WE NOW TAKE A HAND IN THE Clothing War

In addition to the extraordinary suit values already offered for $10.00, we add 200 suits. These suits are as fine as any hand-tailored garment to be found. At the many so-called bargain sales! And even at the present dilapidated condition of their picked over stocks they would not sell such suits for less than $20.00, if they had any as nobby as them left. Listen to what kind of suits they are and then try to equal them even for the so-called one-half price! They are Velours, the goods none of them can show you. They are all wool, heavy weight, come in the newest patterns, are made up fancy and extra well lined. Made to measure by a tailor, a suit of such material and trimming and finish like these would be a snap at $35.00. They certainly have that rich merchant tailor look to them. Sale price of the above suits along with others made of pure worsted:

P. S.—You can look at these suits in our west window, and if you don't think they are as represented, you are not asked to purchase.

For the real built on honor shoes for misses and children—there is no store in the city to compare with the Drexel. These particular shoes are a specialty with us and we take pains in the fitting. Bear in mind when we tell you of these shoes that they are not ordinary shoes, but genuine well-soled, very flexible; no wrinkles in the lining to tear the hose or cause discomfort. of good teeth, is an easy effort to keep them healthy. Most people who begin at the proper time to give their teeth the care that is due them, find it an easy and pleasant task, because there is an absence of annoyances that accompany bad teeth. The operations that my patients receive give such satisfaction that they want to return when their teeth are in need of experienced attention.

The suggestions that we will give you about your teeth will be well worth your call.

LEXINGTON MAN BUYS HERE

G. B. Darr invests in Omaha Real Estate, Spending Forty-Five Thousand Dollars.

G. B. Darr, retired banker and capitalist of Lexington, has joined the ranks of the many business men over the state of Nebraska who are investing surplus capital in Omaha business and residence property.

Through Latham Davis, real estate dealer, Mr. Darr bought Wednesday the building between Douglas and Dodge streets on Tenth street from Martha Ish for $45,000. The building is 60x132 and was erected last fall for the Creamery Package Manufacturing company, which took a ten-year lease on the property. It is three stories and a high basement, of fire-proof construction and has truckage facilities.

The Creamery Package Manufacturing company occupied the building at Twelfth and Jones streets, which was sold to the Ten Biscuit company for the permanent home of the big cracker factory. In looking around for the best building possible on truckage, the company was unable to find anything desirable and the Ish interests decided to build for them. Mr. Darr bought the property purely as an investment, paying cash and taking the lease secured by Martha Ish.

With the $45,000 invested by Mr. Darr in Omaha property, the holdings in Omaha of bankers and a prominent miller of Lexington, are said to aggregate $250,000. With the Darr investment almost $100,000 has been invested in Omaha within the last four months by people of Lexington who have capital to place in safe investments.

One is that publicity through newspapers cultivates trade just where you want it.

Another is that it gets at the consumer with his daily bread—that is, with the news of the day, which shares his attention at the breakfast table.

WIFE "SUITED ME"—DIVORCE!

Denver Man Thus Writes, Asking if Woman Got Decree.

WRONG VERB WORRIES OFFICIALS

They Cannot Easily See Why Wife Who "Sued" Her Husband Should Be Thus Satisfied.

Suit, a transitive verb, meaning, according to Webster, "to accord with, to please, to cloth or garb."

But Anton J. Lieberhall of Denver had none of these meanings in mind when he wrote a letter, received Wednesday at the office of the district clerk.

"My wife 'sued' me," writes Lieberhall, "and I want to know if she got a divorce."

Portwith there was wrangling of brows in the office and much puzzling over the letter. Several of the feminine employees indignantly a good look and tidy housekeeper who welcomed her husband every evening with a radiant smile and a good dinner.

A masculine version was that Mrs. Lieberhall insisted on making her husband's clothes, but this was thrown out of court on the ground that Lieberhall would have sought the divorce in this event.

The records were looked up and the letter gone over again. It thus became plain that Lieberhall meant that his wife had sued him, the defendant having manufactured a verb of his own, saying "sued" just as many times the verb "lawing" is heard.

The facts in the case show that Mrs. Lieberhall lost the case by default, not having appeared to prosecute when the suit was called.

Litigation between W. K. Koller and his former wife, Clara L. Koller, is at an end, the former having settled up with alimony due.

Mrs. Koller first got $500 temporary and then $700 permanent alimony. Koller was reluctant to let go and Mrs. Koller served attachments on him at various times. Since she won her divorce last July Koller has married again. Both have made several essays in matrimony.

Uncle Remus' Memorial.

The Uncle Remus Memorial association has been organized to erect a suitable memorial to the late Joel Chandler Harris. The proposed site is the purchase of Snap Road Farm, at Atlanta, and the preservation of his home. The sign of the Web's Head. It is further planned to convert the front yard into a park and erect on the lawn a memorial fountain with a frieze containing all of the "Uncle Remus" animals and a statue of Mr. Harris.

WOMEN BOYS SING FOR ITALY

Choir Will Give Concert at First Methodist to Help Earthquake Sufferers.

To help the Methodist people and enable the organizations of that church in Italy and Sicily to extend relief to hundreds of orphaned and widowed who are walking the streets without food and shelter, bearing the grief of losing husbands, fathers and mothers, the Roney choir of Chicago will sing at the First Methodist church Friday evening. The admission to the concert will be free and a silver offering will be taken at the close.

The assistance of the choir was secured by Dr. Frank L. Loveland, pastor of the church, who is a long time friend of Mr. Roney. The minister learned that the choir was enroute from San Francisco to Chicago and arranged at once with the director to stop in Omaha and give the concert.

Through the church organizations the Methodist people have learned that literally thousands of children who have escaped the horrors of the earthquake, are left orphaned and homeless. The Methodist church alone is now caring for about 1,500 little children under 5 years of age and thousands more are turned upon the pity and charity of other organizations.

The idea of the church is to do something definite—care for those now under its protection as they should be cared for and raise the money necessary in the Methodist churches of the world, particularly in the United States where there is bounty.
