HEAFY TO RUN FOR MAYOR... Jacksonians Make the Announcement at Lincoln.

SHOEMAKER SPRINGS ORATORY... House Finally Reverses and Kills the Bill.

Lincoln, Feb. 1.—(Special).—P. C. Heafy is a candidate for the democratic nomination for mayor of Omaha, and his name will be introduced by the breezes by the Jacksonian club shortly.

This information was brought to Lincoln this morning by an Omaha man who attended a meeting of the faithful in the big city yesterday. He was appointed an agent to bring the news to Lincoln and have it announced from this end.

"I told Mr. Heafy that I would give the news to the papers," said this messenger from Omaha, "and he said all right. Heafy is a candidate and you can bet your boots he will elect him. He will get the nomination hands down, and he can't be defeated. We held a meeting yesterday and Mr. Heafy agreed to make the race, and the Jacksonian club has agreed to stand back of his candidacy and support him in preference to any other candidate."

House Finally Reverses and Kills the Bill. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Feb. 1.—(Special).—Judge W. S. Shoemaker taught the house of representatives a lesson this afternoon, a lesson the house will be slow to forget.

The judicial committee actually reported for indefinite postponement the judge's bill to repeal the Sackett law providing for the removal of derelict officials by the governor. Of course, the house sustained the judicial committee, but not until Judge Shoemaker had raised his voice in solemn warning; not until his oratory had stirred the breezes into waving the flag; not until the rafters creaked and rattled; not until Connolly in a stage whisper said that he was "heavily" not until Connolly actually asked the judge to desist; and then the judicial committee carried its point only too very close vote of 75 to 14. Only Judge Shoemaker only lost four of the Douglas members by his speech—Connolly, Kraus, Howard and Holmes. Thomas was not present during the splendid effort of the judge.

Shoemaker insisted that the constitution provided for the removal of officers who failed to do their duty. He loudly proclaimed that the Sackett law "is a sad commentary on our sheets of record." He was joined by Scheels and Crawford, who asked that the bill be recommended for passage in the name of "home rule" and "personal liberty."

When Shoemaker had become finally exhausted Wilson of Polk told the house to repeal the Sackett law would be a backward step and Taylor of Crawford suggested that it would be expedient to kill the bill rather than to go through another such experience in the committee of the whole. And so the statesman from Douglas county was shot to pieces, but he died game.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM One of Wide Scope to Be Introduced by Taylor of Custer. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Feb. 1.—(Special).—Several bills for the initiative and referendum applicable to state laws as well as cities and school districts are ready for introduction according to Representative Taylor of Custer county, the house leader. At present there is a law on the statutes providing for both the initiative and referendum in municipalities and school districts with definite provisions for the submission to a special election of all ordinances on a petition of 20 per cent of the voters or the initiating of ordinances on the same plan. Under this law the people of Lincoln several years ago voted on the question of closing saloons and lost by a narrow margin. The act was introduced in the legislature of 1897 by A. E. Sheldon, then representative from Custer county, and now head of the legislative reference library at the capitol. The popular platform calls for an act of this sort, but does not specify that it shall affect all branches of the state government. Mr. Taylor has been studying the Oklahoma law with a view of bringing its duplicate before the present legislature.

The Oklahoma law is of the widest possible scope, taking in state, county, municipal and school district divisions of the government and making it possible for the people to originate any law or ordinance or to act upon them in the last instance by referendum. The scope of the law on the Nebraska books at present is not appreciated by the members and many of them do not even know that it exists in the breadth it does.

There is a provision in the Omaha charter for the reference of franchise grants to a popular vote requiring a majority vote to carry.

MOYER OPTION BILL IN SENATE Miller Presents Measure Endorsed by Option Members. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 1.—(Special).—The county option bill as prepared by the allied temperance societies of the state was introduced in the senate today by Miller of Lancaster. It provides for a vote on the sale of liquor in counties on petition of 20 per cent of the voters which shall be submitted not oftener than once in two years. The petition calling for the election must be verified by ten resident freeholders. Petitions may be circulated by different individuals and may later be collected and presented as one.

When a duly verified petition is presented to a county clerk, he is commanded to call a special election in not less than ten days after filing and the election shall take place in not less than thirty days therefrom nor more than ninety days.

The ballot shall read: "Against saloons in _____ county" and "For saloons in _____ county." The voter shall mark the ballot in the usual manner and the majority vote shall decide. All election laws governing other elections shall apply in this instance.

If the county goes dry, all issuances of licenses shall cease, but if it goes wet, nothing in the law shall be construed to prevent the authorities of the municipalities to exercise their present functions, which give them a right to refuse to grant licenses should they so vote.

The law is amendatory of the Sincumb law and re-enacts a number of sections of this act, but in so doing it is declared by those behind it there is no effort to alter the law as it stands except as to the option provision.

CHARTER BILLS IN THE SENATE Amendments to Both Omaha and South Omaha Measure. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Feb. 1.—(Special).—Both the Omaha and South Omaha charter bills were reported from the committee on municipal affairs in the senate today and placed on file with amendments. The changes in the case of the South Omaha bill have been given, but a number of changes have been made in the Omaha bill, none, however, affecting the elective fire and police commission. The salaries of firemen and policemen are raised and provision is made that the county council may not charge an occupation tax on telegraph companies, street railways, electric light and power companies or water works and gas companies. This is done by removing from the bill the permission granting the city council the right to tax for revenue the six special interests above named.

The county is given power to license shows, circuses, exhibitions for pay, billiard tables, ball and tennis alleys without regard to the number of pins used, hacks, drays and other vehicles running for pay, and to prescribe the compensation charged by these hacks and vehicles, with the special provision this section shall not apply to any persons, partnerships, associations or corporations engaged in transferring persons or property through the city where such persons, partnerships, association or corporations do not solicit business on the streets of the city.

