary. For costiveness, a dose at night will do much good. Let children who have stomachache take this freely. Adults can find nothing that will do so much permanent good and at the same time give prompt relief from distress.
