

COLORED MAN KILLED BY CAR

William W. Robinson Struck by Hanscom Park Line Motor.

SKULL FRACTURED, ARM BROKEN

Remains of Eastbound Car and is Caught by the Fender of One Moving Speedily to the West.

William W. Robinson, a negro bricklayer who lived at 221 South Twenty-ninth street and had been working near Twenty-first and Howard streets, died at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday from injuries sustained in a street car accident.

Just after alighting from an eastbound Hanscom park car at Twenty-second and Leavenworth streets shortly before 5 Tuesday morning, Robinson ran north in front of motor No. 294, a swiftly moving westbound car, and was struck by the front of the car after tripping up on the fender. His skull was fractured and an arm broken. He became unconscious immediately and continued so.

Motorman Ed Drew and Conductor Hugh McCracken were in charge of the car that struck Robinson.

Immediately after the accident, Dr. McPherson and Newell attended the man and had him taken to Peter's drug store, Twenty-second and Leavenworth streets. He was later removed to the General hospital in the police ambulance.

Witnesses of the accident say that Robinson was running faster than the car that hit him, and that he ran right in front of it when seeing it approaching. Highway Coroner Healey took charge of the body after the man died, and will hold an inquest Wednesday, either at 10 a. m. or 2 p. m.

Mrs. Robinson was at his bedside when he died. She was a widow with four children when she married Robinson, seven years ago. Robinson's step-children are all grown and are named Iva, Nina, Edna and Ethel.

The man was 49 years of age and a member of the African Methodist church, Eleventh and Webster streets, where the funeral probably will be held. An insurance policy in the Metropolitan insurance company was carried by the dead man.

PLAY UP CITY'S BEST LIFE

W. H. Neidlinger Tells Ad Club to Advertise the Schools and Art.

Your style of advertising is all very well, but I would suggest that a little more attention be paid to something besides commercial advertising, for it pays to advertise fine arts and music and the educational advantages of your city. By so doing you will add greatly to the effectiveness of your commercial advertising, for you will have just that many more people in your city to advertise to.

W. H. Neidlinger, the noted composer of New York City thus addressed the members of the Ad Men's club at the Commercial club rooms, Tuesday noon.

Advocate those things which develop a better class of citizenship," he said. "Advertise your schools and art and it will help your business and your property. If you advertise the fact that Omaha has the best schools in the entire country it will help your commercial city immensely."

Mr. Neidlinger was witty and proved a most entertaining speaker. City Street, one of the pioneers of Council Bluffs and former secretary of the Immigration bureau of California, also addressed the club and told of the early history of Omaha and Council Bluffs. He showed the advantage of a community sticking and working together by using Council Bluffs as an illustration.

It was the first meeting of the Ad club since the election of the new officers and the members listened to an address by the new president, R. A. Sunderland, who also put the question of the club's sticking and more do you as members want the Ad club to do?"

President Sunderland appointed an executive committee consisting of the officers, R. A. Sunderland, president; T. B. Coleman, vice president; F. W. Harwood, secretary; and Walter Mandelberg, treasurer; and J. D. Weaver, W. G. Brandt, H. G. Kelly, O. C. McQuane, I. A. Medlar, and Robert Manley, chairman of the entertainment committee; E. A. Higgins, chairman of the press committee, and Colonel William Kennedy, president of the membership committee.

LITTLE GIRL CAUSE OF WORRY

Roberta Trimble Bone of Contention Between Parents.

CHILD'S MOTHER NOW REMARRIED

Former Husband Goes to See Daughter and Finding Ex-Wife Gone to Be Wedded Carries Off the Child.

Roberta Trimble, a 5-year-old girl, is a bone of contention between her parents, Harry Trimble of South Omaha and Mrs. Grace Sweet, Mrs. Sweet, who divorced Trimble a year ago, was married Saturday in Nelson, Neb., where her new husband lives.

When the decree of divorce was entered by Judge Sutton he awarded the little girl, who is pretty, bright and precocious, to her mother. The husband was allowed the privilege of visiting occasionally.

When Mrs. Sweet was still Mrs. Trimble, but after the divorce, she went to Nelson occasionally to visit. There she met Sweet and at length concluded to answer "yes" to his pleading and essay a second venture in the state of matrimony. When she went last week to be married she put her daughter in the hands of friends. Trimble went to see the little girl, found her mother gone and when he left took the child home.

Women Seek Court's Aid. Mr. and Mrs. Sweet came to Omaha on their honeymoon trip Monday and went to see Miss Roberta. When they found her gone Mrs. Sweet consulted her aunt, Mrs. Edward L. Page of 1822 Burdette street, and the two women went to see Judge Sutton.