The salary of firemen and policemen is fixed as follows, being a change and slight raise over the original: First six months' service, $60 a month; second six months, $65; third six months, $70; fourth six months, $75; fifth six months, $80; and after that $85; captains of police not less than $125 nor more than $150; sergeants of police on detective duty, $100; senior captains of the fire department, $115; junior captains of the fire department, $100; officers of the fire or police department, and each senior engineer of the fire department and others under the rank of chief or assistant chief or captains or sergeants shall have $85 a month; junior engineers of the fire department, $75.50.

Officers of the fire department are raised as follows: Chief, from $250 to $300; first assistant chief, from $210 to $250; second assistant chief, from $150 to $180.

The fire fund is raised from $250,000 a year as in the bill originally, to $250,000.

The power to appoint the third assistant city attorney, which in the bill was first given to the city attorney, is taken from him and imposed upon the mayor and city council.

The provisions with respect to the city engineer's office are slightly changed in that there is no provision for the change of contract when once entered into, but modifications are specified. The city engineer cannot prepare contracts and then submit them to the council and mayor.

Two weeks' notice of new plans of ground to be added to the city must be given before the same may be legally added.

The allowance for the city library is raised from $25,000 a year to $30,000.

TYING UP SERVICE CORPORATIONS Stoecker Bill Places Control of All Under Railway Commission. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Feb. 1.—(Special).—Stoecker of Douglas county would place in the hands of the State Railway commission practically complete control over every public franchise corporation in Nebraska, and to that end he has introduced H. R. 226, which was read a first time today.

The bill provides that no corporation operating under a franchise shall assign, transfer or lease, nor shall it make any contract or agreement affecting its franchise without the written permission of the railway commission.

It prohibits any corporation operating under a franchise from obtaining the capital stock of any other corporation organized under the laws of the state, unless authorized to do so by the railway commission. This does not apply to stock already acquired.

To issue bonds, notes or other evidence of indebtedness for more than twelve months for the acquisition of property, it is necessary first, for the corporation to secure permission from the railway commission.

The bill provides a heavy penalty for a failure to comply with its terms.

ROUTINE PROCEEDINGS OF HOUSE Bill Prohibiting Discrimination in Grain Dealing Recommended. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Feb. 1.—(Special).—In the committee of the whole the house this afternoon recommended for passage the bill by Bowman of Nuckolls prohibiting discrimination in the buying and selling of grain.

Elmer Brown of Lancaster spoke against the bill, which, he said, he thought it was too much in the interest of the farmers' elevator companies. These companies, he said, had practically put out of business the independent elevators.

The binding twin bill was again up and went over against the opposition of Harry Lindsey, clerk of the supreme court, sent a communication to the house saying it would take him twenty days in that to get out a copy of the fees collected in his office for the year 1908, and that it would require one man working all that time to do it. The house gave the twenty days.

The following bills were introduced: H. R. 228, by Leidigh of Otoe—Providing a clerk of the supreme court shall be paid a salary and put fees in the treasury.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 1.—(Special).—The senate, in committee of the whole, recommended for passage two bills by Senator Ransom. One, S. F. 44, raises the possible bonded indebtedness of the city of Omaha from $270,000 to 3 per cent of the cash valuation of the city's property, and provides that the total bonds that may be issued in any one year, exclusive of bonds for special purposes, shall be raised from $300,000 to $500,000, and in addition, that there need not be a special election to carry sewer and inter-section paving bonds. HEAVY LOSS FOR MISS SCANLAN Dressmaker Loses Twenty-Five Hundred in Crouse Block Fire and Has No Insurance.

Miss Mary Scanlan, a dressmaker whose workshop and residence is room 4 of the Crouse block, southeast corner of Sixteenth and Capitol avenue, lost all her possessions and was herself almost cut off from escape in a fire at 3:15 Monday afternoon. The blaze completely ruined her apartment and its contents, doing over $2,500 damage. It is not known just how it originated.

John Scanlan, a brother of Miss Scanlan, happened to be in her room when the fire started, and she says that his presence was all that saved her from being burned to death. Both were cut off from the door by the flames, which originated near a coal box and another door leading to the next room. Miss Scanlan started to rescue some of her more precious belongings, but her brother saw the danger she was in and dragged her past the fire and through the door into the hall.

The room was a furnace of flame within a minute, and everything in the place was practically destroyed before the firemen arrived. The property was limited to the blaze to the room of Miss Scanlan. Pasquod Masse and Jacob Ringie, tailors occupying the rooms on each side of Miss Scanlan's shop; a printing shop, and other private apartments of S. B. Stewart, escaped with only slight damage from smoke and water, or else were left entirely without.

Assistant Fire Chief Simpson says that the fire had its origin in Miss Scanlan's apartments, although it was thought at first that it started in Masse's room near the door between his shop and Miss Scanlan's. A bucket of water put out all the fire that was in Masse's room.

According to Miss Scanlan's estimate of her loss it will reach $2,500 and may exceed that sum, as everything she possessed was burned up. She did not carry any insurance. A fine organ, valued at $175, handsome furniture, rugs and dresses, her sewing machine, a $500 stock of dress goods and several hundred dollars worth of dresses already made up and belonging to Omaha women, were included in the list of property that was burned.

The building is owned by Sir Horace Plunkett, for whom Conrad Young is agent. The latter says that $200 or $300 will cover the damage to the building, which is fully insured.

This sum was placed at $5,500, the church costing without art glass and the decorations, about $22,000. This sum of $5,500 was raised in less than an hour's time, one of the features of the contributions being the donation of $1,500 by the Ladies Aid society of the church, $1,000 of which was in actual cash and the balance to be raised later.
