

KENNARD BUYS PERRINE LOTS

Wholesale Glass and Paint House Now Owns Its Entire Home.

PART OF FOLSOM HOLDINGS

Largest Piece of Property Held by Mrs. Francis Cleveland and Her Mother Passes Into Hands of Omaha.

When F. J. Kennard bought Monday for $11,000 the lot on which his building stands at Fifteenth and Davenport streets from Mrs. Emma P. Perrine, the largest remaining piece of property held by Mrs. Francis Cleveland and her mother, Mrs. Folsom-Perrine, passed into the hands of an Omaha.

Mrs. Cleveland, widow of the late ex-president, Grover Cleveland, yet owns half a lot of Omaha business property between Fifteenth and Sixteenth on Cumings street, and Mrs. Perrine has a lot and building at Twenty-first and Cumings streets, under lease to the Home Investment company, which will probably be sold to the parties holding the lease within a short time. The half lot held by Mrs. Cleveland was sold a short time ago by the Byron Reed company, which for years has represented the wife of the ex-president in Omaha, but it later reverted to her. Mr. Kennard had a lease on the lots at Fifteenth and Davenport streets and erected a building on them costing more than $10,000, which has been occupied for some time by his paint and glass house. When the lease expired this year he decided to buy the property and secured it for $11,000. The building and lots are said to be worth more than $25,000.

President Held Property Here. The passing of the Cleveland-Folsom-Perrine holdings in Omaha recalls a number of prominent people who have owned Omaha property and as a result of their holdings several estates worth millions of dollars have been probated in Douglas county by the Byron Reed company, which has admirably represented the owners and later the heirs.

Garret P. Hobart, the vice president of the United States and William McKinley as president, owned a few lots at Fifteenth and William streets. The Byron Reed Company sold the lots after the death of the vice president and in order to give title, the estate was probated in Omaha. It represented $12,000,000 and $15,000,000 and was widely distributed by the will of the millionaire vice president.

Rutherford B. Hayes, president of the United States in the early '80s, was quite an extensive owner of Omaha property, holding some of the valuable business sites on Sixteenth street, long before they were valuable. Mr. Hayes was represented by the late Byron Reed.

Marvin Barrett Dies. The company has just received word of the death of Marvin Barrett of Putnam, Conn., who not only owns a large tract of valuable Douglas county farm land, but some city property including the building and lots occupied by the Underland Barber Supply house at 107 Douglas street. It is likely that the will of the late Mr. Barrett, who was never in Omaha himself, will be probated in Douglas county.

Many other distinguished people, men in high position in political life of America and England, have held or do hold property in Omaha. Sir Horace Plunkett, M. P., being one of the largest holders.

At latest reports John D. Rockefeller, owned a little spot of ground on the north side, covered with red oil cans, but Andrew Carnegie does not hold even a library site in the city.

LOBECK WANTS NO BOARD. Comptroller Says Solve Problem by Shifting Power to Mayor and Council.

City Comptroller Lobeck would pour oil on the troubled waters stirred up by the Jacks and the Jims over the method of securing members of the fire and police board and proposes that the board be done away with and the mayor and the city council be empowered to attend to the duties which the board has had. The Jims a week ago passed strong resolutions favoring an appointive board, the power to appoint being vested in the mayor, and the Jacks Saturday night adopted resolutions declaring in favor of an elective board.

The comptroller says more cities have not fire and police boards than have not. Further, he says, that the commissions are paid a sufficient salary to attend to the extra duties, intimating that some of the members of the present council are in no danger of breaking down under the strain of official duties.

"If we should declare sand to be sand, the Jacks the next night would pass resolutions declaring sand to be sugar," said Tom Flynn, president of the Jims, when he learned of the stand for an elective board taken by the other wing of the local democracy.

PLOW COMPANY SECURES ROOM. New Implement House Leases Warehouse Space of Nebraska Transfer Company.

Contracts have been made by the Peru Plow company with the Nebraska Transfer company which will give the plow company coming to Omaha from Council Bluffs warehouse room and the company will secure a sample room for its entire line in the business district.

The Nebraska Transfer company has large warehouse for storage, recently adding to the capacity by many hundred square feet of floor space. This in the crowded condition of the wholesale districts of Omaha the transfer company is able to lease a large amount of space for the stock of the new plow company, which gives them at once a warehouse with excellent truckage facilities.