Meantime Trimble must have begun to wonder whether he was not getting into contempt of court, for he got into communication with the judge and soon appeared in the court room, bringing the child with him.

Here the facts were elucidated a bit. Mrs. Sweet sought permission to take the girl back to Nelson with her and her new husband; Trimble begged that Roberta remain in Omaha. Judge Sutton decided to hold a formal hearing before he permits the little girl to remain from the hearing. The date for the hearing is not yet set.

Meanwhile the girl is placed in the custody of a third party. Mrs. Trimble sued for divorce fully a year ago, charging cruelty. Judge Sutton declined to issue the decree at once and kept it in abeyance until July 28.

BELT LINE CHAIN OF YARDS

Sunderland Latest Coal and Building Material Firm to Secure Site There.

Sunderland Bros. have let contracts for grading and filling in the old Cotton pond, or Mercer's pond, from Forty-second street to Forty-third avenue on Isard street, where they will put in a large coal and building material yard.

Gradually the Sunderland firm have been securing lots in the vicinity, buying a main ten together, which will make them a yard with three acres of space on the tracks of the Omaha Belt Line Railway company.

The site is between Nicholas and Isard streets and has been low ground where water stood for months following a rain, but it is to be filled and will make one of the most desirable sites on the line for a material yard. The railway company owns all the land between Forty-third avenue and the Belt line tracks, more than 700 yards wide, making it possible for Sunderland Bros. to secure a very large number of side tracks on the right-of-way of the company.

With the location of this yard on the Belt line, the tracks from below Farnam street to where they start in to the Webster street station on Sherman avenue, make one long line of lumber, coal and material yards. Some of the firms which have yards on the Belt line are the Missouri River Lumber company, C. N. Dietz, Uplike Lumber company, Bowman-Kranz company and C. W. Hull will build one on.

ZIMMAN GETS FILING BLANKS

Third Ward Councilman Says He Will Run for the Nomination of Mayor.

Barring City Comptroller Lobeck, who cannot file until the legislature finally restores his office, all the democratic city officials have now filed for renomination. The list was completed Tuesday afternoon when Lee Bridges, councilman from the Second ward, paid his $5 and entered the arena.

Four republicans filed the same day for council positions: Edward Leeder, 1818 St. Mary's avenue, for councilman from the Fourth ward; Cornelius Farrell, 121 Lake street, for councilman from the Fifth ward; Frank E. Carmody, 275 Decatur street, for councilman from the Sixth ward; and Charles M. Davis, 2615 North Twenty-ninth street, for councilman from the Twelfth ward.

Harry B. Zimman, republican, councilman from the Third ward, secured application blanks Tuesday and gives out the information that he will file Wednesday for the republican nomination for mayor.

Colonel E. P. Berryman and Colonel P. C. Healey, urged by their friends to file for the democratic nomination for mayor, are still undecided. They refrain from saying that they will not run, but announce that there is plenty of time in which to file.

LOST IN VORTEX OF FASHION

John Bolander, Farm Hand, is Swallowed Up in the Vortex of Fashion.

The dazzling and bewildering gaudiness of Omaha seems to have proved too much for John Bolander, a farm hand, who drove a team in from Florence Monday for his employer, Willard Shipley.

Neither Bolander nor the team has returned and the anxious owner of the horses has invoked the aid of the law. That Bolander intended to scam Shipley says is indicated by the fact that he brought all his earthly possessions along with him. These goods and chattels included just one article, a very superior sort of whetstone, to which Bolander is so attached that he was wont to take it to bed with him, at least so it is said.

TEAM CONVICTS ITS OWNER

Horses' Teeth Marks on Feed Box Tell of Their Lack of Food on Cold Day.

If Bud Wetherford's horses had not chewed their feed boxes their owner might have come clear, but the marks of the horses' teeth on the wood convicted him.

Bud Wetherford owns a team and drives to his wagon. His work is a cold one and it did not occur to him Sunday when the wind was blowing a piercing gale and the snow was falling steadily—it did not occur to him to throw some nice, hot grain and hay into the hungry steeds or to throw warm blankets over their shivering backs. Now when the morning came did Bud Wetherford have any compunctions of conscience

AMERICAN & DEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

All the coal-dirt, if any, is sent up the chimney—nor do ashes, coal-gases, or cellar-gases find their way into the living-rooms to injure the family health, as all the joints in boiler, piping, and radiators screw together perfectly, and are absolutely tight. IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are the only kind of heating outfits that warm a building without adding to the labor of its care. Carpets, draperies, etc. are not soiled, and this economy, together with fuel-savings and absence of repairs, soon repay the cost of the outfit.

You cannot put money into greater earning power and at the same time secure as much everlasting comfort and convenience as in the purchase of one of these simple, sanitary, and safe heating outfits. Answer This Question

When thousands of women say that they have been cured of their ailments by a certain remedy, does this not prove the merit of that remedy?

Thousands of women have written the story of their suffering, and have told how they were freed from it by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—for thirty years these reports have been published all over America.

Without great merit this medicine could never have gained the largest sale of any remedy for woman's ills—never could have become known and prized in nearly every country in the world.

Can any woman let prejudice stand between her and that which will restore her health? If you believe those who have tried it you know this medicine does cure.

Read this letter from a grateful woman, then make up your mind to give Mrs. Pinkham's medicine a chance to cure you.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—I am a firm believer in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was a great sufferer from organic female troubles for years, and almost despaired of ever being well again. I had bearing-down pains, backache, headache and pains in my abdomen, and tried Mrs. Pinkham's Compound as a last resort. The result was astonishing, and I have used it and advocated it ever since. It is a great boon to expectant mothers. I have often said that I should like to have its merits thrown on the sky with a search-light so that women would read and be convinced that there is a remedy for their sufferings. "My husband joins me in its praise. He has used it for kidney trouble and been entirely cured."—Mrs. E. A. Bishop, 1915 Atlantic Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

DYER HELD, BUT NOT ACCUSED

Clerk Forgiven by Employer Again Arrested, but Believed to Be Innocent This Time.

On suspicion of having again tried to rob his former employer, Frank Dyer, was arrested by Detectives Ferris and Dunn Tuesday morning. Last week he stole a sum of money from the Max Geisler bird store at 238 North Sixteenth street, but was released from custody at the request of Geisler, for whom he had worked. The return of the money was all Geisler wanted, as Dyer's wife and children were destitute.

Now someone with a key to the front door of the same store entered it Monday night about 8:30 and after prying open the back door took the cash register out into the back yard and broke it open. The thief secured nothing as the cash register was empty and Mr. Geisler's appearance on the scene prevented the burglar from ransacking the office. Tuesday morning Mr. Geisler said he did not think Dyer was the man who broke into his store Monday night, as the job was evidently done by someone who was unacquainted with the place. He says no money is now kept in the store since the first burglary and that Dyer knew this. The man probably will be released by the police upon the statement of Mr. Geisler that he is not the burglar.

The Nebraska militia will have to be looking for another range for target practice during the coming summer, and there may

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANTS

Contractors' Suit Comes to Abrupt Ending Against Lamoreaux and Peterson.

The suit for $45,000 damages brought by Albert Lamoreaux and Edward Peterson against the firm of Phelan, Shirley & Callahan came to an abrupt ending Tuesday when Judge Kennedy ordered the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendants. The plaintiffs had introduced evidence to show that they were awarded the contract for several hundred miles of grading on the Milwaukee railroad's coast extension by the defendants, who held a larger contract. The claim is that finding that the subcontract would be unprofitable the defendants broke with Lamoreaux and Peterson and gave the work to others. Both sides had introduced evidence when the court ruled that the plaintiffs had failed to show the contract. The case will be appealed.

C. R. WOODRUFF HERE FRIDAY

New Yorker Will Address the Real Estate Exchange on "Civic Improvements."

Clinton Rogers Woodruff of New York City will lecture at the Commercial club Friday evening on "Civic Improvements." The lecture is free and is given complimentary by the Omaha Real Estate exchange. Mr. Woodruff is a well known attorney of New York City, who has been making a special study on municipal affairs and whose services as a lecturer is greatly in demand all over the country. Members of the exchange are elated over the success in securing him for an address and expect to have the Commercial club rooms filled to overflowing when he speaks Friday evening. F. D. Wood and George T. Morton, the committee which secured Mr. Woodruff, have both heard him speak and both speak very highly of him.

GOODELL TO ASK NEW TRIAL

Counsel of Woman Slayer Not Content with Life.

FORMAL MOTION IN DAY OR TWO

Verdict of Guilty is No Surprise, Apparently, Not Even to Goodell, Who Appears Calm and Undismayed.

W. W. Slabaugh, counsel for Van Goodell, found guilty of murder and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, declared Tuesday morning that a new trial will be sought and a motion to that effect entered in a day or two.

The verdict was no surprise, although a few fancied that the jury might decree Goodell's death. Goodell Tuesday morning was calm and seemingly undisturbed by the result. It is claimed for him that he has had no desire to live, but his behavior through the trial gives a denial to this. Attorneys on either side are loath to discuss the result.

Little stock is generally taken in the value of the evidence for the defense of which word was written to that side after it had closed its case from a man in Tripp county, South Dakota, saying that one Harris, a former employee of the Loyal hotel who knew Edna Kennett, should be sent for and that he knew a great deal about the case. The letter concluded with the somewhat large promise that the witness could clear Goodell.
